Two Sentenced to Jail For Driving When Drunk

Jules Genier and Thomas Meotto Convicted of Drunk Driving in Police Court on Tuesday. Provincial Police Say Were Forced to Go Into Ditch to Avoid Being Struck by Meotto's Auto. Usual Reckless Driving Charges.

Jules Genier and Thomas Meotto were charged and convicted of driving while intoxicated in the police court on Tuesday afternoon. Sentence in each case was ten days in jail.
Genier pleaded guilty to the charge. Constable Everett Lynn said that he nearly struck the police car with his automobile. They chased him in the squad car and stopped him. They found him to be quite drunk. Later, in the police station, a doctor pronounced him drunk.

The charge against Meotto was a Provincial police case. Constable Beaton said that he and Constable Tappenden were patrolling the Naybob road at about 4.10 a.m. on the morning of July 11. They saw Meotto's car coming down the road, on the wrong side, swerving back and forth and heading right for them. To avoid him, said Constable Beaton, they were forced to go into the ditch. They wheeled around and chased him. When they got to the car they found Meotto behind the wheel. He was drunk.

Corroboratory evidence was given by Constable Tappenden, driver of the Provincial police car.

Two bottles of beer was all he had, the accused man said on the stand. He swerved once because of the lights on the police car and again when he turned to look at the police car going by. He and his friend, Angelo De Tutto, had been out by the Desantis Mine. They did not get anything to drink out there but had been parked for several hours.

"There is no doubt in my mind," said the Magistrate. He remarked that it was odd that they had been out driving for about six hours and had parked for three.

Accused Not Present
George Price's name was called in court but he was not present. He was charged with reckless driving.

Victor Jackson said that he was driving down Wilson Avenue when Price pulled away from the curb suddenly, giving him no warning. He was forced to strike him.

Constable Barlow said that Price admitted to him that he was in the wrong. He pulled away from the curb so fast, the Constable said, that three small children in the back seat were thrown and received minor cuts.

Fine was $25 and costs or ten days in jail.

Ernest Legare, Henri Timm and Alex Kalynuk all were convicted of reckless driving. Legare and Timm were each fined $10 and costs and Kalynuk was assessed $25 and costs.

There were the usual minor traffic charges. Three paid fines of $1 and costs for illegal parking and travelling through stop streets. Two were assessed $10 and costs for driving with defective brakes.

Master Anthony Slack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Slack of 23 Murdoch died at his home on Sunday evening. The lad, aged fifteen years, was born in Yugoslavia, coming to Canada with his parents several years ago.
Funeral services were held at the Church of Nativity on Wednesday afternoon, with interment in the Timmins cemetery.

Wedding at the United Church Manse on Monday

A quiet wedding took place at the United Church manse on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock when Miss Edith Beate became the bride of Mr. Frank Wiebe. The Rev. W. M. Mustard officiated at the marriage.

The bride, who was becomingly attired for the occasion, was attended by Mrs. Sady Fahlen, while Mr. Fahlen, of 122 Waterloo Road, attended the groom.

To Instruct Town Solicitors to Make Revision of By-Laws

Likely to Save $1,000 by Bringing By-Laws Up to Date, Say Mayor.

A motion instructing the Town's Solicitors, Caldbeck and Yates, to completely revise the by-laws of the Town of Timmins was passed at a special meeting of Council on Monday evening. The work is not to cost more than $1,000.

"This has been suggested for years," said the Mayor. "The by-laws are in very bad condition and I suggest that we are likely to save $1,000 by having the by-laws modernized and brought up-to-date."

Councillor Warren believed there should be a time limit put on the work. He wanted to be assured that it would be completed this year.

"How," asked other members of Council, "could a time limit possibly be put on such work? To begin with the barristers themselves did not know the extent of the work. Furthermore, negotiations and conferences with the Council would create delays. By not being able to meet the solicitors the Council itself would create delays."

