

Another Tragic Discovery Made On Night Hawk Lake

Over Thousand Present at Kiwanis Barbecue at Buffalo-Ankerite

Three Steers Spitted and Barbecued Whole to Feed Many Who Came to Ankerite to Contribute to Kiwanis Fund for Underprivileged Children. Aquatic Events and Diving Exhibition Part of Programme

More than a thousand persons attended the Kiwanis stag barbecue at the Buffalo Ankerite yesterday afternoon and evening. Three steers, each weighing over 500 pounds were spitted and roasted whole to feed the men. Until late at night the men were coming from Timmins to enjoy, not only the succulent barbecued meat but also the many games and amusements provided.

It was impossible this morning to estimate with any degree of accuracy the amount of money made to be devoted to the work of the Kiwanis club but as the affair was a success, it is hoped that the total will exceed expectations. Events yesterday included a canoe tilting event won by the team of Chuck Bryers, who handled the tilting pole and George Theriault, who paddled. Peter Ostrosower won the 100 yards open swimming race with Jack Dewar second and George Theriault third. Results of the quarter mile race were in the same order.

A diving exhibition by Helen Powers, formerly senior ladies' diving champion of Canada, was a feature of the aquatic meet. Held on the shore of McDonald Lake, the picnic grounds were a scene of merriment and gaiety throughout the whole afternoon and evening. Most of Timmins' prominent citizens were present to contribute their bit to the general fund which will be used for the work of underprivileged children.

The Ankerite Mine and its manager, Mr. R. P. Kinkel, were thanked by many of the guests for the use of the lovely Ankerite play-ground for the barbecue, and for the time, effort and skill given to make the occasion so delightful a success.

Extinguish Car Fire By Use of Chemicals

Firemen have been called only once this month. That call came yesterday. An automobile, owned by E. Ashworth, back-fired on Cedar Street and caught fire. Firemen soon extinguished the blaze by using three gallons of chemicals.

Big Crowd Enjoys Very Delightful Day at McIntyre Field Event

Children Especially had a Wonderful Day. Adults Equally Pleased with Attractive Programme of Events. Committee Congratulated on All Hands on Pleasure of Occasion.

Every year the McIntyre field day provides more fun and enjoyment for employees of the McIntyre and their friends. This year, as usual, thousands of people swarmed over the McIntyre park from early in the morning until late at night enjoying the various entertainment features provided for them by their host, the mine. It was the biggest crowd and the best annual day of all. The committee in charge certainly deserve bouquets.

Morning events were mainly contests for the youngsters and interdepartmental events for the miners. Twenty tug-of-war teams pulled for the R. J. Ennis trophy and $100 in cash prizes. Winning team was captained by Dave O'Connor.

Throughout the day the smartly uniformed McIntyre band paraded around the park and provided music for the various events. The Canadian Ukrainian Prosvita Society sponsored an exhibition of folk dancing for school children throughout the noon hour.

The midway—McIntyre's own midway—was the object of much attention throughout the day. It featured a shooting gallery, where accurate marksmanship won cash prizes; games such as "Spill the Clowns," where an accurately and powerfully thrown baseball could spill a clown into a tub of water, dart games, bingo, clowns and magicians.

Married and single football players divided off into two teams in the morning and played their annual match. This year it ended in a draw. The married men had the edge on the play, according to the experts, but their efforts around the goal were not polished enough to win a victory for them.

Later in the afternoon an exhibition baseball game was played between the McIntyre and Copper Cliff. The Macmen won after a close, hard fought

Street Dance on Saturday

Concluding Event of Celebration by Prospectors' Association.

The concluding event in the week's celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of the discovery of gold in the Porcupine will be a street dance on Saturday evening from nine to twelve midnight. The event like the rest of the celebration will be under the auspices of the Porcupine Prospectors' Association. There will be bright and gay music and a happy time for dancers and spectators. The block of Cedar street between Second and Third avenue will be blocked off for the event. Permission for this was granted by the council Tuesday night.

Many Novelties at Prospectors' Dance Event Last Night

Floor Show, Acrobatics, Special Musical Numbers

The Prospectors' Association held a mid-week dance at the cool Riverside Pavilion on Wednesday evening, about one hundred couples being present to enjoy dancing to the smooth music of Ernest Manero and his orchestra.

The dance was informal, and during the evening the dancers had an opportunity to witness an interesting floor show. Two young ladies demonstrated their acrobatic talents, making a very special hit with their lithe and supple portrayal of difficult acrobatic stunts. Several accordion solos were greatly enjoyed, as well as solo song selections and a variety of musical instruments played by one gentleman.

The programme for the picnic on Sunday, August 13th will include a concert by the Timmins Citizen's Band running races, swimming races (in the swimming pool) for children, and sports for adults. A special feature of the occasion will be the group games for children after the races are over. The programme will be concluded with community singing.

The Consumers' Co. Operative Society informs The Advance that all children of members and customers are being supplied with ten cents worth of free provisions, but tickets for these must be obtained before the picnic day. Buses are being provided for members and customers living at the Dome and South Porcupine.

Loss to Timmins in Death of James Ernest Malone

Well-known and Popular Citizen Passes on Tuesday.

