

Jews Will Continue to Build Palestine in Spite of British

Jewish Doctor, Well Acquainted With Palestinian Situation, Says Jews Forced to Contest Plan.

"We are going to build in Palestine and continue to do so in spite of the attitude of the British government," said Dr. Joachim Prinz, of New York, in an interview with The Advance here this week. Dr. Prinz, who before he was driven out of Germany was connected with the University of Berlin, spoke to a largely attended Jewish meeting here on Sunday night last.

"For years and years," said Dr. Prinz, "Jewish leaders, by means of youth movements and in other ways, have tried to create among the Jews the idea of going home. A whole new idealism to foster such fundamental industries as agriculture which would be so necessary if the Jews ever did regain Palestine, had to be built up. "In 1917 the Balfour declaration was established," said Dr. Prinz. "It was to establish a home for the Jews in Palestine. In 1922 a mandate was declared over Palestine by Great Britain. That mandate, guaranteed by 52 nations including Canada made Palestine the Jewish home and brought their wanderings to an end. "You know," said the Doctor, "The Jew has always had to content with the problem of homelessness. There have always been Jewish refugees driven from one country to another. "When the Jews were guaranteed Palestine as a home they poured into the country, said Dr. Prinz. They transformed it. There now are 250 colonies living on a co-operative basis. One town of 175,000 people was built in 1911, Tel Aviv. All of the work was done by Jews, from sweeping streets to teaching in universities. The University housed some of the most famous Jews in the world. The hospital, recently built, was the largest in Asia Minor. Prior to that time there was no hospitalization whatsoever in Palestine. "They are cultured people in Palestine, Mr. Prinz said in answer to a question. "One sees university graduates working in the field. Famous Jews from all over the world have been drawn there to the educational and cultural centres. "Under the terms of the White Paper or British plan the population of Palestine will be divided on a 60-40 basis over the next ten years. Sixty per cent of the population will be Arabian. At present, said Dr. Prinz, there were about 1,600,000 Arabs in Palestine and 500,000 Jews. Dr. Prinz called attention to the fact that the British Plan did not pass the House of Commons in London by the usual small majority given a bill. It had a majority of only 85 votes and the usual margin was 220. "Our backs are to the wall," said Dr. Prinz, who is well acquainted with the situation in Palestine having made several trips there. "We have to fight this plan. We have no alternative."

Saw Man Trying to Sell Husband's Stolen Barber Kit

Mrs. Ned Rochon Reports to Police and Ed. Hall Ross Picked up by Police.

When she saw a man trying to sell what she believed to be a barber's kit, stolen from her husband, Mrs. Ned Rochon informed the police. They arrested a man who gave his name as Ed Hall Ross and his address as 72 Mount Joy Street, south, on a charge of being in possession of stolen goods. Police allege Ross was trying to sell the kit, worth approximately $40, to

Cleaners, Pressers Will Close Wednesday Afternoon

At its regular meeting on Monday the Town Council passed a by-law requiring all cleaners and pressers to close on Wednesday afternoon after the hour of one o'clock. The Council had received a petition signed by more than three-quarters of the owners of cleaning and pressing plants requesting the Council to pass the by-law. "Will this by-law forbid employees from working inside the closed shops?" asked Councillor Warren. "No," replied Councillor Gauthier. "We made enquiries from the Attorney-General's department on that point and learned that we had no control whatsoever of employees." The by-law issuing debentures for $85,000 to be used by the High School Board in the erection of a new wing to the Timmins High School and Vocational School, was given its third reading and passed.

Timmins Men Among Graduates at the R.M.C., Kingston

M. D. MacBrien Given Three Awards.

Many in town and district were much interested in listening to the proceedings at the graduation ball of the Royal Military College at Kingston on Monday night. B.S.M. M. D. MacBrien was called to the microphone and spoke about being presented to the King. He said he was going to keep white helmet the rest of his life as a memento of the occasion. In answer to questions by the commentator he also gave a very interesting outline of the training at the R. M. C. This talented young man is a son of the late Major-General Sir James H. MacBrien, K. C. B., C. M.G., D.S.O., a former chief of Staff of the Canadian Army and Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and a brother of Mr. J. R. MacBrien, barrister and solicitor, of Timmins, who went to Kingston for the graduation ceremonies. There were 43 students graduating from the R. M. C. this year, the number including Lance-Sergeant R. E. Hogarth and Corp. H. W. Gauthier, of Timmins. Battalion Sergeant-Major M. D. MacBrien graduated with high honours and distinction, winning three notable awards. He was winner of the coveted sword of honour for conduct and discipline; was awarded the Prince of Wales cup for the best all-round cadet in athletics during the entire course; and was one of the three winners of the Bexhill Cup awarded to the three cadets obtaining the highest marks in the several branches of learning.

