

Hollinger Retains Lead on Saturday With Third Win

Romualdi's Bingle in Extra Innings of Postponed Game Gives Victory to Hollinger

Scores Rodney in Tenth at Opening Game at Hollinger Ball Park on Saturday Afternoon. Game Was Postponed from Earlier in Schedule. McShane Gives Up Eleven Hits to Hollinger. Dorey and Zalba Allow Eight.

Louie Romualdi's bingle in the last half of the tenth inning scored "Red" Rodney and won the ball game for the Hollinger in the season's opener in that team's home park, on Saturday afternoon. The Holly squad met and defeated the McIntyre in a game which was scheduled for June 5 but which was postponed. In addition to hitting the winning run, Louie scored another of the Hollinger's runs when he smashed the only homer of the game.

The game was a good one—probably the best played this season. Hollinger scored in the fourth and in the next inning Richardson, who got both McIntyre tallies, came home to deaden the score. Romualdi's homer put the Hollinger in the lead again, in the eighth, and in the first half of the ninth Thayer hit brought Richardson around the circuit again to again tie the score.

McShane went the whole way on the mound for the Macmen and Zalba held up until the ninth when the Macmen, who had hit him seven times in the nine innings, began to look very dangerous. At that, Vince Barton pulled him and put Dorey in the box. Macmen hit him once for a total of eight bingles.

Hollinger took the field at the game's opening and Zalba, hurling for the fielding team, lost the plate. He pitched four consecutive balls to send the first man a-walking, four balls and one strike to walk the second man.

With two on bases, Dunn hit one down to short. Rudel picked it up and pegged to Romualdi to get Richardson at second. Romualdi made the double play good when relayed to Saviole, at first.

Play was more or less uneventful until the fourth when the Macmen went all out and very nearly scored. Thayer was hit by a pitched ball but not given a base inasmuch as he had made no effort to get out of the way of the lob. He did get a base when the very next pitch caught him on the leg. Bougie hit a short one and Thayer was caught at first. Bougie was safe on first on the fielder's choice. He made two bases to get to third on Quinn's single. Webber got on base on error. Cook and McShane both hit short ones. Bougie was caught at home on the first and Webber at second base on McShane's rap.

Lawton singled for Hollinger in the fourth, was sent on to second on Cookson's sacrifice and made home when Chase hit a beautiful triple deep into centre field. Chase was left on base when Rudel fanned and McDonald was caught at first.

In the fifth, with one man down, Richardson got on base on an error at short. He made third on Dunn's single and came in on the throw-in when Thayer hit a long, high fly out to left field.

Romualdi's homer accounted for the second Hollinger run.

In the ninth Laplante took first on an error at third base. Richardson hit a short one and Laplante was caught at second. Dunn and Thayer, each of whom got singles, scored Richardson.

In the overtime period Rodney singled and went to second on Saviole's sacrifice. He scored on Romualdi's hit to end the game.

Kiwanis Gathering at Minneapolis for Annual Convention

Service Organization Plans Year's Programme for 2,100 U. S. and Canadian Clubs.

Minneapolis, June 17—Business sessions of the 24th convention of Kiwanis International opened here today, with 5,600 delegates and visitors from all parts of the United States and Canada arriving here for the four-day annual gathering. Plans will be got underway for 1940-41 programs for clubs in community service, child welfare, agriculture, citizenship, youth work and public affairs.

Minneapolis for the first time is host to an international convention of Kiwanis.

Bennett O. Knudson, of Albert Lea, Minn., president of Kiwanis International, is presiding at all sessions. In his annual message, he stated, "Kiwanis continues to be today's organization for rendering service. We are non-political and non-partisan in purpose and it is our effort to perpetuate democratic institutions. Citizenship responsibility is the price we pay for our liberties."

New High Peak
Fred C. W. Parker, of Chicago, secretary, announced that Kiwanis had reached another high peak in membership. At present there are in the U.S. and Canada 2,100 clubs, with a membership of 110,000, he said.

The membership climbed from a depression low in June 1933, of 77,415 members.

"This marked upward trend in membership indicates the results Kiwanis gets in community service," Mr. Parker declared. "As long as our membership realizes that community service is our real goal, we shall continue to grow. Each year we are giving increased service to communities."

