

R-K-O VAUDEVILLE CARTIER STAGE AND SCREEN ENTERTAINMENT FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY SMOKING IN THE STADIUM SEATS Phone 2440

MATINEES—2.30 p.m. (except Saturday) Saturday 2.00 and 4.30 p.m. EVENINGS—7.00 p.m. and 9.00 p.m. MIDNIGHT SHOWS—Sunday 12.01 Tuesday 12.00

LAST SHOWING TO-NIGHT

Anne Sheridan in

"Winter Carnival"

WITH RICHARD CARLSON, ROBERT ARMSTRONG, HELEN PARRISH and VIRGINIA GILMORE

ADDED SHORTS: "Ring Madness" "Barnyard Symphony"

FRIDAY and SATURDAY

Sept. 15th and 16th

"I AM A Criminal" WITH JOHN CARROLL KAY LINAKER MARTIN SPELLMAN CRAIG REYNOLDS

Added Shorts: "Music Made Simple" News

Laurel and Hardy in "Bohunks"

SUNDAY, MIDNIGHT, MONDAY & TUESDAY

September 17th, 18th and 19th

"Star Reporter"

With Warren Hull and Marsha Hunt

ADDED SHORTS

NEW HIGH CLASS

VAUDEVILLE ALL THIS WEEK

TEN YEARS AGO IN TIMMINS

From data in the Porcupine Advance Files

Largely through the interest and organizing talent of Mrs. Lillian Freiman, of Ottawa, the Jewish people in practically all the larger centres throughout Canada ten years ago organized to inaugurate a Palestine Relief Campaign to raise funds for the assistance of the suffering Jewish people in Palestine who were undergoing hardship and privation through the Arab riots in the Holy Land.

The annual Porcupine Fair at Golden City ten years ago, proved eminently successful and pleasing in every way and the officials and directors were to be congratulated and commended on the results.

"For several weeks past," said The Advance ten years ago, "There has been a demand at the Kiwanis Club for an account by Kiwanian C. G. Keddie of his recent trip through the Gaspé Peninsula. At the luncheon on Monday of this week Mr. Keddie acceded to the request, and his talk on the motor trip through Gaspé was one of the most appreciated addresses of this year."

The death took place ten years ago of Mrs. S. J. Coady at the St. Mary's Hospital after a long and painful illness. Mrs. Coady was taken to the hospital about four months and a half before her death, and previous to that had been ill at her home, 9 Kimberley avenue, for seven weeks or so. Death was due to liver trouble, and death came as a release from much pain and suffering. For several months it was known that Mrs. Coady must succumb to the illness that had her in grip and only her remarkable strength and vitality kept her alive so long.

There was a good turnout ten years ago to the L.O.L. opening dance in the Oddfellows' hall and all attending were glad to be there for everybody had a very pleasant time. The music was by Burton Holland and his Club Royal orchestra, in their natty uniforms and the dancers found the music especially good.

Among the local items in The Advance ten years ago were: "Mr. and Mrs. Lacasse and children, Maple street, south, returned last week from a trip to Ottawa and other points south and east."

"He is survived by his widow, of Cochrane, one son, Ray, of Ansonville, and two daughters, Mrs. J. Abram of Val d'Or, Que., and Miss Jean of Timmins. Wreaths forwarded by all public bodies of the town also from many individual citizens testified to the high esteem with which the deceased was held."

"The town has suffered the loss of a good citizen in the death of Frank Graff, who passed away at the beginning of the week at the town of Bracebridge. From the time when the town took over the light and power and telephone systems nearly twenty years ago, Mr. Graff, as general manager, proved himself a sincerely devoted public servant, striving at all times to do his utmost for the benefit of the service under his charge."

"Business as usual" was the motto in England in the early days of 1914. It is a good motto today. There is nothing to be gained by becoming jittery. If all classes of citizens will go about their duties in a normal way, practising economy where necessary and leaving the conduct of the war to the forces trained for that purpose, they will be rendering the best service to the country.

Tributes Paid to Frank Graff, One of Pioneers of North

Was a Valued and Public Spirited Citizen of Cochrane

In the last issue of The Cochrane Northland Post there is the following reference to the death of Mr. Frank Graff, one of the pioneers of the North, being resident in the Cobalt district for several years, and in later years being manager of the public utilities commission at Cochrane. Reporting the death, The Northland Post says:—

"Northern Pioneer is Dead" "A resident of Cochrane since 1912 and prominent in many service organizations in the town, Frank Graff, former manager of the public utilities commission, died in Bracebridge on Monday evening and funeral rites were held in Montreal on Wednesday."