Timmins lost one of its popular and valuable business men in the death on Tuesday, August 8th, of James Ernest Malone, proprietor of the Timmins New Method Laundry, who died at his home at 57½ Cedar street, north. While he had been off duty and under medical care for the past six months and had taken treatment with specialists in Toronto, it was hoped that his condition was improving, and his death came as a shock to his wide circle of friends and acquaintances. Death was due to a chest condition.

The late James Ernest Malone was born in Ayr, Ont., fifty-five years ago, his birthday being on Wednesday, August 9th, the day after his death. Eight years ago he came to Timmins and purchased the New Method Laundry, Cedar street, which he has conducted successfully since then, winning friends in business, social and other circles. He was an active and popular member of the Lions and of the Timmins Curling Club. The bulletin issued to-day by the Lions Club pays tribute to his good fellowship and active interest. The bulletin says:—

"The Club is saddened by the death of Lion Ernie Malone on Tuesday, August 8th, at his home in Timmins. Lion Ernie had been in ill health for a considerable period of time and notwithstanding that little hope had been held out for him for the past few months his death comes as a distinct shock to all the members of the Club. Lion Ernie's death is the first one in the Club since its organization. Ernie joined the Club shortly after it was organized and was always a willing worker and a genial fellow. While he enjoyed good health he was a regular attendant at the Club meetings and his presence has been missed during his illness and will be missed all the more so now. He was a gentleman and a Lion and his passing is regretted by all who knew him."

The late Mr. Malone is survived by his widow (formerly Miss Ethel Gieselman) to whom the sincere sympathy of all is extended in her loss.

The remains were shipped yesterday to Ayr, Ont., for burial, a short funeral service being held at Walker's Undertaking Parlours before the body was shipped on the Northland.

The gruesome discovery of a second body, believed to be that of a companion of Tranj Kummo who was found on the shores of Nighthawk Lake by campers on Monday was discovered floating on the same lake late yesterday by David Parker, of South Porcupine.

The second body, which at a late hour this morning, has not been positively identified, is in the undertaking parlours at South Porcupine. Coroner F. C. Evans, of Tisdale, said today that he expected to be able to identify the second body by this afternoon. He did not expect that an inquest would be held into either death.

Mr. Parker was paddling from Whitefish Creek across Nighthawk Lake yesterday when he discovered the body of the man floating on top of the water. He informed Mr. McColeman of the Nighthawk Peninsula Mine and word was sent to Provincial police at Timmins. Along with forestry men police brought the body to shore.

Kummo and the man believed to be his companion were transient bushworkers. They worked for a time with Anton Laine, a bush contractor, this spring but of late had been out of work. They had no fixed abode.

They are believed to have been paddling on Nighthawk Lake a week ago last Monday when their canoe overturned and both were drowned. The canoe, battered and floating upside down was found drifting on the lake recently.

Liquor Board Refuses to Cancel Wine Permit

Investigation Saw Many L. C. B. Employees Interview Timmins Citizens. Result Was Opinion Wine Store on Cedar Street S., "Properly Run and No Detriment to Timmins." Warren Charges Board Health Too Alert In Small Matters.

Recently the Timmins Council wrote to the Liquor Control Board of Ontario to ask that the wine store on Cedar Street, between Second and Third Avenues, be closed. It was contributing to juvenile delinquency, making it easier for panhandlers, people on relief and others who could not afford it to get alcoholic stimulant, said the Town fathers.

The Board replied and its letter was read at Tuesday's meeting of Council. It had made an investigation with its own employees. During the investigation, many persons, businessmen, service clubmen and prominent Timmins citizens were interviewed. Result of the investigation was the conclusion that the store here was "well managed and properly run" and "no detriment to the community."

The wine store manager had given every assurance that he would work in harmony with town officials, the relief department and the police. If he did not, drastic steps would be taken and if it could be proven by the town that juveniles were buying wine from the store, action would be taken.

The number of panhandlers in Timmins was not due to the wine store, believed the Liquor Control Board, but due to the large number of transients in Timmins. It suggested a check-up on transients.

Councillor Armstrong, personally, he felt that the purpose of the letter had been achieved.

Councillor Warren: "Yes what was wanted was a check-up. The letter has had a salutary effect."

New Milk By-Law
The Board of Health recently passed a resolution asking that the Council prohibit milk from coming in from beyond the ten mile limit. On Tuesday night the Clerk pointed out to members of Council that he had been advised by the Town solicitor that the present by-law enforcing the ten mile limit was ultra vires.

Decision was to get advice from the Department of Health and a copy of the most up-to-date by-law in its possession. No time should be lost, said Councillor McCabe, as milk was coming into Timmins left and right in contravention of the by-law.

"The Board of Health has been very alert lately," said Councillor Warren. "Its official has had an information laid against a poor, unfortunate farmer who tried to sell a litre cream from door to door after the dairies here refused to take it. It was not pasteurized and he is brought into court because of that."

"The Board of Health official is very alert on this matter but not so alert on the matter of stopping milk from non-tubercular tested cattle from coming into Timmins from beyond the ten mile limit. I say again that the producers around here are not being properly treated."
