

Free Forestry Films to be Shown Tomorrow

Entertaining and Educative Event in Town Hall Under the Joint Auspices of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests and the Canadian Forestry Association.

An educating yet unusually entertaining evening is promised here for tomorrow (Friday) night, the event being the showing at the town hall, commencing at 8 p.m., of the interesting and informative films being presented under the joint auspices of the Canadian Forestry Association and the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, Forestry Branch. In previous years, the Canadian Forestry Association has had a car on tour, products of the forests being featured, interesting facts and figures being presented in regard to Canada's forests, and special warning being given of the dire loss to the country and its people from such fires. The tour of this car was educational and there is no doubt but that the efforts of the Canadian Forestry Association and its efforts for conservation of forest wealth has had particularly valuable effects. This year the Forestry Association, concerned very largely with the problem of forest fires and their injury to the country, has joined forces with the Ontario Lands and Forests, to give new emphasis to forest conservation.

The motion pictures to be presented on Friday evening of this week, Aug. 19th, at the Timmings town hall are designed to make popular appeal and through their vividness and education value to inculcate the doctrine of forest preservation. The scope of the sound pictures prepared for occasions such as this may be judged by the list of titles of the pictures to be shown. Here are some of the titles:—"Fire in the Wilderness"; "The A.B.C. of Forestry"; "Walt Disney Comedies"; "Forest Fires, or Game?" "Forest Dollars." Mr. R. A. Carman is the lecturer accompanying the motion pictures. Mr. Carman is an able speaker and his comments will add much to the value of the pictures. He has facts and figures by the half-mile indicating what may be done by individuals and groups to protect the forests while at the same time having proper use of the timber resources.

The exhibition of motion pictures and the address by Mr. Carman have been heard in a large number of Ontario towns, and in each place reference has been voluntarily made to the fact that the event is unusually interesting as well as helpful in presenting to the public the proper attitude towards the forests and the forest wealth of Ontario. These meetings under the joint auspices of the Canadian Forestry Association and the Forestry Branch of the Department of Lands and Forests of Ontario are planned to be held in every part of the province. Timmings, on account of its size and importance and because it is the centre of a large area much interested in forestry matters has been chosen for the showing of these films. The only place in the

Charming Wedding at St. Anthony's

Miss Therese Brazeau and Mr. Mervin Craig Married

A very charming wedding took place at the St. Anthony's Roman Catholic Church on Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock, when Therese "Terry", daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brazeau, became the bride of Mr. Mervin Craig, son of Mrs. Craig, of 108 Balsam street south, and the late Mr. Craig. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Theriault, in the presence of many friends of the popular young couple.

During the signing of the register, Miss Malette sang "I Love You Truly", and Miss Bonhomme sang, "Ave Maria." The organist was Mrs. Paul Piche, and the choir of the Children of Mary also rendered several suitable wedding selections.

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. J. Brazeau, the bride was very lovely in a street-length dress of dusky pink georgette, fashioned with shirred bodice, very flared skirt, princess style sleeves, and square neckline. She wore a wide-brimmed hat of beige taffeta, with a dusky pink chiffon velvet ribbon and bow, beige shoes and beige lace gloves, and carried a large bouquet of tea roses, white roses, baby's breath and maiden-hair fern, tied with a wide white satin ribbon.

Mr. Frank Fitzgerald acted as groomsmen. Following the ceremony, a buffet lunch was served at the home of the bride's parents, 119 Balsam street south, where the bride's mother received the guests, attractively attired in a hunter's green knitted suit, with white accessories. She was assisted by Mrs. Craig, who chose for the occasion a becoming ensemble of burgundy crepe, with white accessories. The bride wore a two-piece suit of egg-shell sharkskin, with beige accessories, and her sisters, Misses Rhea and Donaldia Brazeau, who assisted in serving the guests, were also charmingly attired, the former choosing a navy blue tailored suit, with white accessories, and the latter wearing a two-piece suit of salmon pink crepe, with white accessories.

Later in the day a wedding dinner was served, and in the evening the bride and groom received their numerous friends at a reception, which was also held at the home of the bride's parents.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. Walter Fitzgerald, Mr. George Fitzgerald, and Master Jackie Bolan, all of Kirkland Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig will take up residence at 284 Tamarack street. Prior to the wedding, the popular bride was entertained at several showers, her friends wishing her much happiness, and showering her with many beautiful gifts.

