

Marty Lauder Appointed Coach of McIntyre Hockey Team

Macs May Meet Lake Shore In Opener Around Dec. 17

Coach Lauder Will Launch Into Intensive Practice Soon in Order to Get His Men in Shape for Coming Season. Macmen Expect Husky, Well Rounded Squad. Will Have Speed.

Coach of the McIntyre Hockey Club this year will be Marty Lauder. Appointment to the coaching position was made only recently. Furthermore Coach Lauder hopes to have his men in shape to meet Lake Shore in the first game of the season on December 17 or around that date.

The Macmen expect to have a husky, well-rounded squad this year. Added of course, will be the incentive of playing and practicing in their magnificent new arena. However, the Macs do not expect to turn out a team that is all beef and nothing else. On their aggregation they have many fast skaters, several of whom are said to be former Western stars.

Meanwhile the new rink is nearing completion. The rink section is almost finished, most of the remaining work to be done on the club rooms of the community building.

The Macs will have one of the finest sheets of ice in the country to practice on. If equipment and surroundings mean anything they should turn out a much superior squad to that of last winter.

McIntyre hockey executives will release a line-up of their players soon.

Fish and Game Officials Enjoy Luck in Hunting

Sudbury, Nov. 19.—It's been good hunting for Ontario's No. 1 hunter, Hon. H. C. Nixon, minister of game and fisheries, who for the past two weeks has been hunting at his camp on the Wahnapitae river, south of Burwash. To-day the minister is expected to return to Toronto to resume his duties.

With him he will have one of the finest deer taken in the district this year. It is a 10-point buck weighing 190 pounds. Deputy Minister D. J. Taylor, who left the camp on Wednesday for Toronto by train, went one better, when he downed a 14-point buck with a 22-inch spread of antlers.

The party of nine, which has been hunting with the minister, came through their stay in the bush with no mishaps, although R. S. Coulter, chairman of the Ontario municipal board, did excite the group when he failed to return for Sunday dinner. As it began to get dark, Mr. Nixon organized a search party, only to have Mr. Coulter show up.

Though the party is made up principally of Ontario government officials, it wasn't long before Game Warden Joe Loisele arrived to check up on licenses.

The party which left Wednesday with Mr. Taylor, included Mr. Coulter and Allan Lampert, M.P.P. for Rosedale.

While the Nixon party brought down the proudest bucks, it was up to Deputy Police Chief George Guehrle, of Toronto, to get the unusual. He and his party shot an albino deer. This is the second known albino deer to be shot in the district this year, the first having been downed near Sault Ste. Marie.

In the bush, the figure of the minister is distinguished by his scarlet cap and gray blanket coat.

A place on Queen's Park walls will probably be the final resting place for the antlers of the deer shot by Mr. Taylor. Remaining with Mr. Nixon is James Elliott, superintendent at Mimico Reformatory.

Schumacher Men's Club Meet, Nov. 24

Election of Officers for the Ensuing Year.

The Schumacher Men's Club will hold their annual meeting in the United Church, Schumacher, on Thursday evening of this week, Nov. 24th. Supper will be served at 6 p.m. The chief item of business for the evening will be the election of officers for the ensuing year.

All interested should make a special point of attending this meeting. The speaker for the evening will be Rev. Mr. Balne, minister of Trinity United Church.

BOY SCOUTS IN TIMMINS

This story comes from Labrador, where at North-West River there is one of the loneliest Scout Troops I know of. In fact, they say communication is so bad in winter that they feel they are the only Scout Troop in the world.

They say also that the city Scouts have many advantages over country Scouts, but in everyday life the Scouts of North-West River can do things that city Scouts cannot. Here in Timmins we are very lucky for we have the advantages of both the city and country Scouts, whether we take advantage of them or not is another matter.

"We can," they go on to say, "go a short distance in the bush and practice trapping wild animals. Our fathers are trappers, and their lives depend on tracking and skill in setting traps, as a result many Scouts, too, will be trappers when they grow up."