Speakers
Prominent speakers to be heard during the coming week are: Martin Dies, chairman of the Special House Investigating un-American and Subversive Activities; H. V. Kaltenborn, war commentator; James G. Gardiner, Ottawa, Ont., minister of agriculture for Canada, and Susan Myrick, Macon, Ga., a technical director who taught movie stars southern dialect for "Gone With the Wind" film.

Urban-Rural Relations
Agricultural activities of clubs to bring about a better understanding between town and country people will be promoted during the next 12 months. George Kienholz, of Pierre, S.D., agricultural chairman, told delegates this afternoon.

The 1940-41 program will encourage rural youth activities, with Kiwanians assisting young farm people financially to carry on farm projects. Kiwanians also will promote diversified agriculture, develop soil erosion projects, seek vocational agriculture courses in high schools and bring together town and country groups for studies of urban-rural problems.

"There are 1,818 Kiwanis clubs now engaged in urban-rural relations," Mr. Kienholz announced.

"Other activities which Kiwanis clubs are to promote during the coming year include dairy and grain exhibits, sponsoring county fairs, cattle shows, agricultural implement demonstrations, introducing new farm machinery equipment and developing curb markets."

Canada at War
All clubs in Canada are active in a variety of war service activities on the home front, Paul R. Brecken, of Calgary, Alberta, told the delegates.

"After clubs declared their loyalty to His Majesty and to Canada, all the dominion's war efforts were given support," he said. "A variety of humanitarian services are now available for soldiers billeted in Canada. Members are supplying reading material, radios, sporting equipment, tobacco, etc., for the enlisted men and assistance is given the Red Cross, Knights of Columbus, Y.M.C.A. and other organizations engaged in war work. Entertainments and concerts are also being sponsored in many communities where camps are located. Every effort is being made by Kiwanians to give soldiers social and cultural advantages."

Conferences
Conferences on civic affairs and club problems recommended all clubs work to increase membership, retain older and experienced members. A special effort will be made to interest younger business men in affiliating with Kiwanis.

Interesting members in community work was suggested as the way to create strong clubs. Officials insisted upon community surveys to determine the amount of membership material available. "We have lost members in the past because we failed to engage them in worth-while civic work," said O. Sam Cummings, of Dallas, Texas, past international president, who has been a Kiwanian since 1917.

Silver Anniversary
"Kiwanis, with twenty-five years of experience behind it, has acquired the responsibilities of civic service," Bennett O. Knudson, president, told the delegates.

"Kiwanis was founded in Detroit in January, 1915, and therefore our years of work have developed practical programs. We are now engaged annually in over 40,000 community service activities."

Qualifying Round Not Complete Owing to Rain

Due to the rainy weather on Friday afternoon the Ladies of the Golf Club were unable to complete the qualifying round for the Knox Cup, which will be played on Friday afternoon of this week. To take the place of golf, the ladies enjoyed afternoon tea, and a social hour in the clubhouse.

Besides the qualifying round for the Knox Cup, Friday will be a C. L. G. U. day and it is expected that man members will be out for golf that afternoon.

Number of Motor Charges Arise from Accidents

Two Careless Driving Charges, One of Speeding and One of Brakes.

Sam Spadafore, 210 Pine street south faces a charge of careless driving as the result of an accident which occurred last evening on the Schumacher Road at the subway bridge leading out of Timmins.

Spadafore's car collided with that of Martin O'Malley, 16 1/2 First Avenue. Schumacher. The collision is said to have been a serious one, and although neither driver was injured, the cars were badly damaged.

Near Third and Pine

Hector Dominick, 13 Kirby Avenue, crashed into a car driven by Adolph Carco, 120 1/2 Balsam street south, near the corner of Third Avenue and Pine Street last evening at about eleven o'clock. As a result of the accident Dominick is charged with careless driving under the Highway Traffic Act.

Fred Rossey, who gave his address as room 29, Pioneer Hotel, is alleged to have gone through three intersections while travelling east on Second Avenue at a rate of speed in excess of that allowed by law.

