Piano Recital at South Porcupine Outstanding Event

South Porcupine, Dec. 3.—(Special to The Advance)—The Kiwanis hall was the scene tonight, of one of the finest recitals of piano music by local people that your correspondent has attended in South Porcupine.

The proceeds are to be given to the Bomb Victims' Fund, and we were glad to see a well filled hall. The applause given to each number was the cause of many encores.

It is not fair to single any performer out for special mention. All were good and many played very beautifully, with precision, expression and correct touch, but all showed the clever training of an expert teacher.

Mrs. Stanlake, Mrs. Bessette and her daughter, and Mr. Hunkin, varied the programme and all were in fine voice—and all encores.

MUSSOLINI CHEERS UP

Mussolini held a meeting with his fellow-gangsters to discuss finance, but at the appointed time the minister of finance was missing, so they started without him.

"Gentlemen," said Mussolini, "our investments abroad have been dropped badly since we declared war. The first month we lost $50,000,000, the second month we lost $100,000,000, the third month $200,000,000, the fourth month $300,000,000, and last month $500,000,000."

"At this point the minister of finance entered. "Where have you been?" demanded Mussolini.

"I've been playing dice," said the minister. "I won five bob."

"Hooray," said Mussolini, "I knew our luck would change some day."—Kamloops Sentinel.

Extra Extra Extra SANTA CLAUSE TELLS SECRET OF SUCCESS

NORTH POLE, Dec. 1.—Santa Claus, well-known world traveller, in an exclusive interview here says he always drinks Milk before his annual trip. He claims it gives him the energy he needs to keep on schedule. As to your reporter's query on how he started drinking milk, Santa gladly volunteered the information. It seems while going through Timmins a few years ago, the manager of the Timmins Dairy invited him in for refreshments. Santa liked the milk that was served so well that he brought some back to the Pole. His helpers, after tasting it, threatened to strike unless a daily ration was included in their closed shop agreement. Santa finally solved the problem by having Timmins Dairy deliver fresh milk daily just as it is delivered to you.
