

Answers and Questions Re Registration Being Asked by Many Persons

Will be Total of Forty-Five Booths in Four Schools, Central, Holy Family, Mattagami, St. Michael's. Ninety Persons Have Been Hired to Assist. Meeting of Hired Assistants and Volunteers Friday.

In the past week the Deputy Registrar for this district, Wilfred Spooner, and other sources of public information including The Advance, have been subjected to numerous enquiries concerning the technicalities of registration. To clear up some of the difficulties in the minds of the people the following facts have been ascertained from the proper sources.

To begin with all persons over the age of sixteen years of age must register. There is an erroneous belief prevalent that only persons between the age of sixteen and sixty must register. That is incorrect. All persons over sixteen, the National Registration Act specifies.

Registration days will be Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Registrations will be made on each of the days between the hours of eight o'clock in the morning and ten at night.

The set-up for registration is exactly similar to that for voting.

In Timmins registration will take place at four schools, Central, Holy Family, St. Michael's and Mattagami. Notices indicating the polling subdivision in which people from the various four sections into which Timmins is divided for electoral purposes, must register are indicated by notices posted on the streets of Timmins. In order to assist further The Advance carries, in this issue, a map which should clear up all difficulty. There are also other explanatory articles in this issue.

At each polling sub-division there will be Boy Scouts and volunteer guides to direct registrants to their proper booth.

Invalids and people who, through sickness or for other reasons, are obliged to remain home during the three days, will be registered by sworn assistant deputy registrars who will visit them in their homes. They should advise the captain of the school in which they ordinarily would register and he will send someone to their homes.

The following men have been appointed captains in charge of registration at the respective schools: Holy Family, J. A. Walsh; Central, David Rymer and W. M. Ritchie; St. Michael's, H. Warren and B. B. Moyer; Mattagami, A. A. Rose.

People who are out of Timmins during the three days may register at the nearest polling sub-division in the area in which they are located. When registering out of Timmins however, they must give the number of their electoral district. The number of this district is 96.

If, for any reason, it is impossible for a person to register on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, he must register with the postmaster as soon after as possible. He will be required to give a reason for the fact that he did not register on the appointed days.

Housewives and others who are able are asked to register in the morning and avoid rush hours, at which times there will, it is expected, be considerable congestion and delay.

Registration at some of the mines got underway on August 12. In ten hours on that day some 1,200 employees of the Hollinger Mine were registered.

Some twenty-seven employers throughout the camp are handling the registration of their employees. It is expected that close to 10,000 persons will be registered in that way.

Careful study of the map printed in this issue of The Advance should be helpful in determining where to register.

Comments on Change in T. & N. O. Luncheon Service

In a front page article last week The New Liskeard Speaker says:—

"Changes in the methods of serving meals on some of the T. & N. O. passenger trains, which will include the disappearance of the familiar cafe-parlor car which has been part of the equipment of Nos. 46 and 47 for many years, and the substitution of a lunch counter service with, possibly, waitresses attending to the wants of the patrons, will be in effect on the Ontario-government railway within a short time now, according to reports this week. The new arrangement, scheduled for September 1 as a starting date, will include also the closing of restaurants at Porquus Junction and Temagami, it is intimated.

"The T. & N. O. Railway owns three cafe-parlor cars, and one of these, the "Silverland," is being remodelled at considerable cost in the shops at North Bay for the restaurant car service to be provided on the Toronto-Timmins trains other than the "Northland", the reports state. This car will be equipped with a counter and chairs instead of the tables at present in use. No change is contemplated so far as the "Northland" is concerned in this respect, and the cafe-parlor car which operates between Timmins and Swastika on these fast trains will continue as at present.

