Enthusiasm Here Over Maple Leaf Games at McIntyre Arena, Schumacher, Next Week

Expected that McIntyre Arena Will be Crowded for Each Performance. Games Will be More Than "Exhibition" Tilt. Players Will Give Best for Place on Team.

Judging from the interest aroused already among sports fans no better way to start off the hockey season in the Porcupine camp could be found than to see the Toronto Maple Leafs perform here at the McIntyre Arena next week.

While it is still a full week before Conny Smythe is due to arrive with his big contingent of puckchasers, indications are that the seating capacity of the McIntyre Arena at Schumacher will be taxed to its limits on Thursday and Friday nights and again on Saturday afternoon for the games.

In the entire training tour of the pros, this is the only place where they will play three games, and the arrangements here have been made so that everyone will have a chance to see the big league players. So that the men on night shift will not miss anything, the seats for the game on Saturday at one o'clock will be reserved for them. The balance of the seats for Saturday's game which are unsold will be offered to the children at 25 cents.

These training season games are not mere exhibitions but the players really work hard and give their best—the veterans in order to keep their positions on the team, and the rookies in order to try and break into the big time. About a dozen of the large squad of 26 players will not make the grade so that competition for the regular jobs will be keen. Coach Dick Irvin, Manager Conny Smythe and Frank Selke always pay particular attention to these Blues versus Whites pre-season fixtures and more than one youngster has been signed to a contract for showing a willingness and a spirit in these clashes.

Canada's Grand Old Man Still at Patriotic Work

An editorial in Tuesday's Toronto Star:—"Sir William Mulock presided yesterday at a meeting of the Toronto and York Patriotic Association. He was president of the association during the Great War. He had reached what is called 'the allotted span' the year the war began.

"Now, twenty-five years later still young in his keen interest in all that goes on in the world, and still ready to put his ripe judgment at the service of his country, he is once more in the saddle.

"Canada has never before produced his like. He has never lost touch with changing times. He has maintained a fresh outlook upon the world and its problems, and a desire to help solve them in practical ways. He has become a Canadian institution, and his personality is unique in the impression which it has made upon the life and progress of this Dominion."

Mental Hospital at St. Thomas to House 3,000 for R.C.A.F.

Ottawa Accepts Premier Hepburn's Offer.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—The new Ontario Mental Hospital at St. Thomas will be converted immediately into a technical training centre for the Royal Canadian Air Force, Hon. Norman Rogers, minister of national defence, announces. As such it will become an integral part of The vast empire air training plan.

The premises will accommodate 3,000, the minister stated. Grounds and buildings, he said, are considered ideal. Steps are already being taken to install fully equipped workshops for trades in the various aeronautical trades necessary for the maintenance of aircraft engaged in the flying services, Mr. Rogers stated.

It is expected the evacuation of the 1,200 patients will be completed to-day. The patients are being accommodated at other provincial institutions for the present.

"The terms proffered by the Ontario government are more than generous," Mr. Rogers stated. "The only cost to the department of national defence will be that of maintenance and upkeep and the transfer of patients. The buildings will be returned to the provincial government in their original condition."

Premier Hepburn's government has made a valuable contribution to the building up of the fighting forces of Canada and the Empire. This offer as made by the Ontario government was accepted in principle two weeks ago, and officers of the R.C.A.F. have surveyed the property to ascertain its suitability for the purpose proposed. They reported favorably and the R.C.A.F. will take over as soon as arrangements can be completed."

Guard at Sudbury Air Port Arrested

skilled enough as a pilot. Had he wished to die he could easily have achieved his purpose by a nose dive. Enquiry has also elicited the fact that failure to be accepted by the air force was not the reason he wished to die, if he did so wish. As a matter of fact his application was favourably received and he had not been medically examined so there was no reason to think he would not be accepted.

In the meantime the night watchman, Fred Sequin, is under arrest charged with giving false information to the police. He is said to admit that he may have been wrong about the gun he said that the alleged robber carried.

The Sudbury Star yesterday said:—"Sequin, in his statement to police, is said to have admitted his complicity in the affair to that extent. Farrendon, he claims, played upon his sympathies with a hard-luck story that he had no place to sleep and had 'bedded' himself down in the Bellanca plane because he had nowhere else to go.

"He then told me he was hungry, and I took him up to the office to give him something to eat." Sequin is reported as saying in his confession, "I dug up the bottle of rum and we spent the night talking. I had been late getting to work. I should have been there about nine o'clock, and didn't arrive until about 11.20 o'clock.

Became Nervous

"The longer Farrendon stayed, the more nervous I got, and then, to cover myself in case anything was said, I suggested that he had better tie me up and make it look good. I got the wire and he tied me, rather loosely. Farrendon then suggested that he taxi one of the planes down the lake a short distance and leave it to look even better.

"Don't do that," I said, but he did it anyway. I didn't know he had fixed the plane up and had stolen some extra gas besides."

"With Farrendon's own explanation for the fantastical theft scouted by authorities, police are still undecided as to what could have motivated Farrendon in his apparently premeditated exploit. Asked in police court this morning if he had anything to say for himself, he replied with a curt, "I have nothing to say."

"Prior to his police court appearance, he was fingerprinted by city police, and his record will be searched before sentence is passed."

Eight of Hunting Party Sought by Search Parties

Bodies of Three Others Recovered from Lakes.

Search parties scoured lake-dotted wilderness in two sections of Northwestern Ontario and in the Rouyn, Que. district, this week for trace of eight persons missing on hunting expeditions and feared drowned. Bodies of three hunters have been taken from lakes. Search also continued for five New Hampshire hunters lost on Lake Umbagog.