"Mr. Graff became sick last fall and was granted leave of absence, which was renewed until April of this year, when his resignation was accepted by the commission. He had been manager of the utilities since the town took over from the power company and had seen the power, telephone and water service of the town extended to their present modern condition."

"He was well known in the North coming to Cochrane from the Cobalt district where he had been one of the North's pioneers. On his arrival in Cochrane he was manager for the power company, and entered the service of the town when the utility was purchased by them."

"A staunch member of the Board of Trade he had remained active in its work since 1912 and was the oldest member of the executive council of the board at the present time. He also took a great interest in the swimming club, being a member of the swimming committee since its inception 11 years ago."

"The town has suffered the loss of a good citizen in the death of Frank Graff, who passed away at the beginning of the week at the town of Bracebridge. From the time when the town took over the light and power and telephone systems nearly twenty years ago, Mr. Graff, as general manager, proved himself a sincerely devoted public servant, striving at all times to do his utmost for the benefit of the service under his charge."

"Business as usual" was the motto in England in the early days of 1914. It is a good motto today. There is nothing to be gained by becoming jittery. If all classes of citizens will go about their duties in a normal way, practising economy where necessary and leaving the conduct of the war to the forces trained for that purpose, they will be rendering the best service to the country.

What Hitler Has Done to the People of Germany

(Ottawa Journal) We hear much of what Hitler has "done for Germany." We hear less of what he had done to Germany. To German human beings.

What he had done to German human beings is disclosed in part by an analysis which the New York Times has made of German vital statistics. Thus: Since Hitler came to power in 1933 cases of diphtheria and scarlet fever have virtually doubled; of spinal meningitis actually trebled. Food poisoning cases increased from 1,565 in 1933 to 3,674 in 1937. Death rates between the ages of one and five went up 12.5 per cent for girls and 20 per cent for boys between 1932 and 1936.

Said Goering: "We must have more cannon and less butter." They have had more cannon and less butter, and with the cannon they have had a population in physical decay, more starved children and more children's coffins. When one adds the spiritual degradation of the people, the chains on their minds and consciences, the brutal suppression of anything like free thought, the regimenting of a whole nation behind the chariot of war, the real measure is had of what Adolf Hitler has done for—and to—Germany.

Laugh Away Worry in "The Kid from Kokomo" at Palace

Attend This Show at the Palace This Week, and Your Worry Will be to Stop Laughing

Some of the racketeering that goes on behind the scenes of the prizefight game is hilariously exposed in "The Kid from Kokomo," the Warner Bros. comedy featuring Pat O'Brien, Wayne Morris and Joan Blondell which will be presented at the Palace theatre Friday and Saturday of this week, Sept. 15th and 16th.

Exposing evils of the boxing game is, however, merely incidental to the main purpose of the picture, which is to garner laughs. Nothing is taken seriously, and even the most dishonest of the film's characters are rather engaging rascals.

In the new picture every character and every twist of the plot is humorous, laughter being directed even at the virtuous hero, who is altogether admirable in every respect except that he does seem to be just a bit dense, even for a country bumpkin who has been slickered by a crooked fight manager into leaving his native heath to become a professional fighter. The husky farm boy, it seems, has only one great desire in life, and that is to find the mother who left him as a baby on the doorstep of the farmer who brought him up. So, the scheming fight manager, played by Pat, provides a mother for Wayne in the person of a raffish old kleptomaniac who in her distant youth had been an actress.

The boy is taken in by the deception, and gratefully proceeds to travel fast up the ladder of fistic success. With the money rolling in, his "mother" takes advantage of the situation to wrest control of Wayne from his manager, who thus sees his clever scheme laying an egg right in his lap. From there on, there's a succession of rapid fire, uproarious complications that lead finally to a climatic brawl which is one of the funniest scenes of roughhouse ever filmed.

Supporting the featured trio, is a cast rich with accomplished comedians, including May Robson, Jane Wyman, Stanley Fields, Maxie Rosenbloom, Sidney Toler, Ed Brophy, Paul Hurst, Morgan Conway and many others.

