Commando raid simulated in assault manoeuvres overseas

Enforcement Officer for Prices and Trade Board

Walter Little, barrister, of North Bay, has been appointed enforcement officer for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board in Northern Ontario. He will work under A. T. Smith, regional representative of the board for the wide area looked after from North Bay. Timmins has a Wartime Prices and Trade office of its own, with Fred Noon in charge in offices in the Ostrander block, upstairs, but this office works under the direction of the North Bay regional office. A despatch from Ottawa this week says that the Dominion is now divided into thirteen regions with similar officers in charge in each division. It is expected that these divisions will be left as they stand now, with the possible exception of the Maritimes where additional officers may be appointed to assist the one man now in charge for those three provinces.

Harold Pirie is Elected as Zone Chairman of Lions

Hard - Working Timmins Secretary Praised by Lion W. C. Arnott, of Schumacher, for His Keen Interest

Harold Pirie, hard-working secretary of the Timmins Lions Club, was chosen as Zone Chairman of the different Lions Clubs of this district at the Zone Convention held in Kirkland Lake last Sunday. Pat Houston, of the Rouyn-Noranda Club, was elected District Deputy-Governor by acclamation at the same convention.
The convention was well-attended and it was decided that all future conventions will be held in Kirkland Lake for the duration of the war as it is the most central town in the district and the new move would be a saving on gasoline and tires.
Lion Pat Houston was elected Deputy-Governor of the district by acclamation when Dr. J. H. Stiles, of Schumacher, deputy-governor last year, declined the nomination this year. Dr. Stiles told the gathering that his work wouldn't allow him sufficient time to properly look after the job. He told the gathering that extra work had been thrown on the shoulders of the doctors in this district because of the large amount of enlistments among the members of the medical profession here.
W. C. Arnott, of Schumacher, nominated Harold Pirie to the post of Zone Chairman and in his remarks he paid high tribute to the hard work that Lion Pirie had done to further Lionism in this district. Mayor J. E. Brunette, of Timmins, also paid tribute to the Lion Pirie in his remarks to the gathering.
A large number of the Lions from Timmins and Schumacher attended the conference.

Winners of Prizes in the Recent Poetry Competition

Earlier in the year The Advance mentioned the Dominion-wide poetry competition under the auspices of the Poetry Society of Winnipeg (affiliated with the Poetry Society, London, England). There were some entries from this district, though none of the prizes came this year.
This week the Poetry Society of Winnipeg, of which N. A. McMillan is secretary, announces the prize winners in the competition, as follows:—
Winner of first prize of $50.00—John V. Hicks, 106 Twenty-second street,

Prince Albert, Saskatchewan. Poem: "Wind in the Corn."

Second prize of $15.00—Jean Paul Talbot, 1009 Melrose avenue, Saskatoon, Sask. Poem—"The Minstrel Ghost."

Third prize of $10.00—Miss Jessie D. Boyd, 1911 Fourth street, Calgary, Alberta. Poem—"Two Peacocks."

Special honourable mention—Robine Menkman, 493 Ossington avenue, Toronto, Ont. Poem—"For a Dead Airman."

The judges in the contest were:—G. L. Brodersen and Chester Duncan, lecturers in English, University of Manitoba, and W. Meredith Thompson, associate professor of English, United College, Winnipeg, Man.

Strongly Advises Early Purchase of Supplies of Coal

Major Pullen Points Out That Otherwise Serious Situation May be Faced.

Among the visitors to Timmins this week was Major Pullen, now of Alexo, Alberta, but in the earlier days of this part of the North a prominent and valuable citizen of this area. Major Pullen strongly urges all to arrange for their winter's supply of coal at once. He points out that the difficulties arising from the war—labour and transportation shortages—made it imperative that action be taken now to prevent a serious situation from prevailing. In this country a shortage of fuel would be a genuine calamity.
The only way to avoid such an ordeal is to arrange now for the needed coal supply. Major Pullen is in the coal business now, having investments in Western coal mines in Alberta, but he was not talking from the standpoint of the coal mines or dealers but, as often in the early days, in what he earnestly believed to be in the real interests of the people. He pictured the desperate seriousness of a coal famine in this North, and made it clear that unless steps were taken to avoid such a catastrophe it was far from improbable. At any time a shortage of labour for the mines or transportation facilities, due to the war, might stop the regular flow of coal to this area. The coal dealers were not in position to purchase sufficient coal for immediate delivery and did not have the facilities for storing it. Accordingly if the public did not cooperate in the matter, Major Pullen feared for the situation that might develop. "One trouble," said Major Pullen, "is that people are not thinking seriously enough about the matter. If I say anything in regard to the matter, or if the dealers urge present purposes of coal, the people are too liable to dismiss the matter with a shrug and suggest that we are only trying to drum up business. The fact of the matter, however, is that what we are really concerned about is the danger of a fuel shortage in the cold weather. The situation now is that if the coal is not taken now it may be difficult to secure it later."

