Macmen and Hollinger Play To Overtime Tie in Crucial Contest on Saturday Night

Neither Team Could Afford to Lose So Neither Does. Each Team Scored in First. Macmen Take Two Goal Lead in Second and Hollinger Catch Up. Both Squads Play Careful Game After Score is Deadlocked.

Neither the McIntyre nor the Hollinger Greenhirts could afford to lose Saturday night's senior hockey contest at the McIntyre Arena as a loss would have meant elimination from one of the four play-off berths. Accordingly, neither team did lose. After seventy minutes of fast, hard hockey the game ended in a three-all tie.

Each team tallied in the initial period and in the second the Macmen scored two consecutive goals and it looked like curtains for the Greenhirts. However, the Hollinger crew hitched up its suspenders and went to work to regain the pair. One goal was scored in the dying seconds of the middle canto and another early in the third. For fifteen minutes of the third period and ten minutes of overtime both teams battled to break the tie but it was useless.

Although the two squads were out to win and had their eyes fixed on that play-off berth, where there is room for only one, they were not taking too many chances after the score was deadlocked.

A few minutes after it was scored Stewart was banished for using the butt end of his stick injudiciously. The Macmen drove hard during the time Stewart was off the ice but were unable to get one past Fargher.

Stand-out team during the evening was that of Somers and Richard. This pair swooped down on the Hollinger goal early in the second for the pair of consecutive counters which gave the Macmen an edge.

Checking was hard in the early part of the first period and the first goal did not come until the seventeenth mark when Schreiber took the disc from a face-off and raced away with it. The goal was scored while Stewart, the Hollinger's own man, was off the ice.

Thirty seconds later the score was tied. The speedy Murphy took a fast pass from Lorraine and planted the rubber behind Beare.

Just as the bell went to end the period Gordon and Cooper were engaging in a fight but it was stopped.

At the four minute mark in the second period the team of Somers and Richard got its first on a beautiful play which outdistanced the back-checking Hollinger forwards and saw Somers alone inside the Hollinger blue line. Four minutes later Richard picked up a loose puck and barged it at Fargher. Fargher stopped but Somers came in fast and slapped the rebound into the net for the third McIntyre goal.

The McIntyre had a tense few minutes when first, Murphy was sent off for tripping Schreiber, and then when he returned to the ice, Bowman was immediately thumbed. They managed to avert a scoring play, however, until the end of the period when Wilson took a pass from Stewart.

Gordon and Cooper, who had sparred earlier in the game, broke out into open warfare again and this time were each given a well-deserved misconduct penalty.

Lortie took a pass from Dinelle inside the McIntyre blue line to get the deadlocking goal. The game went into overtime but no decision was declared.

The teams:—
McIntyre: goal, Beare; defence, Milne, Bowman; centre, Murphy; wings, Lister, Lorraine; alternates, Cooper, Somers, Richard, Mann, O'Brien, Colquhoun, Vall, Holoukka.
Hollinger: goal, Fargher; defence, Lortie, Delmonte; centre, Schreiber; wings, Palmateer, Gordon; alternates, McArthur, Wilson, Kerr, Dinelle, Wilmott, Dixon, Miller, Stewart.

Officials: Fred Clarke and Jerry Le-grave.

"Kid Rink" Does Well in Bonspiel at Haileybury

Feature of Play Was Many Upsets Which Occurred Throughout Week.

One of the features of the T. & N. O. bonspiel was the number of upsets which occurred when rinks which were favoured to go well into the semi-finals and finals were put out of the different competitions by "dark horses." Another was the outstanding performance of the "kid" rink skipped by J. H. Leach of Siscoe.

The Leach rink got to the fourth round of play for the Lee trophy and was beaten out only by the rink which eventually won the cup, the rink skipped by Davis, of Kirkland Lake. In the Power trophy play the Leach rink got to the third round and there was beaten out by the eventual winner, Doggett, of Kirkland.

On Wednesday the bonspiel was visited by the donor of the Lee trophy, George W. Lee, who came from North Bay for the event.

Kirkland H.S. to Meet Kapuskasing For Hockey Honours

Kirkland Lake, Feb. 10.—Kirkland Lake High and Vocational School's interscholastic hockey team, comprised wholly of juveniles, will meet Kapuskasing Polar Bears in the Northern paper town to-night in a sudden-death game for the Northern section honours of the N.O.S.S.A. circuit.

Lack of funds in both camps necessitated the one game championship series between the two teams. The winner will meet the champions in the New Liskeard-Cobalt-Haileybury district for Northern Ontario honours.

