

TEN YEARS AGO IN TIMMINS

When Officer Moore and McCord were returning to the police station in the police car after picking up a vagrant woman in a wood shed there, they noticed flames in the upstairs part of F. M. Burkes drug store building on Pine street north of the Gordon block, ten years ago.

The fire brigade made their usual record response with the good turnout of firemen and volunteers. The smoke was so dense and the flames spreading so rapidly that at first the building could not be entered far upstairs. The fire seemed to be at the southern corner of the rear and two streams of water were soon playing in the rooms there.

In the Advance ten years ago—"Shortly after noon on Sunday the Ideal Pool Room, opposite the New Empire was entered and the cash drawer rifled. Entry was gained through one cellar window. The robber secured $60.00 much of this amount being in silver.

The corner of Pine and fourth avenue, usually referred to as Dr. Brown's corner, looks odd these days. The advance ten years ago, "the residence on it so many years being moved away on Monday."

Highlights of the Porcupine Camp Hollinger the Daddy of Them All. McIntyre's Wonderful Vein. Other Notes.

After three weeks spent in the Porcupine gold district, visiting sixteen mines, near mines and prospects, this writer has not the slightest hesitation in saying that it is not only the greatest camp in Canada, but the greatest on the American continent and the greatest in the world, barring only one—the Rand.

Hollinger, Daddy of Them All The writer's opinion has been formed after a comprehensive "once-over", including a visit to the depths of the great Hollinger, milling its 4,800 tons daily, employing over 3,000 men and with trackage underground of 273 miles.

trackage from Toronto to North Bay; three miles more than from Montreal to Port Hope; fifteen miles more than from North Bay to Timmins and forty-two miles more than from Toronto to Detroit.

McIntyre's Wonderful North Vein And that is but one mine out of eight now paying dividends in the area. There's the McIntyre Porcupine mine and its wonderful new north vein—the finest this writer has seen anywhere.

interference and thus be permitted to go forth and seek other embryonic mines to contribute to our prosperity. No mine in Porcupine was found or developed under present-day handicaps.

Quebec Prospectors May Receive Better Change Rouin, March 29.—In a recent statement Adolphe Routhier, registrar under the Security Frauds Prevention Act of the Province of Quebec states that unless some objectionable features are found in the plan to provide prospectors and grubstakers with five per cent of the proceeds of the treasury stock in mining companies, it will become a provincial law.

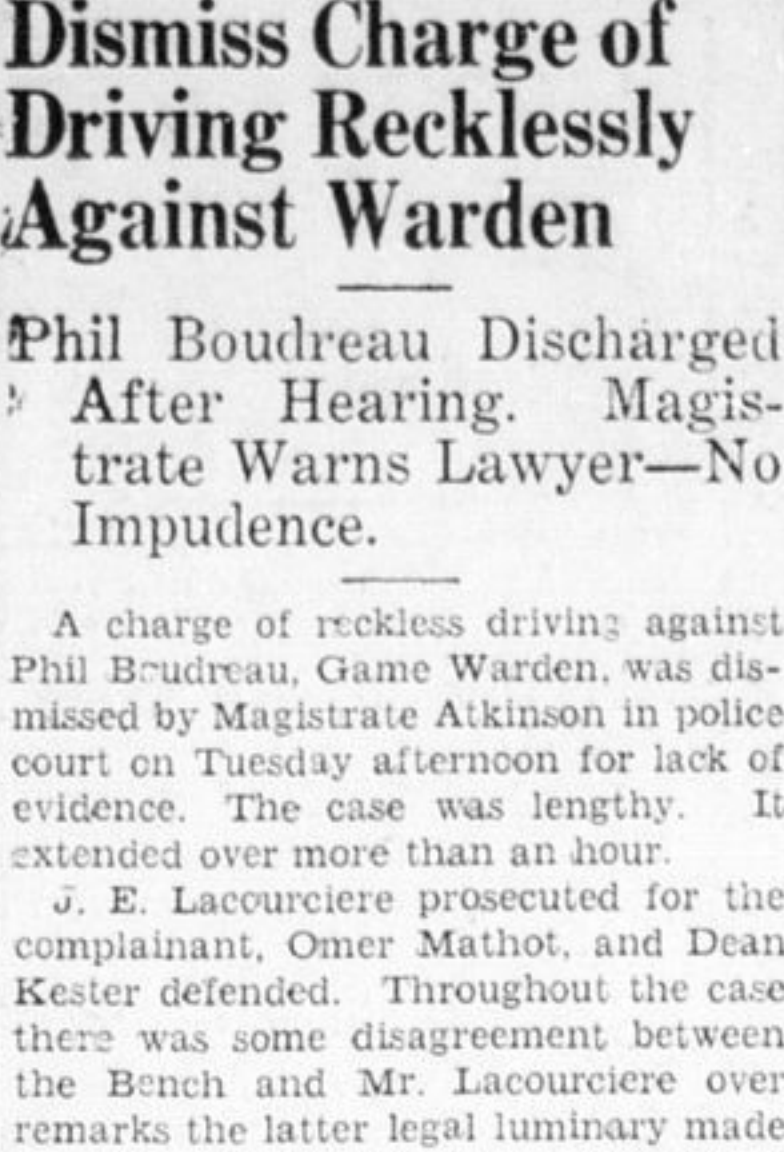

Population Grown to Over 40,000 This review only covers the three great original mines of the Porcupine area, which has now produced over half a billion dollars in gold and paid $159,120,739 in dividends. The writer is going to have much more to say of the camp, from time to time, in the hope that he will be able to awaken people of this city and elsewhere in this province to the facts and thus also arouse them to demand that the prospector, originator of these great enterprises, be freed from petty bureaucratic Oldest Bachelor One hundred years old on March 10, George Filion, of Peterboro, says he is a bachelor because girls scared him. Probably Canada's oldest bachelor, he was born at the French village of Bale St. Paul in 1839, two years after Queen Victoria ascended the throne.
