

Discussing Texas and Some of Its Fine Foods

Domestic Science Expert Introduced to Real Texas Barbecues and Learns How Texas Cook Fried Chicken. How to Make Barbecue Sauce. Corn Sticks. Snow Pudding.

Good news from Texas and some on the side from Florida and California! Grapefruit, oranges and lemons are plentiful and of the finest quality and if you want to get up an argument, just bring up the question as to whether the method of cooking. There were corn fritters and a cream gravy as well; and native watermelon for dessert. I never saw such large portions, but it was not too much for me.

And then of course, there was a real barbecue—"nothing like you call barbecues in the north." Eight to twelve hours are necessary to prepare a barbecue properly, I was told. Texas men seem to pride themselves upon their ability to prepare this dish. And the famous department store in Dallas, has created a set of tools especially for them. This includes long handled forks and a pair of heavy gloves, very convenient for use over an open fire. The sauce recipe today is one given me by a friend, but I have been promised a "special" barbecue recipe by a famous man cook.

Next to the barbecue, came fish as a topic of conversation. Texans think nothing of distance and a favorite diversion is deep sea fishing off the coast for pompano and red snapper. Fresh fish is of course, shipped inland daily and I was certain that the fish which was offered to me had been taken from the sea only a few hours previously. With it, I was served corn sticks as another state speciality.

Beauty and You

by PATRICIA LINDSAY

Borrowing from the Biedermeier period, hairdressers are coming hair in puffs and curls on top of the head.

Be a Modern Beauty... But Borrow a Bit from Biedermeier

Let's turn back the leaves and look at the lovely ladies of the Biedermeier period with their poke bonnets, be-ribboned ballet shoes, full swaying gowns with bare shoulders, their brilliant colours, their jewels, hair in puffs and curls piled on top of their heads and towering with decorations... flowers, feathers, ribbons, bows.

Let's borrow from them—even as an internationally noted beauty authority borrows. The color and romance and ultra-femininity of this period served as the inspiration for a stunning new coiffure, a new hair tint and a new make-up. Notice the centre part, the hair swept up from the sides and nape, the soft rolls of curls at the crown. It's streamlined, it's romantic, it's definitely the grand lady of the Biedermeier era, yet just as definitely modern.

Champagne Rose Tint

Imagine a hair tint that gives your hair a rosy titan blonde shade. It sounds exotic enough, doesn't it? It is exotic, ravishing, flattering. Light's long hidden suddenly emerge... alive shimmering. If your hair is of the light or tawny variety naturally, but looks a little dull, try this tint. It is full of sparkle and verve and will shine in the sun, instead of looking dull by contrast.

The Face Make-Up

The face make-up by the same name consists of a luscious red strawberry lipstick, a fragile peach-bloom rouge for the cheeks, ochre powder which gives the skin a delicate transparent tone. A dot of luminous emerald eyeshadow on the lids and blue-green mascara for the lashes... and there you have the perfect accent to the glowing, pastel coloring of the champagne rose make-up for the hair. Incidentally, this facial make-up is the perfect accent, too, for the pinks and the blues so popular

Surely we don't mind borrowing from the lovely ladies of the past—when it means that much more beauty for the present!

My complete booklet Care of the Hair (booklet 203) is yours for ten cents. It covers the subject thoroughly. Send for it, giving your name and full address to the Bell Library, c-o this newspaper, 247 West 43rd Street, New York N.Y.

Pedestrian Loses Eye Through Freak Mishap

Edward Olley, a bush worker, who lives at Farmborough, near Rouyn, was the victim of an unusual freak sort of accident last week. He was on his way from his home to visit a doctor for treatment for a bad cold that was troubling him, and as he walked along the side of the highway a passing truck threw up a stone that hit Olley in the eye. Not only was a bone around the eye fractured and the eye so badly damaged that it had to be removed, but he also suffered a slight fracture to the skull. The injured man was taken to the hospital at Noranda. He is now reported as making good progress to recovery, but he has lost an eye through the accident and also will have to spend several weeks in the hospital as a result of this unusual mishap.

He was newly married. "Last night," he told a friend, "I had it out with her. I told her that I'm going to be the head. Man, you should have seen how sweetly she agreed, saying, 'Darling, then I'll be the neck.'" "Quite so," remarked his friend, "but you'll find that the neck can eye twist the head any way it wants."

Hints On Fashions

Cheer on a Cold Day
There's nothing like a brightly coloured tweed coat or suit to bring cheer and glowing beauty into a cold day. Here we come with a grand coat that is made of soft tweed in green and burgundy-red, with plain red tweed used at collar, cuffs and down the side of the bodice. It has covered belt and buttons. Side pieces of burgundy-red tweed are continued down the back of the waist section as in the front. The coat is lined with the red and altogether calculated to do a good job on a bad day.

GIRL GUIDES IN TIMMINS

May we all strive to bravely live for thee.
With trusty, loyal truthfulness
Obedience, courteous, kind,
With thrift and cheer for friendliness

"I never dreamed electric cooking could be so FAST"

Many women think of electric cooking as slow, yet a modern electric oven heats to baking heat in a very few minutes. And, what's more, electricity KEEPS the oven at exactly the temperature you want for as long as you want it. Take bread-making, for instance... many recipes say to bake bread for 15 minutes at 425°, then 45 minutes at 375°. An automatic electric range can do that for you. All you need to do is put your pans of dough in the oven, set the controls and forget you are baking! Your electric range NEVER forgets. And that's only one advantage of electric cooking. A very important feature is economy... by actual test you can cook with electricity for less than half-a-cent per meal per person. Let us tell you more about electric cooking.

You actually turn time into money when you bake at home with an ELECTRIC RANGE — we can install one in your kitchen NOW on easy terms.

- COOL
- CLEAN
- CONVENIENT
- TIME SAVING
- DEPENDABLE
