-:- From Every Spire on Christmas Eve -:-

The real message of Christmas is effectively expressed in this beautiful lyric by Eleanor A. Hunter.

From every spire on Christmas Eve,
 The Christmas bells ring clearly out
 Their message of good-will and peace,
 With many a call and silver shout.

For faithful hearts, the angels' song
 Still echoes in the frosty air,
 And by the altar low they bow,
 In adoration and in prayer.

A thousand blessed memories throng,
 The stars are holy signs to them;
 And from the eyes of every child,
 Looks forth the Babe of Bethlehem.

But there are others, not like these,
 Whose brows, are sad, whose hopes are crossed;
 To whom the season brings no cheer,
 And life's most gracious charm is lost.

To whom that story, old and sweet,
 Is but a fable at the best;
 The Christmas mocks their ears
 And life has naught of joy or rest.

Oh, for an angel's voice to pierce
 The clouds of grief that o'er them rise;
 The mists of doubt and unbelief
 That veil the blue off Christmas skies.

Hope of the ages, draw Thou near,
 Till all the earth shall own Thy sway!
 And when Thou reign'st in every heart,
 It will, indeed, be Christmas Day.

There are many elaborate ways in which we might express our wishes for a good Christmas and a Happy New Year, but we prefer the old fashioned "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."
