"We Need the Gold" Says Dominion Minister of Finance

foreign exchange which could be used to buy war supplies from other friendly nations, such as the United States. The mechanized strength and diabolical intrigue of Germany had changed the map of Europe so that it now was unrecognizable, said the Dominion Minister of Finance. At the present time all of the countries of Europe, with the exception of England, were under the domination of the two masters, Hitler and Joseph Stalin.

Poland fell before the crushing might of Germany in a few months; the Netherlands and small central countries capitulated in a few days and France, weakened from within by treachery, fell in a few weeks. Never in the history of Europe had there been so much tragedy in such a short time.

Britain was the only nation which had stopped the German war machine; the only nation which had proved herself able to hold out. Realizing their danger, the British were welded together in national unity under courageous and far-sighted leadership as never before in their history. They were working desperately to make their little island an invulnerable fortress and to strengthen themselves to take the offensive against Germany on the continent in the years to come.

The men of the Royal Air Force were indicative of the spirit of the people. They had proved themselves better man for man, and machine for machine, than anything the enemy had to offer. The navy had the sea gripped tightly in its blockade and the army was gathering strength in preparation for smashing Germany on the continent in the years to come.

"It is generally recognized and we know it to be true now, that a nation which can produce such men and machines as those of the Royal Air Force, is invincible," Mr. Isley said.

"It has been said that the lights of Europe have gone out. That may be true of those of continental Europe but the lights of Britain, the lights of freedom and heroic endeavour are burning more brightly than ever," he continued.

The cause of Great Britain was our cause, the speaker said. Great Britain was our fortress and the British navy our shield. We were tied to Great Britain through bonds not only of friendship and history but because of the fact that Britain was defending the democratic way of life we espoused and in which we believed.

Up until not so long ago our defence forces of Canada were starved and inadequate, Mr. Isley said. However, under the pressure of war, their strength had grown by leaps and bounds. We had two divisions of men in Great Britain and 110,000 men under arms. We were preparing to train a great citizen army, beginning next month. Our navy was in action in Europe as well as national waters; our air force was engaged in the defence of Britain although the great bulk of it was yet in this country. The Air Training Scheme was a vital factor in our defence and would provide future reserves of men and machines from which to draw.

In addition, Canada and the United States were co-operating closely in making ready to defend this continent should the need arise.

Mr. Isley described as "thrilling" Tuesday's announcement that the United States was making fifty reconditioned destroyers available to Great Britain.

Because of the fact that this war was mechanized; because it was a total war and large numbers of men were needed behind the lines to back up those who were doing the actual fighting, this was an "expensive war." As an example Mr. Isley pointed out that the R.C.A.F. alone expected to spend a million dollars every day during September.

Estimated cost of war this fiscal year was expected to approximate $900,000,000, the speaker said. That would far exceed the total of any other year.

Taxes had been increased beyond what the people had ever had to bear before. The populace had shouldered the heavy load cheerfully, said the speaker, who more than any man in Canada, should know the cost of war. Even the revenue produced by taxes was going to fall short of the estimated expenditure and the deficit would have to be made up by loans.

Canada was going to have to borrow a great deal of money not only to meet her own expenditures but to assist Britain to finance her expenditures here and elsewhere.

The people of Canada had income and wealth to enable them to subscribe more than the 250 or 300 million dollars required in this second war loan. Mr. Isley urged that savings be invested in war loans; he urged that if savings were not available, people borrow from the bank to make loans and that they pay off their bank loans out of current income. "It is saving from incomes that we want to see," he said.

"We would have to deny ourselves luxuries and comforts even necessities to win this war. 'Cars, clothes and fancy foreign foods,' were some of the things we would have to do without, he said.

The enemy was sparing no effort in this war. Germans were not asked to co-operate through sacrifice but compelled to obey.

Harkening back to the mining industry, the speaker said that Canada was producing 2,000,000 ounces of gold a year at the beginning of the 30's. At the end of the decade she was producing 5,000,000 ounces annually. The increase in gold production enabled Canada to pay off war and other debts and helped the Canadian dollar to remain the strongest on the market.

