Commit Two for Trial Before Judge and Jury On High Grading Counts

George Pottosky and Peter Cloutier Committed For Trial After Preliminary Hearing Into Charges of Being in Possession of Partially Processed Gold Ore.

George Pottosky and Peter Cloutier were committed for trial by Magistrate Atkinson in police court on Tuesday after a preliminary hearing into high grading charges against them.

Each of the men also faces a charge of having in his possession equipment with which to refine gold. However, the hearing of that charge was deferred in each case until after the trial before a judge and jury on the high grading accusations.

The men will appear before a judge and a jury in Cochrane some time during the winter assizes which begin on November 23.

Asked to elect trial before a Magistrate or a preliminary hearing before a Magistrate and trial, if committed, before a judge and jury, both of the men chose the latter course.

Officer in charge of the Provincial Police gold squad in the Porcupine, Constable Bert Braney, told the court that he first saw Cloutier two days previous to October 22, when the offense was alleged to have been committed. On that occasion he searched a car in which Cloutier and his brother were riding.

On October 22, in company with another member of the gold squad, Constable Russel Johnson, Constable Braney took a trip out to Mountjoy Township two and a half miles west of Timmins on the North Road.

While he and Constable Johnson were plodding through the dense undergrowth in that area they heard a hammering noise ahead of them. They stalked the men who were making the noise and watched. He saw Pottosky with a piece of cloth in his hand, Constable Braney told the court. Suddenly he hurled something that he had in the cloth into the bush.

When the object landed on the wet leaves it gave forth a cloud of steam of vapour. Pottosky walked towards the officers and Constable Johnson sprang out of the bushes and arrested him. Cloutier took to his heels and escaped in the undergrowth.

On the site officers found a stove of the Quebec heater type. In it was a bright red coke fire. By the stove was three-quarters of a bag of coke.

In a nearby cache, well hidden by boughs and a sheet of tarpaper, were a screen, a tin of borax with a spoon in it, several cans, a crucible with visible gold on the outside.

The object Pottosky threw into the bushes turned out to be a piece of slag. Other slag was also found in the ash pit of the stove.

Later he and three other men raided Cloutier's home at 21 Hollinger Avenue, Constable Braney said. As three of them entered the front door, Constable Worrall who was with Pottosky in a nearby parked car, saw a man go out of the back door.

On the stand on Tuesday Provincial Constable Worrall said that the man who left by the back door as police made their entry by the front, was Cloutier. He identified him in the prisoner's box.

Constable Braney said that he finally arrested Cloutier on October 27. In Cloutier's home they found a part bag of coke.

Fred Mason, Chief Assayer, at the Dome Mine, said that the graphite crucible brought to him by Constable Johnson contained gold particles. He said that the slag which the officers gave him for analysis weighed 2.24 pounds. It was worth $17.31 a pound or a total of $40.51. The borax might well have been used as a flux to melt rock, he said.

"Without making any comment on this case I will send these men on for trial before a judge and jury," said Magistrate Atkinson. "As I may be hearing the charges of having refinery equipment I should make no comment."

B'Nai B'Rith Give $500 to Red Cross Here on Tuesday

Assure Are Ready to Co-operate in Drive Here to Raise Funds.

A cheque for the sum of $500 was turned over to the Timmins branch of the Red Cross Society on Tuesday night by the B'Nai B'Rith Lodge of Timmins. The President, Dr. J. Scholes, made the presentation to Mr. Austin Neame, President of the Red Cross branch here.

On behalf of the Red Cross, Mr. Neame thanked the lodge. His short address outlined the work of the organization he represented both in peace and during war. He outlined a plan whereby the town was to be campaigned for funds and received assurance that the lodge would be willing to co-operate by providing team captains and members of collection teams.

Mr. Harry Cohen, a World War veteran, introduced Mr. Neame and he was thanked on behalf of the lodge by Mr. Barney Sky, another war veteran.