"D" Coy. Algonquin Regiment to Hold March on Sunday

Will Meet at Armouries at 8.30 a.m. and Will be Gone All Day. Street Parade This Evening.

First of the ten full-day outings which are included in the training syllabus of the local reserve company of the Algonquin Regiment will be carried out on Sunday, it was announced this week by Captain G. G. Countryman, officer commanding the local company. Members of the company are asked to gather at the Armouries at 8.30 a.m. on Sunday.

On Tuesday evening Captain Countryman, Lieut. Jack Walker, Sergeant Jemmett, and Corporals Bryson and Willoughby, made a tour of the country surrounding Timmins and picked out a route for Sunday's march. It is expected that the company will return to Timmins between three and four in the afternoon.

All members are requested to be at the Armouries at 8.30 Sunday morning and are asked to bring their own lunches. Tea and coffee will be provided but the lunches must be provided by the men themselves.

As a warm-up for the Sunday route march, the local company will hold a street parade this evening accompanied by the Porcupine District Pipe Band. They will parade through several of the streets of Timmins and for the first time this year the local residents will have a chance to see their local company at full strength.

The recent recruiting drive has sent the company about fifty men over strength but officers are still looking

Lions Club Told All About Music Festival Monday

Harry Hill, Adjudicator Here, Explains How Festival is Conducted.

Members of the Timmins Lions Club were given inside information regarding the music festival that was held in Timmins this week at their regular meeting on Monday night at the Lions Club hall. The speaker for the occasion was Mr. Harry Hill, supervisor of music for the Ottawa Public Schools. Mr. Hill was in Timmins to act as one of the adjudicators in the Music Festival.

Introduced by Rev. E. Gilmore Smith, the speaker had one of the largest and most attentive audiences that the Lions Club has provided this year. Introducing the speaker, Rev. Gilmore Smith mentioned that there was a connection between Mr. Hill and the Lions Club because when he moved from Kitchener to Ottawa his place in Kitchener was taken by Garfield Bender, a former member of the local Lions Club.

In his rather short but concise address, Mr. Hill discussed the Music Festival that was held in Timmins on commenting on the study of music in Tuesday and Wednesday this week. In the schools the speaker said that he favoured non-competitive music festivals. Under this system the pupils were only trying to better their own abilities. He urged that the pupils not be nervous in the festival because they were merely competing against themselves and had nothing to lose.

Another big feature of the meeting was the showing of two films by Gordon Adamson, educational director at the Workers' Co-operative. He was introduced by Lion Howard Hutchison. The first of the two films shown described the nutrition classes of the Canadian Red Cross while the second dealt with the care of the eyes and the need for good eyesight. The Lions were particularly interested in the second of the pictures as the care of the eyes is a part of their work.

Reports on the Zone meeting of the Lions Clubs, attended by several of the local Lions, was read to the members by Harold Pirie, who was elected Zone chairman at the convention.

Pleasing Carnival Event This Week at Schumacher

Crowds Spend Delightful Time at St. Alphonsus Church Carnival.

Schumacher, May 13th. Special to The Advance.

The Spring Carnival held Monday and Tuesday evening in the hall of St. Alphonsus Parish Church was a very successful event. The hall was nicely decorated for the occasion. Bingo and other games were enjoyed. An entertainment programme was put on each evening with Mr. Frank Boisvert as chairman. Monday evening a harmonica trio from Timmins, under the direction of Mr. Nick Basciano, gave several musical selections, and Mike Mahoney, one of the members, played and step-danced. Mr. Frank Boisvert gave several vocal solos. He was accompanied at the piano by Mr. Joe Carpenter. A short skit entitled "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" was presented by members of the Timmins Co-Bo-Gi Club.

Tuesday evening the same artists put on another splendid programme which received lots of applause. An added attraction was the tap dancing by Miss Major, pupil of Mrs. H. Burt, Timmins, accompanied at the piano by Miss Eunice Turissini. A large crowd gathered Tuesday evening for the drawing for the two valuable prizes—the one hundred-dollar war bond and the cedar chest filled with lovely linen Mrs. A. Giachino of the Daffodil restaurant, held the winning ticket, number 4641, and Mrs. John O'Leary, Second avenue, was the winner of the hope chest with ticket number 4158.

Globe and Mail—Canadian wool, it is announced, will be handled by the Canadian Government. It will not be used, we hope, for the purposes traditionally employed by politicians.
