Small Girl Nearly Drowns This Morning in Gillies Lake; Second Within Week

Toddles Out Almost to Centre of Lake and Breaks Through Ice. Small Companion Brings in Word While Five-Year-Old Girl Clings to Icy Edges of Hole. Is Rescued by Her Uncle.

Little Dawn Lauzon, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Lauzon of 74 Lakeshore road, was very nearly drowned in Gillies Lake this morning. The small girl made her way out almost to the centre of the snow-covered lake. She went through the ice and a small companion who was playing with her did not go through, made his way to shore and attracted the attention of Mrs. S. Armand, 77 Lakeshore road, to the little girl's plight. At this time Dawn was hanging on to the icy sides of the hole she made in the ice when she went through.

Mrs. St. Armand called to the little girl's uncle who was nearby and he ran out on the ice and brought her safely in to shore. To do so he was risking plunging through into the icy water.

Firemen and police were called and they rushed to the lake but by the time they arrived the little girl was safely at home being rubbed back to warmth by her anxious mother. She appeared little the worse for her experience aside from the fact that she was chilled and shocked.

This was the second life that Gillies Lake very nearly claimed within a week. Last Saturday morning fifteen-year-old Frank Camley plunged through the ice while riding across the lake on his bicycle. He managed to pull himself out but lost his bicycle and cap.

Ex-Serviceman Says the Soldier of To-day Will Do Credit to Canada

"Don't Forget to Write Often to the Boys Overseas" was the Suggestion of Another Speaker at the Remembrance Day Banquet Sponsored by the Canadian Legion of Timmins.

While due honour was paid the men who gave their lives in the last war at the banquet in the legion hall on Monday evening sponsored by the Canadian Legion there was also very special thought for the living—for the soldiers who had come back disabled or with health impaired, and for the soldiers of to-day who are duplicating the service and the sacrifice of the gallant men of 1914 to 1918.

The banquet on the evening of remembrance Day was the first of these annual events that was a ladies' night. The event was not only for members of the Legion, but for their wives and daughters and for the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion and their husbands. So successful was the event in every way that it is hoped to make the event an annual event, as was the event for Legion members only in past years. Monday evening's banquet might be termed a happy Legion family event. The only special guests for the evening were Mayor Emile Brunette who were given hearty welcome and taken into the family circle. About seventy enjoyed the well-prepared and well-served menu at the banquet the catering of the pleasing full-course dinner being the able work of the St. Matthew's Ladies' Guild.

Comrade Walter Greaves president of the Timmins Branch No. 88 of the Legion, presided at the event and carried through the toast list of the evening in his usual effective way.

"The King," proposed by President Greaves, was duly honoured with loyal enthusiasm.

Comrade W. A. Devine, one of the Legion executive, proposed the toast to "the members of the C. A. S. F. He urged all to remember the boys now serving overseas. "Write to them often," he urged, "there is nothing the soldier overseas enjoys more than a letter or parcel from home. It is the greatest way to keep up the morale of the troops to hear from the folks at home."

In his reply to this toast, Comrade Walter Wilkinson also had special thought for the men now on service.

Deserter Since June Gives Self Up to Police Here

Did Not Enlist in Army From Around Porcupine.

A deserter since June, Nerrie Gauthier, 23 years of age, of Quebec, gave himself up to mounted Police yesterday. He is in jail here at the present time.

Military authorities here said that they did not believe that Gauthier enlisted from Timmins. He joined the army down in the Gaspé Peninsula region, they thought. Police here are awaiting instructions from Gauthier's unit.

Police here said today that they have had comparatively few deserters to deal with. When one is handed over to them the usual practice is to hold him until military police are sent to take him back to his unit where he receives trial before a military tribunal.

Routine of Church Army Life Reviewed for A.Y.P.A.

The regular weekly meeting of the A.Y.P.A. held in the parish hall of St. Matthew's Anglican Church on Wednesday evening, opened with the hymn "Unto the Hills Around Do I Lift Up My Longing Eyes."

The usual business meeting was held with the president, Harry Atkinson in the chair. After the business of the meeting, Captain Vollick gave an impromptu address on "A Day in the Life of a Church Army Cadet." His talk was very interesting, and gave the members some idea of the routine of Church Army Life.

Cornish People Observe Anniversary of Arrival Here

Fourteen Only Remain of Original Seventy Invited Here Twenty Years Ago.

South Porcupine, Nov. 13—(Special to The Advance)—Twenty years ago seventy miners from Cornwall, England, were invited to Canada by the directors of gold mines here to become miners for gold instead of tin.

They came, and settled in the Porcupine Gold Camp, many of them at the Dome Mines. They have become good Canadians, they and their children, and we may point with pride to their honest and intelligent interest in, and their work for, the community in which they live.

Twenty years ago there were seventy men. Today there are in the camp only fourteen of the original ones. Some have left for other towns. Twenty have passed on.

To bring together as many as possible of the original members of that contingent, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Varker (themselves of that number) arranged a re-union on the anniversary of the day upon which they landed here—November 9th, and on Saturday all met at this home and enjoyed an evening of reminiscence; tales of the past, hopes of the future, were all discussed, and a happy evening passed.

