

Rookies Look Good In Final Of Three Leaf Showings Here

Play Practice Games Here on Thursday and Friday Nights and on Saturday Afternoon. Played All Three Nights to Good Crowds. Two Fights Feature Games. Porcupine Crowd Liked Chamberlain, Who Once Played for South End, and Kelly.

Toronto Maple Leaf's rookie white squad came from behind to very nearly trim the veteran blues in the team's final appearance in Timmins on Saturday afternoon. The game was played in the McIntyre Arena as were the two contests that preceded it, one on Thursday night and the other one on Friday evening. In both of the previous games the whites won handily.

Metz and Goldup were not in uniform on the final day. Metz strained his foot slightly and was being kept off it and Goldup was being given a rest.

The Leaf's first game was on Thursday night. They played to a packed arena both on that night and on the game on the following evening. There were not so many in the arena on Saturday afternoon but more than enough to take care of the overhead.

A feature of the final game was a fight between Drillon and Church. Although members of the same team, they dropped their sticks and went at it down at the end of the ice surface when checking became a little too strenuous. There also was a fight on Thursday night when Kelly and Apps traded punches. Later in the Thursday game Kelly was sent off again when he took exception to Hamilton's elbows which seemed to be in his ribs every time he turned around.

The Porcupine crowd went for "Murph" Chamberlain, who played for South Porcupine at one time, and "Pep" Kelly. When they came on the ice they both got a hand from the fans.

Although the games were practice matches for the Leafs and nothing else some sparkling hockey came out of the series. Among the stand-out men on the rookie squad were "Red" Heron and Stenowski both of whom are apparently slated for posts with the regular team.

Sylvanus Apps showed the class that put him in the top rank of professional players in his two appearances and Drillon, lightning-fast Leaf winger, made a distinct impression on the crowds.

In the final game on Saturday afternoon, the Blues laced seven goals home past Turk Broda in the first period. The best that the white wingers were able to do was get one past Stein. Scorers were Marker, with three, Apps, with two, Drillon, Mann and Kampman.

A rushing forward attack brought the Whites up to within hailing distance of the veterans in the second. Kelly, Stenowski, Heron and Chamberlain tallied for the rookies and Syd Apps hammered one past Broda for the veterans.

Schreiner, Chisolm and Kelly brought the score to a deadlock with flashing goals for the Whites but just before the game ended, Davidson slashed one home for the Blues for a victory.

French Gridder Arouses Interest in Football Wars

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—A lagging French-Canadian interest in gridiron classics has been stimulated by Ottawa Rough Riders' spectacular success this fall with several French-Canadian players on the line and Wilf Tremblay, rated by experts as the season's football natural, burning up the backfield.

The exploits of the 21-year-old Tremblay, dubbed "Twinkle-Toes" by local sport seers, after Fritz Hanson of Winnipeg Blue Bombers, have whipped up new enthusiasm in the French districts of Hull and Ottawa's lower town.

So when Saturday's thousands mill into Lansdowne Park for the Big Four game here between Ottawa and Toronto Argonauts, there will be several thousand Frenchmen in the crowd of 13,000 who can't be wrong in rooting for Tremblay, Leo Seguin, Ritchie and Arnie Charbonneau, Herve Pilon and Norm Bertrand on the Ottawa roster.

Tremblay's jump into the national sport spotlight has caught the fancy of local fans, particularly since he is a native of Hull and the only French-Canadian player from the city ever to play in the Big Four.

The 154-pound halfback learned his first football in Windsor, where he went with his parents as a child. He played for Assumption College and used to wander over to Detroit frequently to watch the American college players in action at football schools.

At 15 he came back to Hull and teamed up with the New Edinburgh team in the Ottawa City League, where he played for four years and led the league scoring in 1937 with 37 points.

Fans Come From All Over North to See Leafs

Special Train Here from Kapuskasing, Cochrane, on Friday.

Toronto's Maple Leafs, divided into two teams, one, The Whites, composed mostly of Rookie players and men who are trying out with the professional hockey squad, and the other the Blues, composed of veterans of the ice sport, played a series of three games in the Porcupine's Maple Leaf Gardens, the McIntyre Arena, over the week-end.

