Schumacher, March 19—(Special to The Advance)—It was with deep regret that word was received here on Monday of the death of Mrs. William Leck, McIntyre Property, Schumacher. Mrs. Leck passed away Monday afternoon at five o'clock in the Toronto General hospital. A few weeks ago Mrs. Leck was taken ill and was operated on for gall bladder trouble at St. Mary's hospital. She was apparently making good recovery and was conversing at her home in Schumacher when complications set in and she had to return to St. Mary's hospital. On Friday it was decided to take her to Toronto General hospital, where she passed away on Monday.

The late Mrs. Leck was a valued resident of Schumacher for the past nineteen years. She was held in the highest esteem by a wide circle of friends. An ardent church worker for Trinity United Church, she will be much missed. At the time of death she was 49 years of age.

She is survived by her husband, twin sons, George, of Larder Lake and Tom of Schumacher, and five daughters, Evelyn (Mrs. E. Sayers), Beatrice (Mrs. W. Mail), Dorothy (accountant at The Advance office), Marion and Ethel. Deepest sympathy is extended to the husband and family in their bereavement.

The members discussed plans for carrying on the club clinic work in supplying toothbrushes for children, and arrangements were made for a telephone bridge to take place some time in May.

Tea and sandwiches were served after the meeting.

Some Stories

A RUT

Feldenstein was walking around the office with an extremely worried expression on his face.

"What's wrong with you?" asked his partner, "family trouble?"

Feldenstein paced the room nervously. "No, it isn't that, it's something else and I just can't explain it."

His partner lit a cigar. "Stop talking nonsense, man," he advised.

"You're in a good position. For the past fifteen years you have been making twenty thousand a year."

"Now you've hit it," replied Feldenstein. "Don't you see how terrible it is. I'm in a rut!"—Canadian Lumberman.

HIS ANSWER

It's funny how stories cluster around the names of prominent people. They go on cycles. Years ago, for instance, Henry Ford got a lot of free publicity out of the Ford stories.

Time was when everyone had a new Mae West story, or, later on, a Roosevelt story.

Right now, in Canada, we're hearing a cycle of stories about Prime Minister King, circulated chiefly by folks who don't think Canada's war effort is what it should be.

There's that one, for instance, about the Riverside drive couple of dual nationality, and there trouble in getting their son and heir out of bed and off to school in the morning.

"Goodness!" complained mother. "If Johnny doesn't wake up he can never hope to be president."

"Aw," replied father, "let him sleep—he can still be prime minister."—Sudbury Star.

A NEW VERSION

"My young nephew Roland's father has bought a cow, and when I saw Roland a couple of days ago I said: 'Does your cow give much milk?'"

"She doesn't give it," he told me. "You've got to sort of take it away from her."—Nothing Serious.

GOOD REASON

"There was a crowd at the town hall last night," said the oldest inhabitant to his wife.

"Something special on?" asked his better half.

"Oh, yes! It was burned down," was the reply.—Globe and Mail.

JUST SUPPOSIN'

Wealthy father (discussing son's education): "Don't bother to teach him to count over 100—after all he can get an accountant to do all the necessary figuring."

Teacher: "Yes, but suppose he wants to play golf?"—Sudbury Star.

NO VULGAR HASTE

Mr. Henpeck: "Doctor, my wife's dislocated her jaw. If you're passing out our way sometime next week or the week after, you might drop in and see her."—Powassan News.

TOO SOON TO SAY!

"Hello," cried young Mr. Newlywed, entering the kitchen. "Making some bread, eh? Or maybe it's a cake?"

"Oh, dear, I don't know," replied the bride with a despairing frown. "I haven't finished yet."

Kirkland Lake Planning War Work in Mine Shops

Last week mine managers, together with mechanical heads, were in consultation with Southern Ontario machinery firms with the view of arranging for the utilization as far as possible of mine machine shops for war work. It is expected that satisfactory plans have been made for this. In addition to the satisfaction the people of Kirkland Lake will have in being able to further help in war work, it is believed that the plans will help secure employment for the greater part of those still unemployed because of the curtailment of operations due to the recent mine strike.

Wrong Address Given in High-Grade Case Last Week

In the report of the search of a house last week for high-grade the Advance gave the address as 118 Birch street south. Mr. Appleby resides at this address and has called the attention of The Advance to the fact that his house is not the address of anyone named Kraljick, nor has his place been searched for high-grade. Investigation shows that while the address given by the police was 118 Birch street south, the place searched was 118 Balsam street south, the error occurring from a confusion of street names. The Advance regrets any annoyance caused to Mr. Appleby by the improper use of his address which was purely accidental.

Farewell Party at South Porcupine to Mrs. E. Smith

South Porcupine, March 18th. Special to The Advance.

BANKRUPTCY

"What is bankruptcy, Pa?"

"Bankruptcy, my son, is when you put your money in your hip pocket, and then let your creditors take your coat."—Canada Lumberman.

ASSEMBLY (Clara Lindross)

Assembly opened with the reading of Psalm 34 by Mr. Murray. This was followed by the "Lord's Prayer", and "God Save the King."

Mr. Murray made a few complimentary remarks about "Grumpy", the school play which was put on last week and he also complimented the students and teachers who took part in presenting it.

Mr. Murray reminded us that we could do our bit toward the war effort by saving papers and rags and also by giving all empty milk bottles back to the dairy.

Joyce Service gave a very interesting talk on the Europe of 1914.

A community sing-song followed the talk. We sang "We're Proud of Canada," "Deep in the Heart of Texas," "Till Reveille," "Long, Long Ago," "Oh, dem Golden Slippers," "All for One and One for All," and closing as usual with "O Canada."

A CURIOUS DREAM (By Archie Gianunzio C4)

While I was asleep, one night, I found myself on board a beautiful ship sailing toward an island called: "Heaven on Earth." I did not believe that there existed such a place, but the other passengers on the ship insisted that it was far away.

As we approached the shore, I was amazed to see some strange trees full of many varieties of shining fruits which reflected the sun as if they were crystals. When I set foot on land, another surprise was awaiting me—the streets of the city were paved with glass, and as I walked along, I could see my image and the blue sky reflected beneath my feet.

On both sides of the street were rows of lovely trees in whose shade people were enjoying delicious meals which were served on marble tables by lovely looking girls dressed in white robes. As I looked at these foods it made my mouth water. Finally I was invited to join a party which I readily did.

While chatting with them I became acquainted with a lovely looking blonde girl whom I asked for a ride on one of those streamlined cars parked along the side of the street at anybody's disposal. She accepted the invitation and in a few moments we were off for the main street of the city.

When we got there, I saw things which human imagination cannot describe. The air was filled with sweet music; on both sides of the street there were beautiful parks in which many people were amusing themselves with many varieties of games. Overhead birds of many colours were singing sweet songs. Many other people were riding along leisurely in noiseless cars.

Oh! well! brighter days are coming with the Easter holidays.

How could any one forget about the Great "Amateur Contest" with all the signs put up on the bulletin board. Popeye the Sailor and many other acts will be introduced in the contest.

The class just roared when they were taking up "composition" the other day because the sentence which they had to re-write was: "The dog I am sorry to say, met Sir Walter and bit him on the village green." Another one was also the cause of laughter; it read as follows: "We had a very pleasant time eating, including Nellie Jones."

St. Patrick, is not forgotten in the T. H. & V. Practically on every second person you met down the hall you would see a shamrock or a decorated ribbon and even a green outfit.
