

Dropped Between Stitches

By Ann

Probably the most interesting person at the Porcupine Ski Club dance on Friday . . . and there were over six hundred in attendance . . . was Assistant Flight Officer Fullerton . . . whose name is Evelyn, the reason is clear . . . yes, Miss Fullerton, was a charming example of Canada's women who have enlisted in the services . . . in Timmins, A.F.O. Fullerton remarked that she was very fond of her work . . . and her appearance in uniform at the dance made many of the local lassies, who, by the way, wore a stunning array of the newest in evening gowns, quite envious of her charms . . . yes, the Assistant Flight Officer offers a grand "boost" to recruiting.

More about the dance . . . present were guests from New Liskeard, Halleybury, Kirkland Lake, and men from each branch of the services from their various stations . . . among these were Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Hynes of New Liskeard, who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burke and His Worship, Mayor Emil Brunette, and Mrs. Brunette . . . then, of course, IAC Lorne Lemieux of the R.C.A.F., stationed at Dunnville, who spent the evening dancing with his fiancée, Louise Kendall . . . practically all members of the recruiting unit also took advantage of this opportunity to have a good time, and in the list of names in the account (elsewhere in to-day's paper), you'll find many more visitors . . . it was an impossibility to get all of those names . . . so, apologies to those whose names are omitted.

Club songs, popular songs such as "Deep in the Heart of Texas," were sung lustily by the large crowd, with Henry Kelleck showing them the way . . . special selections were played by the men for Mr. and Mrs. Russ Thompson, who celebrated their seventh wedding anniversary on Monday . . . for Flight Officer C. R. Cullen, formerly of Schumacher, but now only a visitor in town, in charge of the recruiting unit . . . and for many other visitors and special celebrations . . . especially noteworthy were the decorations at the Pavilion . . . the members spent a great deal of time and energy to make the effect as fine as it was, and those who saw the result felt that the time and energy used, were used with great success.

There are so very many things about the dance that might be mentioned, but this whole column could be devoted to it, but to go on to the events . . . this (Thursday) evening, the members of Gold Nugget Rebeek Lodge extend an invitation to local women to attend a whist drive in the Oddfellows Hall, and add that those interested might get in touch with any member of the lodge . . . Mrs. C. F. Lacy, Toke street, phone 907, is Noble Grand of the Lodge . . . and the whist begins immediately after the regular meeting.

While speaking of Mrs. Lacy, friends in this district will be interested to know that Ernie Lacy, of the R.C.A.F., will take as his bride Miss Dorothy Williams of Windsor, on May 9th . . . the wedding will take place in Windsor, where the bride and her parents reside, but these are the only plans that the couple has told about up to date . . . let you know more after the wedding.

On Thursday evening, friends of Mrs. H. Johnson, 159 Balsam street north, gathered at her home to wish her happiness on her birthday . . . the hostess received many lovely gifts from these guests, and they spent a pleasant evening . . . in the way that women will.

At Thursday evening's knitting meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary at the Legion Hall, the hostesses were Mrs. A. Bellamy and Mrs. J. McGarry . . . little guests present were Master Regis McGarry and Master Graham Gardiner . . . Mrs. J. J. Grant poured tea, and Mrs. W. Rowe presided at the piano . . . then, on Friday morning, the members added to the ever-increasing number of parcels they have sent to men in the services these gift assortments . . . Mrs. T. Gay, convener of the packing, has received numerous letters of thanks from the men who have found "remembrance" from home in their gifts, and the members know that their work is appreciated.

The knitters of La Federation des Femmes Canadiennes-Francaises are asked to note that the next meeting, to-morrow (Friday) evening, will take place at the home of Mrs. Harry Lloyd, 159 Spruce street north . . . last week the group met in studio C of the radio station, and afterwards enjoyed a delicious lunch at the home of Mrs. A. Robitaille . . . "Mascot" Yvon Butler, was present, as usual, to help the members in winding the wool, and in numerous other little ways that make him a special favourite with all women who attend these knitting meetings.

