TEN YEARS AGO IN TIMMINS

From data in the Porcupine Advance Files

"A rather odd burglary or series of burglaries took place at an early hour on Sunday morning," said The Advance ten years ago, "when all the stores in the Bardsone block were entered, the Goldale Cafe being the only place in the block to escape. About the time the burglaries are thought to have occurred the Chinamen were scrubbing up the cafe ready for Sunday, so this explains why the Goldale escaped. One odd feature of the affair was the entering of a row of stores on the one occasion. Another was the hour chosen, the time being after three o'clock, in the morning and it being more or less light. Still another odd thing was that practically nothing was taken. A few cigarettes and some candies were taken from the Rex Parlours, but apart from that nothing seemed to be missing from any of the stores entered. Apparently the burglars sought cash, and in none of the places entered was there any cash left in tills or drawers."

One of the features at the weekly luncheon of the Timmins Kiwanis Club ten years ago at the Empire Hotel was the report in regard to the successful Carnival held during the past week. The figures showed that the local club netted over $1,000 from the pleasing event. This money was spent for the welfare work of the Kiwanis, especially in regard to underprivileged children. There were several cases of need of assistance. A letter read at the luncheon from Dr. Harrison mentioned two such cases.

Reino Brandar, son of Mr. Brandar, foreman at the Hawk Lake Lumber Co., here lost his life ten years ago in the Mattagami river. The young man, who was only 15 years of age, though a particularly fine specimen of manhood, being nearly six feet tall and well proportioned, was at work on a drive of logs on the south side of the river not far from the bridge when he slipped between some logs and went down. This occurred shortly after noon and for a couple of hours frantic effort was made to rescue him. Dr. A. S. Porter kept up continuous diving and search for a considerable time, and the fire hall and police being notified, Constable Craik brought down Fireman W. Stanley, who was an expert diver and swimmer. "Happy" Woods also volunteered his very able services, while assistance in the search was also given by Clair Severt. In about two hours after the accident, Mr. Woods recovered the body and with the assistance of Mr. Stanley brought it to shore where the most persistent efforts at resuscitation were made. Dr. Porter, W. H. Pritchard and Firemen Smith, Stanley and Robinson, and others worked with the greatest skill and earnestness to revive the spark of life. All efforts, however, were unavailing, the young man having been too long in the water. Bruises on the head suggested that the lad had struck against the logs, possibly as he fell into the water, and consequently that he might have been unconscious from the time he fell into the river.

The special meeting of the Canadian Legion, Timmins Post, 88, which was held ten years ago in the Oddfellows hall, was one of the most interesting held for some time, the chief business being the address of the president, Austin Neame. President Neame, who recently returned from the Provincial Convention at St. Thomas, as delegate from the Timmins Post, gave a very extended and detailed report of all the proceedings. He told how the people of St. Thomas went out of their way to make the occasion a very memorable one.

The third annual picnic of the Timmins Citizens' Band was held ten years ago at Bayside Beach, Barber's Bay. There were over 100 present at the event, including members of the band, their families and friends. Although the day was unfavourable, a little light rain falling at different times during the day, the event was a very pleasant one and greatly enjoyed by all. Had the day been a pleasant one the picnic would have been ideal, as Bayside Beach proved a place of comfort and beauty. The beach was an excellent one for swimming and especially beautiful, and huts, tents, hall and other conveniences made the place most attractive from the public standpoint.

Among the local items in The Advance ten years ago were: "Mr. E. L. Urquhart, manager of Eaton's Groceria, motored to Kapuskasing on Sunday evening, accompanied by Mrs. Urquhart and daughter, Lois, and Miss Bernice Urquhart; also Mr. H. J. McDonald, newly-appointed supervisor of Eaton stores in Northern Ontario." "His many friends were pleased to see Mr. Fred Read able to be out and around again this week after several weeks in St. Mary's hospital where he had to be taken on account of a severe attack of pneumonia." "Mr. and Mrs. Alex Ramsay, 118 Maple street south, returned last week from a three weeks' motor trip to Parry Sound and Wiarton." "Born—at Montreal on July 17, 1929, to Mr. and Mrs. A. Allen—a daughter (stillborn)." "Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hooker and children, Margaret and John, left on Tuesday, for a holiday visit to Dundas and Galt."

"Mr. and Mrs. Alex B. Ramsay and family have returned from a three weeks' motor trip. While away they visited Mrs. Ramsay's mother in Wiarton, and Mr. Ramsay's old home town, Parry Sound." "Mr. A. Simpson, editor and publisher of the Times, Enlehart, was a visitor to Timmins over the week-end. It was his first visit to Timmins and he was much impressed with the development and progress of Timmins and its many modern advantages, especially the solid, permanent type of town here." "Mr. Tim McCann, who has been in charge of the F. M. Burke store at Miami, Fla., returned last week to Timmins and is being warmly welcomed back to town by hosts of old friends." "Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McCarthy left last week for Ottawa to spend a holiday there." "Mr. A. F. Cook, who has been for the past month in Dean Kester's law office here, left on Monday for the south." "Mr. Thos. Whitley left on Friday for Hamilton where he was called through the illness of his mother." "Mrs. Chas. Hall returned last week from a motor trip through Southern Ontario." ## Some Suggestions About Rock Gardens in Timmins

Advantages About Rock Gardens and Some Things to Avoid. Last Date for Entries for Garden Competition Here to be August 24th. Gardens to be Judged on August 26th.

