Astonishing Differences in Temperature Noted by South Porcupine Party

Days of Heat and Nights Near Freezing. At Bourlamaque Intense Heat, Then Ran Into Rain, Dry at Kirkland, Cold at South Porcupine, All in Few Hours. Other South Porcupine and Dome News.

South Porcupine, July 2—(Special to The Advance)—The versatility of our Northern climate has been on exhibition this week, when two days of moist sticky heat have been sandwiched in between two days (and nights) of almost freezing cold. A party returning from Val d'Or told us tonight that the following extraordinary conditions prevailed between Bourlamaque and South Porcupine within a space of a few hours. At Bourlamaque the heat was so intense that the sand was almost too hot to sit on. Starting for home, before they reached the Quebec border into Ontario a terrific storm broke and they ploughed through roads flowing with water like rivers. At Kirkland Lake there had been very little rain but the drop in temperature was so great that they almost expected snow. When South Porcupine was reached again the temperature had once more shot up to summer heat!

MODERNIZED RED ARMY MEETS PANZER UNITS

Meeting German panzer units in Russia is a modernized army which is said to have been completely revised as a result of the campaigns of France and the Low Countries last year. These campaigns showed the absolute necessity of rapid-firing light and medium artillery to resist tank and dive-bomber attacks, and demonstrated beyond all doubt the important part played by tanks in modern war. This is a recent photograph of a tank parade of a Red Army unit at manoeuvres.

Dome Field Day Again Proves Happy Successful Event

List of Prize Winners in the Various Events.

South Porcupine, July 2—(Special to The Advance)—The Dome Field Day, so anxiously awaited each year by the children and families of the Dome Mines employees, was held on Tuesday on the Dome football grounds, and was as usual, a grand success in spite of intermittent thunder showers.

Numbers upon numbers of "pop-sicles" and bottles of "pop" of every variety were given out to both children and grown-ups, and given with lavish hand. Some over-estimated their capacity, but very few went home without, for once, having had all of this holiday fare, that they could hold.

All prizes for the events were War Savings Stamps, and, due to the athletic ability of some of the sports contestants, a few reached the war-savings certificate standard.

Much amusement was caused by contestants in a pillow-fight, doing their stuff on an elevated pole; the precarious balance once lost, precipitating the loser into a canvas tank of water.

Trophies were presented in the afternoon to Betty Curboy and Bill Murphy who won them as the Junior Champions in the district tennis tournament. Mr. Doug Leitman made the presentations.