"Some of us have already been in the country with our fathers where we have had to track, bake flapjacks, cook meat, and carry our own loads; in fact, everyday life is Scouting. We often have to build a shelter of boughs and make an open fire on the top of the snow."

One boy, who was trapping 200 miles from any settlement, and a walk of four days from the nearest living person, made his daily round to his traps, but one night failed to get back to his shelter before dark. If he went on there was a chance of losing himself, so he made a fire and prepared to wait for morning.

He was cutting enough wood to last the night when the axe slipped and he cut his foot badly. Immediately he retraced his steps to the cabin he had left the previous morning, stopping occasionally to beat the frozen blood off his snowshoe. Travelling all night and part of the next day he finally crawled into his cabin and made a fire.

It took three weeks for his foot to heal and, during all this time, he had to crawl out on the snow on his hands and knees to prevent himself from freezing. He treated the wound with raw turpentine from the silver pine trees, which is a good disinfectant.

When the wound had healed he kept on trapping for a while and then went home, as well as any man, and fairly successful in furs.

In sum, what this lad did was to apply his First Class Scout training in hiking, cooking, woodsmanship and so on. In application, it was not difficult. The tests were only common sense in the various lines and certainly not as hard as they look on paper.

Perhaps you're finding them easy, if so good for you, but if you're finding them difficult, it's ten chances to one that you're trying to go them done as quickly as possible. Don't do that, give them time but keep at them, to learn they're simple but to know they need constant practice—that's why it is better to take plenty of time—say a year to a year and a half. If you want you can pick off a few badges from the "proficiency badge tree." It'll give you a break.

Activities outside of regular troop and pack meetings are on the up in the district now. Last week, for instance, the 6th Troop displayed their "wares" at a meeting of the B'nai Brith in the basement of the local synagogue. As a result of showing the fathers and sons what Scouts do, about ten Jewish boys joined the group. This increase in membership builds up the lion in the policy designed by the Troop's Club when they took it over, namely, to make the group as international or cosmopolitan in its membership as possible.

In addition, to this activity, the 6th Troop are assisting in the distribution of literature, etc., for the Christmas seal campaign in the fight against tuberculosis.

The 7th Group I understand, have already begun work on their Toy Shop. As I said, the Pack has gotten underway.

Then we mustn't forget the work of the Scouts from all troops in the collection of the T.P.A.A.A. While many Scouts will benefit as a result of this campaign, it may still be considered a "good turn." Mr. Austin Neame, our newly appointed president, extends his sincere thanks to you for your work on both the behalf of the Timmins Boy Scouts Association and the T.P.A.A.A. of which he is also a director. And don't forget that I throw in my "two cents."

And lastly but certainly not least, the Patrol Leaders Training Course with its membership of 18 P.L.'s some five more than we expected—especially after the 32 membership of last year, we hardly expected that there would be so many untrained leaders left.

Here are some odds and ends from outside districts.

A team of Polish Canadian Boy Scouts of Brandon, Manitoba, captured the provincial Wallace Nesbitt Junior first aid competition of 1938.

Officials of the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto, as usual called upon smilingly uniformed Boy Scouts to act as ushers, information booth attendants, and in other capacities throughout the week of the big show. All Scouts assigned were First Class of King's Scouts.

As a signal for the opening of the new international bridge ("Blue Water") between Sarnia, Ont., and Port Huron, Mich., flags at the two bridge approaches were simultaneously hoisted by Canadian and American Boy Scouts. The Scout ceremony was substituted for the conventional cutting of a ribbon.

Scoutingly yours,
Ebr. District Leader.

Kirkland Curling Rink to be Swanky

Improvements and Alterations to Make it Colourful Spot.

(From Northern News)
The old gray mare, ain't what she used to be—and they will be singing the same song about the Kirkland Lake curling club in three weeks' time.

An extensive program of alterations, painting, and refurbishing is now in full swing at the curling club rooms with a view to giving the members a more luxurious place in which to gather.

Chief among the items is the creating of a special smoking room in the basement of the club. The lockers facing the entrance will be torn out and a section partitioned off to form sanctuary for the husband-out-for-a-night.

