Seeking for Co-operation of All the Prospectors

Mrs. MacMillan, of Toronto, one of the executive of the Ontario Prospectors and Developers Association, and wife of the president of the Association, is in Timmins this week and has been endeavouring to get ways and means for a general co-operation of the prospectors for their own welfare and the benefit of the country. Prospecting has declined to such a degree as to be alarming, and there is general belief that many of the reasons for this could be removed with all prospectors working together and presenting a solid front on vital questions. Mrs. MacMillan hopes to have branches of the association at all mining centres, with all working through the association to better conditions.

Chas. McCrea, in memory of his son, Dent, for essay on some ethical topic; silver medal for apologetics.

Importance of Proper Mowing of Lawn Maintenance

(Experimental Farms News)

The main objects in mowing a lawn are to improve its appearance and at the same time to encourage a dense, healthy turf. Many lawn owners not only fail to achieve these objects but also succeed in ruining their lawns by faulty mowing, states J. H. Boyce, Division of Forage Plants, Dominion Experimental Farms Service.

Height of cut is one of the most important considerations in mowing. The common lawn grasses will not withstand very close mowing. Even when maintained at moderately short heights ordinary lawn grasses suffer because of the continual defoliation and because the roots, which tend to maintain a balance with the amount of top growth, become restricted to the top few inches of soil, thus limiting their feeding range for plant food and moisture, and consequently reducing the ability of the turf to compete with weeds and to withstand heat and drought. If the grass is permitted to grow too long, on the other hand, a spindly growth is produced and a thin, open sward results.

It is recommended that ordinary lawns never be cut to a height of less than one inch. A height of 1½ to 2 inches is much to be preferred in most cases. This height encourages a dense, healthy turf, providing other maintenance practices are correct, and at the same time permits sufficient top and root growth to allow the leaves and roots to function properly. Higher mowing is particularly important in shady locations where decreased sunlight makes a larger amount of foliage desirable and on terraces where increased leafage and deeper root systems help to control soil erosion. The above recommendations concerning height of cut do not apply to bent grass lawns which require very close mowing and other special maintenance practices.

In order to secure best results, a regular mowing programme must be followed based on the amount of growth being produced rather than on a time schedule, as is so frequently the case. It is suggested that the grass be allowed to make not more than one inch of new growth between mowings. Thus mowing may be necessary twice or even three times a week during the spring, but may not be necessary oftener than once every ten days or two weeks during the warm months.

In the fall it is recommended that mowing be concluded at a time which will allow the grass to attain a height of 2 to 3 inches before growth ceases. In the spring it is desirable to permit the grass to make some new growth before mowing is started. This will permit the new roots which are being formed at this time to become well established. It is important that the mower be kept sharp at all times. Most lawn mowers, as a rule are set to cut too low. The height of cut can be adjusted by raising or lowering the rollers.

Mowing is one part of lawn maintenance which can be carefully controlled by the lawn owner, and since it has so much to do with the beauty, density and health of the turf, every attempt should be made to follow the desirable practices.

Canadian Army Men the Best Paid in the World

Ottawa—There's an old song sung by soldiers to the effect they'll never get rich in the army. But their chances are best if they wear a Canadian uniform. The department of national defence has statistics to show Dominion troops are the best paid in the world. Canadian soldiers get a basic pay of $40 per month. United States soldiers get a basic pay of $31 dollars. And, in England, the famous Tommies get roughly 80 cents a day.

In continental Europe, troops are in the ranks of sweated labour. On the basis of current exchange, a Nazi trooper gets something less than $7 per month. An Italian infantryman gives his services for $1.70 a month and the French soldier gets 50 cents per month. But in Turkey, the scale

Funeral Services for Lou Gehrig Held in New York

"Iron Horse" of New York Yankees Was Very Popular. Body Cremated.

Funeral services were held yesterday for Lou Gehrig in the same semi-privacy in which the great first baseman of New York Yankees battled disease for two years.

From many parts of the country messages of condolence poured into Gehrig's home and the offices of the ball club. Baseball notables arranged to be there for the last rites and fans who never had been closer to him than the bleachers of Yankee Stadium filed past his bier for one final look at the unforgettable "Iron Horse," who played 2,130 consecutive games in fourteen years.

A minute of silence in Gehrig's memory was observed at the National League games at the Polo Grounds and Ebbets Field, and flags on public buildings throughout New York City were lowered to half-staff at the direction of Mayor La Guardia.

Hundreds Pass Casket

Mourning was so general that arrangements were made for the public to view the body Tuesday afternoon and night instead of limiting this privilege to intimate friends. During the hours the casket was open, first at the Church of the Divine Paternity in Upper Manhattan and later at Christ Episcopal Church in the Riverdale section of the Bronx, hundreds of persons passed through.

They included residents of the neighbourhood, policemen, labourers, men and women from all walks of life, and nine boys fumbling baseball caps and gloves in awkward hands as they looked for the last time on an old hero. They were members of a class baseball team at the High School of Commerce where Gehrig himself began his sports career.

Let Us All Do Our Part to Hasten Victory and Peace

Day by day the hearthstones of Canada are protected by a wall of Britain's guns, ships and planes in the hands of men whose high morale commands the admiration of the world wherever there is civilization.

Day by day this wall must be bolstered—rebuilt. More ships—munitions of war—food—must go to Britain in ever-increasing measure—a great surplus to permit a British offensive—victory—peace!

War weapons must be bought with money—your money. Thanks to the workings of democracy you have money. It is good money. It will buy the essentials to victory.

Let Canada use some of your savings for a while! Invest now in priceless, unthreatened security for your home and all that you hold dear. Let's bring the enemy to his knees—soon! Invest to-day.

HOW MUCH IS FREEDOM WORTH?

That is a question every Canadian should ask to-day.

You are asked to buy Victory Bonds to speed the day of victory for our fighting forces.

Under our way of life, your investment in Victory Bonds is voluntary. Under totalitarian methods, there would be no such freedom.

Have you done enough? Think of what our men and women are doing, in the army, the navy, the air force and the nursing service. They have offered all, even life itself, to fight for our freedom from brutal aggression. LEND your money on the safest security—the Dominion of Canada itself. Buy all the bonds you can for cash, then sign up for more on the instalment plan.