The tender of Ellis Leblanc, for $550, for the collection of night soil, was accepted. Councillor Gauthier was the objector in that case. He believed that because Leblanc was "a wealthy man," and because there had been complaints of his work, the opportunity should be given to someone else. Furthermore, his tender was not the lowest.

On such problems, said Councillor McNeill, Chairman of the Board of Works, he was content to take the advice of the engineering department. That department told him that the man whose tender was lower than Leblanc's was not able to look after the work and did not have the equipment.

A by-law prohibiting the depositing of sweepings and refuse on the street was passed. The Mayor said that many merchants were in the habit of sweeping their stores out on to the street.

All injured workmen will, in future, be instructed to report to Mr. McCoy at the Town workshop to receive first aid in the case of injury.

The T. & N. O. Railway will be asked to allow the Town to put crossings on Ogden Avenue, Montjoy Street and Wilcox Street.

To Spend $50,000 in Drilling Three Properties Here

Work on Mors-Deloro, Pipans and Novack-Sherry

John Novack, well known in the Porcupine, Felix Vjakowski, president of Mors-Deloro, and Mr. Finlayson, a director were in the camp last week, in connection with work planned on the Mors-Deloro. It is intended to drill to Mars-Deloro, Ripam Mine and Novack-Sherry, and it is expected to spend $50,000 in drilling this summer. It was at the Novack-Sherry some years ago that Mr. Novack lost his eye-sight. Mr. Vjakowski was one of the original stikers of the Siscoe Mine.

Exchange—Summer is defined by the Hamilton Spectator as "that season lying between a late Spring and an early Fall."

Kidnapped

An armed robber and kidnapper loose on the roads of western Ontario is the object of an intensive police hunt, launched July 11. Fred Avery, Chatham, a driver for a dairy, rode into Broughdale asking help to get police on the trail of the man he said had compelled him, at pistol point to drive 125 miles around back roads and highways between Chatham and St. Mary's.

Thirty Days For Breaking Into Room In the Cobalt Hotel

Doris DesRosiers Tells Court Phillippe St. Aubin Stole $10 From Her and Picture of her Boy Friend

For breaking into a room in the Cobalt Hotel and stealing a woman's dress case, Edward Jones was sent to jail for thirty days in police court on Tuesday afternoon. Despite the fact that Jones maintained that he was drunk when he committed the theft, and despite the fact that he had never been in trouble before, he still was sent to jail.

Constable Angelo Guolla said that he saw Jones going south on Balsam Street with the bag under his arm. He was trying to conceal it with a coat.

When he stopped him, said the Constable, Jones said to him "You got me. Come on and I'll show you how I got in the room." Jones, said the witness, was not drunk. Chief of Police Leo H. Gagnon said that Jones was sober and talked quite rationally when brought to the station.

He recently came from Rouyn, where he had worked in the Aldermac mine, Jones said. He had been drinking wine all that morning and in the afternoon. He was concealing the case in order to take it back to the room when apprehended. He did not remember stealing it.

$10 Theft From Woman

Doris DesRosiers told the court that she had been out with Phillippe St. Aubin for several hours on July 13. He had a taxi for several hours and asked her for money to help pay for it. When she reached for her purse, he grabbed it and took $10 from it. He then instructed the taxi driver to drive away to Hollinger Township, where he left her.

"He also stole a picture of my boy friend," Miss DesRosiers told the court. Police said they found $10.40 on St. Aubin when he was arrested. In his watch pocket was a picture of a man, whom Miss DesRosiers claimed as her "boy friend." When he was found St. Aubin was drunk.

He met Miss DesRosiers at about two in the afternoon, St. Aubin told the court. She told him that the man with whom she was staying had beaten her and put her out the day before. They had some beer to drink and during the afternoon used several taxi cabs. He denied that he took money from the woman's purse.

Suspended sentence for a year was the penalty imposed by the court.

