

Local Teams to Test Strength Against the Lake Shore

Heaviest Hockey Schedule For Some Years to Begin Here

Released After Meeting on Friday. Calls for Sixty Games Between December 8th and February 23rd. Four Highest Teams to Play Off for Camp Title.

One of the heaviest hockey schedules seen in this district in years was released on Friday night after a meeting of team managers and representatives. The meeting was called by J. L. Fulton, northern district convener, and Dean Kester, N.O.H.A. President.

The schedule, which had been drawn up prior to the meeting, was submitted to the managers for their approval. It was modified with several changes. The list of the season's games provides for a match nearly every night from next Thursday until February 23. Sixty games are scheduled.

Dome is scheduled to play Ankerite in Timmins on Thursday in the opening fixture. If the weather remains mild, however, there is a possibility that the Timmins Arena will not be in shape for the game and that it may be deferred.

It was decided at the meeting that the four teams standing highest at the end of the schedule, will enter the play-offs.

The teams standing first and third will play home and home games, goals to count on the round. The second and fourth teams will do likewise and the two winners will meet in a best out of three series to decide the winner. If they decide however they may play home and home games, goals to count, and in that way decide the camp winner. The N.O.H.A. will be final authority in play-off disputes.

Standing will be decided by awarding two points for a win and one for a tie. Following is the schedule:

namesake. So out to the zoological garden they stalked the next afternoon and spent an hour in front of the Eagle cage. Not a murmur out of the birdies for the entire hour! The Eagle Patrol made faces and shrieked in all possible dialects. No result whatever! Whereupon the fellows sent a delegation up to a keeper to ask him if an eagle had a cry at all. He listened to the boys in silence, then smiled. "You come with me," he said, "it's almost feeding time." And how those eagles "kreed" as they dove into the meat thrown before them—to the joy and enlightenment of the Eagles.

But, of course, you may not be Eagles. There's no zoo in this neighborhood. That shouldn't stop you. You might be able to pick up your patrol call right from the great-out-of-doors which, of course, is the perfect place for studying your patrol animal. Or there may be someone in the community who knows the calls and cries of wild birds and animals and will be glad to teach you. In some instances, hardwares have special bird and animal calls for sale. Get one and have each fellow imitate it. If all other means fail, you will have to invent a call for yourself.

The important thing is, get a call and use it whenever the patrol needs pepping up, for gathering the clan, for occasions when like Tarzan, you feel like telling the whole wide world of your victories.

A small but interesting meeting of Scout and Cab leaders was held yesterday in the Hollinger Scout hall. The meeting elected a committee whose duty it is to develop a plan for a Scouters club to be presented to the leaders at the annual dinner in January. The present idea is to develop a meeting of the forum type and in all probability call it "The Scouters' Forum" and discuss at it items of interest in as many fields as possible.

That Scouting is a true method of education was the declaration of His Eminence Cardinal Villeneuve at a banquet tendered him by the Catholic Boy Scout Federation of Quebec. He declared the Scout system of training to be a method which seeks to cultivate the personality of the boy, "striving to lead him to his maximum of human value as well. For one cannot make a well-integrated man who is not useful to society and to his nation." "The Boy Scout movement neither removes the necessity nor mitigates the importance of education within the family, the school or the church. It rounds out those forms of education. As a method of education Scouting does not consider itself exclusive, but it takes the boy in all his physical, intellectual and moral being and works to bring out his manhood."—His Eminence Cardinal Villeneuve.

Everybody likes birthday! And I'm no different from the rest. I've always enjoyed filling myself with birthday cake and things. Here's a chance to celebrate too. On Saturday next Timmins Scouting will become twenty-one years old. "To-day 'we' are a man." While the association are planning to hold their celebration of this event one month hence (postponed because of its nearness to the holidays), there is no reason why troops and packs shouldn't observe this event in their regular meetings. Scoutingly yours, Ebr.

Special Service on the T. & N. O. for Christmas

Following its usual custom in recent years the T. & N. O. Railway is making special arrangements to handle the Christmas holiday time rush and to give the best possible accommodation and service to the people during that holiday season.

In the Advance last week an outline was given of the changes and additions to train service for the public benefit around the Christmas time. Particulars of the changes and additions may be secured from any office of the T. & N. O.