Last Friday's meeting of the Sweet Caporal Club was held at the home of Mrs. H. Jones, 25 Lakeshore Road, the evening being spent in the usual knitting with a "topper" of a good lunch . . . to-morrow evening's meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. C. M.

MacEwee, of 37 Laurier avenue, and it is hoped that all members will attend.

May 26th is the day chosen by the Porcupine Music Teachers' Association for the recital to be given by Mr. Lawrence Defoe, noted Canadian tenor, in the auditorium of the McIntyre Community building . . . all proceeds will be donated to war charities . . . interesting comment by Augustus Brice, music critic for the Toronto Daily Star, says "Lawrence Defoe is a tenor of pure high tenor quality — flexible and delightful" . . . the noted Canadian has studied under Arthur Bright of Toronto, later going on to studies with William Shakespeare in London, England, and Edgar Schofield, in New York City.

It was a brilliant idea on the part of the Mountjoy United Church choir to have the two gentlemen members of the choir, Mr. Geo. Schweitzer and Mr. Wallace E. Young, receive the guests . . . at least, it didn't frighten away any of the women friends of the choir, and it did bring forth some of the gentlemen friends who usually "shy away" from such afternoon events . . . and those who attended were pleased with the hospitality that was extended to them by the members, and by the pleasant surroundings in which they found themselves . . . all proceeds, of course, for the purchase of music for the choir.

Plans for a rummage sale at 9 o'clock on Saturday morning in the basement of St. Matthew's Anglican Church were made by the members of the Ladies' Guild at the work meeting held Friday evening . . . Mrs. Carl Briggs and Mrs. R. MacTaggart were the hostesses for the evening, the event taking place at the former's home . . . plans were also made to hold the regular business meeting on Friday afternoon, May 8th, at 3 o'clock, and it is hoped that all members will be in attendance.

Little Miss Catherine Pecarie is the lucky lady who was chosen as the member of the Junior group of the Porcupine Skating Club to have made the most progress during the past year . . . several prizes for skating of all kinds were awarded to the youngsters who enjoyed the party which was provided for them on Saturday afternoon, as a "thank-you" for their part in the recent skating carnival.

The lovely home of Mrs. H. W. Darling, 134 Wilson avenue, was the setting on Saturday afternoon for the beginning of a new series of Vanishing teas . . . Mrs. J. Knox, who was the originator of the events in this district, was a special guest, and presided at the tea table, while Mrs. S. Slack, was hostess . . . these events, from which all proceeds will go to the Winston Churchill Fund for British service women, will be carried through by the Finnish women of this district, and it is expected that they will be very successful . . . Guests at Saturday afternoon's event included Mrs. E. Kuusisto, Mrs. C. Haapanen, Mrs. L. Iberg, Mrs. E. Valenius, and Mrs. A. Lehtisalo . . . each of these guests will entertain four guests at her home, with proceeds to the fund . . . and the events go on as has been explained previously in this column.

The last day of the month . . . and with it comes the realization that April has been one of the most active in the social calendar . . . dances, teas, social evenings, card parties, and family parties have made this a "rush" month, and from the notes in the "date" book, seems that most events scheduled for the coming months are weddings . . . a few afternoon tea and sale events are also included, among them the one to be held on Saturday afternoon from 2 to 6 p.m. by the United Church Choir in the basement of the First United Church . . . proceeds from the event will be used in the work of the choir, and its members extend a welcome to all . . . then, on the afternoon on May 6th, the I.O.D.E. will entertain at a spring tea to be held at the home of Mrs. R. S. Anderson . . . and so it goes on, and on.

Mrs. J. Stirrat, who by the way, is Schumacher correspondent for "The Advance," was honoured at the banquet held by the Schumacher Mothers' Bowling League on Tuesday evening in the McIntyre auditorium . . . Mrs. Stirrat has been president of the league since its organization two years ago, and has done a very fine job . . . but Tuesday evening marked a special day for her . . . it was Mr. and Mrs. Stirrat's twenty-sixth wedding anniversary, and the members of the league presented her with a beautiful silver flower basket, filled with carnations . . . a wedding cake, beautifully iced, centred the table, and each guest received a piece of it . . . Mr. Bob Crosby made the presentation of prizes to the league teams, and Mr. Ennis congratulated the members on their success during the past year.