Globe and Mail:—A Montreal man drove a horse when he was drunk and was fined $10. We trust some reduction was made because it wasn't a car he was driving.

WEDDED IN TIMMINS YESTERDAY

Entertained at Tea in Honour of Brides-to-be

Many friends of two popular brides-to-be, Misses Jessie Wait and Ada Johnson, gathered at the summer home of Mrs. A. J. Shragge, on Wednesday afternoon, to honour the young ladies and to wish them much happiness. A very pleasant afternoon was spent by those who were present, many taking advantage of the opportunity to swim at this lovely summer home. The hostess, Mrs. A. J. Shragge, served a very attractively prepared tea, and the afternoon was a very happy occasion.

Miss Jessie Wait will become the bride of Mr. Glen Smith on August 23rd, the ceremony to be performed by Rev. J. D. Parks, former United Church minister at Timmings, at the High Park United Church at Toronto. Miss Ada Johnson will be wedded to Mr. Len Traver at the St. Matthew's Anglican Church on Monday, September 5th.

Miss Magder Guest of Dodge Half Hour Before Tragedy

Within a half hour before the tragedy that resulted in the death of Daniel Dodge and the injury of three others at the Dodge camp on Manitoulin Island, Miss Nettie Magder, of Sudbury, had been a guest at the Dodge camp, where she had gone for an interview in her capacity as special newspaper writer. Her article on the Dodge romance appeared in The Toronto Star the day after the tragedy. Miss Magder was a recent visitor to Timmings where she was the guest of Mr. Sam Bucovetsky and daughters, Miss Magder being a sister of Dr. Magder, of Kirkland Lake, whose wife is the former Miss Rose Bucovetsky.

People Have Forgotten Significance of the Flag

(Vancouver Province) His Majesty the King, in presenting a new standard to the Yeomen of the Guard, has again emphasized the value of symbols to an age that has practically forgotten the original uses of these survivals in the mere beauty of their presence. We have mechanized our armies and called science to our aid in the perfection of bigger and better instruments of destruction; we have forgotten how to fight like gentlemen with swords and lances; we seldom see the foe we are shooting at; but we retain and always shall retain the standard.

Its only original purpose was to act as a rallying point for soldiers who might become separated in the heat of battle.

There it waves and men could see it. That is why there is such a wealth of stirring stories about the defense of the banner all through history. When it was down the soldier might as well beat it home—because he knew his leader had lost the day. Genghis Khan mounted a pair of horns on a pole and conquered most of the visible world under them. Hitler has mounted the Swastika, but has not yet taken it into action. The lilies of France once graced the banner of England and there is no device you can think of that has not at some time floated boldly above the heads of fighting men.

Globe and Mail:—Large purchases of Canadian pulpwood by Germany suggests that the food shortage may be graver than generally admitted.

London Times:—According to motorists, of all the unmannerly animals to be met with on the road the cow takes first place. The cow has learnt nothing about rights of way from the time it first tried to argue with a railway locomotive.

Returns from Tour of Lands Overseas

Lee Lawry, High School Student, Had Interesting Time.

Lee Lawry, student at Timmings High School who was one of the Canadian young men going on the tour of England, Scotland, France and Switzerland, sponsored and directed by the Scottish Secondary Schools Travel Trust, returned to Timmings on Tuesday evening of this week. He reports a most interesting and informative trip, every minute of which was enjoyed, except part of the ocean voyage to England when he had a touch of seasickness, which is neither interesting nor informative. This touch of seasickness fortunately did not recur on the homeward bound voyage, so all the immediate memories are happy ones. There were 100 boys from Canada on the tour, Lee being one of the seventeen in the B. tour. Because of the small number in this section the boys had special attention and saw much more of interest than was possible in the larger group. They visited England, Scotland, France and Switzerland. Lee was impressed with the wonderful beauty of the scenery of Scotland and Switzerland. The British and French trains also caught his notice, being actually faster than those on this continent, even if they have only dinky little engines compared to the monsters here. Lee was a day or two too late for the visit of the King and Queen to France, though on reaching Paris they found the decorations still up, and rich and wonderful they were. At Geneva the party were taken all through the palace of the League of Nations. They spent a couple of hours in that remarkable building. An interesting fact that impressed Lee about Geneva was the immense number of people using bicycles. With a population of 130,000 there are 65,000 bicycles he was told officially. Other impressions of the tour will be found in the letter written from London by Lee before he left, but which took several days more to reach here. The letter will be found elsewhere in this issue.

