Other News from South Porcupine and the Dome.

South Porcupine, Dec. 3rd. Special to The Advance. The Porcupine Hockey Club sponsored a very successful carnival last Wednesday night at the Arena. Although those in costume were not as many as usual the crowd was a good one, and the sports, etc., met with unanimous approval. Mr. A. Ewing won the lucky door-prize ($25) and four other prizes were given as door prizes instead of costume prizes. Mrs. Tonnoff won second prize ($15), and Johnny Rayner third ($10). Two other donated prizes went to R. Young and Mrs. Parkoff. In a broomball game between South End and Schumacher Fire Departments which caused much fun, Schumacher came off victorious. As a clown, Rolly Richer proved to be all the fun of the fair. He was most apt and his efforts to amuse were appreciated.

A hockey game—ladies vs. men (the latter hampered by skirts) caused much merriment, the gentlemen winning 2-1. In a relay race (Ankerite vs. Dome) Ankerite proved the winner. Mr. O. Miss Mary Kemsley in Highland Costume was winner of the Fancy dress prize. The committee wish to thank all patrons and especially those who were good enough to donate prizes.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. J. Barron, that their son, Pte. Walter Barron, of the R. C. D. 1st Armoured Car Regt., has arrived safely with the latest contingent in Britain. An odd co-incidence was brought to our notice this week. Mrs. Barron has been knitting socks for soldiers with the Eastern Star Patriotic Knit ladies in South Porcupine. These knitted articles are sent to Eastern Star Headquarters in Toronto before being despatched to Great Britain where Mrs. Vincent Massey is in charge of distribution. The Eastern Star have made the Canadian Engineers their special proteges, and Mrs. Barron was surprised to receive a letter of thanks for her socks from Sgt. J. C. Taylor in England. He had read the little note which Mrs. Barron had tucked into the socks and told her he had enlisted for war service from South Porcupine.

Bill Mazig was dismissed after hearing on a charge of attempted arson. His landlady averred that he set fire to bed and bed clothing deliberately. All witnesses were excluded from the courtroom during the hearing of evidence. The proprietress of a boarding house at 124 Golden avenue testified that Mazig boarded with 30 others in her house. Some trouble over non-payment of his board bill which she said was "steady behind" led up to the present charge. She came back after being out to find the lock broken on her door and accused (who had been out when she locked the door) in her kitchen. He had stripped the table of crockery and thrown it in the garbage. Smoke led her to a bedroom where she discovered the fire smouldering. She put it out with water and called the police. Sergeant Douglas testified that he had responded, had been shown the burnt clothes and had been It was a clumsy attempt to set the house on fire and might have been caused by throwing a lighted cigarette on the bed. Defendant denied setting fire to the bed. Witnesses called failed to give conclusive evidence as to Mazig's guilt so his worship dismissed the case.

A Bonhomme charged with parking an unlighted truck on the travelled portion of highway in German town-ship pleaded not guilty. A Mason, driving a car with two witnesses in it on the evening in question, ran into the truck, causing damage to his car—the rear end slewing round on the slippery road as he tried to avoid the truck. Mist and darkness made visibility poor. The truck was stopped owing to lighting trouble and the driver was trying to fix a connection when the accident occurred. Magistrate
