Modern Education Meant to Develop Child's Personality

Public School Inspector Speaks to Lions Club Members.

More emphasis was placed on developing the personality of the child and bringing out his capabilities and talents than was placed on "reading, writing" and "rithmetic" under the modern system of primary school education, said Mr. H. W. Brown, Public School Inspector, speaking to the members of the Timmins Lions Club at their regular meeting at the Empire Hotel on Thursday evening.

Such subjects as music and the various branches of handicrafts and arts all were designed to give the child an outlet and to develop him in ways other than those merely academic. Mr. Brown had samples of some of the Timmins children's work to show the clubmen. Among them was a picture drawn on a piece of old bed sheet that had been carefully sized by the young artist and framed. The blue in the picture was blueing used in washing. The other pigments and colours were similarly inexpensive. The general effect was good for a ten-year-old. Mr. Brown said that primary schools in this town were badly in need of supplementary geography and history books—books which had been written fairly recently.

Leo Laporte introduced the speaker and George Francis moved a vote of thanks. Guests at the meeting were Mr. Brown and Lloyd Queen, of Schumacher. Alex Allen, President, occupied the chair. The Lions Club has introduced the custom of having one of their number talk for three minutes at each meeting. William King spoke on Thursday night on a trip he recently took through the Ford Motor plant. A vocal solo was given by Mr. Herb Treneer.

North Country More Progressive Than South, Says Poet

Mr. Wilson MacDonald a Visitor to Timmins Last Week.

The north country, said Wilson MacDonald, poet and writer, in an interview with The Advance on Friday, was a wonderful land, and much more progressive in its teachings than the southern part of the province. The few days spent in the camp by Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald and their one-and-one-half year old daughter, were the first visit to this part of the Northland, but they hoped to return at some future date.

Wilson MacDonald, the well-known Canadian poet, devotes his time to lecturing to Canadian and American audiences on the music of poetry. He has written many fine poems of Canadian life and Canadian people, giving his works the understanding and the music of a Canadian heart.

Mr. Wilson MacDonald was born near Port Dover, and has been writing poetry "all his life". His first poems were published in the Toronto Globe when he was only a boy. Most of his life has been spent at the Canadian West Coast, United States, England, and Montreal, although he has travelled as far north as Hudson Bay.

Five years ago he married Dorothy Colomy, professor of English at an American Ladies' Quaker College, and now Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald are the proud parents of a wide-awake, charming, little lady who bears the name, Ann Meridan.

Mr. MacDonald lectured at Yale University, Columbia University, Twentieth Century Club, Boston, University of Maine, and many other well-known American Institutions. Before coming to the Porcupine he visited Kapuskasing and Cochrane, and will lecture at Kirkland Lake and North Bay, before returning to Pembroke, Nova Scotia, and the United States. While in the camp, he addressed the South Porcupine Kiwanis Club on Thursday evening, the Schumacher High School pupils on Friday morning, and the Timmins High and Vocational School pupils on Friday afternoon.

Boy Playing With Matches Responsible for Serious Accident

New Liskeard, Oct. 5—Fire which the boy's father told The Speaker had been caused by three-year-old Jimmie playing with matches destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Underwood, on the main highway at Gillies Lake, three miles south of Cobalt last Thursday afternoon. Some of the contents of the lower floor of the two-storey frame building were saved, but most of the family's clothing and the contents of the upstairs rooms, together with the winter's supply of vegetables in the cellar, were destroyed. There was no insurance carried.

Mrs. Underwood and the child were alone in the house when the former noticed the fire, which had started in the upper part of the building. The nearest neighbours, the Cole family across the lake, also saw the blaze and came to the assistance of Mrs. Underwood and also went to Latchford and summoned the fire rangers, who brought their equipment and fought the flames with water drawn from the lake. Cobalt fire truck also went down, but could give no assistance.

The family went later to the home of Mrs. Underwood's father, Councillor Joseph Gartside of Coleman Township, who lives in West Cobalt, and took shelter there. The flames spread very rapidly, but members of the family said they received a lot of help from persons who gathered quickly on observing the fire. Included in the articles of household furniture saved was the piano, Mr. Underwood said. He added that he is erecting another home at the same property, linking up two buildings with a third to make a house.

SIFTING THE NEWS

The Don Cossacks this season mark the twentieth anniversary of their formation in a Bolshevik prison camp after the defeat of General Wrangel's White Army in Siberia.

This chorus of thirty-four singing giants under the direction of Serge Jaroff is one of the world's unique musical organizations. Since their establishment two decades ago they have come through many vicissitudes but the original ensemble assembled by Serge Jaroff has come through practically unscathed. A record of which they are proud is that in more than 4000 concerts ranging from Singapore to Sioux City, no member has ever missed a performance and only once was a man tardy for rehearsal. This they assert, is due not only to the self-imposed and complicated system of fines levied against rule breakers but to their strong interest in and love of their work.

