Iroquois Falls Rod-Gun Club's Annual Meeting

Officers Re-elected for the Ensuing Year. Excellent Work Done for Conservation by Enterprising Northern Sportsmen, Speckled Trout, Lake Trout and Bass Placed in Lakes.

Iroquois Falls, Nov. 7. — (Special to The Advance)—The annual meeting of the Iroquois Falls and District Rod and Gun Club was held this evening in their Club rooms on Devonshire Ave., at which time business for the past year was brought to a close, and the club embarked on their term for 1939. Following the reading and adopting of minutes of the previous meeting, the various committees were called upon to give their reports for 1938, and it was noted with wide accord that a great number of small fish have been planted in many nearby lakes during the season, with a remarkable low cost. Mr. G. L. Cameron, chairman of the Fish Committee outlined their achievements during the summer months, stating that both speckled and lake trout had been transplanted in abundance, together with a recent shipment of small bass, placed in a few favourable lakes, which is as yet, a new venture. Bass, while a game fish, and the sportsman's favourite, are hard to rear in the northern lakes, and it is hoped by all members that they will thrive in their new surroundings, and give ample angling sport in later years. Although plantings, which started in May, continued all summer till the last shipment was all placed in October, yet the total cost covering this work was below $50, and in view of this appreciable reduction in expenditures of the club's funds, a hearty vote of thanks was offered to the chairman and his committee. From the Property Committee, it was noted that all boats belonging to the club were being maintained in good state of repair which assures the club of many years' use yet. Attention of the authorities was drawn to the fact that boats located at Perry Lake were continually being interfered with by other than club members, and considerable difficulty was being encountered to keep these locked. The Property Committee stated that everything in their power would be done to discontinue this practice in future. Considerable discussion was also given to the matter of persons encroaching upon the Abitibi Reserve, where it is claimed they are fishing and killing game, contrary to the law. This game reserve, occupying a large stretch of land adjacent to Iroquois Falls is becoming the home of many wild animals, and is fulfilling its purpose to an appreciable extent. The auditors report which followed showed the club had a small deficit to wind up the past year. This small deficit was due to a reduced membership, through short-time operations in the mill here, and fairly heavy expenditures during the term. The expenditures were made necessary by the fine progress made by the club, and it was felt that work achieved more than offset the small margin of deficit. The election of officers for the ensuing term then followed, with the re-installation of all the officers by acclamation. They are as follows: President—P. J. Redmond. Vice-president—T. Cybulsky. Secretary—L. D. St. James. Treasurer—J. S. Brown.

The president thanked the members for their fine support and enthusiasm shown, and hoped that he would be able to fulfill his duties as well, if not better, than in the past. He readily assured them that he would at all times be willing to uphold the standards of the club. The chairman of the various committees were then elected by the president, and are as follows: Chairman Fish Committee—Mr. G. L. Cameron. Chairman Game Committee—Mr. C. S. Jessup. Chairman Property Committee—Mr. J. Beaudoin. Chairman Entertainment Committee—Mr. M. J. Smith. The president, in re-electing these officers spoke highly of their fine work and progress, and felt on behalf of the members that their work met with the whole hearted approval of all, and they were therefore urged to continue in these capacities. Mr. F. E. Wood, who is leaving Iroquois Falls shortly to take up residence in California, was extended the regrets of the club, and was given a letter of introduction to any new club that he may join in United States, by the officers. Mr. Wood, who was one of the first members of this club, has always been a keen supporter in their ventures, and will be missed greatly by all.

Three Deer Drowned in Old Cobalt Shaft

Apparently Fell in While Attempting to Drink.

Latchford, Nov. 10.—(Special to The Advance)—The unusual fate of death by drowning in a small shaft on an old mining property, owned by an Ottawa Valley resident, and located close to the main line tracks of the T. & N. O. railway five miles north of here, befell three deer whose carcasses were found floating in the water by a Cobalt man who chanced to pass through the bush at that point in Coleman township. The discovery was reported to Provincial Constable R. O. Stromberg at Cobalt, who in turn notified Elgin Binkley, game warden at New Liskeard, and the bodies of the animals were removed from the water. The dead deer were found by F. H. Cameron, and the victims, a doe and two fawns, are believed to have gone to the shaft to drink and to have slipped into the water, which comes to within about five feet of the top of the workings. According to Constable Stromberg, the fawns were yearlings and their horns had started to grow, and the officer thought the deer had not long been in the water, as their hair was firm and had not been affected greatly by the fatal immersion. The shaft was open at the top, and timbers used in its operations had rotted away. Constable Stromberg said. The mining property, which is situated a short distance from the section foreman's house at Gillies Depot, the railway stop between here and Cobalt, is owned by W. F. McConigal, whose address is given as Arnprior. The shaft has not been worked for years, apparently, as the property is located in a part of the Cobalt silver area where little mineral development has taken place. The depth of the water could not be determined with certainty, the officer said.

Modern Features In New Christmas Toys

This Year's Toys Follow Every Activity of Modern Life.

New York, Nov. 9.—Santa Claus' $225,000,000 pack this year will reproduce in workable miniatures virtually every activity of American home life, industry and transportation. Scientific advance testing of 1938 models by children to determine fun possibilities, age suitability, safety and educational value was reported at the annual Christmas preview sponsored by toy manufacturers. In the roster of 10,000 new American made toys, Snow White, the G-man, the bowboy, and a score of movie cartoons and radio stars competed for the spotlight of juvenile worship. Old favourites with streamlined additions include new models in electric steam engines, two-faced, black and white boards, non-breakable marionettes, automatic scoring marble bowling sets, a shoofly modelled after a panda and a new electric pencil for etching wood, leather and cork.

mentary on American life that American children are principally interested in play that imitates home and business activities. Scientific tests show that children have much more fun with toys which enable them to "do things."

The housing boom is fulfilled in 1938 toylands. There are new styles in prefabricated houses made of blocks, bricks and cardboard.

Polarized Light Polarized light is the latest scientific gadget to be adapted to playroom technique. A child can tell whether the tablecloth is cotton or linen.

The age level of dolls has progressed into the teens.

Sophisticated dolls with pageboy bobs and glamour girl costumes appeared at the preview. They boast high style wardrobes that cover every social occasion. Evening dresses with trains, tailored sports costumes and afternoon gowns are featured for older dolls. Doll wigs are setting a new high in variety with page-boy bobs and a wide selection of ringlet arrangements.

Dolls and animals have been modelled from favourite characters in popular children's books as well as the movies, cartoon and radio heroes. A miniature vacuum cleaner has joined the large roster of housekeeping toys. Children's furniture in period and modern styles also was shown at the preview.

Englehart Farmer Thrown from Wagon, Breaks Neck

Englehart, Nov. 9.—His neck and jawbone fractured and his left arm and shoulder dislocated, Henry Miller, Sr., Thornloe District farmer, was rushed aboard the Northland Friday night for hospitalization at Toronto.

He sustained the injuries when his team bolted, frightened by a train, on a stretch of the road to Englehart which runs alongside the railway right of way. Unable to control the horses, he was thrown from the wagon as it slewed on the soft shoulder of the road. Brought to the Red Cross Hospital here Thursday, he received treatment and the following night it was decided that the trip to Toronto must be made.