At the present time men and mine managements were working to keep production up. They were working to exceed production beyond that of former record years.

Recalling that the response to the appeal to buy war saving certificates was "generous" and urging that the response to the Second War Loan be similarly great, Mr. Isley pointed out that as security the Dominion of Canada itself was offered and that a good return was given on the money. The Dominion had a perfect credit record announcement is made of the engagement of Dr. MacKenzie Lawrence Keith, Kingston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer P. Keith, Edmonton, Alberta and Miss Mary Emma Skaylem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gilman Skaylem, Schumacher, the marriage to take place on Saturday, September 21st, at Schumacher.

and it pledged itself to make return on these loans. The nation's financial structure was strong and fit to bear the heavy load imposed by war.

Giving several examples of offers of interest-free loans ranging from one mine's contribution of a million dollars to the voluntary gift to him in his office of $1.95 from an eight-year-old boy whose father was overseas, Mr. Isley said: "Our success depends upon the voluntary action of the people."

Kiwanis Chairman Frank McDowell presided at the meeting. He introduced Mayor Brunette, of Timmins, and Reeve Victor Evans of Tisdale, both of whom welcomed Mr. Isley on behalf of their respective municipalities.

The speaker was introduced by Joseph Bradette, M.P. for this district, who recalled that Mr. Isley was chosen as Minister of National Revenue in 1935 and that he was appointed to his present post this session. He pledged the response of the people of this district to Mr. Isley's appeal for the Second War Loan.

The speaker was thanked, on behalf of the five service clubs in the Porcupine area, by Alex Allen, President of the Timmins Lions Club.

Charming Wedding at St. Anthony's Cathedral On Monday Morning

Miss Cecile Simone Martin and Mr. William A. Demine Married. Cathedral Beautifully Adorned with Ferns and Flowers for the Occasion. Reception After the Ceremony at Home of Bride's Parents.

Ferns and gladioli adorned the St. Anthony's Cathedral on Monday Morning at 9 o'clock for the marriage of Miss Cecile Simone Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Martin, of 21 Fifth Avenue, to Mr. William A. Demine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Demine of Montreal. The Rev. Fr. Theriault officiated in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives of the popular couple, and during the ceremony, the Rev. Sister Claire presided at the organ.

Miss Marie Bonhomme and Miss Sonia Charon were the soloists, the former singing "Ave Marie" and the latter choosing a wedding hymn.

Given in marriage by her father, the lovely bride made an attractive picture in an ensemble of French pink crepe, with fine embroidery in the brown wool collar and waist. She wore a brown off-the-face hat, with tiny nose veil and matching accessories, and a corsage of tiny rosebuds.

Miss Rose Marie Martin, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, charmingly attired in a grey-green imported wool suit, made on simply-cut lines, with matching turban and brown accessories, and a corsage of light pink roses.

Mr. Bernard Lalonde, brother-in-law of the bride, acted as groomsmen, and the ushers were Messrs Anthony Martin, brother of the bride, and Noel Belec, cousin of the bride.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. D. Martin, mother of the bride, received friends at a reception at the home of the bride's parents. For the occasion, Mrs. Martin chose a grey-blue French dress, with matching jacket, black hat and accessories, and a corsage of deep red roses. She was assisted by Mrs. O. Demine, mother of the groom, who wore a green ensemble with matching accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with gladioli and summer flowers, and many friends were present to extend their best wishes to the couple. The bride was for many years a popular member of the Timmins Separate Schools staff.

Later in the afternoon, the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, Toronto, and other points south, and will take up residence in Montreal. For travel the bride chose a pastel blue imported wool suit, with matching turban and brown accessories, and a corsage of deep pink roses.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. O. Demine, parents of the groom, of Montreal, Mr. J. Lambert, Montreal, and Mr. T. McCann, Kirkland Lake.

On Monday on the back road one of Dalton's big buses hit a telephone pole and smashed it in two, but though there were several passengers in the bus at the time no one was hurt in the accident.
