Captain Smith was one of the finest of men, a real Christian gentleman and esteemed and thoroughly liked by all who knew him here.

His tragic end is mourned by us, and deep sympathy is extended to Mrs. Smith and daughter, and the hero's mother Mrs. Smith, of Toronto.

It was only in March of 1941 that Captain Smith joined the Atlantic Ferry organization that handles the flight of bombers to Britain. He had made four successful bomber flights before this last, which cost him his life.

He was a veteran of the last world war, and was well known in Canadian flying circles. His name was associated with many "mercy flights" in this North Country when he resided here.

Mrs. Smith's present address is 6 Cornwall Ave. (Apt. 6) Town of Mount Royal, Quebec.
