Skating Carnival at the McIntyre Arena Is Delightful Event

First Exhibition of Figure Skating by Porcupine Skating Club Makes Decided Hit With Big Crowd. Audrey Sherbin and Olga Bernick Outstanding Juveniles. Many Notable Numbers.

In colourful costumes members of the Porcupine Skating Club presented the first ice carnival to be given by this club, and the first occasion to give a public exhibition of figure skating by local talent, on Monday evening in the McIntyre Arena to a large and enthusiastic audience. Only six months ago, the people of this North Land were "treated" to an outstanding display of this art by members of the Toronto Granite Club, and the Toronto Skating Club, on the occasion of the opening of the new arena at Schumacher. At that time the large Northern audience watched spell-bound as the figure skating artists performed intricate numbers, but Monday evening found the proud mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters and friends eagerly straining forward as Northern talent graced the ice. These people certainly had a right to be proud of the ability of the Northern juvenile artists as well as the seniors, but a great deal of the credit is due to Miss Margaret Austin, of Toronto, who only a few months ago came to the McIntyre arena, and has worked wonders with her charges in that time.

Outstanding juvenile artists on the programme were little Misses Audrey Sherbin and Olga Bernick. The carnival opened with a "Mardi Gras" number by the junior skating club, which presented the dainty little lady, Audrey Sherbin, in a solo number. The entire group of juniors, in costumes that varied from the "sublime to the ridiculous" marched to the music of "March of the Toys," and the best of their number performed individual stunts in which they specialized. They then formed a large circle around the ice surface, and Audrey Sherbin was spotlighted in the centre of the arena. She made a very charming little figure, attractively attired in a multi-coloured ballet frock, with a small matching cap perched on top of her curls, and as she performed the twists and leaps which are such a great part of figure skating, the large audience realized that it was watching a very talented young lady, and one who would go far in the art of figure skating.

Olga Bernick, who performed a solo number to the music of "Let Me Call You Sweetheart" was the hit of the evening, winning loud and long applause. Her graceful performance was one that will be remembered in the years to come, when the Porcupine Skating Club presents more talent, and the present juniors become seniors of whom the North may well be proud. Olga Bernick performed leaps and spins in a manner which would be the envy of a senior, and won for herself the W. G. Reburn cup which is symbolic of the greatest progress made by a junior in the Porcupine Skating Club.

The presentation of the cup was made by Mr. D. Keeley, of the McIntyre Mines, and judges were Mrs. T. A. C. Tyrell, Mr. Bruce Palmer and Mr. Wohlro. The cup was presented to the Porcupine Skating Club at the beginning of its active season by Mr. W. G. Reburn, of Toronto, who was a visitor to this part of the North with the skaters of the Granite and Toronto Skating clubs. The local club has a proud possession in this cup, and it serves to remind them that the donor of the cup is the father of Stewart Reburn, who has won fame in the Sonja Henie Ice Carnival.

A number which brought forth exceptional group form, was "Pride of the North," in which eighteen girls of the junior skating club took part. These girls were attired in identical yellow and blue "bell-hop" costumes, and their skating harmonized as they gracefully "danced on ice" to the music of "Stompin' at the Savoy."

"Below Surface," in which a large number of the juniors performed in the mining outfits so well known here, was a special hit for its "difference." All the lights were turned out for this number, and only the lights in the "miners' hats were reflected against the glow of the ice surface. These youngsters performed to a tune which gave good advice, "Whistle While You Work," and each little partaker knew his work.

Citizens' League to Ask New River Bridge

Will Also Ask Government to Start Scheme of Reforestation. Ask Council to Build Low Rent Houses Under Dominion Housing Plan. Mayor Objects. Is Taxpayers' Money, He Says.

Resolutions asking for a new bridge across the Mattagami River, a clean-up of slum areas in Timmins and a programme of reforestation in the North, were submitted by the Timmins Citizens' League at the regular meeting of council on Monday night.

The present bridge was a danger to pedestrians and motorists alike, said the preface of the resolution. A new bridge was needed and its construction would relieve an acute unemployment problem in Timmins.

The slum area resolution pointed out by a town planning expert brought here some years ago by the Lions Club said that the town resembled a city slum area. Furthermore, said the resolution, Dr. Russell, Timmins lung expert, said that the town was badly in need of a clean-up of housing conditions if tuberculosis was ever to be combated here. Under the terms of the National Housing Act ninety per cent of the cost of a municipal housing programme would be provided by the Dominion government. The resolution urged that the council take steps to secure the necessary permission from provincial government to put a housing programme into effect.

Previous councils had approached the government about a new bridge across the river, said the mayor in reply, and had got just exactly nowhere. However, he believed the Timmins Citizens' League should approach the government about the matter.

