

Charming Wedding at Church of Nativity This Morning

Miss Jean McDonald and Mr. Leonard Godin United in Marriage. Sailing from Montreal for England on Sept. 1st. Reception at Home of Bride's Parents.

A very attractive wedding took place this morning at the Church of the Nativity, with Rev. Father J. R. O'Gorman officiating, when Miss Jean McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. McDonald, of Timmins, and Leonard Godin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Godin, were united in marriage.

Miss Olive Lafrenier was organist, and there were solos by Mrs. Joseph Everard.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked very charming in a two-piece white satin gown with peplum jacket buttoned down the front, with Peter Pan collar and long sleeves, white sandals and white net gloves. Her veil was floor length with three cream-coloured roses at front of head. She carried an arm spray of dark red roses, lily-of-the-valley and fern.

Miss Mary Everard, the bridesmaid, wore a floor length dress of duonnet, velvet top, and turquoise blue taffeta skirt with duonnet velvet border, chic hat (Eugenie style) and gloves, also duonnet and silver sandals. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas, lily-of-the-valley and fern.

Mr. Roland Godin, brother of the groom, was groomsmen.

Mrs. McDonald, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue sheer, with navy accessories, and wore a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Godin, mother of the groom, wore navy silk crepe and navy accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 8 John street.

The groom's gift to the bride was a silver fox jacket. The gift from the bride and groom to the organist was a large wooden compact; to the soloist a vase; and to the bridesmaid a Victorian style bracelet.

The bride and groom received a large number of beautiful gifts.

They left on the afternoon train for Ottawa and Montreal, the bride throwing her bouquet at the train. They will sail for England on Sept. 1st on the Duchess of York, the groom to play hockey in the Old Land during the coming season.

SIFTING THE NEWS

By Hugh Murphy

Down around Simcoe County the name Bigwin means something. Local historians argue over whether the name is Bigwin or Big Wind but they all know that it was one of the mightiest Indian names in the Province back in the early days of the nation's history.

In any event John Bigwin was 101 years old on Sunday. That is his age by his own reckoning and it might not be accurate but he has lived to a great age. For many, many years he has lived on the Rama Indian Reserve on the east side of Lake Couchiching.

Of royal lineage himself, he claims, John Bigwin is a staunch royalist. He saw and talked with Queen Victoria and King Edward. When George VI and Elizabeth visited Canada John Bigwin saw them at Washago and presented them with a biography of himself.

The aged patriarch feels that his people have been sadly misused by the white men. His favourite contention is that by a treaty given him by Queen Victoria his people are entitled to hunt and fish anywhere in the vast area below the French River. Some of his people feel that way and, as the result often appear before the Magistrate, brought in by game wardens with no feeling for ancient rights and prerogatives.

Somewhat bent and gnarled by the years, Bigwin is nevertheless still a stately figure. Because of the fact that he has too often been quoted by newspaper correspondents, who by the simple method of putting words he does not understand into his mouth and getting him to say "yes," have made something of a fool of him in print.

John Bigwin argues for rights that he really believes are just, and who shall say that they are not. His statements are so far divergent to our complicated system of laws and restrictions that they have all the charm of novelty.

To John his contentions are justified by a promise made long ago. We have little regard for promises now so John makes very amusing newspaper copy.

One of the functions of a newspaper is to interpret and simplify the ordinary events of current history so that the man in the street can, by reading his newspaper, get an instant grasp of what is happening in the world about him. Take, for example, these paragraphs from a story from Atlantic City.

The story describes the efforts of the American Federation of Labour to settle a "jurisdictional dispute among actors' unions." The paragraphs: "The Associated Actors and Artists of America (4-A) had called on the A.F.L. to force the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees (I.A.T.S.E.) to revoke the charter it gave to the American Federation of Actors after the 4-A expelled the union of vaudeville and circus performers.

"The A.F.L. last week ordered the I.A.T.S.E. to revoke the charter and also proposed that the 4-A take back the A.P.A., headed by Sophie Tucker."

