

Recover Body of Drowning Victim

Remains of Leo Bouchard Came to Surface of River After Nine Days.

Rising to the surface after nine days at almost the same point where he is said to have fallen into the Mattagami River, the body of Leon Bouchard, forty-eight-year-old prospector, was recovered yesterday morning.

Ever since the accident on the night of August 12, firemen, police and forestry branch employees had been dragging the river in a vain effort to locate the body. Even dynamite was used but to no avail.

The body was discovered by Alphonse Monet, of 154 Gillies street, who was gathering driftwood a short distance south of the Fesserton Lumber Mill.

On the night of the drowning Paddy Sherry, who resides in a shack south of the cemetery, told police that he and Bouchard had been drinking wine on the bank of the river. His attention was drawn to one side and when he looked around again he saw Bouchard's body floating out into the stream, he related.

Deceased, who lived with Mr. and

Mrs. Charles Seguin at 112 Avenue Road, was unmarried. He was born in Chiswick, Ontario, and had been prospecting in Timmins and district for the past twenty-two years. He is survived by four brothers, and one sister, Mrs. John Bosson, residing in Mountjoy Township.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at the Notre Dame des Lourdes Church, Rev. Fr. Brouillard conducting the services.

Coroner H. E. Montgomery was called to investigate the drowning and ordered a postmortem examination. Dr. R. McKechnie performed an autopsy but found no indication of foul play.

ANCIENT JOKER

New York Times—There's an old New York Joke: "What famous person is buried in Grant's Tomb?" Last week George D. Burnside, for 41 years curator of the tomb, revealed that the question is not a mere witticism. "I get people in here from Canada and Europe sometimes," he said, "who ask me right off the bat 'Who is this famous man that's buried here?' They never heard of General Grant."

New Form of Bridge Now Catching Popular Fancy

A large number of local bridge fans are specially enthusiastic about a new form of bridge—a plan whereby the game can be played by one person alone. This form of the game is called "Autobridge" and it fairly fascinates bridge fans. It is said that in the United States literally millions of people have set, contract bridge may be played without partners or opponents. It is real contract bridge, played exactly as though you were sitting in a four-handed game, except that it is actually played alone. You bid and your opponents and your partner bid right along with you. You play your hand and the dummy, and your opponents put up perfect defence. You see only the cards you would in actual play—concealed and revealed trick by trick. In effect you play with and learn from the world's greatest bridge authorities. Thousands of hands—selected by such famous bridge names as Mr. and Mrs. Ely Culbertson, P. Hal Sims, Richard L. Frey, Charles Lochridge and many others—are available for you to play. Since Autobridge has been introduced to Timmins all bridge fans who have seen it are very enthusiastic about the new game—or the new form of the old game—and the new form of bridge promises to be very popular in town and district.

Zippered "Hot Dogs"

Zippered wieners are the latest malle stone on the march of progress. As demonstrated by this young lady at Cleveland, Ohio, the new arrangement enables "hot-dog" lovers to enjoy the succulent interior without having to gnaw through skin envelopes. The zipper, when pulled down, strips off the skin of the wiener. Now if zippers can only be attached to bananas, everyone will be happy—maybe!

"Originality of Drama," and Reg. Fisher, topic, "A Task of Education in a Changing World."

The three judges, Mrs. Johns and Miss Stanley, of South Porcupine, and Miss Coleman, of Schumacher, found their work in choosing the winner very difficult, but finally agreed that the winning team was that from Timmins, and the Timmins A.Y.P.A. was given the honour of winning the oratorical contest.

The trophy for the contest is a handsome cup which was held last year by the Cochrans A.Y.P.A.

A very delicious lunch was served by the South Porcupine A.Y.P.A., and the meeting was brought to a close with the singing of "God Save the King."

Weiner Roast Planned by 106th Girl Guides

The 106th Girl Guides held their weekly meeting on Monday in the church hall. The meeting was called to order and the roll call followed by inspection. The Primrose Patrol acted as colour party. After the break of flag "God Save the King" was sung followed by Guide prayer. The Guides then went to their corners and started to do badge work. Campfire was then formed and songs sung, followed by a couple of games.

The Guides are planning on going on a wiener roast on Friday night at 6 o'clock, weather permitting. The meeting was closed with "Taps."

Fifty Pupils for T & N. O. School Car

New School on Wheels Starts Next Week.

North Bay, Sept. 22.—Approximately 50 school students will be served by the railway school car being put into operation on the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway next week, according to Dr. J. B. MacDougall, B.A., D. Paed., today.

The car will stop at Doherty, Redwater, Otter, Bushnell, Mulock and Tomiko, taking one month to cover the entire territory. The schedule opens next Monday, starting southward from Temagami. On completion of the trip, the car will return to Temagami and again travel southward.

The public is invited to inspect the school on wheels, which will be open during the afternoons and evenings today, Thursday and Friday at the T. & N. O. siding at Regina street. Angus McKay, teacher in charge of the new car, will explain method of operation.

Redwater, with a probable class of 14 pupils, will be one of the largest contributions to the classes under Angus McKay. It is difficult at present to ascertain definitely how many pupils will be taught at each centre, since news of the arrival of a travelling school on the T. & N. O. may bring the children of settlers living long distances from the railway to the various stops.

Great Success

Dr. MacDougall, who was one of the principal advocates of the school car idea 12 years ago, states that they have been successful to a degree never anticipated. Adult settlers who have never been educated attend the day classes with the children. Others take part in the night classes for grown-ups and a good many dwellers of the backwoods have learned the joy of being able to read and write only since the establishment of the railway school car. The school car has also been a great factor in smoothing out difficulties that have arisen among railroad laborers. Before the institution of the travelling school, workers often objected to transfers to remote parts of the railway because of the impossibility of educating their children. Today, however, they are quite satisfied to make such changes, since their youngsters can attend the school car classes. Because there are no other diversions to occupy the children's attention they apply themselves to their studies to a degree that would put most city children to shame.

Graduates of school car training have continued their education to normal schools and universities, Dr. MacDougall said. Some have even gone to the United States to attend schools of engineering. Such cases are ample evidence that the school car is just as valuable an educating factor as the ordinary urban school.

Oratorical Contest Won by Timmins

Joint Meeting of A.Y.P.A. Branches Last Night at South Porcupine.

The joint meeting of the A.Y.P.A. was held in the parish hall at South Porcupine on Wednesday evening, taking the form of an oratorical contest between Iroquois Falls, South Porcupine and Timmins. Bud Brewer, of Iroquois Falls, acted as chairman. The meeting was opened with the Lord's Prayer.

The first speakers were of South Porcupine, Miss Dorothy Walker choosing to speak on "Joan of Arc," and Tom Neil, speaking about "Membership and Loyalty of the A.Y.P.A." They were followed by the Iroquois Falls speakers, Maitland Owen, topic "Paper Industry," and Gordon Cybolsky, topic, "War," and the last speakers, (both of Timmins) were Miss Ruth Arnold, topic,