Hearing them sing one could well believe that to be true. They sing folk songs, soldier songs and centuries-old liturgies with a feeling and ability that makes them absolutely unique. No musical accompaniment is used. Before each song the conductor, Jaroff, strikes a tuning fork and carries it up and down the line of men to give them the note. From then on their music is purely vocal. In their number they have singing range from basso profundo to a high soprano.

These men, who are singing in Toronto on Oct. 15, are self exiled from Soviet Russia. Marjorie Hart thinks that generals have no imagination and very little of what she describes as "romance and sentiment."

It seems that Margie, who is a strip-teaser who plays Manhattan theatres and Midwest burlesque houses, just wanted to do something for the army.

So Major General W. M. Haskell, 62, commander of the 27th division, New York National Guard, got a parcel containing fifty autographed photos of Margie's "most vivacious" photo with promise of 4550 more as soon as prints were ready. Margie sent her mementos out of pure patriotism, with emphasis on the pure. Said she: "A little romance and sentiment helps to while away a man's lonely hours. I only wish I could do more for our soldiers. I do hope the generals won't give my picture to any married man. I don't want anybody to get the wrong idea."

Snorted the apologetic general. "Who is Margie Hart?" When told he scrawled "refused" across the back of the package and sent it back to Margie.

Toll Brothers to Give Travelogue Here on Oct. 11th

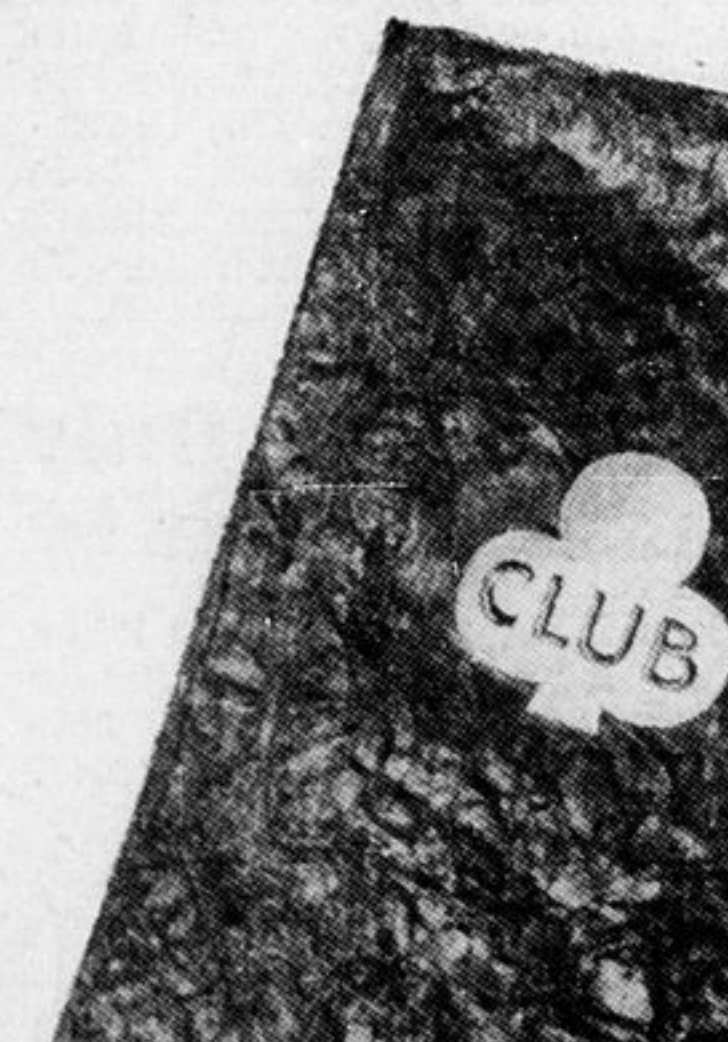

Event Under Auspices of the Fireside Club. There will be more than passing interest in the announcement that the Fireside Club of the United Church is sponsoring another visit here of the Toll Brothers. The fact that the Fireside Club is sponsoring the travelogue is in itself a direct recommendation, for the Fireside Club has brought many excellent events here. In addition the Toll Brothers have been here before and their entertainment has been very popular. "Hiking Through South America" is the title of the Toll Brothers' travelogue scheduled to be presented in the United Church on Friday evening, Oct. 11th, at 8 p.m. A Toll Brothers' travelogue means adventure, education, humour, beauty. With the best of still and motion picture equipment, the Toll Brothers spent 16 months exploring and photographing in Central and South America. Where there were roads they hitch-hiked. Where there were no roads they travelled on foot and by mule-back, visiting many places where white men had seldom been. The travelogue is illustrated with motion and still pictures in colours. It is perhaps, of special interest at the moment that in Argentine and again in Brazil they were mistaken for Nazi spies and were threatened with confiscation of their treasured pictures but they were able to "talk themselves out" of that tough spot.