Locker space will be increased when the rock which forms part of the lower floor is torn out. About 30 new lockers are to be installed. Upstairs, the kitchen and ladies room will change positions, with new equipment added to each.

Sit Down Awhile
Soft rugs, softer chairs, and still softer lounges are to be the furnishings of the club rooms when the work is completed. Dr. E. C. McKee and Walter Wright are in charge of furnishings.

A splash of color will meet the eye when the ice lanes are finished. The dividers are to be painted blue with red seats, and the whole interior of the rink is to be touched up.

Alterations are not confined to the curling rink itself. A few changes in the program have already been announced as the new executive gets into operation.

Chief among them is the change in the choice of team to play for the Van Italle Diamonds, the classic of Northern Ontario Curling Competition. This year the team which wins the first bonspiel of the season, which is the Northern Canada Supply Trophy, will represent Kirkland Lake in the finals for the diamonds.

The regular Wednesday and Saturday afternoon open competitions will be carried on again this year. A new idea which is receiving consideration is the holding of a social evening at the club each Saturday night, with cards and dancing.

The executive has announced that the membership is filled up. "Overloaded" is the word used to describe the situation as applications pour in for membership.

Committee Chairman
Other committees in the club have had chairmen appointed. Herb Norton is in charge of the New Year's Eve Dance, W. A. Spellman will look after the House Committee, Ice is in charge of T. Houston, entertainment of J. D. (Dougal) McDonald, C. V. Caswell will take care of membership and Cliff Tuck has charge of the draw committee.

One thing is worrying the officials of the club. No word has yet been received from E. S. "Stod" Fonerl, the ice-maker ideal of the club for many past seasons. Stod is at present in Western Canada and it is not known whether he intends to return here or not.

Stod's ice making has always been the best, and the boys certainly hope he decides to return.

T.P.A.A.A. Express Thanks to all Helping Broadcast

Timmins, 17th November, 1938
To the Editor of The Advance, Timmins.

Dear Sir:—Before the pecuniary part of the T. P. A. A. Broadcast is emphasized by publication of a list of subscribers the Board of Directors wish to thank the various citizens and community-minded organizations for the exceptional co-operation given in making the Auction Broadcast a success and a considerable bit of fun.

It is quite impossible to thank each individual or organization for the splendid work contributed. The Board of Directors would ask all the various members of committees to accept the thanks of the T. P. A. A. and the appreciation of the children of this community for the amount of time and effort so willingly given. There are however organizations whose contributions demand special mention. In referring to them the Board of Directors specifically wishes to emphasize the fact that the work done by those whose names are not mentioned is very much appreciated and is only omitted through lack of space.

Mr. Austin Neame and Jack MacLean are to be congratulated on their splendid Boy Scout organization. The Boy Scouts more than demonstrated in bearing a great deal of the work, the great efficiency of their organization and the ability and thoroughness of its individual members.

The Northern Ontario Telephone Company very kindly installed and looked after the various and many problems of telephone communications and this not only most efficiently but absolutely free of charge. The Northern Telephone Company is to be congratulated on its efficiency and its obvious interest in this, our community.

The tremendous contributions of the Northern Broadcasting Company Limited in placing its complete facilities at the disposal of the Auction Broadcast cannot be over-emphasized. Naturally without such facilities the broadcast would not have been possible but more particularly without the gratuitous donation of the services and the assistance of the announcers, Bill Wren and Fred Darling, the broadcast would not have been profitable. This is not only an indication of the interest our local station takes in the Porcupine Camp but seems to indicate very clearly the importance which CKGB has attained in the everyday life of our citizens.

The Board of Directors also wish to thank the local newspapers for co-operating in presenting this broadcast and to point out to the citizens of this camp that the publicity has been handled without charge.

The Board of Directors wish to thank the citizens in general for entering into the spirit of the Auction Broadcast and to hope that the citizens of our Camp will make a point of supporting and enjoying the activities of the T. P. A. A. in its efforts to be of service to the young people of our community.

Yours very truly,
The Board of Directors of the Timmins Police Amateur Athletic Association.
