

St. Matthew's the Scene of Charming Wedding

Miss Doris Caveney and Mr. Samuel B. Storms United in Marriage. Summer Flowers and Other Decorations at the Church Reception After the Ceremony.

St. Matthew's Anglican Church was the scene of an exceptionally pretty wedding on Friday at 4 o'clock, when Doris, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Caveney, of Sandy Falls, became the bride of Mr. Samuel B. Storms, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Storms, of Picton. Summer flowers and lighted tapers adorned the altar where Rev. Canon R. S. Cushing performed the marriage rites in the presence of a large number of friends of the opular young couple. Mrs. Chas. Kearns was at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was a picture of loveliness in a bridal gown of Lumara satin, fashioned with a standing collar and a high cowl neck which emerged from a round yoke, accentuating a shirred bodice. Gibson sleeves and godets in the long train were beautifully tailored, and she wore a poke bonnet with an all-illusion cap and orange blossoms, from which descended a long flowing veil. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Marjorie Caveney, attended her sister as maid-of-honour, charming in an ensemble of turquoise blue satin brocaded in silver, made with a beautifully fitted bodice and bolero jacket. She wore a matching open-crown turban and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses.

Miss Bessie Caveney, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, very becomingly attired in a gown of pale pink point d'esprit over taffeta, with a full flared skirt and bolero jacket trimmed

Then the hymn "Fight the good fight" was sung.

Rev. Baine's address stressed the present situation regarding militarist countries and their leaders and mourned the fact that the present generation were "handed a heritage from the World War which has been abused." The world is not safe for democracy in spite of the war. Individual greed, unscrupulous amosities, jealousies, petty spite multiplied indefinitely make the present world conditions. There will be no peace till each individual deals kindly with the other—peace with neighbours immediately about us, and a standard accepted and imitated—the life of the Prince of Peace.

After the hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers" was sung. Archdeacon Woodall gave his address. He spoke of changes in the town—"let us look at our community and think of the wonderful progress and development made in the last ten years. A higher class of homes, finest of schools, excellent fire protection, ball grounds for sport, children's play ground, a football club which stand "on top", a branch of the Canadian Legion—not a bad place to live in," said the Archdeacon.

He then spoke of the liberty and freedom, political and religious enjoyed in the British Empire, and the privilege of living under a free democracy.

Of the Legion as "A body of men prepared to defend our freedom—a loyalty not of words"—"Defend our flag and all it stands for—British democracy, cemented together by love and loyalty to the keystone, holding all together—King George of England!"

He concluded by asking the blessing of God on the Legion and the people. "God Save the King."

Popular Couple Wedded at Church of Nativity

Miss Audrey Mary Margaret McGee and Mr. Art Dunningan United in Marriage on Saturday Morning. Rev. Fr. O'Gorman, Who Officiated at Wedding of Groom's Parents, Conducted the Ceremony

A charming summer wedding took place in the Church of the Nativity on Saturday morning at 7.30 o'clock when Audrey Mary Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. McGee, became the bride of Mr. Art Dunningan, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Dunningan, of Niagara Falls. Pink and white gladioli decorated the altar where Rev. Fr. O'Gorman, who performed the marriage rites at the wedding of the groom's parents, performed the wedding ceremony, in the presence of a large number of friends of the popular young couple.

Miss Olive Lafertier played suitable wedding music at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was very lovely in a street-length dress of powder blue silk jersey, made on the new draped lines, with three-quarter length full sleeves, a pale pink velvet blouse, pink velvet picture hat, and pink velvet shoes. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas, with pink sweet peas fastened to the satin streamers.

Miss Simone Savard acted as bridesmaid, attractively attired in a knitted suit of yellow bucle, with navy blue hat and accessories, and a bouquet of blue cornflowers and forget-me-nots.

Mr. Victor Banning attended as groomsmen.

Immediately after the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, 167 Elm street south, where Mrs. McGee received the guests, becomingly attired in an ensemble of navy blue heavy crepe, with navy blue accessories and corsage of pink tea roses. The rooms were beautifully decorated in a pink and white scheme.