Referring to the housing resolution the Mayor said that it would be difficult for the town itself to finance and carry out a low cost housing program under the National Housing Act. However, there were many private companies which were willing to do so. He understood that the Dominion government, under the Act, paid the first year's taxes on such a house, said the mayor, fifty per cent of the second year's, and twenty-five per cent of the third year's.

A more important matter which should be taken up was that of the rock construction just this side of Sandy Falls. Each year cribbing piled up against the obstruction forming a dam which forced the water back and flooded the banks of the river in Timmins, said the mayor. He advised the League to get busy and have the government remove that obstruction.

Later Hugh Anderson spoke of the League's resolutions. He pointed out the advantages of such schemes and could not see why the council itself did not launch into a housing programme under the National Housing Act.

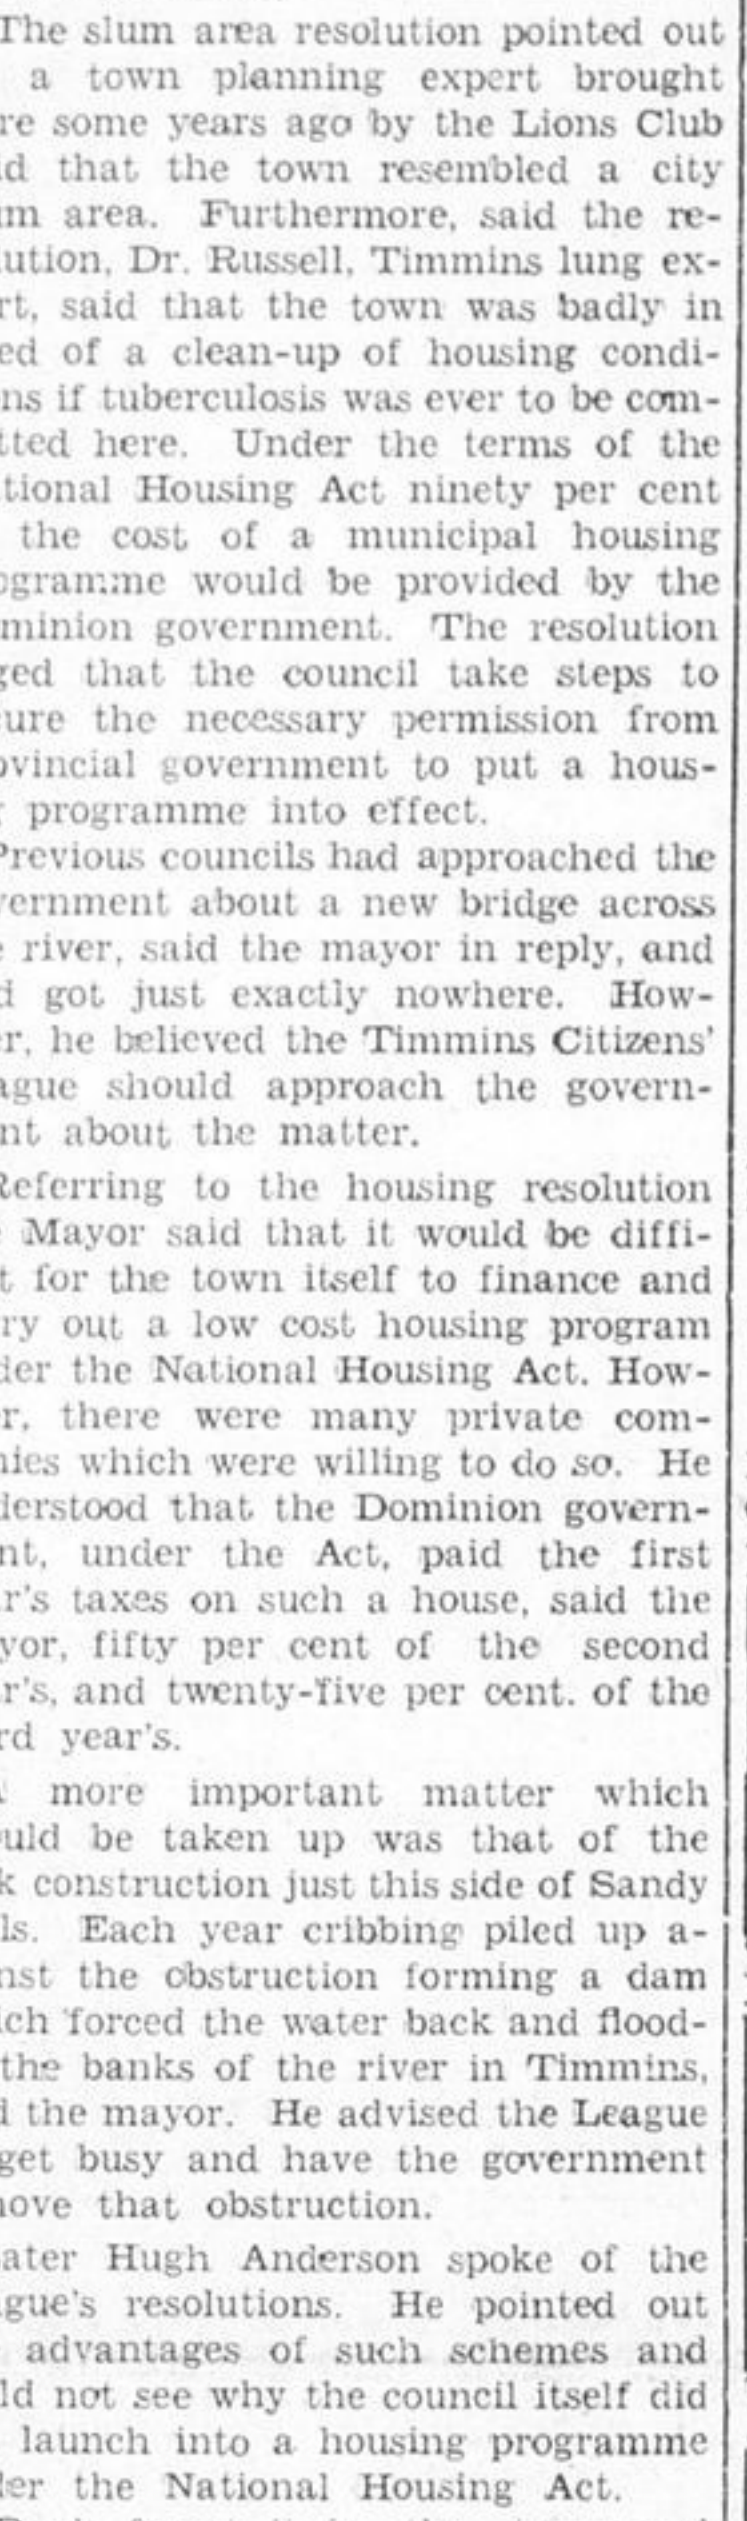

"Don't forget it is the taxpayers' money we are spending," said the mayor.

President of the League, Eugene Lafontaine, said that a delegation was going from here to Toronto to interview the government with regard to their proposals regarding a bridge, a housing programme and reforestation. He would also take up the matter of the rock construction. Mr. Lafontaine wanted a delegation from the council to accompany the League's representatives. However, the mayor assured him that the council would be extremely busy on the estimates during the next fortnight.

A resolution was passed ordering that the volunteer firemen be paid $625, the usual amount paid after their first quarter.

"Party Results in Term of Three Months For Keeping for Sale

Elphier Chartrand Sent to Jail. Police Said House So Crowded Had to Take Accused Outside to Question Him. Magistrate Gives Fatherly Advice to a Young Couple.

Elphier Chartrand will spend the next three months in jail as the result of a conviction on a charge of keeping liquor for sale, in police court on Tuesday afternoon.

