

Death of Mr. B. Everett at Peterborough, Ontario

Mrs. R. R. Stevens and Mrs. R. Wilson, well-known Timmins residents, received the sad news this week of the death at Peterborough in Nicholas Hospital on Sunday, May 18th, of their father, Mr. B. Everett. Their many friends will extend sincere sympathy to them in their loss.

The late Mr. Everett was seventy-eight years old, and had been ill for the past three months, suffering from a heart condition. Left to mourn his loss are his two daughters in Timmins, and two sons, Messrs W. J. Everett, of London, and R. P. H. Everett of Peterborough, and two brothers, Messrs H. Everett and Russel Everett, of Chandos, Ontario.

A large number of floral tributes showed the esteem and popularity of the late Mr. Everett. Interment was made in Hillside Cemetery, Lakefield.

Output of Hoyle Gold Mines Million Dollars for Year

Mill Tonnage Advancing, According to Annual Report.

At the annual meeting of Hoyle Gold Mines, Ltd. the president, B. W. Lang, stated that the mill is now treating 519 tons per day and that this rate will be advanced to 540 tons shortly. Operating profits between $25,000 and $30,000 monthly are being realized, the official said. Ore reserves for six years, at a daily milling rate of 600 tons, have been indicated, and there is the possibility that nearly 2,000,000 tons of ore are available above the 700-ft. horizon. Production will approximate $1,000,000 annually. Mr. Lang made the following statement:

"The new flotation-cyanidation mill, completed late in January, is now treating an average of 510 tons per day and it is anticipated that with further adjustments the daily average may be raised to approximately 540 tons. Millheads are estimated to range between .14 and .15 ozs. per ton milled, with April averaging .144 ozs. A considerable volume of mill feed has been drawn from the surface stock pile during the past three months and about 1,000 ozs. of gold have been absorbed in the mill circuit, thus affecting gold recovery during this period. Operating costs have been reduced below the previous estimate of $3.25 per ton and it is possible that costs may be reduced to, or below, $3 per ton. Such favorable costs are being secured under the direction of J. M. Cunningham-Dunlop, mine manager, and his staff which includes C. T. Penny, mine superintendent; George Mustard, chief engineer; L. J. Lichty, mill superintendent, and F. C. Sullivan, accountant.

"At the present rate of milling monthly production is estimated at between $75,000 and $80,000 per month, or an annual production of gold in the vicinity of $900,000 which is a substantial contribution to Canada's economic welfare. Operating profit is estimated at between $25,000 and $30,000 per month for May and future months.

"The company started production with 1,300,000 tons of indicated ore with a cut grade of .124 oz. per ton and an average width in excess of 40 feet. This tonnage is located above the 700-ft. horizon in the favourable conglomerate bed and is equal to six years' supply based on mining 600 tons per day. This tonnage might be increased to approximately 2,000,000 tons with a cut grade of .114 oz., by including a large volume of marginal material. About 10 per cent of the ore hoisted is removed at the sorting belt before going to the crushers, and this sorting operation may make it possible to mine profitably large tonnages of ore not now included in the indicated ore figure of 1,300,000 tons.

"The west drift on the 400-ft. level has been extended a distance of 175 feet since the first of the year with chip samples averaging .19 oz. and muck samples .14 oz. per ton. This drift is in the conglomerate bed located about three feet from the foot-wall, and the face is now about 50 ft. from the west boundary. The results in this drift indicate that a substantial tonnage may be added to the indicated ore figures referred to above. Later in the year development will be started in the block of ground between the 600 and 1,800-ft. levels where only a limited amount of development work has been completed. TEN YEARS AGO IN TIMMINS

From data in the Porcupine Advance Files

The regular meeting of the town council was held ten years ago; the regular day of meeting being a holiday, the meeting being held the following afternoon. Mayor Geo. E. Drew was in the chair and Councillors A. Caron, R. Richardson and J. Morrison were present. At the previous meeting of council some question had been raised as to the power of the town to forbid the sale of all but pasteurized milk in town and to require inspection of cattle for tuberculosis. The council at the suggestion of Councillors Chateaufort and Caron decided to secure legal opinion on the matter. A letter was read from A. C. Brown, barrister and solicitor, giving his opinion on the questions involved as asked by council. Mr. Brown's letter said he had carefully considered the by-law and he could see no reason why it should not be valid and enforceable, after it had been approved by the Minister of Agriculture as required by one section of the law. Mr. Brown quoted sections from the law to show the powers conferred upon the municipality in regard to the matters under question.