Not only people from the immediate vicinity of the Porcupine camp saw the games but hockey fans from all over the North. On Friday night, when the two teams met for the second game, a train load of fans were in the arena from Kapuskasing, Smooth Rock Falls and Cochrane. A train stopped at those three spots to collect fans. On the same night about 100 people came from Iroquois for the game.

On Thursday night the Whites won handily 8 to 2. Friday night's decision, also saw the Whites on the top side of a 7 to 4 score. On Saturday afternoon when the third game was played, the Blues won their first victory 9 goals to 8.

First Game

Speed of the first game on Thursday night was not fast. The fans were disappointed with the performance staged by the Leafs and at times did not hesitate to show it.

The rookie line outskated the veteran blues and "Red" Heron was the hero of the evening. The flashy, smooth-skating wingmen tore down into Blues territory time and again, stick-handled his way through defencemen, and drilled the rubber in at goalie Stein.

Kelly supplied some excitement when he and Apps tangled. They both were sent off by local Referee Lauder and Wilder. Soon after his return, the tempestuous Kelly mixed it up again, this time with Hamilton.

Second Game

On Friday the players seemed to have their ice legs and the game was faster. At times it was really speedy and the fans were treated to several nice exhibitions of play-making.

The Whites began to press immediately the game got under way and continued to keep the play in the Blues' end of the rink.

The kid line of Taylor, Heron, and Metz looked very good in this game and was responsible for a lot of the scoring. The rookies' 7 to 4 victory also was due, in a large measure to "Turk" Broda, the compact redhead guarding the nets.

Following the game on Friday, the McIntyre gave a party for the players in the community building. Members of the hockey teams in the camp were invited and had an opportunity to meet the players and officials of the Maple Leaf club.

A report of the Saturday game will be found in another part of this issue.

which had almost a stranglehold on the nation.

A communique on the front pages of Italian papers tells the people that Fascism so far has spent 133,281,000,000 lire for military preparedness and that another 17,467,000,000 are appropriated in future budgets to the three branches of the fighting services.

The communique says that there is to be no let-up in Italy's military preparations.

"With this imposing financial effort," it continues, "Fascist Italy has reconquered Libya as far as Cyrena and conquered Ethiopia, has participated in the Spanish war, freed Albania and has strengthened her national and African frontier."

Lunching war correspondents recently, Lord Gort, Commander-in-Chief of the British Expeditionary Force, warned newsmen not to lose sight of the men among so many machines. He said:

"The man remains master of those machines, and from the men, the results will come. If the spirit of the men is not right the aircraft and tanks will never reach their destinations. The man remains foremost, last and all the time."

One of the newsmen later wrote in his dispatch to his American newspaper: "The war is a washout—figuratively and actually." The rain has reduced the Cambrai plain to a snipe bog, he said, and no gun had been fired yet in anger.

Prepared To Repent

"You mark my words," cried the beautiful girl's mother, with the truculent pessimism peculiar to age—"so sure as you take this step, you will repent at leisure!" "Oh, hang it, I must put up with that!" answered the pretty one, pettishly. "Even that would be preferable to contemplating some other woman repenting at leisure with him."

Young Lady Hockey Fan Gives Notes on Maple Leafs

Visitors Did Many Kindly Acts During Stay in Camp

(By A. H.)

The "Blues" and the "Whites" two teams of Maple Leaf players, have visited the district and continued on their way, leaving with hockey fans the right to say "I saw the Maple Leafs." Some may even say "I met the Maple Leafs," or "I spoke to one of the team"—such lucky individuals as Gordon Paul, at the Porcupine General Hospital, who received a visit from Apps, Drillon and Chamberlain; students of Schumacher schools who also were greeted by the famous visitors, and those at the Timmins High and Vocational School.

The Maple Leafs gave three exhibition games at the McIntyre Arena, on Thursday and Friday evenings and Saturday afternoon, before they embarked to continue their tour of the Northland. The "Whites" won the first two games 8-2, and 7-4, respectively, and on Saturday were defeated by one point, the "Blues" taking the honours, 9-8.

Driving to the arena on Friday evening, after their success on Thursday evening, the "Whites" justly joined in singing, "Roll Out the Barrel, We've Got 'The Blues' on the run," and they kept the "Blues" on the run through all the games.

