To Select Two Timmins Ladies for War Emergency Course in Nutrition

Ontario Agricultural College and Canadian Medical Association Co-operating to Help War Economy and National Health. Ladies Taking Course to Inform Others. Choice to be Made by Red Cross Society.

The Ontario Agricultural College and the Canadian Medical Association are providing a practical four weeks course in nutrition for a limited number of public spirited women from all parts of Ontario. It is expected that each person privileged to attend will spend some part of her time during the coming months in bringing the important facts she has learned to the attention of other women in the community.

Recent events in the present war have shown that preparedness along all lines for both intensive warfare and a possible prolonged struggle is imperative. In the near future, the question of feeding our people will be one of major importance. Sir John Boyd Orr, outstanding British authority on nutrition, has warned: "In the present war the whole nation is subjected to the strain of war conditions. The diet of our people must be such that they can endure the strain and preserve the courage and power of endurance to secure victory."

The course in nutrition is to be given at Ontario Agricultural College for four weeks beginning July 2nd. The course will provide the type of instruction necessary to enable those attending to show housewives how to prepare wholesome meals at low cost. It will emphasize the principles of nutrition especially as they are related to war economy.

The cost of tuition is being set by the Ontario Agricultural College and the Canadian Medical Association. The only cost to the candidate will be transportation and $25 for room & board for one month. If an extremely desirable applicant is unable to pay the fee The local branch of the Red Cross will be able to arrange for some assistance.

The enrollment is limited to 150 persons. One only from each town of over 1,000 population and two only from towns or cities of over 10,000 population.

The Red Cross has accepted the responsibility of selecting the persons who will be permitted to attend. Applications should be made to Mrs. F. Graham 19A Seventh Ave., Timmins phone 831-W.

Five Boat Houses Gutted Boats, Motors Destroyed

Starting from Unknown Cause, Fire Sweeps Through Line of Boat Houses on Mattagami River Bank Across from Dance Pavilion. Firemen Organize Bucket Brigade Until Foresters Arrive With Pump.

Five boat houses on the Mattagami river bank were burned last night. The fire, which started from an as yet undetermined cause, is believed to have done damage to buildings and equipment in the neighbourhood of $2,000. Five boats and four motors were among the ruined equipment.

The blaze could be seen all over the town. It coloured the sky in that area and most people thought the Riverside Pavilion was on fire. The boat houses were located on the other side of Fyham Creek, immediately across from the Pavilion.

How the fire started was not known. When firemen arrived the blaze was well under way. Inasmuch as firemen were not able to get the truck carrying the booster pump close to the fire they were forced to try and quench the flames by means of a hastily organized bucket brigade. In that manner they bucked the flames from spreading until members of the Forestry Department station arrived with a small power pump.

There were boats in all five boat houses, firemen said. They managed to save the motor and most of the equipment in only one house, but even in that building, the boat was burned.

Owners of the boat houses were as follows: James A. Tapper, 36 Cambrial Avenue; William Spencer, 34 Messines Avenue; Vaughan H. Baker, 165 Spruce Street North; and John Ristimaki, 25 Commercial Avenue. One of the boat houses was double. Officials had no record of who the fifth boat owner was.

Stabbing of Boy Thought to be Due to Youthful Fracas

As the result of a fracas between two fourteen year old boys over possession of a play shack, Stanley Kramer, 14, received a stab wound in the back on Saturday. Alleged to have wielded the knife is Jackie Potts, 159 Cedar street south. He also is fourteen years of age.

The two boys, witnesses said, had been quarrelling about possession of two shacks they had and the goods and possessions in them. Finally one boy went over to the other's shack and the fight broke out anew.

Mrs. Potts who was at the scene tried to send the youthful Kramer home and he is alleged to have pushed her. At that young Potts is said by witnesses to have leaped a fence and struck the boy, apparently forgetting that he had a knife, with which he had been whittling, in his hand.

The knife is believed to have entered the back just below the shoulder blade at about the seventh rib. The boy's condition is not believed to be grave and an x-ray examination will be made this afternoon to determine the depth of which the knife penetrated.

After the injury was received Stanley was taken to the home of Leo Chevrefils at 160 Cedar street north. Dr. Irwin was called and he dressed the wound there. The one lad was then taken home in the police car.

Charges have not been laid. Police are investigating the matter.

ROUMANIA FOLLOWS THE STYLE OF DICTATORSHIPS

King Carol of Roumania last week announced that he had formed a new style of government of the totalitarian order. As a matter of fact, it seems to be a duplicate of the Nazi idea, and the general expectation is that Roumania has been sold out to Germany.

Enraged by France's consent to disarmament and dismemberment, the British government today repudiated its former ally and broke off relations with the "puppet" regime of aged Marshal Henri Petain.

A new French government-in-exile as been established in London and given full recognition. Frenchmen within and without France were called upon to renounce the armistice signed late on Saturday night at the Compeigne Forest.

Great Britain last night laid bare before the world the full "shame of France's armistice" with Germany including the surrender and internment of the French fleet and the handing over of the nation's weapons and coasts for invasion of the British Isles.

Hitler's armistice terms demanded the demobilization of France's armies and air force and, with the exception of a few units needed to guard colonial possessions the recall and internment under German-Italian guard. Huge stocks of war materials were ordered turned over to Germany and all of France's munition and war plants.

In addition the terms specify German occupation of about half of France including all the French coast, the latter to be held by German soldiers at French expense.

General Charles DeGaulle, former French Under-Secretary of War, announced formation of a French National Committee to look after French interests until victory was assured. To General DeGaulle's London headquarters swarmed volunteers in and out of uniform.

Council Uses Gold Belt Band Grant to Start off Fund for the Algonquins

Gold Belt Band Sponsored by Outlawed Organization, Councillor Points Out. Government Supplies Only Bare Necessities for Depot Here Captain Sterling States in Interviewing Council. Council Starts off with Donation of $150.

Following a request by Captain Keith Sterling and Lieutenant Robert Buell, the town made the first donation to a fund which will be established here for maintenance of the Algonquin Regiment.

Captain Sterling, when he appeared before the council when it met informally on Friday afternoon, said that the government supplied the depot which is recruiting here for the militia and for the C.A.S.F. with only bare necessities. There always were expenses which there was no money to cover.

The Gray-Simcoe Foresters were taking a company of men from here. They were scheduled to leave under the command of Lieutenant Buell, on Monday or Tuesday. Money was needed for summer-weight uniforms and to set up messes for the men.

The Grays and the Simcoes each raised $1,500, said Captain Sterling, and the Timmins company was expected to raise $600.

In addition, said Captain Sterling, he expected orders to mobilize the Algonquins soon and money would be needed. Furthermore, there would, from time to time, be officers and men of southern regiments coming up here. There should be an officer's mess equipped with furniture becoming a city this size, in the town.

"The Mines would co-operate, Captain Sterling added, but they would expect the town to contribute to some extent.

Lieutenant Buell read a letter from Lieutenant-Colonel J. T. Sutherland, O.C. of the Gray-Simcoe Regiment in which he said that each company was raising $1,500 and that the Algonquins would be expected to do the same. The men who left here in the immediate future would, he pointed out, need summer-weight uniforms and light shoes. "Why not give the money we had
