SIFTING THE NEWS

By Hugh Murphy

Principal impediment in the way of the alliance between Russia and the anti-aggression powers of Britain and France still is the question of the far east. Russia would have Britain and France promise to give assistance in case of trouble between Russia and Japan.

Reports of negotiations are clothed in language which may be diplomatic but certainly is unintelligible to the ordinary individual. Premier-Foreign Commissar Molotov's speech on Thursday was supposed to clarify the situation somewhat and give an idea of how Russia felt about the matter, but his hazy verbosity did no more than create the impression that Russia is still hesitant. Either Russia or the democratic power have to give way on this question of assistance in the east and it is not likely that either Britain or France will commit itself to a promise to assist at so far-distant a point.

A deputation from the Toronto Trades and Labour Council recently approached the Toronto Council. During the interview Mayor Day charged that it contained two well known Communists and that Communists were leaders in the recent strike of employees of the Seiberling Rubber Company, in Toronto.

By allowing Communists to get to the top of its organizations and by making them its spokesmen, Labour puts itself in a bad light. And it is an undoubted fact that it is a part of Communist technique to do just that.

If Communists in such positions are true believers in the ideology they profess they are not working for more harmonious relations between capital and labour but rather for dissension. If they followed their philosophy they would (and possibly do) try their utmost to promote dissension and precipitate a rash move on the part of capital.

Communists maintain that it no part of their theory to excite labour to violence. They can however, hardly deny that it is their intention to excite labour to such an extent and make it so peremptory in its demands that the first violent move come from the industrialists. Than, say they, labour would be justified in using force.

Labour has its grievances undoubtedly but it will never be heard with confidence by the great mass of the people until it rids itself of Communists who profess to be its friends but who are its worst enemies.

Free distribution of more than 236,000 pounds of butter will be begun in Toronto next week. It will be given to relief recipients and low wage earners and distributed through the regular relief and charity channels.

The consignment is part of 6,000,000 pounds of surplus butter recently purchased by the Dominion government.

It seems to be a sound system of relieving overproduction (in this case of butter). A better system would be to improve the lot of those who will receive the butter and enable them to purchase extra pounds—but that is easier said than done.

A group of French artists and writers are bringing suit against one "Adolf Hitler, art critic." Der Fuhrer, who himself studied painting and who produced several rather amateurish water colours, recently said that all French painters of the Paris School were decadent and the remark incensed the French intellectuals.

Marcel Sauvage, a French writer, in a recent speech made as restrained as a job at Herr Hitler as anything recently said. "We have complete respect for the Chancellor of the Reich, a respect and admiration which has just been reinforced by existing legislation in France providing punishment for insulting the Chief of a foreign state."

It is quite understandable that Hitler should not agree with the tenets held by French painters of the Paris School. Their by-word was realism. The theory of the race, soil and blood strongly tinged with mythology which Hitler is trying to foist upon the German people certainly is not realistic whatever else it is.

Hitler's most recent art work has been done on a massive scale. He has remodelled the map of Europe. He seems to prefer blood to the more orthodox pigments.

Fighting in the Holy Land continues. Late last week four British soldiers, three Jewish policemen and six Arabs died. The Arabs were killed when a time bomb exploded in a crowded Jerusalem market place.

Tension is growing and Jewish protests against the new British policy to form an independent State of Pal-time with the Arabs in the majority are growing more heated. The British plan would have the balance of population in the state on a 60-40 basis with the Arabs in the majority.

The Jews have vigorously protested and bloodshed has followed. Fighting in Palestine is no new thing. It has been going on almost continuously since the feet of Christ trod the streets of Jerusalem. However the general situation looks about as dangerous at the present time as it ever has.