Later in the day the bride and groom left on a motoring trip to Niagara Falls, where they will visit the groom's parents, and to points in the United States. For travel the bride chose a two-piece suit of hunter's green wool twill, with a brown yoke and brown accessories. On their return they will take up residence at Maple street south in Timmins.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mrs. Graham of Kirkland Lake, and Miss Florence O'Shaughnessy of Kirkland Lake.

Prior to her marriage the bride was entertained at several showers by her numerous friends in town and district.

Talks on Situation in Europe To-day

R. A. Nicolle, Representative of English Firm the Speaker at Lions Club.

R. A. Nicolle, of London, England, Canadian representative of Cow and Gate, gave an interesting analysis of the European situation at the regular weekly dinner of Timmins Lions Club last Thursday night. Propaganda he charged is largely responsible for much of the misunderstanding existing between nations to-day. Mr. Nicolle, in referring to the many nationalities he had met in Canada, was pleased to see the many people mastering the English language and becoming substantial citizens.

A feature of the meeting was an entertainment by "Doc" White, of Boston, and his famous dog. Known as the Canadian Rin Tin Tin, the dog has performed all over Canada and United States as well as taking part in an English movie named "Storm." A portion of the film was re-enacted by the dog and his master, the sagacious canine giving a demonstration of "saying his prayers" and refusing to get up until his master had said "amen."

The first part of the meeting was devoted to general business. President Dr. Kelly giving an outline of the different committees and their duties. Second vice-president A. Allen presided.

Albert, Pace, of North Bay, was a visitor for the occasion.

Wedding Plans Blasted by Deportation Order

Immigration Department to Send Anka Oreskovic Back to Jugo-Slavia as Result of Breach of Regulations. Discards Original Suitor and Was to Have Been Married on Sunday in Schumacher.

With the Canadian Immigration Department providing the fly in the ointment, the wedding of Anka Oreskovic, twenty-year-old Croatian girl and Mark Oreskovic, which was to have taken place at St. Alphonsus Church in Schumacher yesterday afternoon, failed to materialize. While the girl and her intended fiancé bear the same name they are no relation.

Anka Oreskovic arrived in Canada about June 12 from Jugo-Slavia, her destination being Schumacher. Ostensibly she came to this country to marry one Nick Markovitch. She was not acquainted with him and had never laid eyes on him until she arrived in the Porcupine.

It would appear that Markovitch made application to the Canadian government to have Anka admitted to Canada, with the understanding that they would be married within thirty days. Markovitch provided a cash bond of $250.

While in Paris, the twenty-year-old girl signed a declaration that her object in coming to Canada was to marry Nick Markovitch. However on arrival here she found she didn't like him and refused to go through with the marriage.

In a short time Anka and Mark Oreskovic began to keep company and elaborate plans were made for yesterday's wedding. Oreskovic had rented and furnished a house at 49 Second avenue in Schumacher and guests had been invited to be present at the marriage ceremony.

Last Thursday W. H. Foran, of the immigration department in Montreal arrived in Timmins with a matron and proceeded to investigate the Oreskovic girl's case. Following the holding of a board of inquiry, the girl was ordered to be deported. Events moved quickly from this point on and Friday afternoon Anka was bundled on to the train for Montreal. The fiancé has retained Dean Kester, K.C., to conduct an appeal against the deportation order which will be heard in Ottawa on Wednesday.

Stunned by the sudden turn in events Oreskovic was a pathetic figure as he stood on the station platform. Called to the telephone a few minutes before, he wasn't even on the platform when the train pulled out. "My reason for wanting to marry her is not to prevent her being deported but because I love her and want her to be my wife," he told a representative of The Advance. Ironically enough the wedding banns had been published for three Sundays in succession. Oreskovic, who has lived in Schumacher since 1931, has been employed at McIntyre for the past two and a half years as a machine runner.

SCHOOL

The school year is starting. What will it mean to your child? Pleasure or punishment? Hard work or exciting fun? Success or failure?

It may depend entirely upon the question of eye strain. Eye strain makes hard work out of all school work. It may be there and give no evidence. Do not let your child start the coming school year without the help of needed glasses.

Have an eyesight examination at once. If glasses are needed they will make the school year happy and successful. Start the new year right.