Principal witness for the prosecution was Police Sergeant DesRoches. He said that he raided the Chartrand residence at 30½ Wendé avenue, rear, at 2:40 a.m. on the morning of Monday, March 26. With him were Constables Lepic and Guolla.

First, said Sergeant DesRoches, he listened at the window. Inside could be heard the noise of many people and the clink of bottles. When they entered the house they found three men in the kitchen. They were wearing hats and coats and drinking beer. In another room were six men and two women.

"It was so jumbled you couldn't tell who was drinking and who was not," said the witness. "There was beer on the floor and under the chesterfield. There was no room to question the accused there so I took him outside."

When he brought Chartrand back in, he knew the name of only one of the people in his house. Only one of mayor to tell him that the wording of the National Health Act had been slightly changed.

When the director of sanitary engineering was last in Timmins, said the mayor, he was told that the council here did not feel that it could safely enforce the section of the Act compelling people to have sewage connections. Now that the wording was changed the council did have that power.

Districts Merge To Observe July 12th

North and South Cochrane Lodge L.O.L. to Celebrate at Cochrane.

Cochrane, March 29—It is intended this year to merge the two Orange districts of North and South Cochrane and celebrate July 12th at the town of Cochrane.

The territory included in the two districts thus united extends from Hearst in the West to Kirkland Lake in the South. From present indications all Orange lodges in the double district will be represented at Cochrane on July 12th. It should make a large and noteworthy gathering. It is expected to have a number of speakers of outstanding talent from outside as well as inside the area. There will be several bands in the parade and the procession is expected to be the largest Orange parade ever gathered in the North.

Sudbury Star—It looks less and less like war in Spain and more like playing a hose on the burning dump.