Each year it has been the practice of the Oddfellows to hold a district lodge of instruction with competition in degree work. This practice was carried out ten years ago with the lodge of instruction taking place for the District of Cochrane Oddfellows at Matheson on May 25th, 1931. There were four lodges competing for the Claude Morrison shield for proficiency in the work of the order. The competing lodges were:—Iroquois Falls, Timmins, South Porcupine, and Cochrane.

will be required to extend the development beyond the area in the immediate vicinity of the shaft."

Matheson lodge being the hosts for the occasion did not compete. Timmins Lodge, I.O.O.F. won the shield with 97 points out of 100.

In The Advance ten years ago:—"At police court this week in addition to the committal of Mike Skakoon for trial on a charge of murder and the setting of bail of his brother Nick Skakoon at $500.00 cash as material witness when the trial takes place, there were a number of other serious cases before the court."

A benefit dance held ten years ago in the McIntyre Recreation hall under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion proved without doubt the popularity of the organization and the generous support the public is ready to accord to the worthy cause for which the event was held. The purpose for which the proceeds from the benefit dance was planned was to assist the families of certain members of the Auxiliary in need.

The big feature of the weekly luncheon of the Timmins Kiwanis Club ten years ago was the address by Klwanian Reg. Smith, descriptive of his recent trip to the south by motor and of the Kiwanis International convention held at Miami, Florida. Members of the club agreed that the account of the convention was one of the best reports ever given to the club of a similar event and that it was both inspiring and interesting. In introducing the account of the Kiwanis convention the speaker briefly but interestingly described the trip down to Miami. He referred to the opening services of the convention as most impressive. He traced the general progress of the convention in very interesting and effective way, and showed how carefully and ably the event was planned and carried through.

How Cheon, a young Chinaman who had been some three years in Timmins, died ten years ago at St. Mary's Hospital as a result of gunshot injuries sustained. How Cheon and a friend, W. S. George, of the Prince of Wales hotel, went out near the cemetery to enjoy some target practice, taking a gun along with them. While humorously using the gun as a club for playing golf, How Cheon had the ill fortune to discharge the gun, receiving a nasty wound in the stomach. W. S. George, as soon as the accident happened, secured medical assistance and the injured man was promptly conveyed to St. Mary's Hospital for treatment. There the injuries received were found to be not quite so serious as at first expected. How Cheon at first did not appear to care much whether he lived or died. He did not follow out the instructions of doctors and nurses, and so was not considered a model patient. When not very closely watched he would attempt to interfere with the bandages around the injured part of the abdomen, and also he was inclined to get out of bed at every opportunity. A week before his death his condition developed into a serious situation and little hope was held for his recovery.

"At the preliminary hearing on Wednesday morning Mike Skakoon was committed for trial by a higher court on the charge of the murder of Mrs. Bernadette or Bernice Leake on the evening of May 20th at 114 Maple street north," said The Advance ten years ago. "The evidence submitted at the preliminary hearing was much the same as that outlined by witnesses at the inquest on Tuesday evening. The evidence included affidavits voluntarily taken and subscribed by Mike Skakoon himself, who at the inquest and at the preliminary hearing seemed anxious to tell all the details of the case. His brother also made a detailed statement to the police setting forth what he knew about it. This brother, Nick Skakoon, is held as a material witness in the case, bail being set at $500 cash or $1,000 property, which he has been unable to raise up to the time of writing."

