Grand Master of I.O.O.F. Pays Visit to the North

Greeted by Oddfellows from Timmins, Matheson, Cochrane and Iroquois Falls at Gathering at Iroquois Falls Thursday Evening. Dr. G. C. R. Bell, G.M., Banquetted.

Iroquois Falls, Sept. 7.—(Special to The Advance)—Dr. George C. R. Bell, of Little Britain, Ontario, Grand Master of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, was the distinguished guest of honour at a District Lodge meeting, held here in the Orange Hall on Thursday evening, September 1st.

A good attendance of members of the various branches of this Order were on hand at 8 p.m., standard time, to greet the Grand Master, having made the journey here by car from Timmins, Matheson, Cochrane and Iroquois Falls.

Dr. Hall, G.M., together with Mr. C. Byam, Past Grand Master, of New Liskeard, and Mr. McLellan, D.D.G.M., of Kirkland Lake, were introduced and extended a warm welcome by Mr. A. A. Howard, P.D.D.G.M., on their arrival at the hall, where all members were wearing their collars and merit insignia.

The meeting was opened in regular Lodge form, under the direction of Vice-Grand Mr. Oswald Wolf, after which Dr. Hall took complete charge.

A most interesting, educational and enlightening talk was given by the Grand Master, the topic of his speech being Oddfellow work. As Dr. Hall has travelled widely throughout Canada and United States, he was able to give a true picture of the wonderful work done by the Order, also the vast progress being made by fellow members in other districts. Arcusing the keen interest of the audience, his visit was most beneficial, the hour and half of lecture seeming to slip by too quickly.

As previously arranged, the participants furthered their evening by journeying to the United Church hall, where the Rebekah Lodges District No. 59, of the different towns were also in attendance to meet the Grand Master. Mrs. Beatrice Anthony, D.D.P., South Porcupine, extended a warm welcome, on behalf of the Rebekah Lodge, to the officers and members of the Oddfellows as they prepared for an enjoyable banquet.

Introduction of the individual members to the senior officers completed, a most sumptuous banquet was served by the Rebekahs to all attending and was heartily enjoyed by all.

Mr. A. A. Howard, P.D.D.G.M., chairman of the reception committee, then proposed a toast to the King, re-