Ridgegold Mines Starts Drilling Campaign

Information given The Advance this week is to the effect that Ridgegold Porcupine Mines Ltd., with holdings in Deloro township just south of the Naybob interred into a diamond drilling contract last Saturday with the Ryan Diamond Drill Co. to start an aggressive diamond drilling campaign on its seventeen patented claims in that section.

This work will be under the direction of J. S. Crosscombe, M. E., formerly with Quebec Gold Mining Corporation and Consolidated Smelters on exploration work in Northern Ontario and Quebec. The first holes will be put down to explore at depth width and extension of No. 1 vein on which the shaft is sunk to a depth of 125 feet, and from which good gold values were obtained, running up to $15.40 across six feet in the porphyry. When this first drilling is completed it is intended to explore three other major veins and three minor veins exposed on the property. The large No. 5 vein will be given special attention at depth as a shallow hole put down on this vein some years ago showed a width of around 60 feet and it is now intended to drill this at depth. Owing to the distance between the showings on the property, considerable drilling will be required to co-relate the different exposures, and it is estimated that around 10,000 feet will be required this year.

When drilling has been completed on the No. 1 vein it is the management's intention to deepen the present shaft to around 500 feet, and proceed with underground work to develop ore in that section.

D'Arcy D. Bogue, of Montreal, who successfully amalgamated the properties which now comprise Paymour, Porcupine Mines, is president of Ridgegold Porcupine Mines. He has been spending considerable time at the property lately in connection with the proposed new development.

Three charges of keeping liquor for sale and one of selling were scheduled for police court yesterday afternoon. One accused, Martin Drennan, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two months in jail. Two, Peter Shalton and Mrs. Violet Jacklin, were remanded and the charge of selling against Astoro Steffanelli, was dismissed.

In the latter case one Crown witness only was heard. When he denied all knowledge of the case and was described by the Magistrate as "an adverse witness," Crown Attorney Caldbeck asked that the charge be dismissed. At the same time he instructed Provincial police to lay a charge of keeping liquor for sale.

Astoro Steffanelli is from Cook's Lake in Mountjoy Township. First witness called in the charge of selling was Leo Tremblay, of Timmins, who pleaded guilty to a charge of consuming in a public place and paid a fine of $25 and costs. Tremblay admitted going to Cook's Lake but said that the beer he took with him. He denied that he bought beer from Steffanelli.

"We won't go any further in this charge," said the Crown Attorney. "This man and the other witness who was to be called, told police that they bought this beer from Steffanelli and it was on that basis that the charge of selling was laid. However, police have been keeping observation on this place for some time and I have instructed them to lay a charge of keeping liquor for sale."

Martin Drennan pleaded guilty without any demur and no evidence was taken. He was simply sentenced to serve two months' imprisonment.

Four Second Offenders

Usual alternative in the case of a convicted second offender against sobriety is a fine of $50 and costs or thirty days in jail. Four were offered the choice on Tuesday. They were Alcide Toulouse, Leo Robert, Albert Sassaville and Gordon Wallace. Alcide told the court that he had only two bottles of beer that night but Sergeant Downey said that when the accused was brought into the police office, as one of four persons in the front seat of a car, the driver of which was charged with reckless driving, he was drunk — so drunk that he ordered him locked up.

Eight others were convicted with drunkenness and given the usual option of a fine of $10 and costs or 30 days in jail.

Usually when a man is charged with drunkenness he enters a plea of guilty. One of those who contested on Tuesday was Charles Richards. Accordingly, evidence was taken. Police said that when they arrived at the Richards home, located in a lane between Pine and Spruce Streets, just back of Kimberly Avenue, Richards had just beaten up his wife. She was covered with blood.

They told Richards to go back in the house after the wife refused to lay charges against her husband. He refused and followed them to the car. He was very argumentative about the whole business so they put him in the car and took him to the station.

