

Wadsworth and Genovese Meet In Title Bout Here October 6

Three Timmins Boys to Meet Three Outsiders in Preliminaries. Genovese Will Probably Fight at Lower Poundage Than Wadsworth. Dubeau and Hicks, Who Recently Fought Draw Here, Will Come to Settlement.

Len Wadsworth, of Timmins, will defend his Canadian middle-weight title here on Friday, October 6th, against Frankie Genovese, of Toronto. The bout will headline the second card presented by the McIntyre in the Arena at Schumacher.

Genovese, in this bout, will probably be fighting out of his weight. The fast, shifty, Toronto leather-thrower finds it easier however to fight middleweight than to train down to welter-weight. Training down to the line, which is necessary for Genovese to make welter-weight, weakens him and he finds it easier to fight at around 155 pounds. Wadsworth will probably strip at about 160 pounds in this bout.

The fight here will be the first time Wadsworth has defended his title since he won it in Timmins from Ray McIntyre about a year and a half ago. McIntyre and Wadsworth met again in St. John N. B., recently, but both men went into the ring overweight and, consequently, the title was not at stake. The preliminary card here will see two Timmins men fighting the same two outsiders they met in the last card. Lorne Dubeau will again meet Walter Hicks, of Toronto, to settle a little unfinished business. When they last met the boys fought to a draw. The bout was one of the best of the show.

Tops Tolino, of Timmins, took a trimming from Walter Ramage, of Hamilton, in their last bout. However, he believes that he now has analysed Ramage's style sufficiently for him to again go forth to battle.

The fourth bout of the evening will see Stan Bailey, of Timmins meet an as-yet-unknown boy from outside.

Two Canadians Ranked in N.B.A. Boxing Ratings

Montreal and Winnipeg Boys Listed in Featherweight and Lightweight Divisions.

Washington, Sept. 20.—Two Canadians, Billy Marquart, of Winnipeg, and Dave Castiloux, of Montreal, were ranked in their classes in the latest N.B.A. listings. Castiloux, whom Montreal sports tried to have ranked as No. 1 challenger in the featherweight division, was named No. 3. Marquart received No. 4 ranking in the lightweight division.

Four other Canadians received honorable mention, Maxie Berger, of Montreal, and Sammy Luftspring, of Toronto, receiving that distinction in the welterweight division and Tiger Terry Warrington, of Liverpool, N.S., and Eddie Wenslob, of Edmonton getting the nod in the light heavyweight section.

by borrowing or some other method. It is understood that what some military experts consider advisable for the Canadian effort—its extent at home and overseas—would have necessitated an outlay beyond the country's capacity to sustain considering the burden of other obligations.