They hope to make it an annual event. Mr. and Mrs. W. Tremelling of Kirkland Lake were guests of the Varkers—they being in the original seventy. Others present were: Messrs Ed. Uren, Chas. Hawkins, P. J. Varker, J. Davis, W. J. Butler, B. Harry, Chas. Edgecombe, A. Jenkins, J. Fisher, S. Tomkins.

Mr. E. Toy, of Kirkland Lake, was to have been a guest, but could not manage it.

Mrs. Varker, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Cronmuller, of Timmins, and Mrs. W. J. Davis, served a delightful lunch at the end of the evening.

WANT ROME BOMBED

Demands for the bombing of Rome, in the British House of Commons on Tuesday provoked this reply from Captain H. H. Balfour, under-secretary for air: "It would be wrong for the government to give away strategic plans for raising enemy objectives."

On the following day calls for chimney fires were received from 76 Montgomery Avenue, 80 Hollinger Avenue and 25 Montgomery Avenue.

ANOTHER OF HIS MAJESTY'S GALLANT SHIPS

This is the famous British battle cruiser, "Repulse," one of the mighty vessels that keep the seas for Britain. The picture is one of several made available to The Advance through the Director of Pub-

Completing Plans for Fund for the Victims of Bombings

To Open with Address by J. P. Bartleman.

The campaign for the Lord Mayor's Fund to help the victims in Britain of the Nazi bombers will open here with a radio address by Mr. J. P. Bartleman at 4:30 p.m. to-day (Thursday). Other events to rouse interest and action have been planned.

There will be a concert in the Cartier theatre on Sunday, Nov. 24th at 8:30 p.m. The Timmins Citizens' Band and other local talent will furnish the programme and the items already arranged promise an attractive event.

Tag Day for the Fund for the Victims of the Bombings will be on Tuesday, Nov. 26th, this date having been approved by the town council.

It is not too much to say that the people of Timmins have been thrilled with pride at the wonderful courage and endurance shown by the people of Great Britain in withstanding the vicious, indiscriminate bombings of the Huns. Hearts here have been touched by the suffering and loss that has been forced on the victims of the bombing raids. But this is not enough. Pride and sympathy alike should be translated into dollars to help the victims of the bombings. Say it with dollars. All should help all possible to swell the fund for the bomb victims.

Golden Beaver Lodge Again Honours Veterans Of the Last Great War

Striking References Made to the Gallant Men of Army, Navy and Air Force in the Present Battle for Freedom. Annual Veterans' Night Banquet Most Interesting and Inspiring Event..

There were about 125 members present for the twelfth annual Veterans' Night banquet held in the Masonic hall last night by Golden Beaver Lodge A. F. & A. M. The banquet was served at 6:30 p. m., the catering very capably done by the ladies of the Eastern Star.

After the delightful report, the toast to the King and the Craft was given by the toastmaster for the evening, Wor. Bro. A. Wright. Rev. Canon Cushing and Rev. F. J. Brevin delighted the gathering with a piano and violin duet.

V. W. Bro. E. L. Longmore gave the toast to His Majesty's Forces. He spoke briefly but effectively of Army, Navy and Air Force, their tasks in the last war and in the present one, with highlights on some of their great deeds. There was a pleasing variation from previous years in that each branch of service was given individual response. A quartette by Messrs J. Jago, P. Harris, C. Watkins and G. Hale was much appreciated.

In replying to the toast to the Army, Dr. S. L. Honey touched on the humorous as well as the serious side.

Brother James Cowan, in Highland garb, brought down the house with his humorous Scottish songs.

In replying to the toast to the Navy, Bro. W. O. Langdon spoke of the wonderful work of the British seaman from the days of the oak battleships to the present time. He paid particular tribute to the men of H. M. S. Jervis Bay.

In his impromptu response to the toast to the Navy, Bro. Dr. J. B. McClinton referred to the service given by his unit in the last war, adding a humorous reference to meeting Admiral Beatty, but not exactly sure at the time or now, that it was Admiral Beatty.

Responding to "the Air Force", Bro. F. J. Wolno gave some of his experiences in flying in the last war. He referred to the development of aircraft.

The Greek War Ministry said today from Athens that its troops were busy mopping up Italian units lost in the Pindus Mountains. It said also that Greek troops had advanced deep into Albania and occupied several important heights.

Greek and British bombing planes are continuing to devastate the Albanian coast while British planes last night flew over the Adriatic Sea and bombed Bari, Italian point of embarkation.

The Italians still have a semblance of an army in the Pindus or central section of the frontier but it is in aimless retreat and Greek snipers are said to be cutting off whole squads. In the south the Greeks are reported to be making local attacks without meeting concerted resistance.

Frontier reports received in Belgrade said that Greek artillery has engaged in a heavy duel with Italian guns in the Koritza sector. Greek guns are said to be pouring an almost continuous rain of shells into the city of Koritza. The duel started yesterday and is continuing today. Italians are reported to have brought reinforcements up to Koritza in the last few days.

New advances by the Greek troops on two fronts were reported today from London. In the Pindus sector Greek infantry has reached the frontier about two miles from Koritza and operations are continuing.

In the Epirus sector the advancing Greeks are said to have penetrated beyond Mazarekia.

African operations are proceeding in Kassala and Gallabat. Fifty more Italian prisoners were captured in Gallabat.