Talk Again About Electrification of T. & N. O. Railway

According to the despatches from Toronto there is again serious talk about the electrification of the T. & N. O. Railway. On several occasions the matter has been studied in the past, one of the times being in connection with the development of power north of Cochrane. The despatches from Toronto say that Premier Heppburn at present is studying the question of electrification of the Ontario railway through the utilization of lignite deposits north of Cochrane. It is said that Col. Mac Lang, chairman of the T. & N. O., together with officials of the Mines Department and the Ontario Research Foundation, are now engaged in a survey of the huge deposits of low grade coal—estimated at nearly two million tons at present. It is added that while in Australia, Premier Heppburn visited the lignite fields at Victoria and found that electric power could be produced at a very economical figure by the use of this coal, a German process being used. This has interested Premier Heppburn in the study of the idea of utilizing Ontario lignite in similar fashion. Premier Heppburn's idea is that the Ontario lignite fields should be developed as a public ownership venture. There have been more than one proposal for the development of the lignite deposits north of Cochrane under private ownership, but Premier Heppburn suggests that no such plan under private control could be considered until after it was submitted to the Legislature. Apparently, he favors public ownership and development rather than private control of the lignite fields. The electrification of the railway under the plan of power produced by the use of lignite would thus serve a double purpose. It would form the basis for profitable development for the commercial market South Porcupine, June 3.—(Special to The Advance)—The South Porcupine Baseball Club draw which was postponed from May 24th till the evening of the first game of the season, took place on Friday in the Imperial Bank in the presence of the executive of the club, and resulted in the suit of clothes being won by Mr. McAllister, of Winnipeg. Mr. McAllister was resident in South Porcupine during last winter and left recently for Winnipeg.

Mr. Graham Reid, of Timmins, is in Porcupine General Hospital suffering from a fractured pelvis. Mr. Reid was working at the Preston East Dome Mine for the first time on Thursday, and was unfortunate enough to be caught between two trucks underground on his first shift. His condition is considered satisfactory.

A Young People's Society has been started in Porcupine in the interests of the United Church under the presidency of Mr. Reg. Minogue. They meet each Friday in the Township Hall, and have already quite a good number of members.

The South Porcupine Girl Guide Troop are looking eagerly forward to seeing the King and Queen at Sudbury on Monday. Every girl who wanted to go has been saving for months in order to make the trip. Now thirty-two Guides will be leaving on Monday morning at 3 a.m. to board the special train accompanied by Captain Besette in charge, and Mrs. M. Smith (committee) assisting. The girls want especially to say in The Advance how nice it is of the T. & N. O. to take all the Guides at half fare. It enables more of them to go. And the fact that three coaches are to be specially reserved for Guides makes it much simpler for the leaders to look after them. Captain Wilkins, who is detained in town owing to test exams being held in the High School is not accompanying the Guides en route, but will be flying down on Monday and hopes to take charge of them in Sudbury.

The Past Grand's Club of the Rebekahs held their monthly meeting on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. H. Montrose. They had a pleasant meeting and bridge was played after the business session. Mrs. Jay won first prize, and Mrs. W. Thomas second. The hostess served a dainty lunch at the conclusion of cards.

The final meeting for the season of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Hospital is to be held in the Masonic Hall on Wednesday of this week. Will as many as possible try to attend.

Buck Township Farmer Shot Big Bear Recently

The following is from the last week's issue of The Temiskaming Speaker, of New Liskeard:—

"A big black bear for whom the farm owner had been waiting patiently for three weeks was shot dead the other evening at the home of Alfred Seed in Buck Township, west of Cobalt, the animal, according to Mr. Seed, weighing between 325 and 350 pounds and having a hide that weighed 40 pounds. Mr. Seed told The Speaker he had lost considerable sleep over the bear, which had been after his sheep and which had been seen several times dimly as a shape in the dark. It was not until the animal ventured into the farm yard before night fell and went right up to the barn door that the farmer was able to get him. One shot brought down bruin. The bear skin thus secured was in good condition, Mr. Seed said. No sheep have been lost this spring in that area, The Speaker was told, but Mr. Seed thinks there must have been another bear about, as his dogs were heard barking furiously two nights after the animal was killed. From the Kerr Lake end of the Cobalt camp comes word also of a bear having been observed in the clearings there, but no damage has been reported."
