May Consider Teck Twp. System of Hiring Here

Council Returns After Survey of Kirkland Lake System of Civic Employment Bureau. Councillors Not Ready to Express Opinion. Problems Are Different Here, They Say.

An extensive survey of the civic employment bureau in operation in Kirkland Lake, by the Timmins town council, may possibly have the effect of the establishment of a similar bureau here. The councillors returned on Thursday evening from a two day visit in the Teck township metropolis.

Under the system in operation in Kirkland, as outlined by Deibert Murphy, superintendent of the employment bureau here, operated by the Dominion and provincial governments, Teck township has a local municipal office, financed by the municipality.

The Teck council has the fullest co-operation of the mines in this district. All the hiring for the mines is done through the civic bureau. Applicants are passed at the employment bureau by the medical officer of health, who gives them a cursory medical examination. If they pass they go to the mine doctor and they are X-rayed. Full particulars of applicants, including their experience and suitability for various types of work, are kept on their application forms.

A weekly report of men available for work is sent to the mines. If the mine decides that it wants any particular man it merely notifies the bureau. If they want any particular number of men the required number are sent to the mine. They are looked over by the official who does the hiring and if any one is found to be unsuitable he is referred back to the office.

Local men are given the preference. At the present time the bureau is not taking any more applications as it has more than enough to satisfy the mines on record. At present, said Mr. Murphy if an expert miner from Timmins went

District Public Nurse Badly Needed in North

Cochrane, March 17.—Cochrane council will back the request of Kapuskasing and District Board of Trade for the services of a district public health nurse.

The board is pressing the provincial government for the re-establishment of this health service for settlers in the district. Expression at the council meeting in Cochrane Tuesday, indicated the opinion that there is no location in the province where a district nurse is more needed than between Kapuskasing and Hearst.

Cochrane town council since the abolition in 1934 of the district health nurse, has employed a town nurse, but her jurisdiction ends within the town limits, and settlers in the region are entirely without health services.

Scout Official Speaks to Lions Club Thursday

Provincial Scout Field Secretary Addresses Meeting. Wilfred Green, District Lions Governor, Urges Members to Assist in Education of New Canadians. Mayor and E. L. Longmore to Speak at Next Meeting.

Provincial Scout Field Secretary A. E. Paddon and Wilfred "Shorty" Green, District Governor of the Lions Club, were the speakers at the regular weekly meeting of the Lions at the Empire Hotel on Thursday evening. Mr. Paddon was making a visit to the Scout troops in the camp and Mr. Green was making the annual official visit to the Timmins branch of the Lions.

As Thursday night being the eve of St. Patrick's Day, the meeting was governed by the spirit of "Erin go bragh." Members wore green ties—those who did not had their cravats rudely halved by a specially appointed "clipping committee." Table decorations were pots of shamrocks. Main dish was Irish stew and songs were sung of Erin.

Mr. Paddon, in his address, told of the international Scout leader, Sir Baden-Powell. It was a notable thing, he said, that Baden Powell took on the organization and fostering of Scout work late in life—at an age when most men have ceased to take active interest in the promotion of international brotherly love.

Speaking of the Scout Jamboree held near Liverpool, in England, Mr. Paddon recalled that 50,000 Scouts were there representing 40 countries. In all that conglomeration of creeds and nationalities there was only one fight, and that was off the Scout camp.

How many quarrels would there have been had that number of Scouts been soldiers from the different countries of the world?

Held on the occasion of the Chief Scout's 82nd birthday the jamboree was visible evidence of the international good will and brotherly love fostered by the Scout movement.

Prospectors' Association Opens Club Rooms Here

Gathering Place Established for Prospectors to Pass an Hour or Two and Also to Give Field Men for Mining Companies a Centre to Meet Men for the Trail.

The Porcupine Prospectors' Association has established comfortable and convenient club rooms in the Florida hotel, 11 Spruce St. N., where local prospectors may gather to pass away the odd hour or to meet mining men. The club rooms are also designed as a registration place for young men who wish to take up prospecting, and also as a meeting place for field men of the mines who may desire to secure men for the trail or for work on distant properties. The club rooms are comfortably furnished, and they are equipped with maps of the Porcupine district and other mining areas. Newspapers, especially those in the mining areas, will be on file at the club rooms, the idea being to make the place of interest and value to all prospectors.