Arthur Papineau was assessed $25 and costs for having wine in his possession illegally.

ing imported from Southern Ontario to do the work of development in the Onakawana Lignite fields, north of Cochrane. There were reports in some of the daily newspapers to the effect that committees were to be organized in some Old Ontario towns and cities to arrange for the unemployed in these places to go north to work on the Lignite project. With thousands of unemployed men already in the north—all of these coming from lower Ontario, or being out of work through the influx of Old Ontario—it is no wonder that these reports roused objection in the North. On Monday The Advance published a letter from Mayor Wicks of Cochrane calling attention to these reports and ringing a fair deal for the North in this matter.

When the question was called to the attention of Col. Mac Lang, he showed at once that he has the Northern viewpoint.

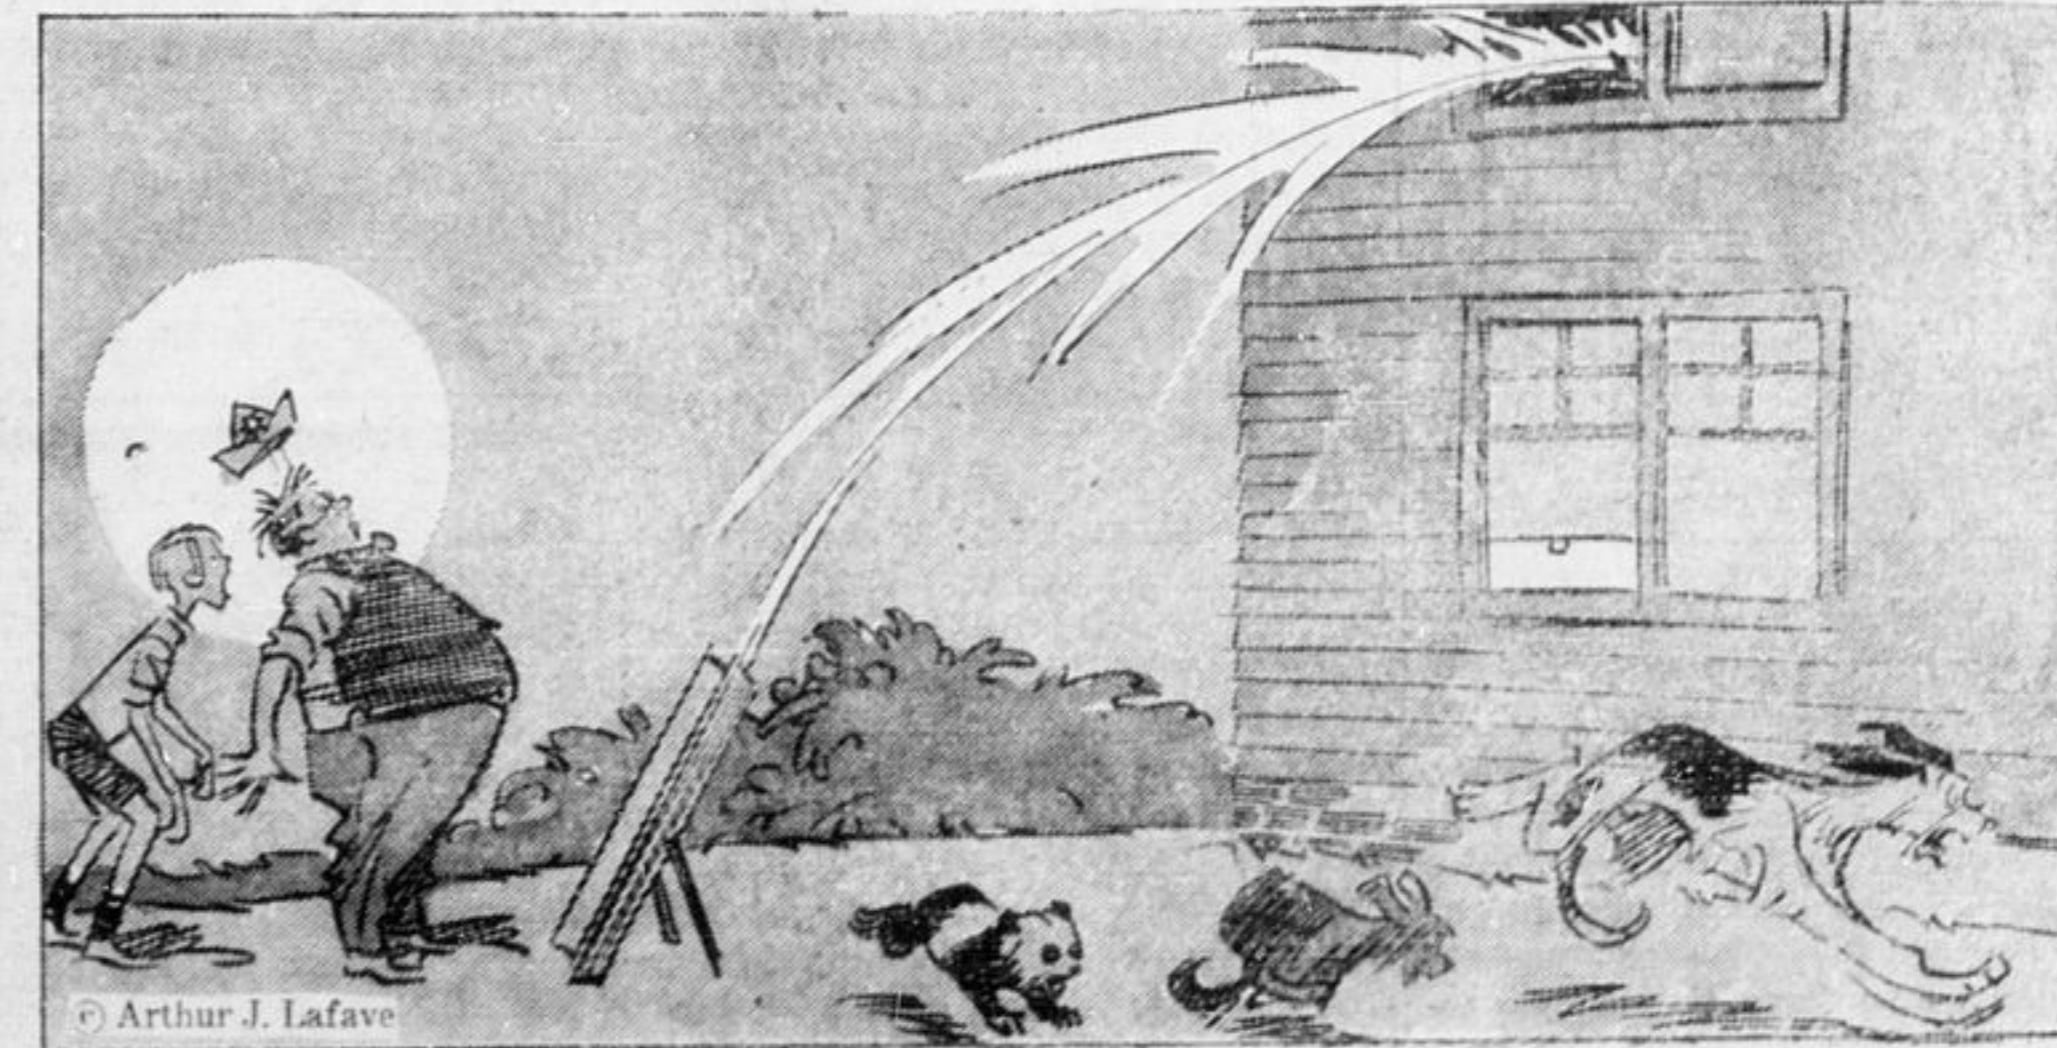

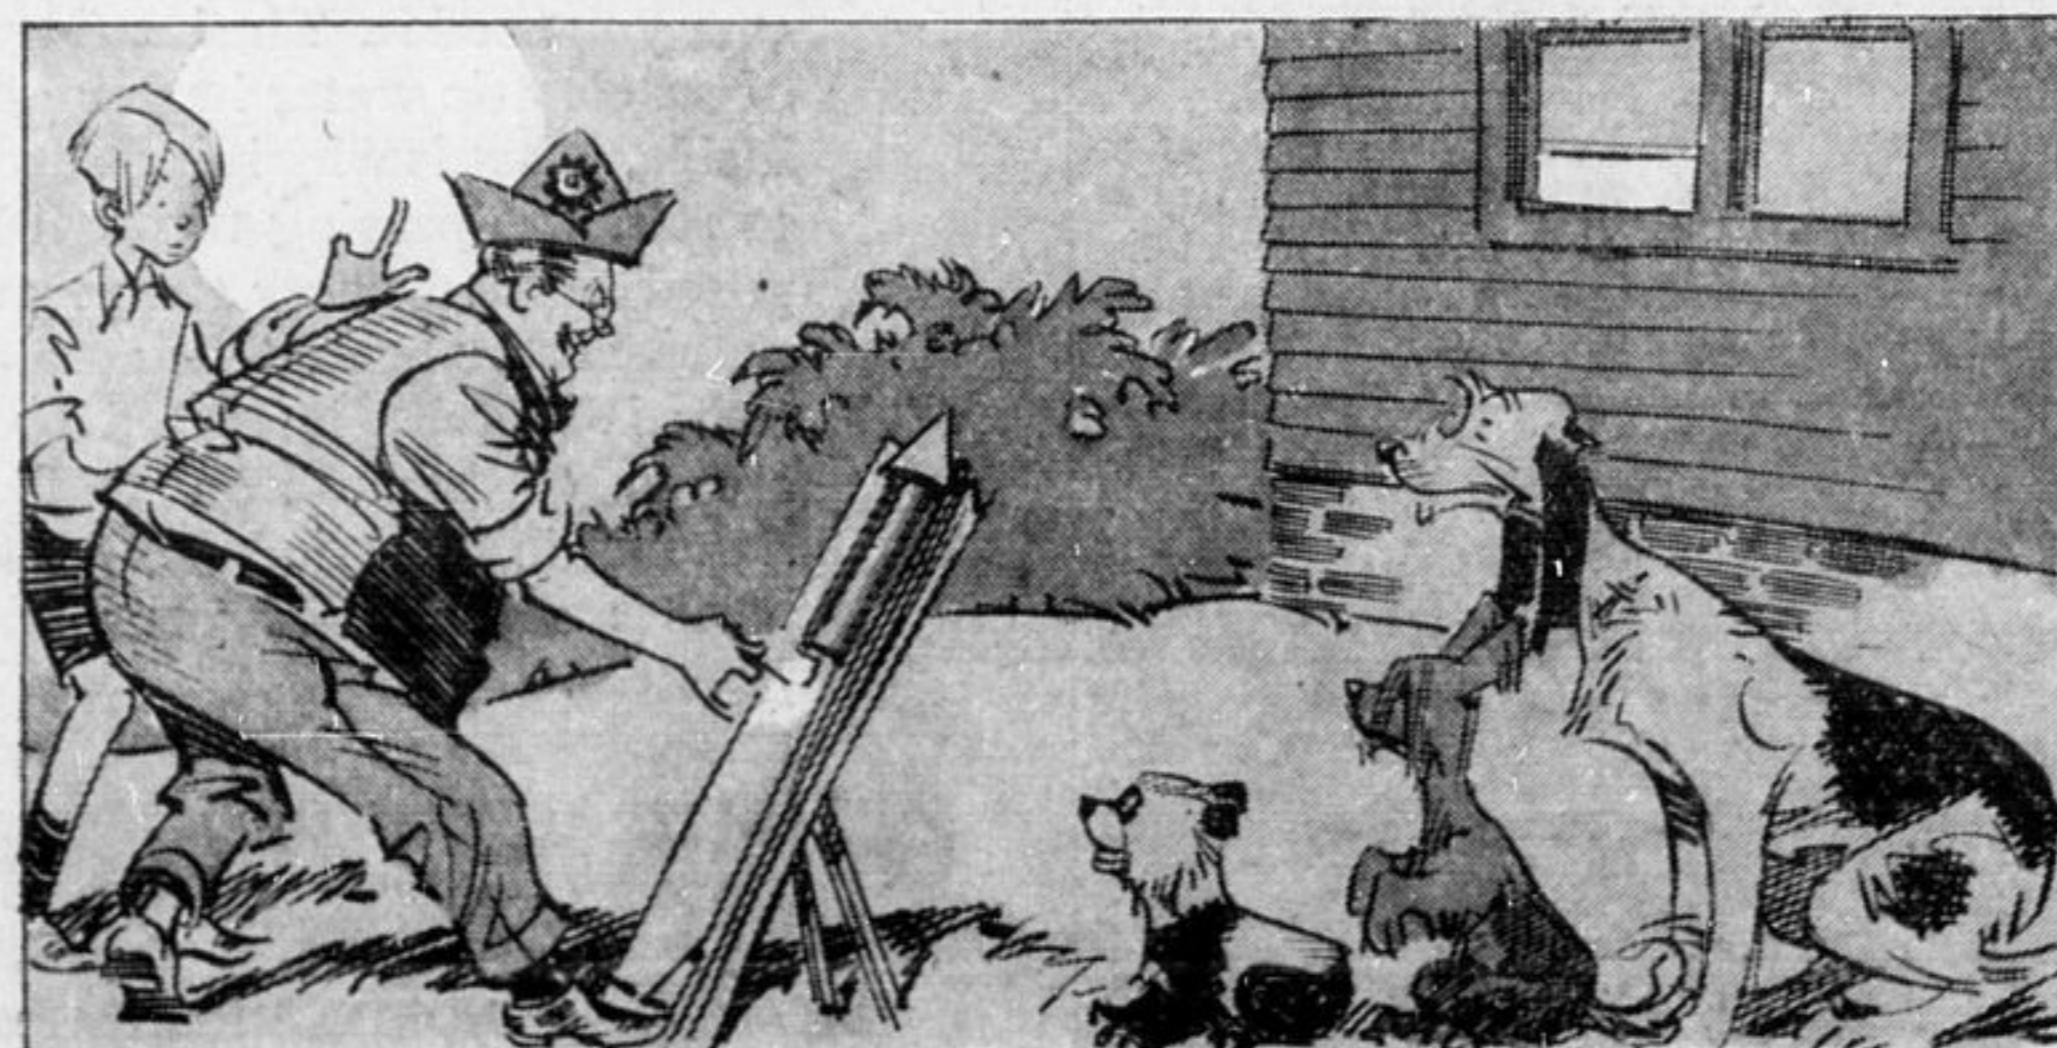

"The Lignite field is a northern Ontario project," stated Col. Lang, "and the railway will draw its labor from the North."

Col. Lang was at a loss to explain how the reports of labor being imported for work in the lignite field got into the Toronto papers.

Col. Lang made it plain that he disassociates himself from any such move. The railway board chairman said that while he could not officially speak for Premier Hepburn, he did not believe the Ontario Premier has anything in mind suggesting the export of unemployed men from southern and western Ontario to the Northland.

Mayors of northern municipalities have nothing to worry about in that direction," said Col. Lang, measuring his words. "The employment needs of the North will come before those of any other section when work gets under way at Onakawana."
