

AT THE LOCAL THEATRES

THAT'S NO LADY

That's Bob Hope, just trying on a snappy little frilly number (heh, heh) for size, and getting the ha-ha from Paulette Goddard. This is just a sample of the things that go on (and off) in "Nothing But the Truth," new Paramount comedy at the Palace theatre, Thursday, Friday, Friday midnight and Saturday, Nov. 27th, 28th and 29th.

New Hilarity High Hit in "Nothing But the Truth" Comedy

New Paramount Picture Adds to Gaiety of Nations.

The feature at the Palace theatre this evening, Friday, Friday midnight and Saturday, Nov. 27th, 28th and 29th, is Paramount's delightful new film, "Nothing But the Truth." Here is what one reviewer has said about it:—
"To the accompaniment of some of the most resounding laughs it has ever been this reviewer's good fortune to hear, Paramount's new contribution to the gaiety of the nation, "Nothing But the Truth," opened last night, starring that master of merriment, Bob Hope, and beautiful Paulette Goddard, one of the more welcome of the lovely and talented screen visions.
"Last night's audience nearly laughed it's head off, as Hope pitched out gag after gag in some of the funniest situations he has found himself in on the screen to date. There are few comedians who have Hope's ability to build up a gag and then deliver it, with such a deflating effect. In "Nothing But the Truth" he is in top form.
"As if the players were inspiring each other, the entire cast turned in performances that hit exactly the right comedy note, making the whole a brilliant, speedy, zesty and delightful farce. Directed by Elliott Nugent, who can be given much of the credit for the film's swift tempo, "Nothing But the Truth" features in its first-rate supporting cast Edward Arnold, Leif Erickson, Helen Vion, Catharine Doucet, Glen Anders, Grant Mitchell, Ross Hobart and Willis Best.
"The story hinges on a bet that Hope, as a professional, makes with his two partners, Edward Arnold and Glenn Anders, and one of their clients, Leif Erickson, that he can tell the truth for twenty-four hours.
"With most of the action taking place on a houseboat, Hope delivers wave after wave of laughs, as he goes about the merry business of telling the truth to people's faces and the truth about his private life.
"It's all grand, sparkling fun. A perfectly swell time is assured you."

Martha Scott's New Role is Her Greatest

"They Dare Not Love" on Double Feature Program with "Ice-Capades."

Martha Scott, glowing star of "Our Town," "Cheers for Miss Bishop" and "The Howards of Virginia," makes her fourth appearance on the screen in Columbia's "They Dare Not Love," which will be on the double feature programme at the Cartier theatre on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, Nov. 27th, 28th and 29th, with George Brent co-starring. The other picture is "Ice-Capades," with Dorothy Lewis starring. Romance of two heroic lovers whose hearts beat to the terrifying tempo of a world in upheaval, "They Dare Not Love" is a superbly told story of today, set against a background of daring drama, astounding action and startling suspense.
As young refugees exiled from a continent in flames, Brent and Miss Scott appear to brilliant advantage in this breath-taking new story of a romance which would not be crushed by terror, which could not be destroyed by hate or divided by oceans. Tragic, never-to-be-forgotten lovers, their lives blighted by the ruthless arm of terror, their hearts welded in the fires destroying their homeland, the co-stars have never before been seen in so rapturous and so splendid a story. "They Dare Not Love" reaches a poignant, heart-stirring conclusion, imbued with a dignity and a meaning so startling that it is certain to win thrills and tears and pounding hearts.
In addition to the principals, "They Dare Not Love" possesses an important cast of supporting players, with Paul Lukas notably to be seen as the nemesis of the lovers, a suave, cold-blooded foe whose vindictiveness comes from within himself. In sharp contrast, there is Roman Bohren, seen as his colleague, who harasses the lovers because he is ordered to do so and not, as in Lukas' case, because he actually wants to do so. Kay Linaker is splendidly seen as the wealthy young American who wants to marry Brent, third Austrian refugee, and doesn't mind admitting it. Others in the cast are Edgar Barrier, Egon

Weekly Police Court is Completed in Less Than Forty Minutes Tuesday

Most of the Police Officers Away in Cochrane Attending the General Sessions. Only Five Cases Present Any Evidence. Most Cases Are Remanded.