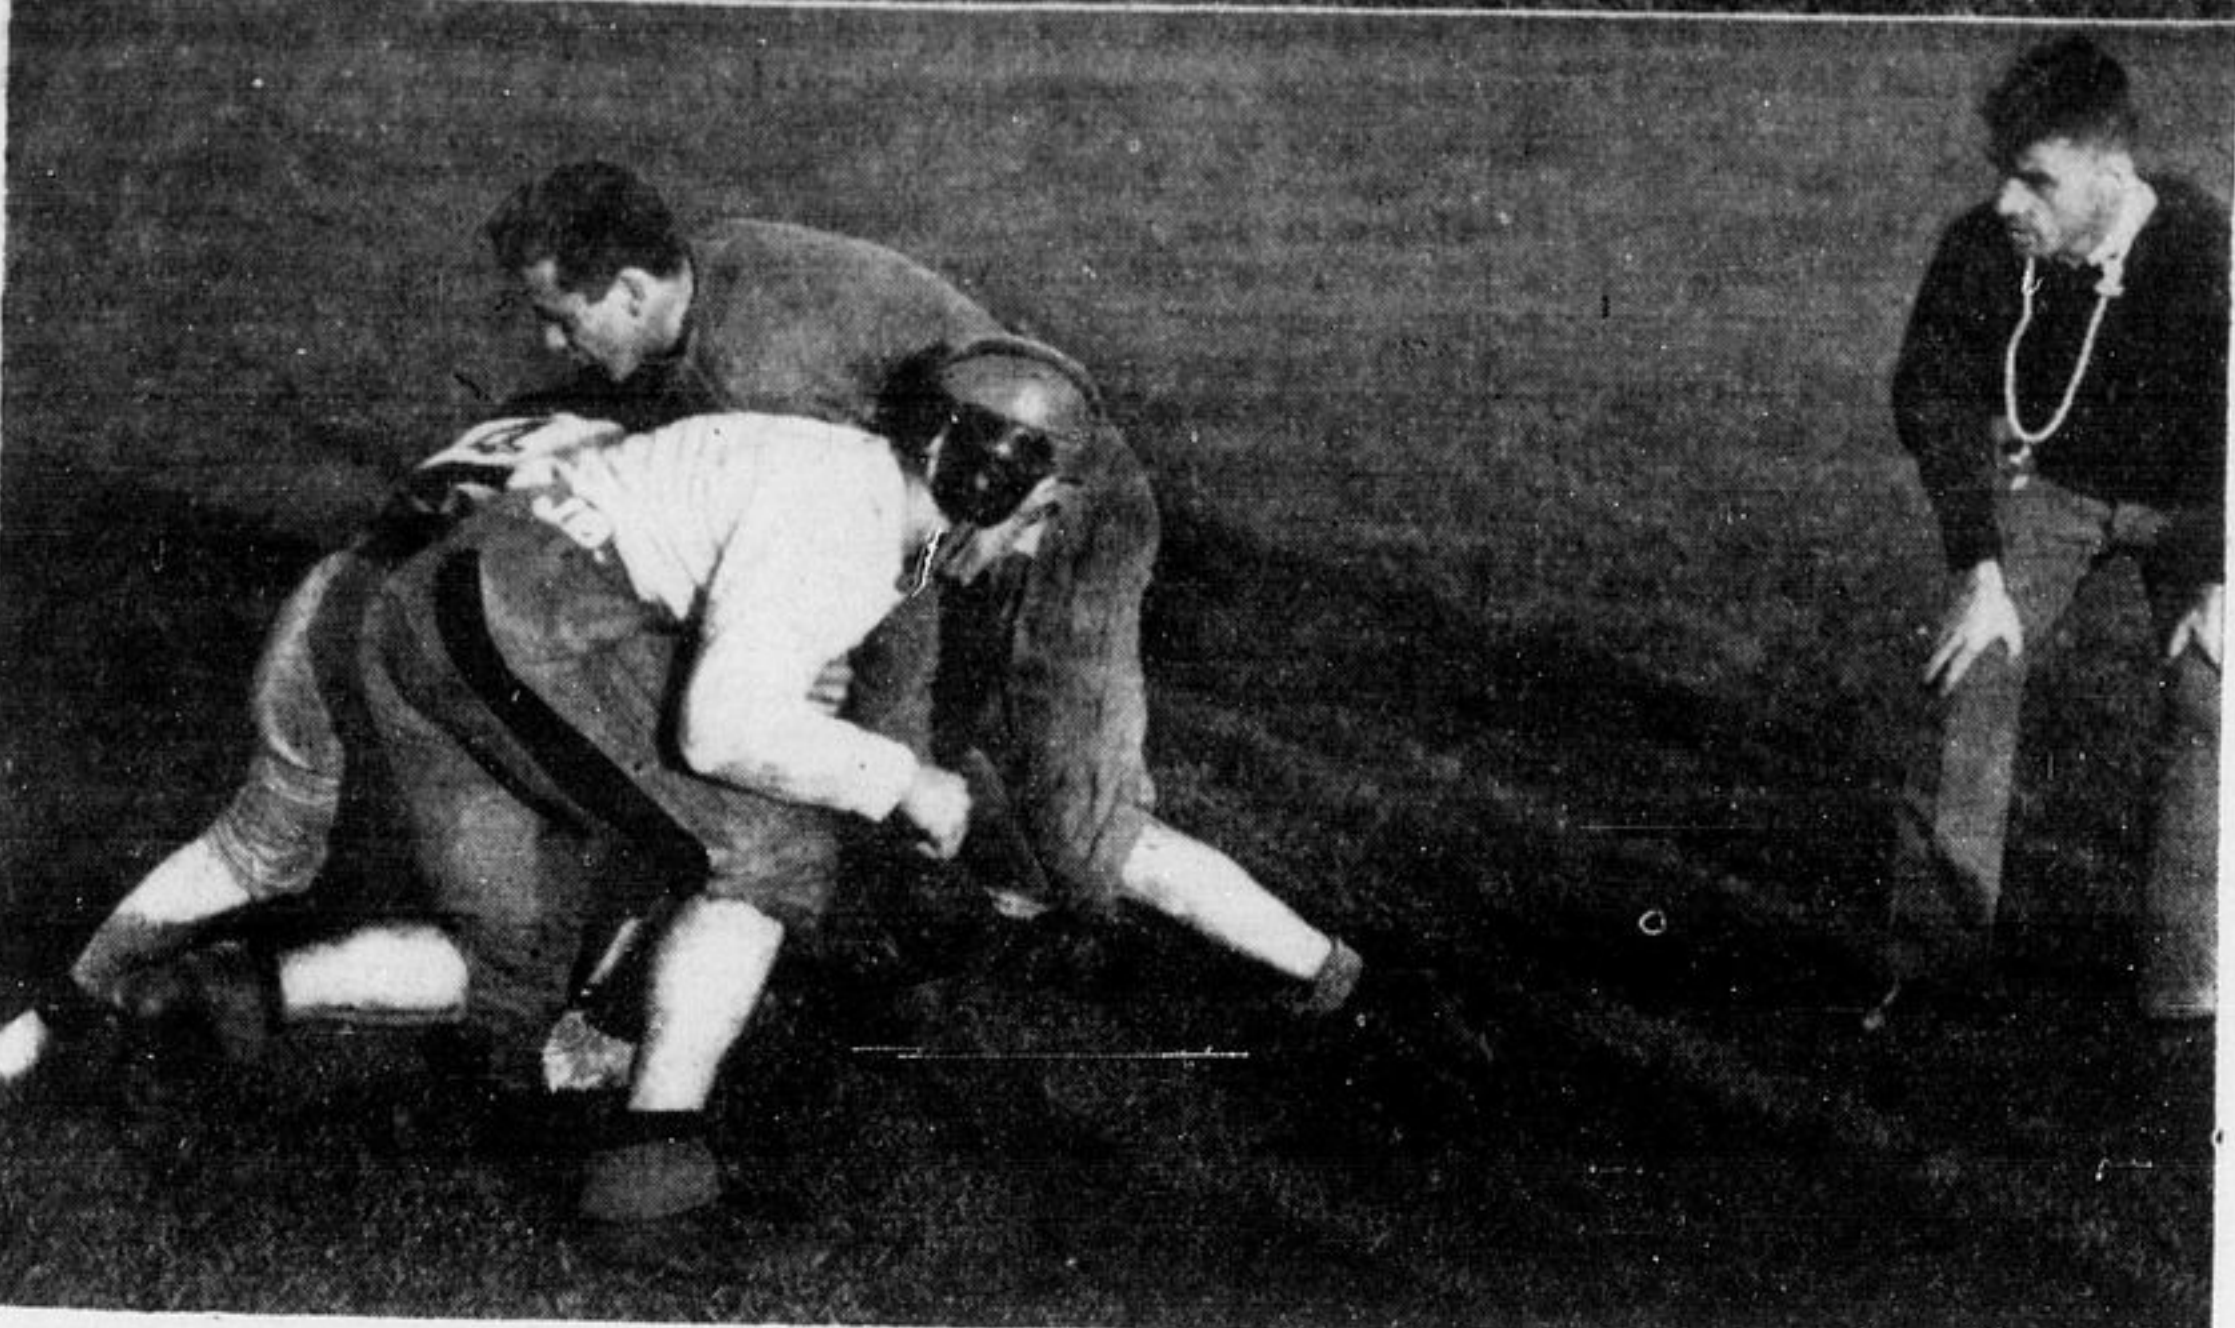

Canada is going in to construct ships. Here again, details are lacking, but it is known that adequate shipping facilities are one of the requests of the British government, along with munitions and food supplies. The submarine operations of the enemy are taking a daily toll and it becomes necessary to put Canadian shipyards at work.

