Firemen donned masks and made their way into a gas-filled house this morning to carry out a refrigerator hat had leaked enough gas to drive the occupants out of the house.

The call was received from 261 Maple St. N., at about half an hour after midnight. Firemen responded and found the occupants of the house driven out by the acrid odour of the ammonia gas which had leaked from the refrigerator. They donned their gas masks and went into the house. Carrying the machine outside solved the difficulty and the family was able to return to bed.

There was a chimney fire at 50 Columbus Ave. at 7.47 p.m. on Thursday but no damage was done. On Sunday a call was received from Queen St. but the firemen were unable to locace the chimney fire. Later on Sunday they quickly extinguished another chimney fire at 78 Birch St. S.

All was quiet on the Town Hall front over the week-end. The mayor and his three councillors who recently resigned as a project over the way the town's business was being conducted, were content to hold their fire.

There could not have been much official activity at the town hall. A recent meeting was not official because tor Drives Residents Out to attend. Unless all the remaining members of the 1939 council can be reached when it is deemed necessary to have a meeting, there is not a quorum, and as the result, the meeting is not official.

Councillor Brunette wished to make t clear that when he recently said that he would not consider returning unless he got his proper committee back, he meant chairmanship of the finance commitee.

"The support I got from all nationalities in Timmins would indicate that he people wanted me on that committee. I could not consider changing my stand unless I was awarded that chairmanship," he said today to The Advance.

Another reason advanced by Councillor Brunette was that he was the only property owner on the Council, aside from the mayor. Consequently, he was in a more advantageous position to handle the town's finances impar-