Tuesday afternoon's police court this week was one of the shortest courts held in Timmins for a long time. Outside of the court day on November 11th, Remembrance Day, it was probably the shortest held here for more than a year. Only five cases were argued before Magistrate Atkinson and each of them were cut down to a minimum.
One man, Walter Kalapaca, charged along with ten other men with gambling on the Lord's Day pleaded not guilty, although the other ten men all pleaded guilty and paid fines of ten and fifteen dollars each, and he was given the benefit of the doubt before any evidence was taken. The chief of police said that there wasn't sufficient evidence to offer against the man so the magistrate dismissed the charge.
Nine of the other ten men who were charged paid fines of ten dollars and the tenth man paid fifteen dollars as a second offender on the same charge.
Another man who was asked to stand up and plead in his case was Leo Lapointe. He was charged with the theft of some clothing from a roomer at the Riverview Hotel on November 8th. The complainants, Germain Bellemere and Henri Louis Caron, failed to appear in court, so the magistrate withdrew the charge and will allow the crown to proceed with the charge if the complainants can be found. It appeared that the complainants had approached the crown attorney and explained to him that they were in financial difficulties and would have to go to work in the bush in the near future. The case has been remanded for two weeks now and the crown intimates that the men had returned to their jobs in the bush.

Jack Babineau was charged by Mrs. Carmel Trafford, with common assault. The magistrate listened to some evidence in the case and then dismissed the man. The case hung on the testimony of the bar-tender in the hotel where the assault was alleged to have taken place. He was unable to say for certain which of the two persons had struck the first blow, so Magistrate Atkinson dismissed the charge saying that the bar-tender was an independent witness and both of the witnesses had different stories to tell.
A local man appeared in court to answer a charge of non-support that was laid by his wife. The wife took testimony of the bar-tender in the hotel where the assault was alleged to have taken place. He was unable to say for certain which of the two persons had struck the first blow, so Magistrate Atkinson dismissed the charge saying that the bar-tender was an independent witness and both of the witnesses had different stories to tell.

During cross-examination the woman admitted that her brother has been living with them for a short while and her husband had a dislike for him and told him to get out. In answer to a question from Magistrate Atkinson, she said that she was quite willing to return to her husband and live with him but he wouldn't have her in the house. When the husband agreed to take her back and said that he had been willing to take her back ever since she left, the magistrate adjourned the hearing, telling the couple that they must remember that marriage is a give and take proposition and that they mustn't run into court every time they have a disagreement.
A further remand was granted in the case of breaking entering and theft, Jerry McNulty, of Timmins. McNulty was arrested last Tuesday and charged with breaking into the Central Grocery and stealing almost four hundred dollars worth of cigarettes. He was arrested shortly before court last week and the crown asked for a remand at that time so that the investigation could be completed. This week they again asked for a remand because the police officers that were connected with the case were attending the general sessions in Cochrane. The accused is out on bail.
Alexander Leblond, Roland Arbic and Leo Larose, all charged with receiving stolen goods in the same case, were also remanded for a week. Defence counsel for Larose and Arbic asked if he could get copies of statements that the two men were supposed to have made and the crown agreed to supply him with the statements. They are also out on bail.
Eddy Lamonte, charged with assaulting Charles C. Young, proprietor of the Star Cafe, pleaded guilty and paid a fine of ten dollars and costs.
A local accountant, appeared in court to answer a charge laid under the Income Tax Act and he promised to have a statement prepared for next week. He was reminded by the bench that the statement would have to be completed next week or action would be taken in the charge. He promised to have it finished and said that he was working on the statement now.

Profits Show Little Change
After payment of Dominion Government taxes amounting to $2,242,905, the profits for the year were $3,437,026, being approximately in the same figures as last year. The amount represents a return on the shareholders' equity of 4.51 per cent. After payment of the customary dividend there remained a surplus of $57,026 to be carried forward to balance of profit and loss account.