The team representing Kirkland Lake will be entirely juvenile. A N.O.S.S.A. ruling prohibits the use of school jerseys who play organized hockey.

Kapuskasing will be greatly strengthened by the use of all junior players in school up there. As there is no Junior N.O.H.A. body in the paper town all the Kap Juniors are eligible for the school team. Last week the Polar Bears defeated Cochrane High School by a wide margin, and are listed as heavy favorites in the North to take the Kirkland visitors in the sudden-death tussle.

The local team will leave here Sunday afternoon and return home on Tuesday. Arrangements between the Kapuskasing-Kirkland Lake winner and the Clay Belt representative will be completed some time next week.

Power Strengthens Lead in Commercial Bowling Contest

Advance Still Holds Second Place in the Series.

The Power strengthened their lead in the Commercial Bowling League last Friday by taking three points from the Advance. The first was an easy win for the electricians by 138 pins. The second went to the printers with 13 pins, and the third was also close with the electricians nosing out the printers in the last frame for 55 pins.

Gambles picked up another point to get closer to the printers for second place by taking two from the T. & N. O. Losing the first by 322 pins, the rail-rollers came back to take the next two by narrow margins.

Dome Juniors Win Five to Nothing Against Monarchs

South Porcupine, Feb. 10.—(Special to The Advance)—Dome juniors defeated the Monarchs five to nothing in the South Porcupine Arena on Thursday night. Cossick was one big reason for the Dome team's success. He got three of the five counters. The other scorers were Brown and Louis.

The teams:—
Dome: goal, Lone; defence, Pirie, Turcotte, Capyk; centre, O'Mara; wings, Harris, Louis; alternates, Cossick, Doran, Brown, Tessier, Ianerelli.
Monarchs: goal, Sanjour; defence, Smith, Miller; centre, Bucknam; wings, Burns, Dysart; alternates, Gowen, Messett, Hutchinson, Gagnon, Andrews, Smith, Huggins.

What It Meant
(From Exchange)
Mr. Jones was very proud of his small son's progress at school and was showing the boy's scientific knowledge in front of some friends.
"Bobby," he asked, "what does it mean when steam comes out of the spout of the kettle?"
"Mother's going to open one of your letters," replied the child.

Blue Devils Take Copper Kings by a Score of 13-0

Kirkland Lake, Feb. 9.—In the greatest display of sustained power since those same Devils defeated Toburn Beavers 27-0 last spring, Lake Shore's bombarding Blue Devils blasted Noranda Copper Kings out of the hockey picture at Lake Shore Arena on Thursday night when they marked up their first shut-out of the season by a 13-0 count.

Led by blond Dick Kowelnak, who accounted for four goals and three assists, practically every member of the Bomber machine had a hand in, at least, one goal. Scoring points soared as a total of 20 marks were picked up on the baker's dozen total of goals.

SIFTING THE NEWS

By Hugh Murphy

Heinrich Himmler, Nazi Gestapo chief, has called God to time. He has, in fact, reprimanded the Almighty very severely. At the same time Germany has, by Himmler's order, 193; a slogan that survived the last war and lived to be revitalized for this one. The slogan was "Gott strafe England."

Said Himmler in his sexy, Jew-hating sheet "Das Schwärze Korps" (The Black Guard): "If God on whom the Germans called in vain 25 years ago was really capable of exercising such a measure of punitive power, He would not have waited until 1940 to punish the British. In those days the Germans relied too much on the power of higher justice and too little on the holy wrath of the nation fighting for its existence."

"Slogans such as this derive from a mental attitude which is all too fatalistic and all too lazy. . . . If He were really a practical God who would see to it that law and order prevail, He would have said to Himself long since: I have made things hard for the Germans long enough—now they will finally have some good luck. And in like vein: The British have irritated Me long enough—now they will learn what trouble is."

No doubt the First Cause will take this reprimand from Heinrich to heart and begin to mend His ways.

The only Blitzkrieg which has struck Britain so far has been that of the elements. Now that it all is over the censors are allowing newspapers to say something about the storm, the worst seen on the Island for 45 years. The hush-hush boys have relaxed their vigilance and the English newspapers are allowed to say that all B.E.F. leaves were cancelled; that the public was exhorted to exercise every economy in the use of fuel; the stores were shy of fresh meat.

What happened to transportation was even worse. The "Irish Mail" from Holyhead was announced "still on its way" 24 hours after it was due in Waterloo Station. At Euston station three trains from the north failed to turn up for more than a day.

