Story of the Discovery of Cellophane, Hairpins, Etc.

Because a Swiss chemist accidentally tipped over a glass of wine on a white tablecloth, the idea for cellophane had its inception. Dr. J. E. Brandenberger gazed at the red stain on the cloth, and the thought occurred to him that the world needed a material having moisture-resisting qualities. He went to his laboratory and began experimenting with viscose—and in time cellophane was perfected. . . . The crimped hairpin was invented shortly after the turn of the century by Sol Goldberg. Before the "hairpin-with-a-hump" all hairpins were straight and kept slipping out—so Goldberg's development was tremendously successful—Miss Irene Castle started the vogue of bobbed hair. Goldberg met the new style by inventing bobble-pins. . . . No one knows who invented the parachute, but it was first put to practical use in 1783 by Sebastien Lenormand, who used the device in seeking means to assist persons in escaping from burning buildings. . . . The word "cocktail" is said to have originated when a Mexican noble invented an intoxicating drink and sent his beautiful daughter with it to the king, who drank it, fell in love with and married the girl, and started a plantation to produce more of the liquor. The girl's name, Xochitl, became connected with the drink, and was simplified by General Scott's soldiers to "cocktail."

Savoie's Double Breaks Up Final Tilt and Gives Title To Vince Barton's Hollinger

Hard-Hitting Team Through Second Chapter of Ball Season. Won Schedule and Now Play-offs. Next Step is to Meet and Defeat Kirkland Lake's Representatives. Reg Dorey Shuts Out Maemen. Has Pitched 18 Innings of Scoreless Ball in Series.

"Lefty" Savoie's double in the eighth inning broke up the fifth ball game of the Hollinger-McIntyre final series for the championship of the northern division of the T.B.L. in the McIntyre park on Monday afternoon. The double won the title for Vince Barton's squad and gave Reg Dorey, who pitched eighteen innings of scoreless ball against the McIntyre in the final series, his second shut-out.

First game of the series went to the Hollinger squad on its ability to hit. In the second game the vaunted Hollinger squad went to pieces and the Maemen won twelve to six. The third game was a grimly played scoreless tie which it was necessary to call at nine innings on account of the rain.

With diminutive Mike Cherevaty on the Hollinger mound in the next game of the series and the Bartonites back in old hitting form, victory went to the team with the green and white uniforms. They shut out the Maemen at seven to nothing. Monday's game was the second shut-out and the third victory for Hollinger.

While Scarlett was on base in the eighth Savoie got the end of his bat on one of McShane's offerings and it whipped out to centre field. On the play Rodney scored. Savoie went to third on a passed ball at the plate and scored when Chase hit a long sacrifice fly deep into right field.

The game by innings:

First Inning
 Hollinger: Rodney got on base when Richardson fumbled a hot one. He was thrown out trying to steal second. Scarlett and Savoie fled out.

McIntyre: Laplante struck out and Quinn took first on a wild pitch from short to first. Rudel committed his second error of the day immediately after to place Dunn on base. Bougie fled out and Richardson was thrown out.

Second Inning
 Hollinger: Chase fled out and Romualdi singled. Cookson hit one to the pitcher and McShane chose to throw Chase out at second. Rudel got on base when a hard hit ball went right through Jake Quinn's hands and the side was retired with a man on second and one on first when Oltean was thrown out at first base.

McIntyre: Webber singled, Cooke, Thayer and McShane were easy outs.