The comparative quiet in Ottawa since Parliament went away has given place to new activity reminiscent of 1914 and later. This will continue with the assurance now that an expeditionary force will be sent. No difficulty in enlistment is foreseen. Recruiting for home service was devoid of much attraction to many. There are every signs of a ready response when enlistment is for the real thing.

At all times an expeditionary force has been envisioned, but without any definite idea as to when it would be enrolled. There have been repeated intimations that the British government—so far as an overseas force was concerned—was in no hurry. They were said to give priority to munitions, food, ships and financial credits.

The entry of Communistic Russia to the war on the side of Nazi Germany has evidently been the turning point towards quicker and more effective action.

TO PLAY RUGBY PRACTICE IS NECESSARY

SIFTING THE NEWS

By Hugh Murphy

The speech which Adolf Hitler, Chancellor of Germany, delivered from the no longer free city of Danzig to a waiting world was a triumph of emotionalism over reason. It is hard to conceive of a man believing all the things he said and still being allowed to roam at large, let alone lead a nation.

It was wisdom on the part of the allies to allow the speech to be heard by the people of the democratic countries. Abandonment of reason is common in war time on our side of the fence as well as that of our enemies, but having heard Der Fuehrer speak we can assure ourselves that if we are slightly mentally deranged in going to a war we would be completely insane if we did not go and allowed such a man to become our immediate master or even have some remote control over us.

It was easy to convince oneself that Hitler meant every word he said—that is what makes him so dangerous. The only flagrantly insincere note in the whole oration was struck when, after reviling British propaganda, he said that the British should go to the Germans to learn how to propagandize. Evidently even Hitler does not quite believe that the words "propaganda" and "truth" are synonymous.

Even the applause given the German leader was regimented. It was strange to hear the chanting "Sieg Heil," monotonously repeated like the beating of a great gong. About the only regimented applause we have for those we like to praise is the "Three Cheers," and then a "Tiger" is struck on the end as though we were concurring ourselves that after all we were not specifically bound down to give three cheers and no more or less. And, in this country, if an individual in the cheering mass does not agree with the majority of his fellows he is always entitled to make his vocal outburst a "Bronx Cheer"—although that would not be so wise at the present time when we are asked to support our government to the utmost.

Many persons, including the Mayor of Ottawa, are angry with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation for allowing Hitler's speech to be heard in this country. In a public statement Mayor Lewis of Ottawa said that he did not think the Canadian people should be "fed German propaganda over their own facilities." It was time, he said, that a Ministry of Information was set up here to give the people "real facts" rather than "German theories."

Mayor Lewis ought to give the people of Canada a credit for a little more intelligence than he apparently does. If he believes that Hitler's speech was going to sway many of them with its blatant appeal to the emotions and lack of either rhyme or reason, he has little faith in Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Furthermore, this country is still a democracy and the people ought to be allowed to judge some things for themselves. If any of them were swayed by Hitler, they probably would not be much help to the nation in an emergency anyway.

As a matter of fact people are getting more than a little irked at the paucity of news issuing from the Ministries of Information already set up. It is reasonable to assume that once these censorship bureaus, begin to function a little more perfectly that they will release more news, but at the present time the people are hungry for news even if it is bad news.

Since the advent of Russia into this war it has, more than ever, become an ideological struggle. It is a contest between democracy and totalitarianism; a battle between nations whose roots are in Christianity and nations who profess paganism. It is no accident that Russia and Germany have linked forces. Their ideas, with slight changes, might well be interchanged. So far as the actual people of the country are concerned they probably would never know the difference.