There see how clear and lucid that all is.

The impeccability of our judicial system can no better be illustrated than by a decision handed down by Mr. Justice Gerald Kelly recently in Ottawa. He ruled that he and his colleagues of the Supreme Court of Ontario would continue to walk fifteen feet to their washroom.

County officials decided that improved washroom facilities for the judges of the supreme court were in order. Their plans however for "a sumptuous lavatory affair" would have practically eliminated another washroom used by county judges.

So the county judges obtained an injunction to stop the proposed work. But—and here was the rub—a justice of the supreme court was to decide on the injunction.

Counsel for the county judges maintained that the men of mighty dignity on the supreme court bench had done well enough with present arrangements for the last 68 years. Why change now, especially when it meant that the county judges would be left with only a miserable cubicle in which to wash their judicial faces.

A tough point. No doubt Mr. Justice Kelly was torn between the thought of "a sumptuous lavatory affair" and the justice of depriving the county judges of their washroom—or at least of most of it.

However it was then that Mr. Justice Kelly called on the long tradition of honesty in the judiciary of the supreme court. With a magnificent gesture he put personal considerations aside and agreed to continue the injunction—for a week until a satisfactory agreement was reached.

President of the Canadian National Railways and Trans-Canada Air Lines, S. J. Hungerford, says: "Business in Canada will be very good for the balance of the year if war does not come in Europe. Everything depends on that."

Exiled democratic leader of the Free City of Danzig, Hans Leonhardt, who is on a lecture tour of the United States, says: "War over Danzig and the Polish Corridor is inevitable within six weeks at the most."

H. A. White, English industrialist, says that if war comes it will give a tremendous impetus to Canadian industry—just as the United States became a great industrial power in the last war.

To Report on Recent Convention at Legion Meeting

Meeting of Local Branch on Monday of Special Interest and Importance.

The monthly general meeting of the Timmins Branch of the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L. will be held on Monday evening, August 21st, in the Legion hall at 8.15 p.m. As a result of the provincial convention an earnest effort will be put forward to make the work of the Legion more generally known to the general public and to have the members of the local branch take a greater interest in the organization. In this regard all are requested to make a very special effort to be present at this meeting. All the delegates are expected to present reports of convention business and as the sessions at Brantford will be divided into three, and this will give the members a clear picture of the business of the provincial convention. Matters pertaining to Poppy Day, Service Bureau and Pensions will be given by W. A. Devine; Imperial Division of the Canadian Legion by President Walter Greaves, along with other highlights; resolutions and general convention matters by Al Wetmore.

Some of the work accomplished by the delegates from Timmins at the convention will be of great benefit to ex-servicemen in Northern Ontario in the near future, especially in regard to Class 2 and Class 18 hospitalization. The securing of a Northern Ontario member on the Provincial Council (Major Tom Magladery) will also give branches here a closer alliance with headquarters and will be of benefit to the organization in the North.

A lengthy meeting is the forecast, but all are urged to attend as the items referred to alone will be of much importance and interest.

South Porcupine Child Dies From Burns from Match

Four-year-old Youngster Succumbs to Injuries.

New Liskeard, Aug. 21, (Special to The Advance)—The body of Florence Getty, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Meryn Getty, who sustained fatal burns when her clothing caught fire from a match in her hand, was sent to her parents home at South Porcupine on Saturday for burial there after funeral services had been held for the child here.

The four-year-old girl died in the Red Cross hospital in Enghelart on Friday. Her body had been burned all over, it was stated, apparently after her flimsy dress had been ignited when she is said to have struck a match against a board of the pig pen at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Bert Edwards, a sister of Mrs. Getty, who lives on a farm near Enghelart.

The child had been playing with a young cousin at the time of the tragedy, which took place on Thursday. Following her death, the body was brought to the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Getty, in Dymond township. Surviving are the parents and a younger sister, Merle.

The following are the results of the Upper School examinations for Schumacher High School. The results are exceptionally high, nearly 100 per cent. of papers written being successful.