Following the finding of an overturned skiff at Lake Dessarat, 14 miles west of Rouyn, on Monday, bodies of Cyril Guest of Waite-Amulet mines, formerly of Toronto, and Stanley Moore of Noranda mines, were found in the lake Monday night.

Missing are Amos Corbell and Henry Lion, Noranda, companions of Guest and Moore on a hunting expedition. The search began after the four failed to return Sunday from their trip. Police said they believed Corbell, 37, and Lion also drowned.

The body of George Malcolm, 37, was found in a lake near the Cameron Falls power station on the Nipigon River, 70 miles east of Port Arthur, from which he and two others set out Thursday. His companions, Griffith Hawkins, 37, and Ed Christenson, 35, are also believed drowned. A search was organized Saturday when they failed to return and Malcolm's body, borne up by a lifebelt, was found.

Provincial police and a party from Winnipeg are searching bush country and waters in the vicinity of Ingolf, 100 miles east of Winnipeg for trace of Bob and Stewart Ogilvie, brothers, and Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Escott, all of Winnipeg.

Their overturned canoe was found in Long Lake, near Ingolf, Monday after the four did not return when expected from a hunting trip. A storm swept the area Sunday and the canoe, laden with hunting equipment and powered by an outboard motor is believed to have been swamped in the storm.

Mr. Masfield, Poet Laureate Writes Verses on the War

(From the Manchester Guardian)
Mr. Masfield, the Poet Laureate, has published with Heinemann, at 6d, a poem of 24 four-line verses entitled "Some Verses To Some Germans," arising out of his reflections on the outbreak of war. In it he pays tribute to the contribution the British and German races have made to poetry, music and the durable things of the spirit and looks to a day when these shall again be supreme. The tenor of his theme, which is expressed with his usual simplicity and depth of feeling, can be got from the following extracts from the poem:

This is no idle boast or empty story; One of the glories of the English race is, that we recognized Beethoven's glory. And at his dying moment won his grace:

For, in Vienna, while the thunder broke,
And he, by sickness shaken, sank to death,
These memorable words that Master spoke,
"God bless the English" with his dying breath.
And, of our Poet, we have heard you say
"We call him 'Unser Shakespeare'; he is ours;
We share him with you as we share the day,
The night, the seasons, and the happy hours."

We are as darkness to each other now,
Our common task of bettering Life annulled;
We plait new brambles on our Saviour's brow;
By sharpening hate our Spirits' edge is dulled.
Upon another morrow, if we strive,
Our links of Life, now broken, may unite,
Not each for each but both for all alive
Opening the other shutters for more light.

Frood's Junior A Team Has Started Work-Outs

Another Northern hockey team started ice drills when Frood's junior "A" team got down to serious work-outs at the Copper Cliff rink early this week. Coach Frank Graham had a squad of about 30 lads going through pre-season gymnasium conditioning exercises and has announced that every candidate will have a chance of making the team. All positions are open and players will be chosen on their merits.

Timmins Rugby Teams Need Two Victories To Stay in the Running

Seniors Have to Win Against Kirkland Lake by 25 Points to Win the Round. All Set to Put up a Strong Game. Juniors Will Face Iroquois Falls.

Facing elimination from the rugby wars Timmins High and Vocational School senior grid team are practising these days with a vim and vigor which forebodes trouble for Kirkland Lake seniors when the two squads clash in the concluding game of their group at the Hollinger ball park on Saturday afternoon.

The Timmins lads, who won the Poupore Cup, emblematic of the Northern Ontario Secondary Schools Association title last season, must not only defeat the visitors but they must do so by a margin of 25 points. A difficult assignment to hand any team, their local supporters agree, yet there is a determination among the players which gives promise that it should be some game.

There is a slight possibility that Jules Baderski, ace kicking half of Timmins, and Leo Bandiera, hunky punting back, will be recovered from their injuries sufficiently to get into the line-up on Saturday. Bandiera has a better chance of making the grade than Baderski, but both boys will be examined by the doctor to see if they are fit before they will be allowed to dress.

"We are not worrying much about that 24-point lead which the visitors have on us but the boys are just going out there to win this game Saturday and if they get any breaks at all they will certainly cause Kirkland a great deal of uneasiness," W. W. Tanner, principal of the Timmins school and Coach Don Clarke agreed. They pointed out that their team outplayed the home squad at Kirkland last week and

Thief Took Plane from Larder Lake After War Broke Out

Kirkland Lake, Oct. 18.—Les Hornick, owner-manager of the Kirkland Lake Flying club yesterday said one of his two training ships had been stolen from his Larder Lake hangar a few days after war broke out. He said the man who stole the airplane might be the flying gunman of Sudbury.

Entrance into the strongly-built hangar was made by breaking the locks and doors early Sept. 6, he said. The registration letters, CF-BLY, on the stolen machine were changed to CF-BEY.

Ignition wires and other intricate devices were damaged on the other ship in the hangar, supposedly to prevent pursuit of the stolen ship.

"We did not make the theft public," said Mr. Hornick, "and we put a heavy guard in with the hope of catching the thief or thieves while provincial police investigated.

"Aerial maps and charts, also at the disposal of the thieves, were not taken, although they were a valuable source of information.

"Some residents of Larder Lake, who claimed the stolen ship never took off the lake, were contradicted by further reports that it had taken off, but made a hurried landing and was taxied up to the hangar rampart and deserted

Police Seeking Owner of New Camera Found

Timmins police have in their possession a No. 1 Kodak in good condition and they don't know to whom it belongs. Chief Gagnon asks that anyone who has lost a camera recently notify him so that it can be restored.