"The restaurant car is an idea taken from other railways, it was indicated, and will be an extension of a service already in operation on some of the Rouyn Central Railway. At present, the "Goldland" cafe car on Nos. 46 and 47, and the "Pineland", attached to the "Northland", are staffed each with a steward, chef and two waiters, all men, but it is reported that a chef and girl waiters will comprise the crew of the restaurant car to replace the present arrangement. The cafe cars, which also provide parlor car service, were originally named, respectively, "Sesiknika," "Wasaksima" and "Tetapaga."

"When the last change in the time schedules became effective some weeks ago, the ten minute stop previously provided at Temagami for both Nos. 46 and 47 was eliminated, but these trains have been making the stop on special instructions pending, it is said, the new arrangement going into operation. The restaurant cars, it is reported, will provide the service hitherto available at this point and also at Porquus Junction, so that it will be unnecessary to keep the restaurants there open. At present, the cafe car on No. 47 runs daily from North Bay to Porquus Junction, returning on No. 46."

In Wrecking Exploit

In a letter to his parents in Montreal, Sub-Lieut. Jack Pickford described a wrecking expedition to France in which he took part. He led a party of 16 men who helped destroy a German-held French coastal town. His parents believe the exploit was the one for which he was mentioned in naval dispatches.

Assassin Breaks Neck, Tripping Over Girl's Body

John Bosak on Monday night at a Sudbury cafe poured four bullets into the body of a seventeen-year-old waitress, Annie Haymazuk, and then in his haste to escape he tripped over the girl's body, striking his head on the sidewalk in such a way that he broke his own neck. He died on the way to the hospital. The girl is given a fair chance of recovery, though she is partially paralyzed by the bullets. The girl scarcely knew the man and had never been friends with him, according to information given the police. To her, he was simply an occasional customer at the cafe, but Monday night he asked her to go out with him and she refused and this appears to be the only excuse for the shooting, although some around the cafe had noticed Bosak and thought he was acting peculiarly, not only Monday night, but on other previous occasions. The police were able to learn little about Bosak, either as to his occupation or his antecedents.

Noted Public Man Lost in Death of G. W. Ecclestone

News of the death of George Walter Ecclestone at Bracebridge was received with deep regret in the North where he had many interests and large circles of friends. The late Mr. Ecclestone was a pioneer business man of the North, the firm of Marshall-Ecclestone, now managed by his son, J. Walter Ecclestone, serving Porcupine, South Porcupine and Timmins from the early days of the camp. His talent and interest were of notable service to this part of the North since the early days. Mr. Ecclestone died on Saturday and was buried at Bracebridge on Tuesday. He was 75 years of age at the time of death, and for some months past was in the best of health. Of a very genial but quiet disposition the late Mr. Ecclestone had a distinguished career. He was elected to the Legislature in 1916 and continued to hold the seat (Muskoka) for fifteen years, being elected more than once by acclamation. He had been mayor of Bracebridge, president of the board of trade, chairman power and light commission of Bracebridge, Lieutenant in No. 6 Co. Simcoe Foresters and held many other offices and honours on merit and wide popularity.

bling those of the past? Dominance of the pound sterling in former days rested primarily, of course, upon its convertibility into gold. But the dominance of gold itself as the international standard rested largely upon Great Britain's management of the standard, which ensured its actual working. As the mother of that standard she backed it effectively with two things—free trade and world-wide investment of British capital, together with a banking system through which the settlements of trade and the movements of capital overseas were conducted with amazing flexibility and smoothness. Free trade is gone from the world's practice and almost from its thinking. Overseas investment of capital has met an almost equal fate. Of late the capital that has so moved has moved mainly as refugee seeking safety, not profitable employment. The world has become atomized financially and economically and hardly anything seems less probable than a return to that state of inter-relationships that existed before 1914.

What Will be the Value of Gold After the War

(Wall Street Journal) As one by one European currencies disappear from the exchange market as a result of the German juggernaut's progress over the map, the dollar stands out like a lone mountain peak in a flat desert and once again, as 25 years ago, we discuss its prospects as "the world's international currency" after the war, replacing the pound sterling as the unit in which the world will clear its trade. In one respect at least the dollar of today is better fitted for the task than was the dollar of those days; it is more firmly buttressed by gold than ever a currency was before. We have now nearly three times the total volume of our currency, bronze, nickel, silver and paper, in gold bullion in our vaults. It is a phenomenon totally unprecedented in currency's annals.

