Blouse of Printed Tie Silk

Spectator sports fashions offer a wide field and everything from slacks to a crepe ensemble seems to be acceptable. Here is a spectator sports outfit that is right for it manages to be smart and elegant while it retains a casual note.

The blouse is of printed tie silk in dark green and beige. It has two patch pockets, classic revers and dark green buttons. The beige herringbone weave rayon skirt has a dark green leather belt slipped through self fabric loops at the waist.

SAVE IN DRESSES, COATS

One of the greatest pleasures at this time of the year when summer is at its best, is to don a new dress, coat or accessories, such as the Beaver Fur and Ladies' Wear have appropriately chosen to sell at 25 to 50 per cent reduction. The stock is large, and a clearance of cool linens, smart sheers and other fashionable styles seems to come as an answer to the prayer for lovely additions to your wardrobe.

Shopping, too, is a simple matter at the Beaver Fur and Ladies' Wear, as the competent staff will help you to choose a becoming ensemble in a pleasantly brief few minutes. You'll not only please yourself, but friend and family alike, and above all, you will have the satisfaction of a "good buy."

Wedding at Calvin United Church at Pembroke last Week

Miss Clara Evelyn Worley, Recently Teacher at Schumacher, and Lieut. H. Clauson Married.

A wedding of special interest to people of this district took place at Pembroke, Ont., last week, when Miss Clara Evelyn Worley and Lieut. H. Clauson were married. The bride was for some time on the teaching staff of Schumacher public school. Another point of interest to many is the fact that the officiating clergyman, Rev. J. Maxwell Allen, was minister at the Byrnes Presbyterian Church, Timmins, in the early days of this camp.

Last Thursday's issue of The Pembroke Standard-Observer gives the following account of the wedding. A pretty wedding of mid-July took place Wednesday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock at Calvin United Church, when

FOR WEDDING TIME

If you are a summer's bride-to-be, you will welcome the news that an expert staff at the Royal Studio makes wedding photographs that will be cherished throughout the years to come, and that will bring back memories of a great day—fond memories that will give each day added joy.

Special attention is given to arrangement, and the full glory of bridal beauty is caught by the photographer. You will find that you are only one of the many who have found that Royal Studio photographs retain forever that fascinating "something" which each bride acquires on her wedding day.

The photographs, which will be developed in sizes to suit your taste and pocketbook, may include the entire group, or may feature you alone, for you, of course, will be the "lady of the day."

SPECIAL AT BEAUTY PARLOUR

Have you heard that special whisper that is now developing into a glad cry? Here's the whole story—The Ottawa Beauty Parlor has added to its staff Miss Phyllis Moore, manicure and facial expert, of Ottawa, who is ready to give her experienced services in helping you with your beauty problems. Miss Moore is especially trained in this work, and Timmins women who have been treated to her work, are telling their friends the great news.

And then, of course, the Ottawa Beauty Parlor wants to tell you of its special on permanents, starting to-day, and continuing for about one month. Naturally, if you don't hurry, that little date book at the Ottawa may be all filled up, and you will be one of the unlucky ones to miss this opportunity. But, being a smart woman, in need of a permanent, or perhaps it's a manicure, wave, or facial, you will be glad to take advantage of the special offered by the Ottawa Beauty Parlor.

DURING THE HOT WEATHER

There is no greater comfort on a warm summer day than to be served in pleasant surroundings by a pleasant waitress, who will look after you every need, and this is the service offered by the Fern Cottage Restaurant. And if you have out-of-town guests, you will be delighted with their reaction to this up-to-date dining-place, which features a comfortably appointed dining room, as well as the large restaurant section.

During an afternoon's shopping, you will be glad to pause at the Fern Cottage for a cool "snack," and when you are all through the day, you will be happy in the luxury of a delicious dinner, at the place where you will meet all your friends.

If your friends have been telling you about the Fern Cottage, you'll be wise to take their advice, and give yourself and the family a special treat.

The bridegroom wore the kilt of the Black Watch Regiment, with which the Lanark & Renfrew Scottish are affiliated. Ushers were, Borden and Ernest Worley, brothers of the bride.

The bride wore a floor length dress of white net over taffeta, cut on classic lines. A short taffeta jacket with self covered button, completed her gown and she wore a shoulder-length veil in cap style, with an Empire bandeau of apple blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of Briarcliffe roses and baby's breath. ## Events in Europe Hundred Years Ago Similar to To-day

Interesting Items from a Newspaper of 1840.

Glancing at events in the Europe of a hundred years ago through the medium of a newspaper of that day, one would fancy he was merely keeping abreast of the times for 1940 so similar was the general upheaval, says The National Review. In an old Montreal newspaper comprising four pages dated November 11, 1830, the Editor found news items covering three revolutions, two abdications and a Declaration of Independence on the part of Belgium. The news, however, is presented in a very different way from the newspapers of to-day. The pages are closely packed with small print and display no headlines or illustrations, nearly two whole pages are devoted to foreign news. In those days, long before cables were laid, this country was dependent on the slow-moving sailing ship for newspapers containing news; consequently when several vessels arrived in port, local events were crowded out. However, there was space found on the front page for two poems, one a sad little thing entitled "She Never Blamed Him, Never."

Quantly worded, small advertisements are scattered throughout the four pages. Most of the advertisers refer to themselves as "The Subscriber" and nearly all are "daily expecting" a large assortment of goods which they state are aboard a particular ship bound from London or Liverpool for Montreal.

One young man, in advertising for a position as bookkeeper, gives as his qualifications his ability to speak "English, French and the Algonquin Indian language." A reward of fifty dollars is offered for the recovery of a stolen horse, the advertisement reading in part: "The stable of the Subscriber was broken open last night and a brown 2x year old Mare taken therefrom the supposed thief is 'William Murdoch.' He wore, when he went away, a grey mixed cloth coat, drab pantaloons, fur hat and thin pumps."

Those were the days when "fast crossing" meant anything from two to four weeks, when large liners, sailing on schedule, were undreamed of. A typical "Ship Notice" appeared on the front page read:—

"For Liverpool from Quebec—the fast sailing first class ship 'John Francis', W. McGrath, master, will be dispatched about the 12th instant, and will take Ashes, Wheat and Flour, at a moderate rate of freight. She has tolerable accommodation for passengers."

Another advertisement states that the "Arabian" will be ready in a few days to receive Ashes, Wheat and Flour. She can comfortably accommodate eight passengers in her cabin, it having been expressly fitted up for this number."

The remand was made at the request of a Toronto lawyer who is counsel for the accused. The lawyer suggested that another remand of a week might be asked for, but Magistrate Atkinson said that the Kirkland court was a busy one and that remands were not practical except for very definite reasons. ## Noranda Man Married at Sherbrooke, Que., by Proxy

One of the many specially interesting items in The Rouyn-Noranda Press was the following reference to a marriage "by proxy."

They were, a friend of the groom's, Edouard Morceau, standing as proxy for him at the Sherbrooke ceremony which was conducted by Very Rev. Canon A. Goyette. Arrangements were made by telephone, Canon Goyette and Rev. Father Brouillard, Noranda, "witnessing" conversations between the groom and proxy on extension telephone lines. Mr. Roy came to Noranda two and a half months ago and is employed at Bellisle Hardware. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Roy, live in Thetford Mines. His bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alde Foucher, Sherbrooke. She will join her husband in Noranda on August 3rd."