Quebec Chronicle:—Perhaps modern wives don't make bread like their grandmothers did, but they certainly can make good sandwiches. Stayner Sun:—We read that the huddle was invented by a Scottish football team when they got their heads together to light their cigarettes. Toronto Star:—A spy arrested in London admitted he was working for three nations. Probably syndicated his stories. Sir Gervais Rentoul:—"The vast majority of criminals are so because they have not the brains or the industry to do anything else." Sudbury Star:—As commonly believed, the grasshopper lacks foresight. It eats up everything now instead of laying one of the prairie provinces by for the winter.

Another Interesting Letter from Student

Famous Waxworks and Cheese Come in for Special Mention.

Below will be found the second letter written overseas by Lee Lawry in regard to his trip to England, Scotland, France and Switzerland in the Scottish Secondary Schools Travel Trust tour. Lee is back home again, having beaten his letter by about a week.

London, Eng., Aug. 5, 1933 To the Editor of The Advance, Timmings.

Dear Sir: I am over in the metropolis of the world, London. Soon I will be on my way home and so I will be seeing you shortly. Last night I was in the presence of some of the greatest people in the world, past and present. I went to Madame Tussaud's Wax Museum. It was all it is cracked up to be. Some of them were very recent, such as Tommy Farr, Donald Budge and several others. Even Primo Carneca in his 6 ft. 8 1/2 inches, was there. What a man! All of these were in the sports section with many others.

There was a group of American statesmen and close by one of English generals in recent wars. In one room were the figures of all the kings in English history from William the Conqueror to George V. Downstairs was the Chamber of Horrors. Maybe I'm unusual but I wasn't horrified by what I saw, although I did think it was very grim. It depicted almost every type of torture used in past ages. It also showed the figures of some of the famous victims of these tortures and deaths. It would be a very pleasant place to stay in for a few nights, don't you think?

A couple of days ago we came back from France. We were at Thonon on the shores of Lake Geneva.

There was extremely beautiful scenery in Scotland but I think the scenery around Lake Geneva has it all beat. We went by motor coach to Chamounix one day. Here we ascended the mountains by the funicular railway and walked down to the Mer de Grace. What a magnificent view one can get from there! I went swimming in Lake Geneva several times, and it was swell. Both going down to Thonon and coming back I was amazed to see some of the farms in the Southern part near Thonon. It is very hilly there and I saw many farms and houses on the side of these hills. Some of the fields were tilted at very great angles, even as much as 50 degrees.

How would you like to work on a field like that?

I had a lot of fun in France talking to the natives in their own tongue. Funny though it may seem, they didn't savvy my version of the French language very well. But I had a harder time understanding them, so we're square.

There is one part of the French diet which surprised me no end. The part in question is cheese. They seem to comprise about half of their dinner and supper of some type of cheese. There are some shops which sell nothing but cheese. In the market about one-third of the stalls are selling cheese.

Well, I must stop cheesing, and close. Best regards, Lee Lawry.

Waterloo Chronicle:—There is much truth in the statement that if private business was conducted in the manner of public business it could not last long. Governments stay in business by getting "votes," and private enterprise through "profits."

Are You UP To DATE ?

We are proud to live in what we consider an age of progress. In our furniture, in the gadgets of our kitchen we delight in being up-to-date. We enjoy seeing pictures of the latest inventions. In our leisure time we are constantly invoking the aid of science to amuse us. But in our ideas on society and business, many people are away back at the middle of the 18th century.

At that time, everything was produced by hand-tools, and individual ownership of these was necessary for the protection of the worker. To-day most things are produced by power-production in factories and the ownership of these factories is being used to make profits out of the many consumers for the few owners.

So with the change in the method of production, we must change our ideas of ownership. In the interest of ourselves, we must insist on the ownership of the means of production and distribution by the consumers—that is you and me. The members of this co-operative society own to-day five retail stores. A little more growth, and in association with other co-operative societies in Canada, they will own factories—WITH NO OTHER PURPOSE THAN SERVING THE CONSUMERS WHO USE THEIR PRODUCTS.