So far so good. But the question arises—Will there be after this war a state of things at all similar to that which existed not merely before the war of 1914 but even afterwards, in which the pound sterling, even after its detachment in 1931 from gold convertibility, cleared the major part of the world's trade? Will there be in any future world present discussion a "world's trade" on lines at all resembling those of the past?

Timmins Legion to Further Beautify Plots at Cemetery

Annual Memorial Supper and Decoration Day Dates Also Set.

Much has been said regarding the beautification of the Timmins cemetery and the matter of keeping all plots in a clean and neat condition. The Timmins branch of the Canadian Legion have been one of the leaders in this connection. The Legion plot No. 1, which is nearly filled has been tended and cared for in years past. The committee now recommend that a curbing be placed around this plot, with the present posts imbedded in same and the chains attached. The plot will then be made ready for grass and each of the graves separated, and flowers placed in each. Plot No. 2, will be dug and weeded and made ready for burial of future comrades who pass on. This was a recommendation brought to the executive committee at its regular session on this week. The members of the branch are expected to vote the necessary expenses for this work at the monthly general meeting, Monday, August 26th.

The officers of the branch, made plans for the annual memorial supper, this to be held on Saturday, August 31, in the Legion Hall, when the names of those passing during the past year will be honoured and the names on the honour roll unveiled.

Decoration Day will be held on Sunday, Sept. 1st, with service and blessing of graves at the cemetery. All veterans graves will be decorated with a Union Jack, after the ceremony. It is hoped that all members will be present for this solemn occasion.

Plans for the supper are proceeding and will be announced in the near future. Any wishing to attend this event can give their names to the stewards at the Legion hall or to any of the officers.

It is hoped to have the contemplated improvements at the cemetery plot completed in readiness for the Decoration Day service.

Counterfeiter Arrested by Local Police, Up To-day

Found to Have Counterfeit Bills Totalling $3,500 in His Possession.

Louis Grenier, of Montreal, will appear before Magistrate Atkinson in Kirkland Lake to day on charges of having counterfeit money totalling approximately $3,500 and of having dies and plates for the manufacture of the counterfeit money.

Grenier was arrested by Timmins police in Kirkland Lake some time ago. He had been in Timmins and was traced from here to there. The arrest was made by Corporal Kirk, of the local detachment of the R.C.M.P., and by Sergeant J. A. Stringer, of the Provincial Police detachment stationed here.

After they had traced Grenier to Kirkland Lake, police from here went down there and made a raid on a certain house in the town. A thorough search of the place disclosed a bundle of the bogus money, dies and plates in the ashes of a stove.