Excitement ruled over the arena on a few occasions when the players joined in a "scrimmage" but their good-natured grins gave away the show, and the fans were disappointed to find that they hadn't been treated to a real "free-for-all."

On Friday the Maple Leafs were entertained at a luncheon at the Badminton Club, and a dinner party at the McIntyre community hall following the game. Officials of the McIntyre Mines addressed the gathering, and formally welcomed the team to the district.

Autograph hunters gathered at the dressing-room doors before and after the games, and the players good-naturedly signed as many autographs as time permitted. One little lad, after receiving the autograph of his hero, promptly ran back to his father, exclaiming "Oh, daddy, do you think I could learn to write like that? Maybe then I could be like him." The last thought apparently pleased him so much that he wonderingly sighed "Gee-ee."

The Maple Leafs come from every part of Canada, and as Bill Roche of The Globe and Mail proudly declares are "A League of Nations in themselves." This Globe and Mail representative, who travels with the Maple Leafs, is very enthusiastic about the team, and doesn't hesitate to tell his listeners and his readers the fact.

"Pep" Kelly, of North Bay, is the member of the Maple Leafs who hails from Northern Ontario. "Pep" is well-known in Timmins, having been a summer visitor here, and is one of the most popular figures in his home town. A visitor to North Bay who drives out on the Highway along Lake Nipissing, will find his guide saying "And that's Pep Kelly's cottage."

Sudbury Supports Idea of Northern Basketball Loop

Timmins to be Asked for an Opinion. Would Affiliate With O.A.B.A.

North Bay, Oct. 28.—One reply has already been received to North Bay's proposal that Northern Ontario Basketball Association be formed, and it is definitely an "in favour" one.

Sudbury is hot for the idea. Judging by the contents of a letter received by George Hubbard, secretary-treasurer of the North Bay league, from Fred W. Sheridan, Sudbury enthusiast, the proposal is considered just the thing in Nickel City game circles.

Sudbury Working Too

In fact, Sudbury has been doing some pioneer work of its own along this line. Sheridan writes that recently he talked the idea over with A. L. Irwin, secretary-treasurer of the Ontario Amateur Basketball Association, and that official thinks the suggestion is a splendid one. Irwin is willing to assist in forming the association and has promised to do his best to attend the organization meeting.

Sheridan adds that the O.A.B.A. official plans to bring up the matter of a northern association for discussion when the Ontario body holds its annual meeting in Kitchener on Saturday of this week.

The Sudbury man's idea is to have the association formed this year and put it in good enough working order to take out an affiliation with the Canadian Basketball Association next year. He has also written to Sudbury, just as North Bay has done, in regards to the movement.

It is felt here that with both Sudbury and North Bay throwing their support behind the plan and working to get results that success will be attained. Indications are that the next step will be the calling of an organization meeting.

Sheridan's letter to the North Bay league reads:

"I was in conversation with Mr. Irwin of Toronto last night regarding the basketball set-up for this year. During the course of the conversation he told me that he had received letters from Mr. Troy of North Bay and Mr. Pollock of Timmins regarding this year's basketball activities.

"As you probably know, Mr. Irwin was in Sudbury last spring when we played the Windsor team for the provincial championship. He was quite impressed by the facilities we have at our disposal in Sudbury and the interest shown by the people in our first year's efforts. I told him at the time that North Bay and Timmins had had a good year also and that basketball should be even more popular this year.

"During our last conversation he suggested that we should perhaps form a Northern Ontario Basketball Association and affiliate directly with the Canadian Basketball Association. I told him that I thought it was a little too late in the season to do this but that we could form a Northern Ontario association this year under his guidance and affiliate with the Canadian association next year. If we can get this arrangement working we will have a year in which to get our northern association working smoothly before we get direct affiliation.

"The Ontario Amateur Basketball Association is having its annual meeting this Saturday, October 28, in Kitchener. Mr. Irwin told me he was going to make his report at last year's trip to the North and the favourable conditions he found. He was also going to outline the above plan and he felt sure that they would approve of it and authorize him to give us any help that he could. He suggested that we should try to get representatives from the different districts to a meeting in the near future and organize this northern association. He said he would try to arrange to be at this meeting.

"I will write Mr. Pollock of Timmins and get his views on the subject and will keep you informed as to any later developments."