(Contributed by Timmins Horticultural Society)

Members of the Timmins Horticultural Society intending to compete in the garden competitions should enter their gardens without fail before the twenty-fourth of August. Any director or official of the society will be glad to accept entries. If you are unable to contact any of the officials send your entry to the secretary at 100 Sixth Avenue, Timmins. This message is intended for the members of the juvenile section no less than for the senior members. The gardens will be judged on Saturday, the 26th of August, and as neatness counts largely in a contestant's favor the garden should be trimmed. The edges of a lawn are most important. Ragged edges detract not only from the appearance of the lawn in particular; they spoil the general effect of the garden as a whole. This year we will be visited by a judge from Kapuskasing. Mr. J. P. S. Ballantyne has kindly offered his services, or, in the event of his being unable to attend the show, he will send a competent representative in his place. Mr. Ballantyne is the Superintendent of the Agricultural Experimental Station at Kapuskasing.

Many garden enthusiasts in this district are seriously considering the possibility of turning a small portion of the space at their disposal into a rockery. There are many desirable perennials that can be planted satisfactorily only in a rock garden, and for rugged and picturesque beauty a small Alpine garden cannot be surpassed. Rock gardens require little fertilizing. Many plants that thrive best in this type of garden are more at home in poor soil than rich soil, and among them are various species that may be classed among the most beautiful of hardy flowers. Most rock plants are of free and graceful habit, producing long, slender, many-branched stems, literally smothered with tiny, marvelous flowers that spread over the bare patches left by early-flowering plants in a vivid carpet. Cushionlike plants produce a mass effect of brilliant flowers in profusion, making the rockery an unexcelled picture in spring and summer.

The requirements of a small rock garden are not hard to meet, but the arrangement of such a garden should conform to nature's grouping as far as possible. There should be no attempt at precision, and a study of the natural formation of rocks suggests that they should be of various sizes and shapes to give the finished scheme distinctive character and natural charm. Good drainage is essential and should be provided by incorporating coarse gravel, cinders or broken stone in the centre of the rockery well down toward the base. A very gentle slope or hillside affords an attractive site, or a rock retaining wall, but pleasing effects can be attained by utilizing, or building, a bank against a house or other artificial object and using boulders and weather-beaten stone at random, burying them in the bank in irregular tiers so that about two thirds of them are exposed building them with soil between each rock so that they slope gently back from the base to the crown of the rockery. Pockets and fissures should be filled with a rather rich soil, at least one-fourth well-rotted manure. The whole idea is to build up the rocks informally and with soil between them. Any attempt at formal design will spoil the whole effect, but no stone should stand out too prominently and each should lie on its broadest side. When finished the garden should be pleasingly irregular to give it a natural appearance, the land sloping sufficiently in every part to provide rapid drainage. The slopes should not be too steep in order to allow the rain to penetrate the soil.

Believed that Odors Were Transmitted Over Radio

(From Public Utilities, Washington)

In Germany on April 1, 1938, a pair of enterprising radio announcers decided to kid their audiences in the proper spirit of the day. The Reich listeners were informed that a new invention was going to be demonstrated which would not only sound but smell over the radio. "Now," said the radio announcer, "put your nose near the loudspeaker and see if you catch the scent of this lilac perfume." (Business of spraying perfume... pause.) "Next, try to catch the aroma of this delicious fried wienersurst." (Business of making properly noise like wienersurst sputtering in the frying pan.) So it went with the other sound effects. Imagine the announcers' surprise, however, when the next day several letters came through the mail from listeners expressing wonder and admiration at the new device and marvelling that scents came through the radios perfectly.

Speaks to Lions on Work of Committees

Dr. Ray Hughes Talks to Lions. Give $25 for Boy Scout Summer Camp.

Dr. Ray Hughes spoke to the Lions Club on Thursday evening, at the weekly supper meeting, on the education of Lions in committee work and club organization. His speech, brief and packed with fact, was of interest only to members of the club and they benefited by it.

Guests of the club at the meeting were Jerry Tucker, A. P. Jensen, Lions Dennis Ryan, of Kirkland Lake and Scott Quarrel, of Sudbury.

The club voted the sum of $25 to the Boy Scouts to be used towards the maintenance of their annual summer camp.

Attendance at the meeting was large. President William King presided.

Northern Towns Under Dominion Housing Act

Several Northern municipalities have qualified for the tax payment benefits made available under Part III of the National Housing Act. These municipalities include:—Timmins, Tisdale Township, Teck Township, New Liskeard, Calvert Township, Sault Ste. Marie, Bourlameau.

One hundred and fifteen communities have now qualified for the tax payment benefits made available under Part III of the National Housing Act, according to a list of these communities made public this week by Honourable Charles A. Dunning, Minister of Finance. This is an increase of 27 as compared with a total of 88 shown in the last list released about the end of May. Communities now fully qualified represent 32.5% of the total urban population of Canada. To date some 52 additional municipalities have indicated that they are interested in qualifying, and requests to participate are being received regularly.

The approval of by-laws from these communities under Part III of the National Housing Act should not be confused with loaning operations under Part I of the Act, under which part loans have now been made in more than 330 communities.

Part III of the National Housing Act provides in effect for tax assistance during a three-year period to persons who build for their own occupation low-cost homes not exceeding a total cost of $4,000. Construction of the house must start between June 1, 1938, and December 31, 1940.

Dominion assistance provided amounts to 100% of the real estate and school taxes levied on the new house for the first year in which it is taxed, 50% the second year, and 25% the third year. This Part is operative in those communities which pass by-laws agreeing to co-operate in encouraging construction by making a number of lots available to prospective home owners at a nominal price. It is not necessary, however, that the house be built on one of these lots in order for it to qualify for the tax payments, nor is it necessary that the house be financed under Part I of the National Housing Act.