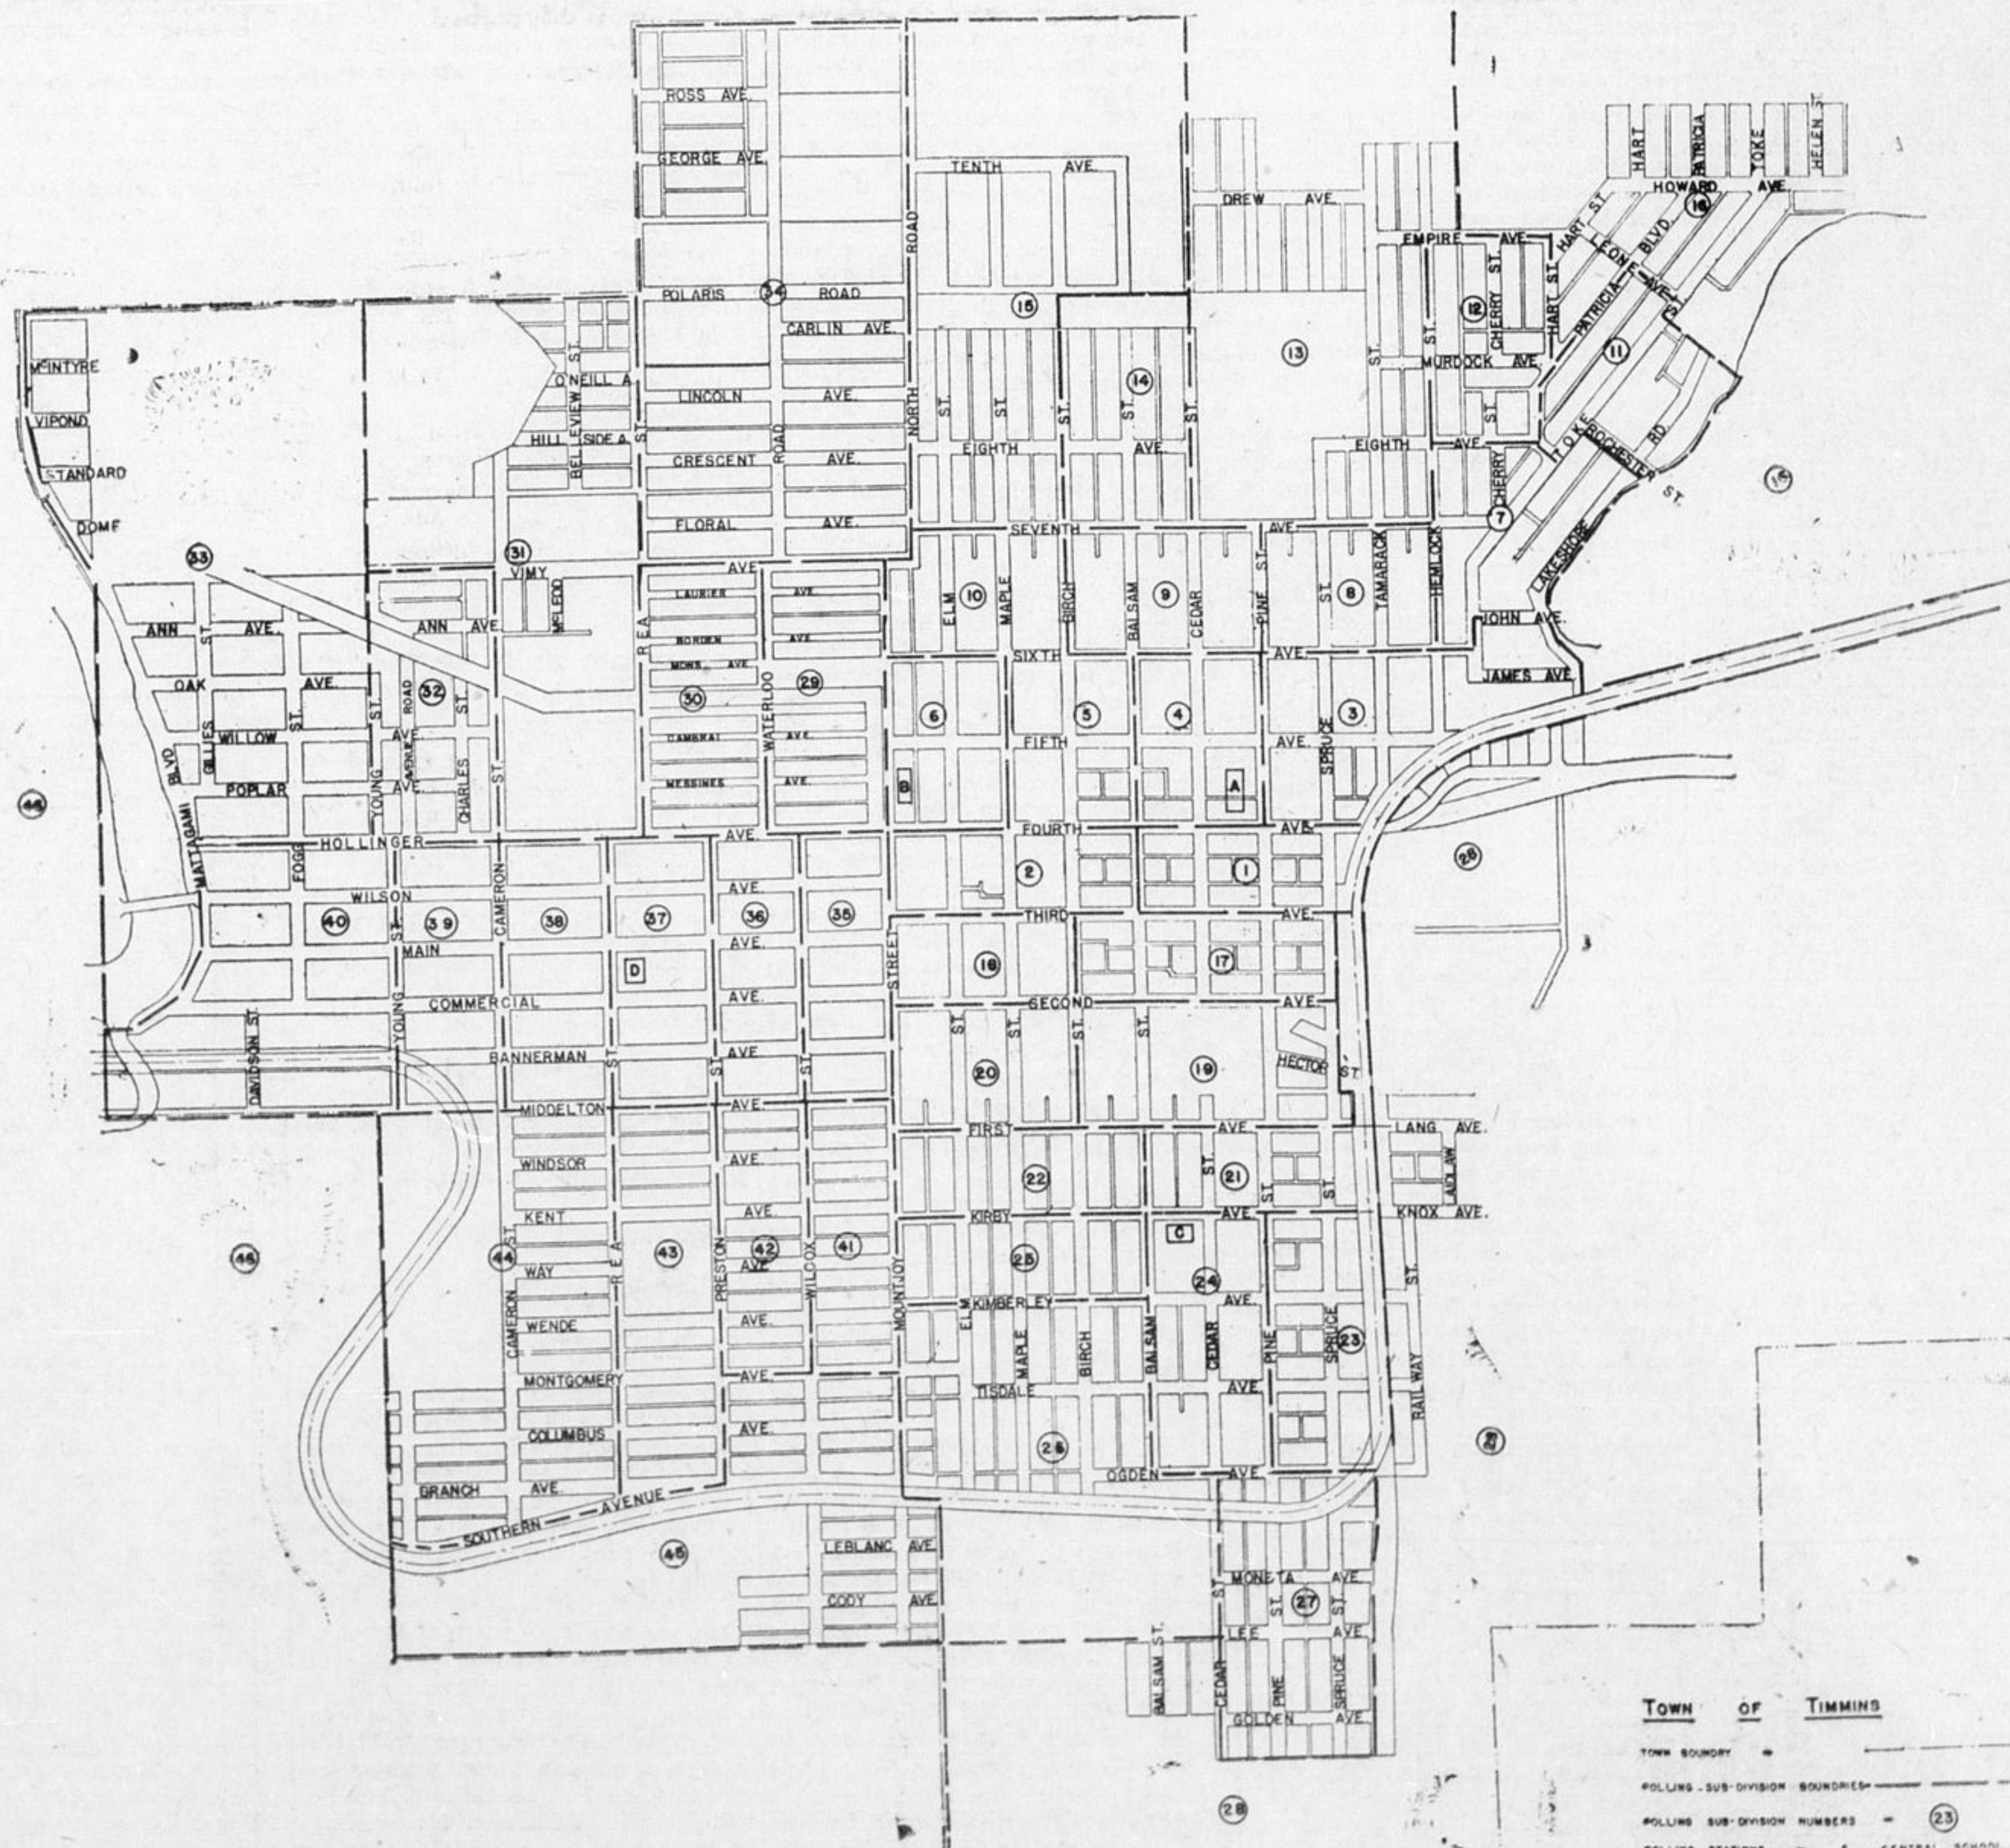

The dies and plates were not only for the manufacture of money but more particularly for raising the denomination of bills. It apparently was the practice to wash out by some other means and then replace the number "1" with "10" or "100." The bills all were American.

The arrest was made on July 23.

Where You Should Register Next Week!

The registering for the National Registration on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 19th, 20th and 21st will follow much the same form of procedure as Municipal Elections. There are four schools used as registering places, just as in the municipal elections, and there are a number of booths in each school. Each person is expected to register at the same booth he would use if it were an election. There will be volunteer assistants to direct you to the booth at which you will register, but in case you would like to know yourself. The Advance is publishing herewith the map of the town showing the polling places. Hunt up on the map the area in which you live now, and you will see the number of your booth enclosed in a circle in the same area.