Country Fairs to Broadway by the Ice-Skates Route

From Minnesota county fairs to the swankies of New York dancing rendezvous in one glide of her nimble skates—that is the career of petite Dorothy Lewis, ice skating star of Republic's "Ice-Capades," on the double feature programme at the Cartier theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday this week, Nov. 27th, 28th and 29th, with Martha Scott in "They Dare Not Love."
Dorothy owes her rise to no less a personage than Vincent Astor, New York socialite who owns the St. Regis hotel. When he saw Dorothy performing at the International Casino, he became interested in featuring a revue on ice in the hotel's ultra-swank Iridium Room, and asked Dorothy to be the star.
Thereupon began an engagement rare in the annals of New York entertainment. Booked for an indefinite stay, the youthful skating beauty proved such a magnet with cafe society patrons that she starred for an entire year at the Iridium Room. After a brief vacation, Astor brought her back and she continued for two more record-breaking years at the St. Regis.
In that time Dorothy became the toast of columnists and public alike and was apparently set to become a fixture at the Iridium Room until Republic signed her to a term contract and brought her to Hollywood to star in "Ice-Capades."

Bank of Montreal Participating in War Financing

Annual Report Shows Loans Up $42,000,000. Strong Liquid Position Shown.

The extent to which the Bank of Montreal is participating in the wartime activity of industry and commerce through its branches in every part of the Dominion is impressively exemplified by its annual statement, issued today, which reveals operations during the past year that in volume are at the highest levels in the history of the institution.
The Bank's resources at October 31st last, the end of its financial year, are shown at $1,046,551,000, which is an increase of $85,216,000 over last year, the total assets being the highest shown in any annual statement of the bank in its 124 years of operation. As against these resources, the liabilities to the public stand at $980,645,000, leaving an excess over such liabilities of $76,906,000 which represents the shareholders' equity. How strongly the bank is entrenched in respect to meeting contingencies is further shown by the total of its quickly available assets, which at $705,662,000, an increase of $42,476,000 as compared with last year, are equal to 73 per cent of all liabilities to the public.
The statement, which is published in another column, is in the "easy understandable" form which it has been the bank's practice in recent years to present to the public. This year, the explanatory notes which accompany the various totals contain additional information. Thus, instead of merely giving the totals of the deposits and commercial and other loans, these items are accompanied by tabulations showing the totals for Canada and the totals for elsewhere.
Large Increase in Deposits
The deposits this year reach the large total of $923,387,000, an increase over last year of $79,522,000, and of the total, $809,110,000 are in Canada and $119,277,000 elsewhere.
In financing the expanding operations of manufacturers, farmers, merchants and others, the trend of the bank's commercial and other loans continues upward. The total of such loans, at $275,696,000, is an advance over last year's figures of $42,138,000. Of the total loans $254,427,000 are in

Licenses Must be Secured Before Next Monday

Ottawa, Canada—More than 100,000 Canadian businessmen who manufacture or deal in food, feeds, livestock, poultry, cloth, yarn, clothing, millinery and footwear have now been supplied with license identification cards and window license certificates, according to an announcement made by G. R. Murphy, Director of Licensing under the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.
"Almost 110,000 persons and firms have sent in their license application," added Mr. Murphy, "and thousands more are being received daily. After November 30, no unlicensed businessman will be able to buy supplies of any of these listed commodities for resale."
"License application forms are available from post offices or by writing to the Regional Director of Licensing at Vancouver, Edmonton, Regina, Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal, St. John, Halifax, or Charlottetown," he added.
Replying to an inquiry on the carrying of license numbers on sales slips, the Director of Licensing pointed out that all milk, bread, or soft drink deliveries and other persons maintaining a wholesale delivery service to retail stores or eating places must record each sale of any of the listed commodities on a sales slip or invoice. "This document, must carry the license number of both seller and buyer," Mr. Murphy concluded, "and must be kept available for inspection by an official of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board."

THE CAT CAME BACK
Nuwedd, a newcomer to the suburb, looked dazed and weary. His neighbor inquired the reason. "My wife," said Nuwedd hoarsely, "told me to take our old tom-cat out and lose it. So I put the beastly thing in a basket and tramped into the country for about six miles." He paused for breath. "Well," put in the neighbor, "did you lose it?" "Lose it!" gasped Nuwedd. "If I hadn't followed it, I'd never have found my way home again!"—From "Smiles."
