

Won't run for Council Says Wren.

tering the ballot papers whose owners had nothing to offer but who wanted election to grind some axe, to spread propaganda or to raise the tax-rate and provide money to put some hare-brained scheme into action.

Councillor Wren gave as his reason for not running for office this year the fact that the radio station of which he is manager will be increased in power to 1,000 watts, necessitating the installation of a lot of new equipment and his presence at the station to advise and direct. Consequently he did not feel that he would have the time to adequately deal with the responsibilities accompanying office.

Two conditions Councillor Wren saw the need to remedy were, first, the lack of remuneration for members of the town council. Many men could not or would not run for office unless it was accompanied by a reasonable remuneration. Neither did the speaker favor the one year term of office. At the end of a year, he believed, councillors were just beginning to get a grasp of municipal administration. He suggested a two-year term.

When first elected to Council, said the speaker, one of his pledges was to do what he could for a greater share of the Mines Profit Tax. He had done all he could but had not succeeded.

"I maintain at this time," said Councillor Wren, "that the failure can be attributed chiefly to the Mayor's determination that we shall not succeed. I can give no other reason for the opposition we have faced in our attempts to solve this problem.

"This question, that I believe could have been solved to the advantage of Northern Ontario municipalities, has been made into a political football by men that claim they are working in the interests of the taxpayer, yet they have done everything in their power to place obstacles in the path of those of us who were working to bring increased revenues to the Town, and a resultant decrease in the tax burden of the property owner."

If those working for a fairer apportioning of the mines tax profits had not suffered opposition originating in the council, the town would have been richer by the sum of $50,000 to $75,000 a year, said Mr. Wren.

Branding the efforts of union officials to have the town council interfere in a question of relations between employers and employees, "a cheap publicity scheme," the speaker said that interference in such a matter had no connection with the duties of the council.

Obvious improvements accomplished during the past year were the inauguration of a municipal garbage collecting system; the appointment of a full-time sanitary inspector; sewer and water extensions; sidewalk paving and the move to give the taxpayer four instalment payments on his taxes. Other work included the installation of traffic lights, increases in the strengths of the fire and police forces and addition of a pumping engine to the equipment of the fire department.

The adoption of the resolution permitting newspaper reporters to attend all meetings of council and not just bi-monthly meetings was listed by Mr. Wren as an accomplishment.

Nazis Avow Plan to Wipe Out Jews by Fire and Sword

According to a despatch from Berlin published in yesterday's Globe and Mail, the Nazis have published in their Secret Police Organ a statement to the effect that it is intended to completely wipe out the Jews in Germany by fire and sword. It is suggested that the plan is to starve them into crime and then annihilate them.

Iroquois Falls Plans for 1939 Flower Show

Officers Elected for Iroquois Falls Horticultural Society.

Iroquois Falls, Nov. 23.—(Special to The Advance)—Although Mr. Stables, president of the Iroquois Falls and District Horticultural Society for the past three years, declined earnestly to accept this office for another term at their annual meeting held in the court rooms here on Monday night, the membership present would not hear of it, and unanimously voted him to continue in his commendable work.

At this meeting, where a good membership representing were on hand to express their opinions, Mr. Stables wished to resign his post, feeling that some one else should be given the opportunity to act as president. However, in view of the exceptionally fine accomplishments during the past two years of the society, they again placed Mr. Stables at the helm.

Other officers elected were:
Honorary President—Mr. E. M. Pawker.

First Vice-President—Mrs. H. Towles.

Second Vice-President—Mr. H. J. Wall.

Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. O. S. Hamilton.

Directors: (For two-year term)—Mrs. C. Rowe, Mr. H. Towles, Mr. W. Needham, Mr. R. Bean. Directors still on another year's term consist of Mrs. E. A. Columbus, Mr. F. Eaton, Mr. F. Bean, Mr. Lafortune, and Mrs. S. J. Oliver. Auditors: Mr. A. H. Dixon and Mrs. J. R. Spence.

Following the election of officers, discussion was concentrated on questions pertaining to the constitution and eliminating and adding to the exhibition show.

Considerable heated discussion and controversy was shown in endeavoring to amend the 14th rule of the constitution, which reads as follows: "First, second and third prizes will be awarded in each class, according to the prize list, providing the exhibit is in the proper number and class." This amendment was introduced as a result of much discussion, wherein a loophole was found, but after a thorough survey, it was left to stand as was, by a majority vote.

Possible changes in exhibits for the coming year was left to the discretion of the directors, as were the possible changes pertaining to prize amounts.

With the thought in mind of exhibiting flowers grown in Northern Ontario for the benefit of flower garden enthusiasts in the southern sections, it was suggested by several members at the meeting that the society, or group of the society, join the Ontario Gladiolus Society, which will enable such persons to enter their gladiolus in the city exhibitions. The feeling that Northern Ontario grown gladiolus are comparable with those of the south was the instigation of this move.

The financial statement read at the meeting, showed a substantial bank balance with a slight surplus over last year.

Cases Against Kirkland Men Dismissed at Toronto

Kirkland Lake, Nov. 23.—Charges of conspiracy to defraud laid against Frank Vesel, Joseph Rauch and Louis Stanic all of Kirkland Lake, were dismissed by Judge O'Connell in non-jury assize court yesterday. He also found Vesel not guilty on a charge of obtaining $3,000 by false pretences. Immediately after his discharge, Stanic was taken into custody again on a warrant charging that he procured "money to be obtained by false pretences from Frank Vesel."

The case arose out of a mining deal with Joseph Jaroszewski and Felix Bijakowski in which the three accused were alleged to have shown samples of gold ore said to have come from the Stanic Mines in Rouyn. Vesel was alleged to have received $2,700 from Jaroszewski and $300 from Bijakowski for an interest in the mine.

The purchasers afterwards examined the mining property and found it worthless. They claimed the samples of ore shown them did not come from the Stanic Mine.