This and That—A politician is a man who stands for what he thinks the people will fall for.

WHEN IT'S TIME TO MOVE THINK OF STAR TRANSFER There's some excuse for making the mistake of forgetting the berth number on a pullman, but there's NO excuse for moving men forgetting to exercise care—and ours are careful PLUS! PHONE 427

Thrills and Interest in Outstanding Picture at Cartier

Handsomeness New Star and Clever Boy Actor Star in "I am a Criminal"

An exciting gangster story with a new twist is Monogram's "I Am a Criminal", at the Cartier theatre on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 15th and 16th. The excitement centres around John Carroll, as Brad McArthur, big time gambler, who accidentally kills a man; and the new twist is that Brad hires a press agent to build him up as a public benefactor, so he can escape the D. A.'s indictment.

The press agent has Brad adopt a little boy, 10 year old Bobby, whom Brad comes to love. It is through Bobby that Brad learns that Linda, his girl, has been double-crossing him, and that she and Clint, the publicity man, are two-timing him. So he throws Clint out on his ear, and the resulting headlines crystallize Brad's idea to jump bail, leave town, and make a new start.

Bobby hides in his car, and the two escape to a mountain resort operated by Alice, who, loving Brad, gives back to him his faith in women. She pleads with him to surrender, but he will not, and plots escape as the law learns his hide-out, and comes to trap him.

But love and loyalty do mean something to Brad, and in a thrilling climax he forfeits his freedom saving Bobby's life, and goes to prison, resigned to take his punishment, knowing that Bobby and Alice will wait for him.

"I Am a Criminal" is John Carroll's first opportunity in a straight dramatic role. Formerly the interpreter of dashing costumed heroes, Carroll first won screen fame because of his glorious singing voice, which was heard in "Hi Gaucho" and "Rose of the Rio Grande." In "I Am a Criminal," he definitely proves that that he is an excellent actor and does not shed his charm with his costumes.

Mary Korman, "Our Gang's" original girl friend, plays her first leading adult role in this picture, and she shows much promise in the role of Alice. Kay Linaker is a venomous "Linda," Brad's discarded girl friend, and Craig Reynolds is excellent as the high powered press agent. The "Boys Town" find, Martin Spellman, is a hit in "I Am a Criminal," his second picture. He is 10 year old Bobby, who wins Brad's heart and the heart of the audience. John Kraft wrote the screenplay, and William Nigh directed. "I Am a Criminal" is an E. B. Derr production.

London, Eng., Gentleman Had Troubles All Right

(From Huntingdon Gleaner) What would you do if your only daughter had been jilted after the banns had been put up? Henry Cotton, of London, Eng., a 45-year-old porter, put this question to the magistrates recently when he was fined 7s 6d for using insulting words and behaviour in a public house. "A man had been courting my only daughter for the past three years and had been engaged to her for the past two," said Cotton. Naming the parents of the man, he added, "My daughter has even bought things in anticipation of the future and has been drained dry of every penny she had. They had even put the banns up. Now this man has jilted her and left her to go back to his mother. He has been living with us these last twelve months. I ask you, what would you have done? How would you feel if it had been your only daughter?" The chairman: "I cannot tell you that. I have never had your experience, but I dare say I would have felt worse than you. I don't really know. You will be fined 7s 6d, and we will give you time to pay."

Toronto Telegram:—Many a man acquires a tough hide as the result of frequently being skinned.

TIME TABLE CHANGES EFFECTIVE Sunday, Sept. 24, 1939 Full Information from Agents CANADIAN PACIFIC

INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE IN ALL BRANCHES HOUSES AND LOTS FOR SALE CONVENIENT TERMS SIMMS, HOOKER & DREW 13a Pine Street North Timmins Phone—Office 112 Residence 135

AT THE TIMMINS THEATRES PALACE GOLDFIELDS NEW EMPIRE Prices at All Matinees—CHILDREN 10c Last Showing To-Night—Thurs., Sept. 14th "UNEXPECTED FATHER" Friday, Friday Midnight and Saturday, September 15th and 16th "THE KID FROM KOKOMO" Saturday, Sunday Midnight and Monday, September 16th, 17th and 18th "BOY ROGERS, SMILEY BRUNETTE" Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 19th and 20th "NANCY DREW, REPORTER" Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 20th and 21st "CLOUDS OVER EUROPE"