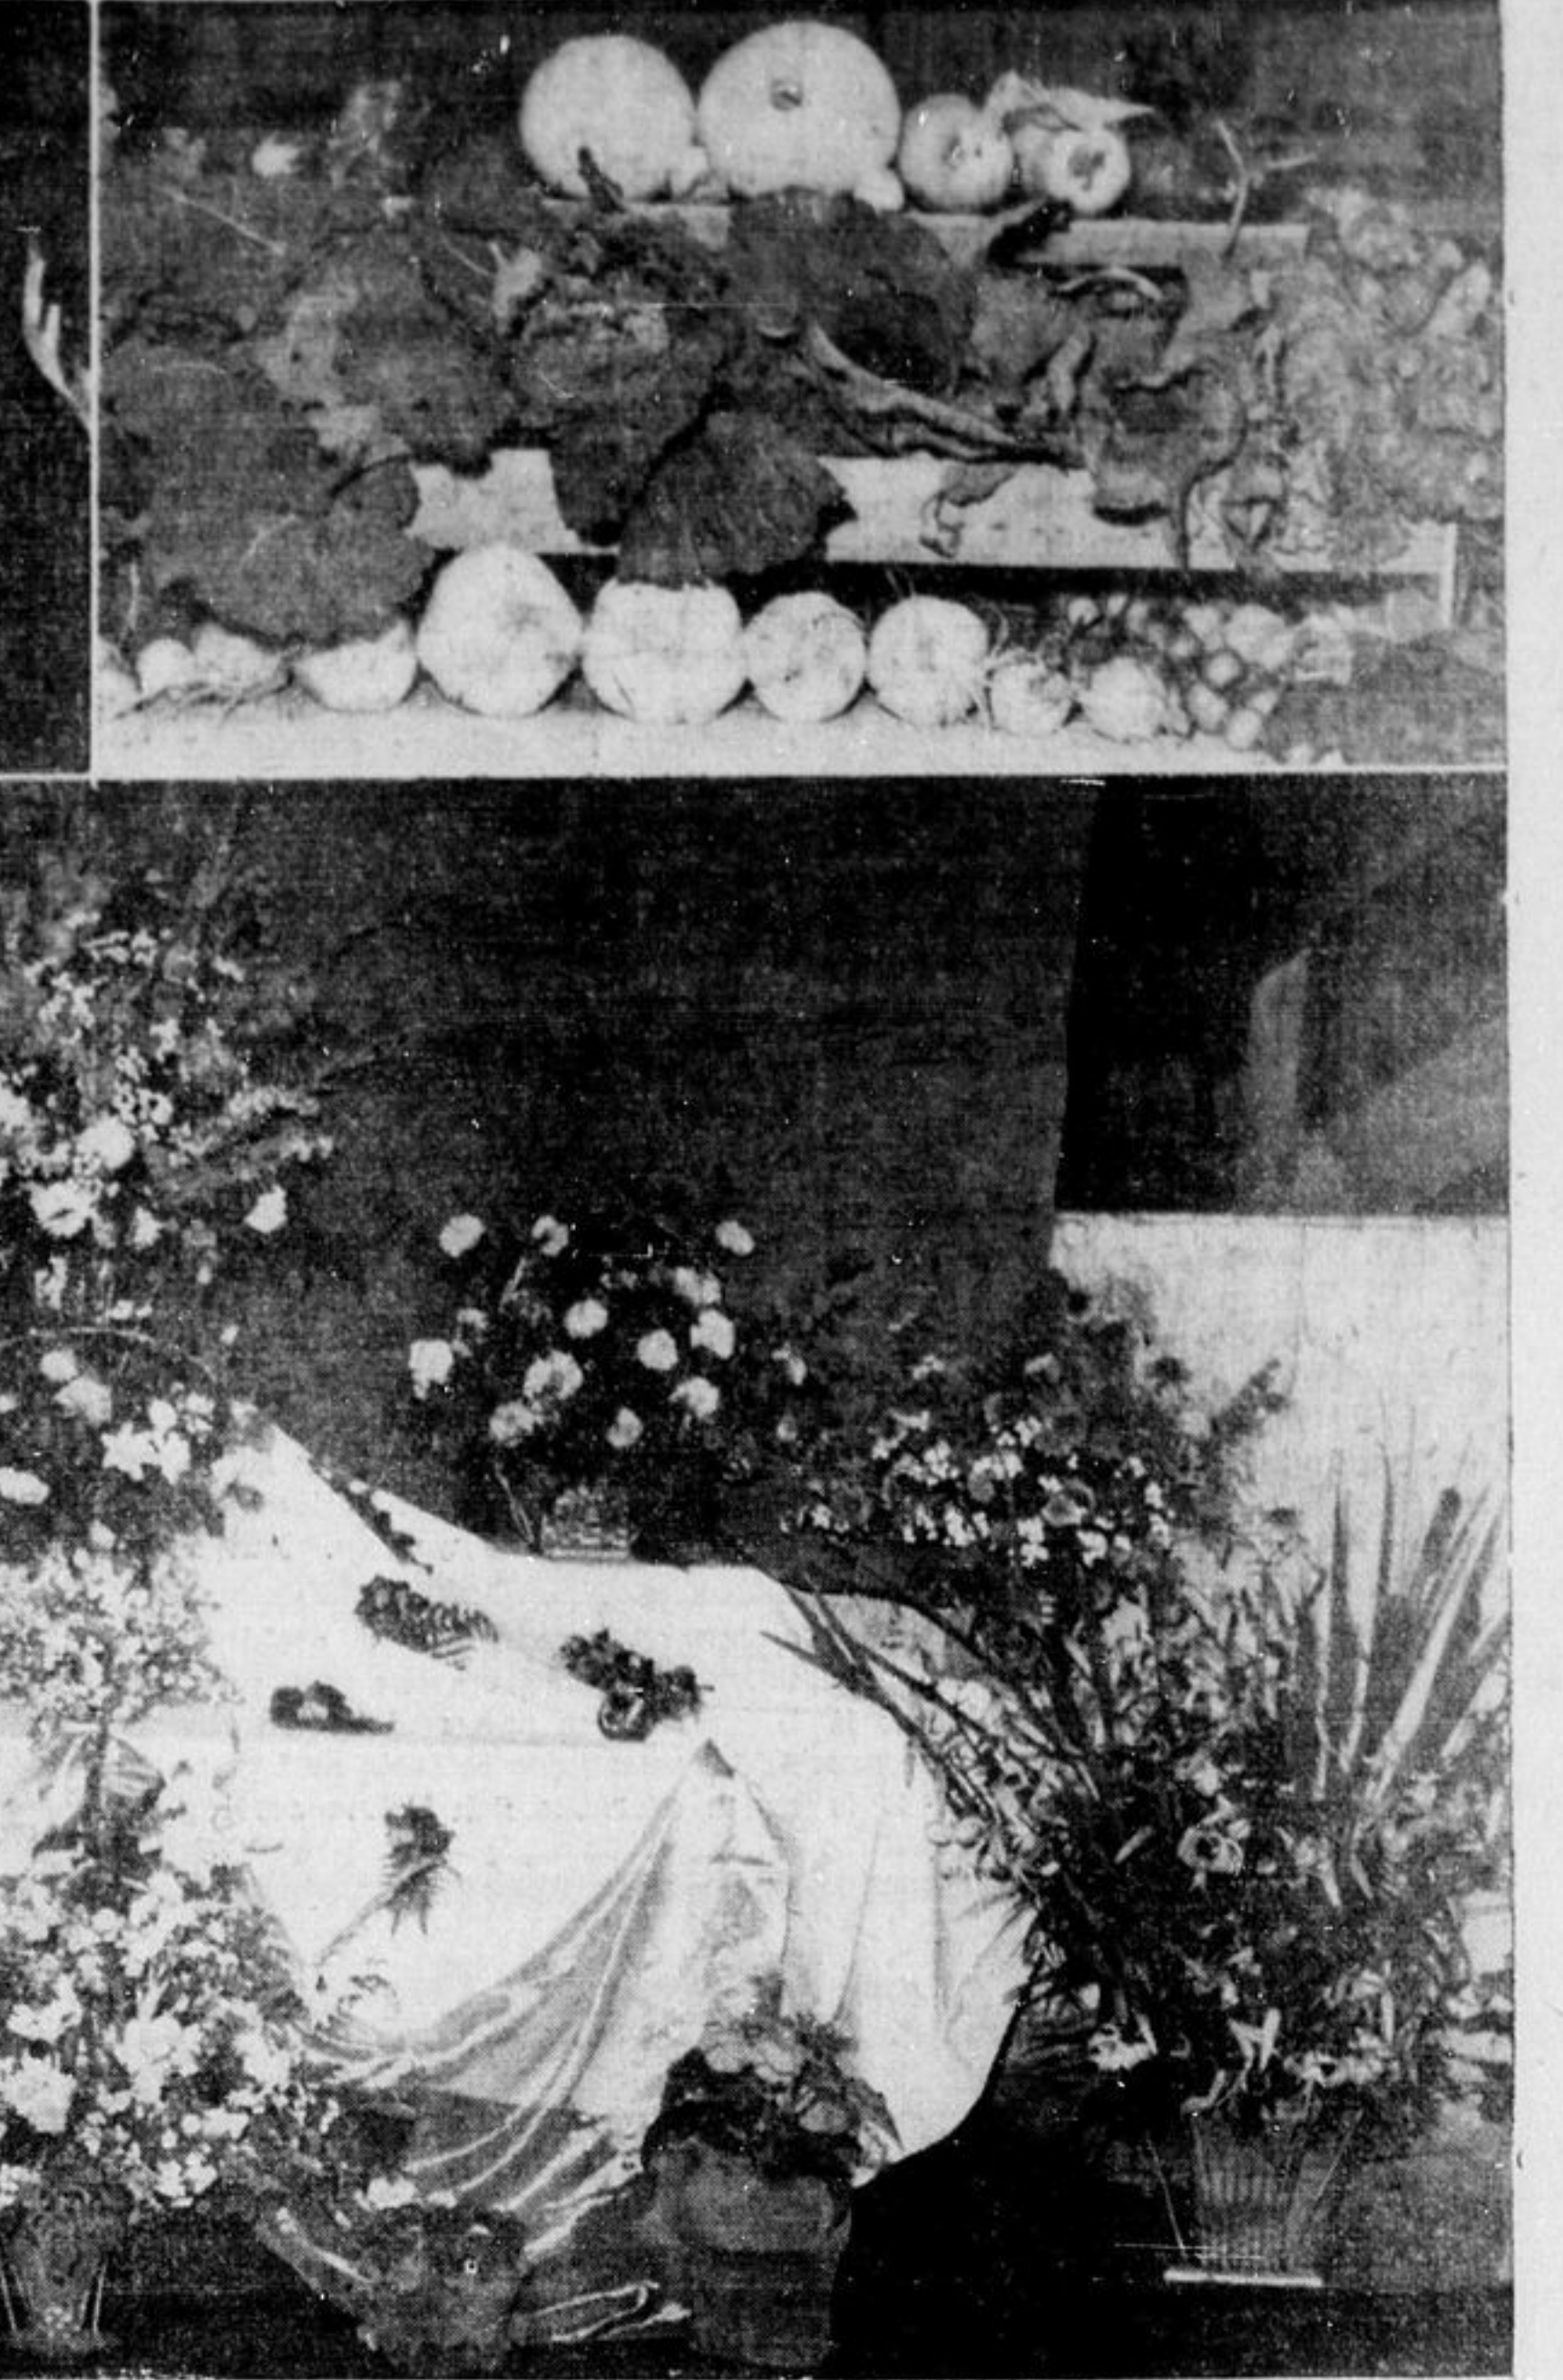

Third Inning
 Hollinger: Dorey, Rodney and Scarlett all were thrown out at first base. McIntyre: Laplante and Quinn fled out and Dunn was thrown out at first base.

Fourth Inning
 Hollinger: Savoie fled out, Chase singled and Romualdi and Cookson fled out.

McIntyre: Bougie was thrown out and Richardson fled out. Webber singled and Cooke fled out.

Fifth Inning
 Hollinger: Rudel singled and went to second on Oltean's sacrifice. Dorey singled out to right field and Webber returned the ball fast enough to catch Rudel coming in to the plate. Dorey got to second on the throw-in but was

No Motive Found for the Double Killing at Sudbury

Sudbury, Aug. 27th—Police are attempting today to establish a motive for the murder-suicide shooting at the Martin L. Wilson home, 612 Regent St., late Monday afternoon, when an astonished husband and father returned from his day's work, to find his five-year-old son, Gerald, in a dying condition with a bullet wound in his forehead, and his wife, Winnifred, stretched out dead on the basement floor with a .22-calibre rifle lying across her left arm. She had a bullet hole through the temple.