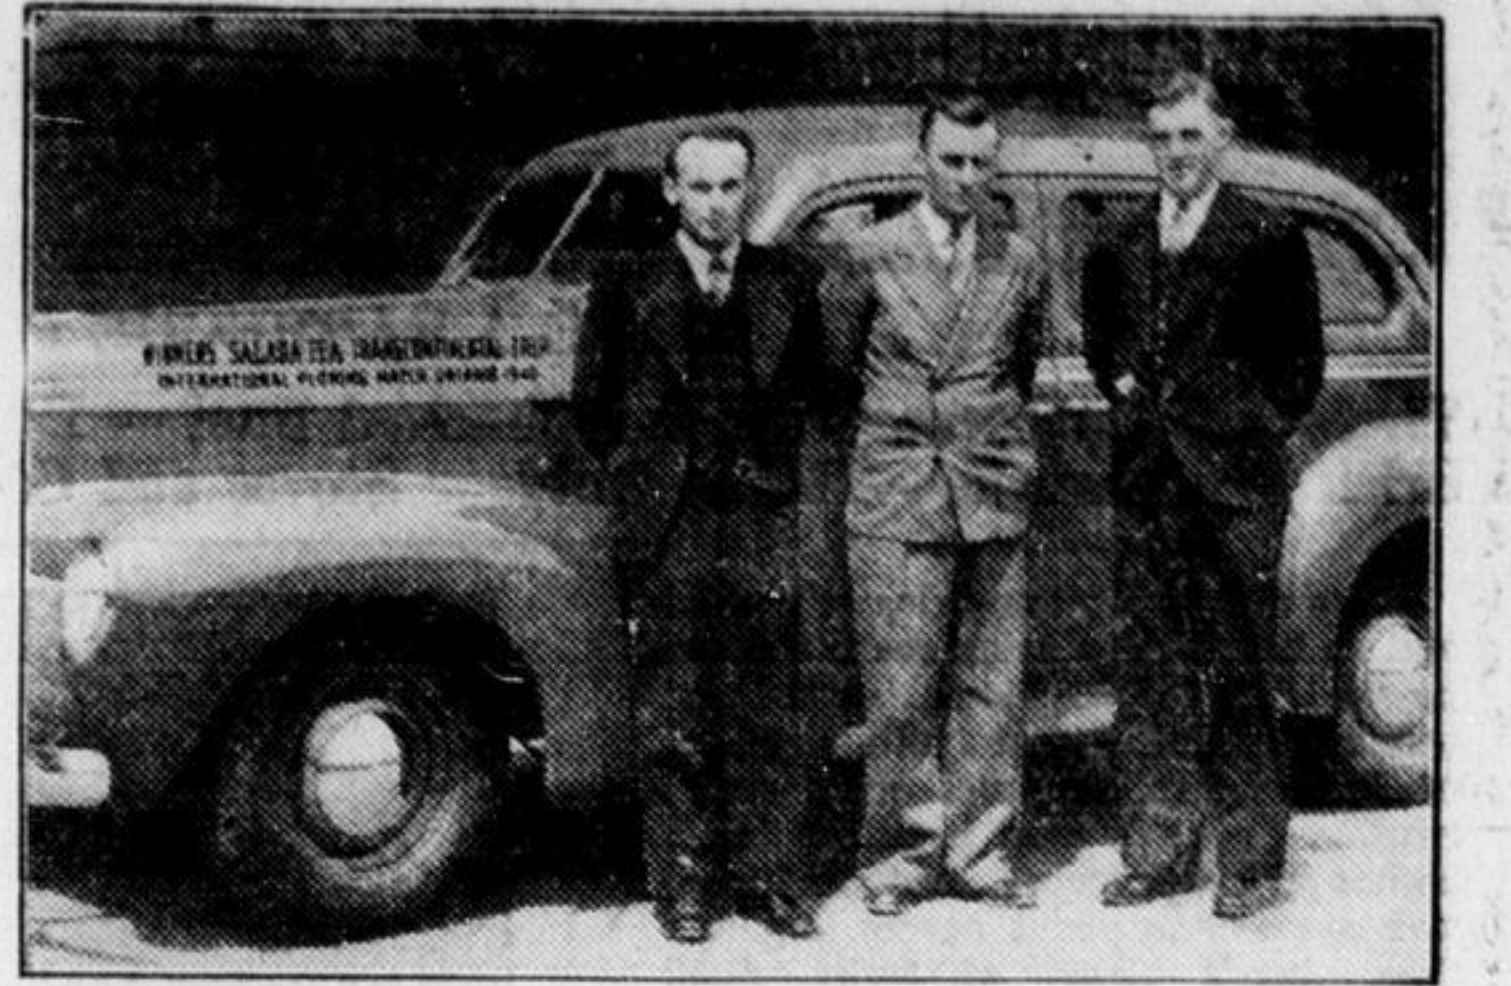

Local items in The Advance ten years ago included: "Miss Rutherford, now of Kirkland Lake High School staff, was a visitor to town during the holiday." "Mr. Chas. Reach was a visitor to Pembroke last week." "Mr. Arthur McGillivray, of Hamilton, Ont., was a Timmins visitor last week." "Miss Anne Scott is home from Toronto University for the summer vacation." "Mrs. H. Goudreau returned to her home at Smooth Rock Falls with her daughter, Georgette, after spending a two months' visit with her mother Mrs. C. Houle." "Mr. Delmar Chapell, manager of the Beauty Wash store in Timmins, returned last week after a short visit to the south." "Master Roland Houle left for Smooth Rock Falls on Saturday, May 23rd, to spend a few months with his sister, Mrs. Henry Goudreau."

