Last night they were called to 38 Murdoch avenue to extinguish a car fire. Mr. M. Caswell had returned from a motoring trip shortly before four o'clock and had left his car for the night. Shortly after he left the car started to blaze and he called the firemen. Cause of the blaze is thought to have been a cigarette but. Firemen used the booster pump and the damage was estimated at about $200.

Last week eleven men left Timmins to join the Canadian Active Army. The men all left on Monday, Tuesday and Saturday nights, with most of them going to Toronto and one going to Camp Shilo to join the Algonquin Regiment and one going to Noranda to join the Royal Canadian Engineers.

On Tuesday Henry K. Matson left for Toronto where he will be attached to the branch of the Army that he wants to join. On Monday George Albert Lacombe left for Camp Shilo in Manitoba where he will join the Algonquin Regiment First Battalion.

Eight more men left on Monday night to join the active army in Toronto. The eight men were: David Thomas Ball, Armand Berry, John Cameron, John A. Dicker, Herbert W. Evans, Lionel J. Finn, James J. Wakeford, and Richard Wadson.

Medical boards are still being held at the Armouries every Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings at ten-thirty. Recruits are examined and sent to Toronto immediately from here.

A large number of men are needed to fill the ranks in the First Battalion of the Algonquin Regiment and a lot more men are needed to form a new Royal Canadian Engineers company. The R.C.E. want to recruit an entire company from Northern Ontario and still need most of the 196 men required.

HIGHEST GERMAN GENERALS COME UNDER GESTAPO SHADOW

Reports of a shake-up among Nazi generals over the campaign in eastern Europe are becoming more persistent and according to the latest reports General Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch, commander-in-chief of the German armies shown (Left) with an officer and General Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel (Right), chief of the supreme command of the German army, have been relegated to the background because of the poor progress made by the German forces in Russia during the first 10 days of the campaign. Recently it was reported from Moscow that Hermann Goering had been removed from command of the German air force because of a difference with Hitler over the Russian invasion.

Do You Know What the Local Red Cross is Doing These Days?

Take a Look at the Displays in the Windows of the Store at 16 Pine Street N.

How many people realize just what is being accomplished by the local Red Cross workers—any local Red Cross? Reading that over 600 articles were made by the Timmins Red Cross in June, for example, does not give a graphic picture of the facts. But look in the windows of the store at 16 Pine street north, and see the actual articles on display there, and it should be easy to visualize something of the immense quantity of work turned out by the Timmins Red Cross each month. The articles in the display are all perfect examples of workmanship and prove that in knitting and sewing there is a large group of workers who literally "deliver the goods."

Socks, mitts, scarves, slippers, sweaters, pyjamas, bed jackets, pneumonia jackets, seamen's stockings, and clothing for boys and girls are included in the display. The quality of these articles is as impressive as the number turned out each month. Each month the local Red Cross has reached its quota. It is understood that the quotas for next month and for succeeding months will be larger. This means that more workers will be needed. The displays should be the best advertisement for further helpers for the local Red Cross.

It is apparent that in the past the local Red Cross has been doing an excellent job. Accordingly, it is worthy of the fullest support, and one way that this support can be shown is by any who can give any further help that they can to the workers. It may also be noted that the displays also should have the effect of increasing interest among those whose help the Red Cross is through donations.

If you haven't inspected the windows at 16 Pine street north it would be well worth your while to do so the first time you are near them.

Police Charge Five With Disorderly Conduct Saturday

Most of the Charges Were Laid as Result of Fighting on the Street.

Timmins police laid five charges of disorderly conduct against Timmins men over the weekend. Most of the charges were laid as a result of fighting on the streets while one of them was for using foul language and making unnecessary noise late at night. Two ordinary drunks were also lodged in the cells after imbibing too freely.

One man was charged with having wine in a public place. Police are alleged to have caught him on the street with an open bottle of wine.

One Timmins motorist is facing a charge of operating a car without the required lights. Police say that he had only one headlight and had no tail-light. A local firm was charged with having a truck with defective brakes. Police say that they stopped the truck after it had been parked on Sixth avenue and had then started to move with nobody in it. The truck crashed into a Sixth avenue fence and then the brakes were tested and found to be in poor shape.

Meager official statements from the Russian war front, indicated that the Russians are still holding the Germans all along the line. These reports were today supplemented by military reports which indicated that at many points along the eastern front the war had become one of position in which the Russians had consolidated trench lines and were counter-attacking quite successfully.

It was also indicated at the same time that the guerrilla tactics of the Russians behind the German lines were becoming a dangerous threat to the German communications. With the war thirty-seven days old confidence seems to be rising among the Russian leaders and the Russian people and the position all along the home front seems to be becoming stronger.

From London it was reported this morning that the German bombers had visited London last night for the first time in a month. The report is that little damage was done and the casualties were few.

German and Russian war news was more or less crowded off the front pages today by the news from Japan. Persistent reports were circulated in diplomatic quarters today that Japanese troops had been landed on the coast of Cambodia, the southwest part of French Indo-China, adjoining Thailand.

Japanese authorities refused to comment on that move but it was generally believed that Japanese military trucks rumbled through Saigon, this morning and it was expected that the occupation of southeastern French Indo-China would be practically completed by tomorrow.

The Yokohama Silk Exchange remained closed today after silk and cotton interests had conferred in the great industrial centre of Osaka. Tokyo police had to order women to stop queuing in front of the food stores.

American assets in Japan were frozen on Saturday, the order becoming effective today, and today the Japanese government announced that they were also imposing freezing regulations against Great Britain, and Northern Ireland. It was assumed that these freezing regulations were also to become effective today.

From Batavia, the Netherlands East Indies government announced today that they were freezing all Japanese assets and also announced the discontinuance of foreign exchange traffic with Japan. All future exports to Japan, Manchukuo, China and French Indo-China were ordered to be subject to special government license.

Eight Boys Stage Patriotic Bazaar for Bomb Victims

Young Lads Contribute $8.50 to Fund

Proceeds amounting to eight dollars and fifty cents, will be donated to the Bombed Victims Fund by eight boys who held a Patriotic Fair on Saturday afternoon at 167 Hemlock street. The boys are Bob, Bill, and Garry Goodings, Edward Day, Donald and David Hindson, Barry Ormston, and Allan McInnis, lads who live in the same residential section, and who combined talent and hard work to provide an artistic background for their sale of candy and lemonade.

Posters adorned the home fence to attract passersby to the event, while flags were draped over the porch, and bunting completed the setting. Red, white and blue were also used in the table decorations, and games such as darts, bean bags, ring tossing, and "keno" added to the attractions.

A jar of strawberry jam, donated by Mrs. Hall, public health nurse, was won by Harold Monahan as the prize in a bean-guessing contest, while a black-cat tea pot became the property of Miss Newsome of Brantford, as the result of a raffle.

In keeping with the Victory spirit, the lads who arranged and carried through the event, wore "V's" in their white caps, showing that from the youngest to the oldest in Canada are certain of the victory which will soon come to the British Empire.

Homemade candy and other articles for the event were prepared by the mothers of the boys, while Mr. Urquhart donated candy and limes to add to the greater success of the first Patriotic Fair to be given by Timmins youngsters.