Children of district schools are busy these days practising the selections they will sing or play at the Cochrane District's Third annual Music Festival . . . this year the festival will be held on May 12th and 13th, and, as in other years, it will provide entertainment for parents and friends . . . this Festival of Music gives local people an opportunity to hear some of the best talent in the district, and to find the new talent that will some day, perhaps, bring fame to this district.

Yesterday afternoon's annual spring tea by the Gold Star branch Women's Institute was probably one of the most successful of the season . . . the weatherman had his share in the success, providing an ideal day with a steady stream of district women to the Hollinger hall . . . the many tables were filled throughout the afternoon, and members were kept busy . . . at that tea, Ann was privileged to see a piece of crochet work that had been made forty-five years ago . . . it was a lace-like white collar worn by Mrs. N. Young, who said that the collar was a birthday gift to her grandmother, all of forty-five years ago . . . and the work was beautiful . . . then, another treat was a Dresden quilt made by Mrs. Dicker and Mrs. Henderson, and won by Mrs. R. Allison, Main avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Kristjansen Welcome Guests for Pleasant Evening.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Kristjansen, of 63 Birch street south, were host and hostess on Saturday evening at a delightfully arranged card party. A few friends of the popular couple from Timmins and Schumacher enjoyed the pleasant evening, and were especially pleased with the Norwegian style lunch served by the hostess.

Winners at whist were as follows: ladies: 1st, Mrs. W. Goranson; 2nd, Mrs. Jim Elliott; gentlemen: 1st, Mr. Stan Fisher; 2nd, Mr. Wm. Goranson. The consolation prize was won by Mrs. Stan Fisher, and after cards, the guests spent a few hours with social entertainment.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bertrand, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Goranson, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. H. Kristjansen.

Bylsma-Anfinson Nuptials at First United Church Here

The First United Church was the setting on Wednesday afternoon for a lovely wedding, when Miss Nora Anfinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. Anfinson, of Pelly, Saskatchewan, became the bride of Mr. Jack Bylsma, of Timmins. The Rev. W. M. Mustard officiated, and Mr. H. C. Trener was at the organ, playing "Because" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by Mr. Eugene Berthel, the bride was lively in a two-piece frock of Elizabeth blue crepe, fashioned with a broad bodice, flared skirt, and fitted waistline. She wore a matching picture hat and a corsage of roses and sweet peas.

Mrs. H. Davison, as matron of honour, wore a red-tinge ensemble of rose crepe, with a white straw hat, and a bouquet of roses and sweet peas.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Berthel, Avenue Road, where Mrs. Berthel received the guests in an ensemble of blue crepe with matching accessories. In the evening, the bride and groom received their friends at a reception in the Hollinger hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Bylsma have taken up residence on Helen street.

Among the out-of-town guests was Private J. Kwekkeboom, brother of Mrs. H. Davison, who is spending leave from his station at Toronto with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Kwekkeboom of 320 Mountjoy street south.

Says India Seems to be the Key to the War in the East

Mr. H. R. Rowe Makes Many Telling Points in Address to Men's Forum.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a report of an address on the war situation in the East as given to the Men's Forum of the United Church on Monday evening by Mr. H. R. Rowe. In this address Mr. Rowe dealt at some length with India, where he sees the key to victory in the East. This part of his address was so timely and thought-provoking that a summary of Mr. Rowe's points are given herewith:

Points About India
 (1) In my opinion huge India looms up as the key to the war in the East; by holding it we divide the Axis forces, and simultaneously keep for ourselves an ideal base from which to launch the war-winning offensive.

(2) In choosing to concentrate her main immediate effort in India's direction, instead of southwards to Australia, Japan gives plain indication that her general war strategy is governed by a common Axis policy. Japan obviously intends to disregard the growing danger on her southern flank, and to attempt to co-ordinate her aims with those of Germany that together they may deal a death-blow to our cause before the Australian threat has had time to materialize.