Surprise Party in Honour of Mr. and Mrs. Eskelin

Schumacher, June 15—(Special to The Advance)—A number of friends paid a surprise visit last Saturday evening to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Mair, Birch St., who were celebrating their wedding anniversary, and presented them with an electric coffee mixer. The young couple were taken by surprise when the company arrived. Mr. Mair thanked them for the lovely gift. A very enjoyable time followed. During the evening Mrs. Mair served a delicious lunch.

Royal Train Locomotive to be Shown at World's Fair

Montreal, June 14—The giant "6400" locomotive of the Canadian National Railways, which last week finished its task of hauling the Royal Train to the Niagara frontier Wednesday night, has returned to Montreal. It was sent to the railway's shops here for a final polishing before going on exhibition at the New York World's Fair this week. There it will be placed on display tracks of the railway exhibit and will also have a place of honor in the transportation pageant throughout the month of July.

The Royal "6400" and the other locomotives of the same type in use on the National System are the most powerful and serviceable engine in operation on North American rails. In regular daily service they cover from 10,000 to 14,000 miles every month, more than three times the distance between Montreal and Vancouver. They have been covering this big monthly mileage without a hitch ever since they were put into service two years ago. They are noted for their smooth performance and favorable comment was made by members of the Royal Party on their arrival at Niagara on the excellent run of the big engine and the manner in which it was handled by Engineer J. P. Woodcock and Fireman R. Bunt. Designed by John Roberts, Chief of Motive Power and Car Equipment, the 6400's follow a streamlining plan which makes them a striking and beautiful example of modern motive power. They are more than 94 feet 5 inches in diameter. They are the largest streamlined locomotives in the British Empire.

Next Sunday, June 18th is Termed "Father's Day"

The people who decide such matters have decreed that Sunday, June 18th, is "Father's Day," but it is not likely that anything in particular will be done about it. "Mother's Day" is generally observed in Canada and the United States, few failing to wear a flower on that day in honour of Mother. Those advocating "Father's Day" suggest that "good old dad" should also be remembered with gifts and attention on this day. "Father's Day" has not achieved the popularity of "Mother's Day," though there are many who do not forget it.

Embargo by Sir John Simon on Foreign Securities

(From Globe and Mail)
"In the city" (or "in the street," as we say in our financial jargon) any form of interference is abhorred because all who do business there know that "the greatness of the London market has been built upon its freedom." Therefore, the city has not taken kindly to the embargo by Sir John Simon against purchase of foreign securities for clients, even though the embargo has been in the form of a request and is referred to by Leopold Joseph & Sons of London, in their current letter to clients, as "the least-official-of-all-embargoes." There are two statements in the Leopold Joseph letter which should be studied together. One is that "the City has always guarded its liberty very jealously." The other is that "the City has always shown loyalty and a sense of responsibility which far transcend any which can be found in any other centre." Sir John Simon does well to hesitate before putting an official embargo on a liberty which has produced so fine a fruit as this. He does not need an embargo if he knows exactly what he wants, because the City knows that one of its best bulwarks against needless interventions and hampering regulations has been "a willingness to meet official wishes."

In the particular case in question, this willingness is not enough. Sir John's requirements are vague, and therefore there are great differences of opinion as to what is required. Under such circumstances the most loyal houses, who believe that Sir John Simon believes that buying of foreign securities should cease as an aid to re-armament, would lose business, and that business would go to others who believe there is no need for such a step, and who believe that they are abiding by the request if they refrain from active solicitation of buyers for foreign securities.

Sir John asks only that buying of foreign securities be discouraged. What is to prevent the Britisher or the foreigner from using his pounds sterling to buy Canadian dollars which would buy International Nickel or Brazilian or some other Canadian security in Canada? Or they could buy United States dollars and buy United States Steel or any other security in New York. If the way is open for him to take his money out of the country, any partial prohibition is ineffective. The alternative is so strict a control that it would rapidly spread to money and commodities. The fear of such control necessarily makes foreigners send their funds further. London's financial strength is largely that there is no such control.

The Leopold Joseph & Sons conclusion appears to be that there is no great need for control just now, but that, if there should be, it might rapidly—say, in the case of war—become an absolute control, with war needs occupying first place in imports.

Sudbury Star: Blessed are the peacemakers for they never will be numbered among the unemployed.

Equipment for the game was displayed in court. It consisted of a squared cloth, each square containing a number. Other parts of the equipment included wooden blocks like dice. In view of the fact that the Attorney-General's department of the Ontario government indicated this year that it intended to enforce the section of the Code dealing with lotteries, the Lions Club in Timmins and the Kiwanis Club here called off their annual draws for automobiles and other prizes. In accordance with the attitude taken by the government, the Timmins police on Tuesday night inspected the various games connected with the midway and show. Those which violated the law were ordered to close down or have charges laid against the proprietors.

Chief of Police Leo H. Gagnon told The Advance today that he had ordered the games closed down. He said, furthermore, that if they continued to operate, charges would be laid. "The law is there. We have no alternative but to enforce it and that is just what we intend to do," said the Chief.