It is that fact which makes one think that if Italy comes into this war it will be on the side of the allies. Despite the fact that Italian Fascist leaders can, by no stretch of the imagination, be called religious, the people of the country, nevertheless, are deeply so. They surely would raise some objection if Mussolini asked them to join hands with the forces of paganism to fight the more or less Christian democrats.

Wins Webster Trophy as Ranking Amateur Pilot

Toronto, Sept. 20.—First French-Canadian pilot to win the honor, Dr. Rene Simard, president of the Montreal Light Airplane Club, holds the John C. Webster Trophy, symbol of his selection as the top-ranking amateur airplane pilot in Canada.

The young chemist defeated four other regional champions to take first place in the Dominion finals held in Toronto, to take the trophy held last year by Gordon McGregor, then of Kingston, Ont., and now a Montrealer. Canadian Flying Clubs Association officers supervised the final tests of flying and air navigation skill of Canada's best amateur pilots in competition for the trophy donated by Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Webster, of Shediac, N. B., in memory of their son, John, killed in a plane crash eight years ago.

Runner-up to Dr. Simard Saturday was Frank Vines, of London Flying Club, London, Ont., who won the Jack Sanderson Shield. Other competitors, who won entry to the finals by winning regional competitions, were Morris Mart, of Hamilton Aero Club, Tom Marshall, of the Cape Breton Flying Club, Sydney, N. S., and Allen Bishop, Toronto Flying Club.

No Arrests Yet in Thefts of the Thompson-Cadillac

Noranda, Sept. 10.—Despite intensive investigations by Quebec Provincial Police, no arrests have yet been made in connection with the high grade theft from the Thompson Cadillac Mining Corporation on or about August 14. A reward of one thousand dollars is now being offered to anyone who can furnish information which will lead to the apprehension of the culprits.

McIntyre F.C. Ladies to Co-operate with Red Cross

Schumacher, Sept. 21, (Special to The Advance)—The McIntyre F. C. Ladies' Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. James Stritar, 50 Railroad St., on Wednesday night. Business was discussed and the ladies decided to co-operate with the Red Cross Society and work for them during the winter. After the business Mrs. Stritar served a nice lunch.

The Red Cross Society will hold a meeting to-night (Thursday) in the Public School, Schumacher, at 7:30 p.m.

Louis Drops Pastor in Eleventh Last Night to Win

Brown Bomber Retains World's Heavyweight Title in Championship Fight Last Night.

Joe Louis retained the heavyweight championship of the world last night when he knocked out contender Bob Pastor with a hard right hook in the eleventh round of a scheduled twenty-round bout.

Dropped for long counts twice in the first round, Pastor made a surprising comeback in the intervening rounds until he contacted Bomber Joe's dynamite right in the eleventh. It was the same right hand which dropped Pastor in the first round, and every so often during the bout, shook his whole frame.

Louis outweighed the challenger by fourteen pounds. He went into the ring at 202 pounds against Pastor's 188. In the first round Pastor went down soon after the bell, but only momentarily. He was hit by Louis again and took a count of eight. Pursuing the college boy around the ring, Louis connected with his right a third time and Pastor took an eight count. Groggy and dazed, Pastor again slipped to his knee for a moment before the bell rang.

In the second that lightning right of the champion again flashed and dropped Pastor, who took an eight count.

On the defensive and fighting a going-away battle, Pastor did surprisingly well until the seventh when Louis cut his opponent's eye slightly. Pastor came back, however, in the eighth and ninth and shook the champion several times with one-two rights and lefts.

In the eleventh the champ's Sunday punch again flashed out from nowhere. It caught Pastor on the jaw and he slipped to the rosin, unable to get up until after the count of ten.

Pastor and Louis met two and a half years ago. At that time Pastor bicycled his way around the ring and made the Harlem heavy look very bad. Louis was out for vengeance last night and he got it.

Begin Rugby Down Haileybury Way Next Saturday

New Liskeard Again Has Team Entered After Year's Absence.

Cobalt, Sept. 20.—The thud of boot upon pigskin is heard in the air as the boys from the High Schools of the three towns are preparing themselves for an arduous football season.

Prospects for a good season are bright. Particularly is this so in the Junior Series, where New Liskeard after an absence of a year, again have a team entered.

