

Mrs. J. Sandwith Defeated In Golf Championship

Timmins Drops Title Match to Miss Norma Bagshaw, of Haileybury Four and Three. Winner Plays Consistent Game Throughout. Other Timmins Players Prominent in Prize List.

Iroquois Falls, Aug. 13.—(Special to The Advance)—Playing steady golf throughout, diminutive Miss Norma Bagshaw, of Haileybury, won the Northern Ontario Ladies' Golf Championship last Friday afternoon at Iroquois Falls when she defeated Mrs. J. S. Sandwith, of Timmins four and three in an eighteen-hole competition.

It was Mrs. Sandwith's first appearance as a championship finalist and playing before a large gallery of spectators was to her a new experience. While not detracting from Miss Bagshaw's victory, it must be said that while young in years she is practically a veteran at tournament play. The crowd might just as well not have been there as far as its effect on her play, and from the first tee to the deciding hole she played a cool and calculating game.

There was little to choose between the two ladies in the first nine holes, Miss Bagshaw having a slight advantage to finish one up. Both carded a medal score of 47.

Mrs. Sandwith made a brilliant recovery in the first round after being three down at the sixth hole. With a spectacular approach shot that laid the pin only seven feet from the cup, she holed the ball to take the seventh with a birdie three.

Again in the eighth Mrs. Sandwith came to the fore and after a splendid approach, two-putted the green for a par four. Miss Bagshaw missed one put from close quarters to drop the hole by one stroke, automatically cutting her lead to one.

Both players made an accurate job of the ninth and halved the hole with four strokes apiece, leaving Miss Bagshaw an advantage of one up to carry into the second phase of the play-off.

It was in the early stages of the second round that Mrs. Sandwith faded and after halving the tenth hole, dropped the next three in succession to give Miss Bagshaw a four-hole lead. The Haileybury girl was playing an exceptionally fine game, making every shot valuable. Her approaches were faultless and once on the green no mistakes.

Undaunted by her opponent's lead, Mrs. Sandwith steadied down and stayed in the running by winning the fourteenth with a par four while Miss Bagshaw took five.

At this point the match resolved itself into a big task for Mrs. Sandwith. In order to win she would have had to take the next four holes in succession. Both contestants drove well from the tee to start the 455-yard fifteenth hole but Mrs. Sandwith dubbed her second shot, the ball coming to rest on the off side of a sand bunker near the top of the bank. Attempting to get out of the dilemma the Timmins lady fanned on her first shot and took two more to get on the green.

Despite the fact that Miss Bagshaw had played straight to the pin and had an almost overwhelming chance to win or halve the hole, Mrs. Sandwith sank a thirty-foot put from the side of the green that provided one of the biggest thrills of the tournament. Miss Bagshaw finished in five to win the hole by one stroke, and lift her first N.O.L.G.A. championship.

Mrs. Sandwith was the first to congratulate the winner and the two contestants were showered with compliments from the big crowd that followed the play.

Morrisette, of Iroquois Falls, totalled 449 yards to take first place. All three drives were straight down the fairway.

The putting and approaching contest resolved itself into a mother and daughter affair, Miss Doris Barager, of Kirkland Lake, and her mother tying for top honours with a total of eight. In the tie-breaking session the daughter again came through with a nice eight to win the prize, her mother finishing up in nine. A large gallery of enthusiasts watched the competition.

BACK-SLAPPING INJURES CHEST

Since he made that famous trip to Ireland after "starting out for California," Douglas Corrigan seems to have taken on a turned-around complex. Here he is as he displays the bandage on his chest, which was taped up when it was found he was injured as the result of too much back-slapping. It seems the hero-worshippers in displaying their enthusiasm in a physical way displaced a cartilage in the young flier's breast bone.

TRANS-CANADA AIRPORT AT PORQUIS JUNCTION NEARS COMPLETION

Only last minute details remain unfinished in the installation of equipment at the new intermediate Trans-Canada airport near Porquis Junction. The big field, 300 acres in size, makes an ideal location for an airport. The most modern equipment has been placed in use and no effort has been spared to promote safety in the matter of aerial guidance. The port will be fully equipped for radio beam flying and at the lower left in the above picture one may see two of the four towers used for this purpose. In the centre is shown the offices and administration department, the tower in the foreground being used for observation and suspension of a wind sock. At the top is a general view of the field. Seventy-three guide lights have been placed along the runways crossing the port in different directions.

Successful Pupils in the Correspondence Courses

Twenty Students of Courses Win High School Entrance This Year. Thirty-Five Correspondence School Pupils Successful in Fifth Class or Lower School Subjects. Creditable Showing for Courses

The Advance has always been specially interested in the Ontario Department of Education's correspondence courses. This special interest was due to two particular facts. First, and foremost was the notable record of service shown by the correspondence courses. The courses supply good education to literally thousands of children who otherwise would be without the benefits of schooling. The second special reason is that the Correspondence Courses were inaugurated following representations made by The Advance, the Timmins Board of Trade, and the Northern Ontario Associated Boards of Trade. There were so many children too far away from a school in the country that they had practically no chance to learn the things taught in school. The financial condition of the majority of those in the rural sections of the North was such that new schools could not be expected. The need then was to provide education for the settlers' children in sparsely-settled areas. The correspondence courses had been doing just this in British Columbia and some other provinces. It was felt that what had been accomplished in other provinces could be done in Ontario. It has—and more. The classes, so far as the North is concerned, are an unquestionable success. Each year hundreds of pupils who would otherwise be without education are benefited by the correspondence courses.

A great deal of the credit for the success of the correspondence courses should rightly go to Dr. Neil McDougall, general inspector. "I can assure you," says Dr. McDougall in a letter to The Advance, "that the correspondence classes have proved a wonderful success, and have met a great need in education which could not be met in any other way."

The best proof of the success of the correspondence courses may be gathered from the graduation of the pupils. While some of the pupils do not take up high school work, or even try the high school entrance examination, the correspondence courses give them a sound public school education and give them a valuable education whereby they are able to meet the world and get along. Probably the majority of the students of the correspondence courses pass the high school examinations. Out of 25 of an entrance class this year 22 were successful in the entrance examinations, some with honours.

High School Entrance
Pupils in the correspondence course conducted by the Department of Education made good showing at the High School entrance examination. It might be pointed out that a few of these were physically unable to attend school but completed their work at home under physical difficulties. The majority, however, wrote the departmental exam-