(3) Therefore it is clearly necessary for us to grasp what part India can play in a future offensive by the United Nations. To do this we must analyse the strategic possibilities of this great sub-continent, for by the conquest of India can a junction of the two Axis partners be effected. The subjugation of India, combined with the conquest of the Caucasus and Iran, would give the Axis self-sufficiency in raw materials and manufactured goods, and would prolong the war indefinitely.

(4) On the one hand, Japanese penetration of Upper Burma and Assam would isolate China by the severance of the Assam-Sikang road, the vital supply route from India. On the other hand a vital Russian supply route, that which passes from the Persian Gulf through Iran, is at least indirectly through India. In any case, a Middle East war effort, by the war effort in the Middle East, will depend more and more on India's food production, and war materials, because of the acute shortage of shipping.

(5) Ultimately, however, it is the preservation of India as a geographical barrier between Japan and Germany that counts. Failure to prevent Jap occupation concerns the U.S.A. just as vitally as Great Britain, and that fact accounts for U.S.A. concern about the political aspects of Sir Stafford Cripps' attempt to conciliate the differences of Indian national opinion.

(6) The greatest danger of invasion of India must be met during the next two months before the monsoon breaks. During the summer months it would be possible to obtain bridgeheads on the Madras coast for it is sheltered from the torrential rains by the Eastern Ghats. Our supply lines must be maintained through the summer, and the strategic islands of Madagascar and Ceylon must be held at all costs.

(7) This successful defence brings us to a consideration of the role India should play in offensive strategy. Despite the key position held by Australia, it is unlikely that she can alone form the springboard for a successful military offensive. The occupation of territory requires unlimited man-power, and this is beyond Australian reserves. Shipping conditions make it almost impossible to transfer to Australia a larger U.S.A. expedition than during the period that the United Nations require to complete their offensive operations.

(8) Consequently it is to India and China that we must look for manpower to carry the war into the occupied countries. India must protect the vulnerable Assam-Chinese border, and because of her resources of coal, oil, and other raw materials, her considerable manufacturing capacity can go a long way towards the complete equipment of a very large army.

(9) The United Nations must command the Bay of Bengal by sea and air, for transport will have to be provided when the time is ripe for offensive action. The vulnerability of the long Indian coast line to naval attack must be compensated by the way in which the great land mass juts out so far into the Indian ocean, thus lending itself very well indeed to the activities of shore based bombers of all types. Ceylon may prove to be another Malta, an unsinkable aircraft carrier.

(10) All this presupposes that India's air strength can be continually and sufficiently reinforced so that local air supremacy can be maintained and that protection can be provided for a relentless advance through S. E. Asia as one arm of a giant pincer. At the same time Australia must rally an air power strong enough to force the occupation of the N.E.I. In the opinion of many competent observers, it is clear that India should receive priority over Australian claims for supplies should the joint need become acute. But can we get the needed lanes to India? On the answer to this question, on our ability in fact to keep open the sea lanes around the Cape of Good Hope in the face of powerful Jap naval forces gathered to destroy our convoys, must depend the strategic future of India.

Salvation Army to Run Campaign for Home Services

Necessary Appeal to be Made Locally in the Fall.

Toronto, April 29—"Because the Canadian Government has ruled that there can be no united campaign by the National War Service Organizations this year, and, further, seeing the Government has decided to finance from the Federal Treasury ONLY the wartime work of these organizations; therefore, the Salvation Army will find it necessary to appeal to the public for funds next Fall in order to carry on its regular home Service Programme," Commissioner Benjamin Orames announced here today.

"This simply means we practically revert to the policy and practice which existed prior to 1941, when at the request of the Government, the Salvation Army joined with the other War Service organizations in one United Campaign in raising both war and home service requirements, which was held in March 1941," the Commissioner explained.

"In these critical times the Salvation Army will continue to fit in and co-operate with the Dominion authorities to the fullest possible extent hence, in accordance with the Government's ruling, we cannot raise 1942 funds by a national campaign as we had done up to 1941. Instead we intend to conduct local appeals next Fall in all those communities in Canada where our work has been carried on for many years, and hope that our kind friends and supporters will give the same assistance and co-operation that they have in the past. We know they are all just as anxious to see our work continue as we are," the Commissioner concluded.