THE IDEA!

Horace was sent to his room for taking forbidden cake from the cupboard. His mother, thinking to make his punishment more impressive, went to his room, and, after all was forgiven, said: "Now, Horace, what did I punish you for?" "Well, ma, I like that! I've been kept in bed all afternoon, and now you don't know what you did it for!" —Exchange.

TOP RANK PLOWMEN LEAVE ON "SALADA" TEA TRANSCONTINENTAL TRIP

The International Plowing Match held at St. Thomas last year set a new record in the number of entries and attendance. The most coveted prize offered was that for the special class sponsored by the Salada Tea Company and open to all horse plowmen in Jontier Plow sod classes, who had qualified at branch matches—a six weeks' motor trip to the west coast and back.

It is a coincidence that the trip, along with the gold and silver medals for first and second prizes in this class, was won by two neighbour plowmen, John Lister (left) and Harold Pickett (right) both of Hornby, Ontario. Their journey was planned under the guiding hand of J. A. Carroll, manager of the Ontario Plowmen's Association, and will take them to areas of agricultural interest in the United States and Canada from Toronto to Vancouver. Gordon McGavin (centre), another well-known plowman, of Walton, will accompany the winners as guide, companion and manager.

The trip should prove intensely interesting and of great educational value to these three lucky plowmen.

Noted Men Who Once Were Homeless Now Aid the Queen's Fund

Former Russians Organize Big Concert Tour of Canada.

Two former Russians who know what it means to lose one's home overnight are making a notable contribution to the Queen's Canadian Fund for Air Raid Victims.

They are Prince George Chavchavadze, the pianist, who has undertaken to give a series of recitals across Canada for the benefit of the fund, and Count Andrew Mouravieff, former foreign correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph and columnist on Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard who has given his services to organize the tour. Starting at Montreal on June 1, the tour has involved four months' preparation.

Both these young men lost their homes in the Russian revolution of 1917. Both made successful careers in London since then, and both witnessed the first effects of the bombing on the civilian population. Knowing from experience what it is to be suddenly homeless and penniless, the plight of the air raid victims made them determined to do what they could to help and the Queen's Fund was the answer to their plans.

The result is the tour which George Chavchavadze is now undertaking for the fund, which will enable Canadian music-lovers to hear one of Europe's greatest pianists whose engagements in Europe were always so numerous that he has been unable to accept any engagements in North America since he last played in Canada in 1927.

Concerts Raised $40,000. Last spring he cancelled all his European concerts on account of the war, and offered his services to the British Red Cross. He gave 25 concerts for that cause in England, the last of which was attended by members of the Royal family. At the end it was found that nearly $40,000 had been raised.

Hardly was this tour over when news came that the Nazis had occupied the Channel Islands and the Chavchavadzes had to abandon their home in the Island of Jersey. They sailed for America and settled in New Jersey. There they immediately set about helping Allied war work.

After giving three professional recitals which won him instant success in Boston, New York and Chicago, Chavchavadze resumed his charity work, and gave a concert to a packed hall in Philadelphia which resulted in nearly $1,500 being sent to Refugees of England. On May 11 he collaborated with Miss Lily Pons and Albert Spalding in a concert at Stamford which raised some $5,000 for Greek War Relief.

Worker For Refugees. Count Mouravieff's life has likewise always been closely connected with relief work. In the last war his parents presented a hospital for British officers to the British Government, which was equipped, run, and maintained by his mother.

After the Armistice he collaborated for fifteen years with his father in the relief of refugees in the South of France, and later worked with the International Red Cross and Tuberculosis Committees in Geneva. On the outbreak of war he helped raise money and relief for the Polish refugee camps in Hungary which he toured and inspected. Back in London first space in his column was always ready for any call of war charities.

Knowing the urgent necessity of the work for which the Queen's Fund is collecting money in this country, both offered their services and undertook all the arrangements for the tour at their own cost even before the Queen's Fund officially opened its appeal.

The concerts are scheduled to take place as follows:

- Montreal (His Majesty's Theatre June 1; Ottawa (Chateau Laurier) June 3; Toronto (Eaton's Auditorium) June 4; Winnipeg, June 9; Edmonton, June 12; Calgary, June 13; Banff, June 14; Vancouver, June 18. Victoria (Empress Hotel) June 20.

Contributions for the Queen's Fund may be sent to the Timmins Bombed Victims' Fund, or to the South Porcupine Bombed Victims' Fund, both these committees now working under the auspices of the Queen's Canadian Fund for war victims.