The Porcupine Prospectors' Association, of which Mr. W. B. Nicholson is president, and Mr. L. Rotundo, secretary, has arranged to send delegates this week to Toronto to interview members of the Legislature from the North so that the case for the prospectors may be fully presented to the Minister of Mines previous to the passing of legislation applying to mining and prospectors. Through the good work of this delegation it is hoped to secure such changes in the law as will be of material advantage not only to the prospectors, but also to the whole mining industry and the country as a whole.

It is interesting to note that another activity of the Porcupine Prospectors' Association is the planning for a reunion of the old-timers of the Porcupine of thirty years ago. This reunion is to be held at South Porcupine, the centre of activity in the Porcupine camp of thirty years ago. It is intended to make the reunion a three-day celebration, June 30th, July 1st and July 2nd, being the dates selected. On those days it is hoped to gather together a large number of the old-timers, prospectors and others, who did their part so well in establishing and developing the Porcupine Gold Camp.

Making Plane Trip to Far North

Pilot Harold Smith Made Same Trip Last Year.

South Porcupine, March 20.—(Special to The Advance)—Radio and outside newspapers were a little excited over the week-end at the aeroplane trip taken from South Porcupine to the Far North by Harold Smith, pilot for the Wicks plane. To Pilot Smith, however, it was all in the day's work, without unusual features. He made the same trip about this time last year and looks on it as routine. Pilot Smith left on Friday for Fort George by way of Mooseonee, the purpose being to make two trips from Mooseonee to Fort George to take in supplies, etc., for the Hudson Bay Co. On his return he will bring in a carload of furs from a trapper in the Far North, this also being routine work. Pilot Smith is expected back at South Porcupine this afternoon.

Escaped From Ice-Floes

Hollinger Weather Observer Continues to Predict a Spring Thaw for Near Future.

Tomorrow is the first day of spring and perhaps that is why the weatherman still predicts a spring thaw for the near future. He does not pin himself down to the next few days but says that it may be expected shortly.

The next few days will be fair and cool with a cool wind but warmer weather is in the offing — weather which will be warmer and more changeable.

On Friday it snowed during the night to the depth of a quarter of an inch. Yesterday between 11:45 a.m. and 2 a.m. this morning it snowed five inches.

Maximum and minimum temperatures have been as follows: Thursday, maximum, 5, minimum, 10 below; Friday, 8 and 11 below; Saturday, 3 and 21 below; Sunday, 12 and 19 below. Last night's minimum was 5 below and at 8 o'clock this morning the thermometer registered four degrees above zero.

"It's great to be alive," was all John Hart of Owen Sound could say after his rescue from drifting ice two miles out in Georgian Bay. He was saved by two fishermen as the ice began to crumble.

Many Fine Costumes at Legion on the 17th

St. Patrick's Day Social Evening Very Enjoyable.

The St. Patrick's Day Social evening held by the Canadian Legion in the Legion hall on Friday evening, was a very enjoyable event. A large number of members of the Legion and their wives and friends, and members of the Ladies' Auxiliary and their husbands and friends, attended the event, many wearing comic and dress-up costumes. A special feature of the event was a "Tinhorn Sextette" with Walter Wilkinson conducting. This aggregation, in their great variety of costumes, played Irish airs on their instruments, and created much fun for the enjoyment of all present.

Mrs. Dupont and Mrs. Hardy, accompanied by Mrs. F. Bennett, sang some of the best Irish songs. Charles Jolliffe gave a monologue "Our Albert at the Zoo", and in response to the insistent encore sang "Annie Boieyn," a humorous selection about the ghost of the Tower of London.

"All dressed up" in honour of the occasion Jimmy Cowan gave his rendition of "Paddy McGinty's Goat," and the encore "The Wiggle Waggle Song." Tommy Johnson pleased the gathering with the singing of "Mother Machree" and "Little Man."

In choosing the winners of the best costume prizes, the judges had a difficult task. Each costume had points of outstanding merit, and the judges finally decided upon the following winners: Ladies, 1st, Mrs. G. Nippers (as an Irish Colleen); 2nd, Mrs. A. Harvey (as a Spanish Senorita); Gentlemen: 1st, Mrs. Smith (as "Paddy," in a very clever costume); 2nd, Jimmy Cowan (as Mrs. Chamberlain).

The judges were Mr. and Mrs. Thomson, and Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths.

Tommy Johnson acted as M.C. during the evening, and W. A. Devine was the pianist.

After the evening of dancing and social fun, a dainty and tasty lunch was served by the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary.