Lionel Labrecque, 209 Waterloo Road, who told police he was a "collector for my father", was charged with having defective brakes on his auto following an accident near the corner of Cambrai and Waterloo Streets.

Involved in the accident with Labrecque was Albert Souliere, 40 Third Avenue.

Horn Blowers to Feel Weight of Police Wrath

Chief Gives Examples of Unnecessary Use of Auto Horns.

That pestilential nuisance the mar who uses the horn on his auto for entertainment rather than purposes of safety is inflicting his presence on the general public more than ever of late.

"Perhaps," said the Chief of Police "it is because of general high tension over the war situation." In any event police, who have warned many times about this offense, will start laying charges.

"There is the man who comes up to a stop street behind another car and then leans on his horn. There is the nuisance who parks in front of a friend's house at 6 a.m. and plays a tune on his horn. There is the man who comes to some obstruction in the road and shatters the ear drums of everyone in the neighbourhood with his horn blowing. All of these are going to be charged," said the Chief. He added that there would be two cars on the road all of the time on the look-out for just such offenders.

Leo Boudreau, Pine street south, was picked up on Saturday night and charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. Boudreau was driving opposite 80 Bannerman Avenue when stopped by officers.

How to Know
"George, I mended that hole in your pocket."
"Thanks! How did you know it was there?"—Montreal Star.

ther the friendly relations between Canada and United States, Kiwanis, it was stated, has erected 17 boundary tablets at various points on the border. These tablets impress upon all citizens the essential friendship between the two countries and that the boundary for thousands of miles is completely unfortified.

Afternoon Tea in Aid of the Fund for I.O.D.E. Bomber

Very Pleasant Event Held at Home of Mrs. Warnock

Mrs. E. T. Warnock was hostess at a very successful afternoon tea held at her home, 4 Kent Avenue, on Saturday afternoon, when a large number of ladies enjoyed a pleasant event.

Special credit for the success of the event is attributed to Mrs. J. Teeple and Mrs. G. Morrison, who presided over the tea cups.

Mrs. J. Holte, treasurer of the local I.O.D.E., received the donations amounting to $55.50, this amount to be handed over to the I.O.D.E. toward the purchase of a bomber which this organization will present to the government.

Mrs. Warnock and her assistants extend their thanks to the many friends who contributed to the success of the occasion.

Misinformation Leads to Error in Assault Story

Through misinformation The Advance erred to a slight degree in a story which appeared in the issue of Thursday, June 13. In a story describing the circumstances surrounding a charge of assault which has been laid against Pierre Hebert, Diamond Taxi Driver, he impression was given that an altercation occurred between Hebert and a fare Wilfred Moisan. It appears that the fight was between two drivers, that Hebert and Moisan are both company employees, and no customer was involved.

BETTER BUSINESS

He was lucky enough to get engaged to a rich girl.
The other day he said it was all off.

"What's wrong?" he was asked.
"I found out she was terribly extravagant. Do you know, Max, she spends nearly $10,000 a year in her dress-makers."

"Well?"
"So I'm going to marry the dress-maker."—The Passing Hour.

DISCUSSES POSSIBILITY

Alaska Weekly, Seattle, Wash.:—There is something just a little offensive to the self-respect of the average American in the open discussion in newspaper columns and in Governmental circles concerning the possibility that a vanquished Britain might be forced to escape with its navy and base it in Canadian waters. These blithesome theorists tell us that the Western Hemisphere would then have a navy at its command in the combined fleets of America and Great Britain which would render us immune from any possible invasion by air or sea. The disgusting part of it is the feeling that in these discussions there seems to be a note of wishful thinking. If this nation should ever allow the British Empire to reach such straits as here suggested without lending every support within its power to prevent such a unspeakable world tragedy it deserves the task of having to fight its own way out of the difficulties it has helped to create by its hypocritical neutrality.

"Jolly old BACHELOR"

It must be an indication of something that people habitually speak of an elderly unmarried man as a "jolly old bachelor" while a spinster of uncertain years is a "poor old maid". But then, women can't, or at least don't, enjoy the consolations of smoking the famous Bachelor cigars which, while costing only 10c have 100% pure Havana filler.