Chief among the plans for increased service is the method of operating important trains like the Toronto trains in sections. To accommodate the large number of passengers from Toronto and from Timmins to the South around Christmas it has in the past been found necessary to run certain trains in sections. This year on Dec. 21st, 22nd, and 23rd Train No. 47 will leave Toronto as two sections. Train 147, Porquiss Junction to Cochrane, will operate in two sections. Train No. 46 from Timmins to Toronto will operate in two sections on Dec. 22nd, 23rd and 24th. Train No. 49 will operate from Toronto, Dec. 24th, to Timmins, Dec. 25th.

Train No. 1 will operate from North Bay to Timmins on Thursday, Dec. 22, and Saturday, Dec. 24, instead of from Cobalt as scheduled.

Train No. 151, due to leave Porquiss Junction at 7:20 p.m. will operate on Dec. 24th, but will be cancelled on Dec. 25th.

No. 2 will operate from Timmins to North Bay on Dec. 21st and 23rd, instead of to Cobalt as scheduled.

Train No. 46, from Timmins to Toronto, will operate in two sections on Dec. 22nd, 23rd and 24th.

Huntingdon Gleaner: Paramount studio has replied to an Englishman that it was sorry, but it didn't want to rent the "original King Arthur's round table" for $8,000. The offer, one of the most unique of thousands that pour into the studios, came from a man who described himself as Trammel Druldey, 96 years old, of Poikestone, England. Druldey, after reading that the studio planned to film "Knights of the Round Table," wrote that as a descendant of King Arthur, he possesses the original round table.

Fear Thursday Game Have to be Deferred

Mild Weather Has Postponed Ice Making in Timmins Arena. May Have to Change Schedule.

Hockey officials fear today that the game between Dome and Ankerite scheduled for the Timmins Arena on Thursday night, may not come off. Mild weather over the week-end has thrown a monkey wrench into the ice-making at the Arena.

If the weather does not grow much colder in the next few days a change may have to be made in the schedule. However, the weatherman says today, that colder weather should arrive in the next day or so. If there is a sharp drop in the temperature it may be possible to make enough ice to provide the hockey players with a surface.

Gallant Fight Being Waged Against Tuberculosis in This Camp.

In recent years there has been a gallant campaign conducted against the menace of tuberculosis in the Porcupine camp. The battle has attained noteworthy results. To conquer tuberculosis all that is needed is a continuation and extension of the campaign. The funds necessary are being solicited by the Porcupine Christmas Seal committee, sponsored by the Lions Club and assisted by the Canadian Tuberculosis Association. The committee has sent out letters explaining what is being done and what further is planned. Enclosed in the letter are bunches of Christmas seals, suitable for decorating letters and parcels at Christmas time. Recipients are asked to remit for the Christmas seals. In this issue will be found a list of the donors to this worthy cause up to November 30th. If you have not remitted for your Christmas seals do so at once, so as to facilitate the work of the committee and so that the matter may not be overlooked or forgotten. If you have not received the letter and seals, get in touch with a member of the Porcupine Christmas Seal committee so that you receive your seals and make your donation. The following are the members of the Porcupine Christmas Seal committee: F. H. V. Ball, president; Dr. N. H. Russell, treasurer; Mrs. E. Reeves, secretary. The advisory committee of the Porcupine Christmas Seal committee includes Dr. N. H. Russell, Dr. J. A. McInnis, Dr. M. J. Kelly, Mr. Fred Stock and Mr. G. L. Chenier.

The good work that is being done in the Porcupine area in the battle against tuberculosis can not be emphasized too much. In nearly every recent of The Advance there have been incited references to the good work and the benefits resulting to the community at large.

Manero and His Orchestra at Riverside Pavilion

Many local people attended the usual Saturday night dance at the Riverside Pavilion on Saturday night, to listen to and dance to the music of Ernest Manero and his band, which is now playing for the regular dances at the pavilion.

The band, which made its first public appearance some months ago, has greatly improved since that time, and show that they are spending much time in making the orchestra a success. An especially pleasing point in regard to the orchestra is the fact that they greatly resemble "big-time" bands in the appearance they present, all members of the orchestra wearing black suits, while the band leader, who swings his stick while standing on a raised dais, wears a white coat to distinguish him from other members of the orchestra. The orchestra plays the newest dance tunes, and those who attended the dance on Saturday evening were greatly pleased with their music.

Calling All Patrols
I visited an Eagle Patrol once, in their patrol meeting—a proud Eagle at that, with numerous trophies on the walls and a pile of traditions in their log book. When I asked them about the significance of their patrol animal and was even bold enough to suggest that they demonstrate their call, they just stared at me, as if I was asking for something that I shouldn't.