There was much more of the same thing, but because the weather is an official secret, the censor-fearing British papers carried not a line. If a person was dependent upon the newspapers for his knowledge of the weather he would not have had the slightest inkling that snowdrifts 12 feet high were piled up on the Dover-Folkstone Road; that Scottish lochs were frozen solid and that all Britain shivered.

The London "Daily Mail" finally published a poem which, it said, had been held up for ten days, finally to be passed with alterations.

I'm told the children were flinging round lumps
Of a strange soft white stuff they call
And folks were foreseeing a prospect of . . .
What that is of course, I don't know.

Kirkland Quartet Captures Consols Event by Three Shot Margin at T. & N. O. Bonspiel

Went Into Eleventh One Shot Down, and Takes Grand Aggregate from Clubmate George Doggett. Kirkland Curlers Capture Exactly One Half of the Twenty-Four Sets of Prizes.

Haileybury, Feb. 12.—After going into the eleventh end one shot down, Jim Davis's Kirkland Lake rink came through with a three-shot margin at that stage to capture the British Consols trophy from their clubmates headed by George Doggett and bring to a conclusion the T. & N. O. Bonspiel held in the rinks at Haileybury and New Liskeard for a week and ending here Saturday evening. The score was 11-9 in the eleven ends and by their victory Davis and his men qualified to play in North Bay on Monday with the winners of the N.O.C.A. spiel at Sudbury. The victory also brought revenge to Davis for being knocked out of the Power Corporation semi-final by Doggett. The details:—

Kirkland Lake: J. MacDonald, H. D. McNabb, A. E. Sackrider, J. R. Davis —11.
Kirkland Lake: V. E. Riddell, George Sutherland, Ken Weldon, G. F. Doggett—9.

Score by ends:
Doggett . . . 0 0 3 0 0 2 1 0 1 2 0 — 9
Davis 2 1 0 1 1 0 0 3 0 0 3 — 11

Doggett had qualified for the British Consols by winning the Canada Northern Power Corporation event, and Davis through his first place in the George W. Lee competition. En route to the finals, Davis disposed of Joseph Isherwood on Saturday afternoon. The same rinks had met in the Lee finals. Doggett turned back the challenge of his clubmate, Dr. M. H. Charron, in the afternoon, 10-8, and these rinks had contested the C.N.P.C. finals. On Saturday morning, Isherwood had beaten Burrows of North Bay, the Hill-Clark-Francis winner, 11-10, and Charron had disposed of Stephenson of New Liskeard, Purity Flour winner, 12-9.

Both consolation events, the Scotch Anthracite and the Dunbar Shield, were finished up Saturday, with only Kirkland Lake rinks left in their respective finals, and with Jerry Abrams appearing in both events. He dropped the Purity Flour to Howard Hawley's four 14-12, but overcame Tom Ramsay's rink easily in the afternoon session to take home the Dunbar trophy, 13-6 in nine ends. The afternoon Consols game between Doggett and Charron was keenly contested all the way, with Doggett making certain of victory with his last rock.

A summary of the other competitions' finals follows:—

Davis of Kirkland Lake defeated Isherwood of Haileybury, 10-6, to win the Lee trophy. J. H. Leach, Siscoe, third place, and Dr. R. P. Smith, Timmins, fourth.

Doggett of Kirkland Lake won from Charron of Kirkland Lake in the C.N.P.C. finals, the score being 15-6. Davis Kirkland Lake, third; Thompson, Kirkland Lake, fourth.

Stephenson of New Liskeard captured the Purity Flour event from Isherwood, 12-10. Lorne Miller, Noranda, third;

Neelands, Kirkland Lake, fourth.
Burrows of North Bay defeated McChesney of Kirkland Lake, 12-10, to take home the Hill-Clark-Francis first prize; 3rd, Riddell, Kirkland Lake, 4th, D. A. Smith, North Bay.

In the Scotch Anthracite, Downing, New Liskeard, was third, with Ruttan of Haileybury fourth; in the Dunbar, third place went to Sutcliffe, New Liskeard, and fourth to Dr. Laidlaw of Timmins.

Of the twenty-four sets of prizes put up in the six events other than the championship games, Kirkland Lake curlers captured exactly one half the number. In their score of one dozen were four firsts, four seconds and two each thirds and fourths. New Liskeard got a first and two thirds and Haileybury two seconds (both to the Isherwood rink) and a fourth, these clubs tying with three awards each. Timmins had two appearances in the list, both fourths; North Bay had a first and fourth. Single awards were taken by Noranda and Siscoe rinks, a third in each instance.