This group of pictures suggests some of the centres of interest and beauty at the Timmins Horticultural Show in the Timmins Arena on Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 26 and 27. At the top on the left Mr. D. J. Pomcraen, one of the judges, is busy at his work of judging some of the floral offerings. His attitude suggests that he is admiring as well as judging these flowers. Mr. J. H. Knell, president of the Society may be seen standing by. At the top right is a picture of a collection of choice vegetables, the sort for which this exhibitor, Mr. Laakso, is noted. At the bottom is a view of the Buffalo-Ankerite display that attracted much notice and pleasure.

CONFIRM REPORT OF SINKING OF TWO BRITISH FREIGHTERS

The New York Maritime Register said last night that it had confirmed through London sources the report of the sinking of two 5,000 ton British freighters, announced four days ago by the German high command. They were the armed merchant Brookwood and Severn Leigh, both torpedoed somewhere in the Atlantic. Fate of the crews was unknown.

Young Girls Add to Red Cross Funds by Their Enterprise

Conduct Bazaar on Lawn of Home.

Two little Timmins girls and a friend of theirs from Toronto held a bazaar yesterday afternoon in aid of the Red Cross. The girls were Evelyn Morgan, 65 1/2 Second Avenue, Barbara Storms, 6 Fourth Ave., (above Timmins Garage) and Betty McQuillan, of Scarborough, Toronto. The bazaar was held on the front lawn of Evelyn's home on the corner of Second Ave. and Birch St. The girls opened their stand at noon and were selling pin cushions, pot holders, poems written on birch bark, and candy—all home-made, of course, and mostly by the girls themselves.

This was the first attempt these girls had made to help the Red Cross but Evelyn informed The Advance they hoped to put on a concert in the next month or so and make "some real money" for the Red Cross.

The girls closed their stand at exactly six o'clock and had made an even total of $4.00 which will be handed over to the Red Cross.