In the senior series, Cobalt, last year's champions will have to look to their laurels, for the word has gone out, that Haileybury, with their last year's team practically intact, are the team to beat. On the other hand the champions have lost their entire backfield of last year and some of their linemen.

The schedule for the year has been drawn up. In the senior series neutral referees will be used, while in the junior the visiting team will supply the referee and the home team the umpire and head linesman. Week day games will commence at 4:30 o'clock and Saturday games at 2:30.

Senior Schedule

Saturday, Sept. 23—New Liskeard at Haileybury.

Wednesday, Sept. 27—Cobalt at New Liskeard.

Saturday, Sept. 30—Haileybury at Cobalt.

Wednesday, Oct. 4—Haileybury at New Liskeard.

Wednesday, Oct. 11—New Liskeard at Cobalt.

Saturday, Oct. 14—Cobalt at Haileybury.

Junior Schedule

Monday, Sept. 25—Haileybury at New Liskeard.

Thursday, Sept. 28—New Liskeard at Cobalt.

Monday, Oct. 2—Cobalt at Haileybury.

Thursday, Oct. 5—New Liskeard at Haileybury.

Thursday, Oct. 12—Cobalt at New Liskeard.

Monday, Oct. 16—Haileybury at Cobalt.

Evening of Whist Enjoyed by the Ladies' Auxiliary

A successful evening of progressive whist was enjoyed by the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary and their husbands and friends on Tuesday evening, when eighteen and a half tables of whist were played at the Legion hall.

Winners at whist were: Ladies: 1st, Mrs. Hazelwood; 2nd, Mrs. Pigeon; 3rd, Mrs. Lawson; gentlemen: 1st, Mr. Heffernan; 2nd, Mr. Craig, and 3rd, Mr. Nippers.

Following the cards a dainty lunch was served by the kitchen committee. On Tuesday, September 26th, the Ladies' Auxiliary will entertain at a social evening at the Legion hall, for which enjoyable plans are now underway.

Blairmore Enterprise—An Irishman remarked: "The sooner I never see your face again, the better it will be for both of us when we meet!"

First rugby game of the season here has been tentatively scheduled for the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day. Mr. Transom, Principal of the Timmins High and Vocational School, said today. The local collegiate squad will meet Kirkland Lake on the Hollinger athletic field. On Saturday, September 30, the locals are scheduled to play in Kirkland Lake.

Twenty-eight huskies have turned out for daily practice here and Coach Clark is putting them through their paces in preparation for the coming season. Officials hope to be able to adhere to a double schedule this season with two games in Kirkland Lake and a pair of contests in Timmins.

A meeting will be held in Kirkland Lake next Saturday afternoon to draw up the schedule definitely and decide northern group matters in the Northern Ontario Secondary Schools Association.

The senior squad is fortunate inasmuch as most of the 1938 Northern Ontario championship squad is intact. Biggest loss is Ron Lake, who graduated this year. Lake did most of the booting for the title team and a good part of the passing. Bandiera and Baderski, two of last year's stalwarts, are trying for the kicking assignment.

Among the stars of 1938 who still are on the Timmins roster are Leo Bandiera, plunging middle. Bandiera strained his shoulder recently in practice but expects to be ready to don pads for the first scheduled game of the season. Jules Baderski, star pass receiver and plunger, is again on the line-up along with Eric Ormston, plunging middle.

Noble McCoy will be out this year and Sylvano Moro, last year's snap, may again hold that position. It is possible however, that Moro will be placed elsewhere and the snap-back's duties be taken over by Al Wetmore.

Others who are showing up for practice are Eddie McLellan, quarter-back last year, Crocco and Gervais, insides, speedy Hedley Everard whose feet feel carried the ball for many yards on cut-back plays and Dick Romualdi.

Graduating from junior ranks will be Bill Carson, Ferrari and Chapluk. In addition to the N.O.S.S.A. schedule, there are enough potential rugby players in the school to form at least twenty teams of six man rugby. An inter-mural schedule will be worked out.

Enough men have turned out for four complete junior squads.