Mr. W. O. Langdon, who was present with Mr. Neame, also spoke briefly. He outlined some part of the huge expenditure made by the Red Cross during the last war and the technique of raising money for that purpose.

It was announced that Mr. Cohen and Mr. Sky would be the official representatives of the lodge in the laying of a wreath on the cenotaph on Remembrance Day, Saturday, November 11th.

Not For Him

An uproar was caused in a nursing home by an actor who refused an operation at the last minute. It appears that when he arrived in the theatre he discovered that he hadn't even a speaking part.

Strawberries In Victoria

While chilly blasts and leaf-shedding trees mark the approach of winter in Eastern Canada, horticultural-minded British Columbians on the west coast are picking fine, fat, full-flavored strawberries from thick beds. This picture taken recently in the garden of Mrs. Rudolph Olsen, Victoria, shows Miss Muriel Laurence with some of the luscious berries the garden has been producing. Golf, tennis, swimming and riding are among the recreations available to visitors all winter long, and inquiries at Canadian Pacific offices and reservations at the Empress Hotel indicate that Canadians in large numbers are turning to the West Coast evergreen playground for their winter holidays.

Allies May Use Gold Deposits in Buy in United States

Said to be $500,000,000 Deposited in New York and Canada.

Washington, Nov. 8. — Government circles predicted Monday that Britain and France would use the gold portion of their estimated $5,000,000,000 assets in the United States for their first "cash and carry" purchases of American airplanes and other war supplies.

Initial Allied orders under the neutrality law have been estimated by some officials as high as $1,000,000,000—all of which must be paid before the goods leave the country.

Use of their American securities and other assets was expected to be postponed in the hope of getting better prices and conserving as much as possible of their American investments. Gold, which can be sold quickly at the United States treasury at the fixed price of $35 an ounce, is the easiest method of payment. The British and French already have perhaps as much as $500,000,000 in gold deposited in New York and Canada.

Officials aren't worrying about the Allies dumping their securities on American markets in any way that might depress prices.

The large investment trusts, in which funds of thousands of small investors are pooled for joint investment in large blocks of diversified securities, offer a prime market for "quiet" sales. Insurance companies, wealthy individuals, large corporations with idle cash are some of the other prospects.

In the last war, J. P. Morgan's private bank handled the liquidation of British securities in this country, but it is not expected to do so this time.

Suggested Solutions for Mr. Goebbels About Athena

(Regina Leader-Post)
 Herr Goebbels is having a hard time striving to convince those who listen to him that the German nation, which is at war with Britain and France, did not sink the Athena.

So that Herr Goebbels will not feel too friendless in this world, the following possible solutions for the sinking of the Athena are offered to him, provided they can be cabled to him, collect:

Some disgruntled Zulus, irked by the British yoke, manned a submarine of their own manufacture and did the job. Somebody left a bathroom tap running and flooded the boat.

A whale, disturbed while meditating on the shortage of sardines, got mad and—well, you know the rest.

A lost swordfish became panic-stricken and ran amuck.

Possibly one of the thousand ships launched because Helen of Troy was good-looking may have strayed off course and collided with the Athena.

And, lastly, the Athena is a figment of Winston Churchill's imagination. There was no Athena, therefore the Germans could not possibly have sunk the ship.

If Herr Goebbels would like some more suggestions he can have them on the same terms, cabled collect.

Service." In illustrating the manner of properly filling out field reports he happened to use the name "Thomas Atkins." The Soldier's Pocket Book was the English soldier's military bible and the name Tommy Atkins was abbreviated to Tommy and the accidental name passed down into history.

Give Her A Chance

A film actress is said to have had her face lifted for the second time. And why not? After all, a girl can only be young once or twice.

"CHUCK" CONACHER SWEARS BY KRUSCHEN

Says "it keeps you on your toes"
 "When an athlete is patched up as often as I have been in the last few years he learns the value of keeping fit in other ways," says Charlie Conacher.
