Three 190-lb. Policemen Required to Bring in a 90-lb. Woman Last Week

Attractive Looking Girl Picked Up in St. Charles Hotel by Three Policemen as She Was Staging One Woman Riot. Was Willing to Take on all Comers Including Policemen.

Effie Lacarte, Sixth avenue, faced a charge of disorderly conduct in police court this week and pleaded guilty. The fine was ten dollars and costs which was promptly paid before police court opened. The girl was arrested last Thursday evening but she didn't plead guilty or attempt to pay her fine until about half an hour before police court opened on Tuesday afternoon.

Policemen say that the girl gave them considerable trouble. She only weighs about ninety pounds but it took three policemen who averaged about a hundred and ninety pounds each to take her into the cells. The girl gave her nationality as Irish and any of the constables who had anything to do with her arrest are quite prepared to vouch for the fact that she comes from a family of the "fighting Irish."

The police were called to the St. Charles Hotel at 11:40 last Thursday night where a fight was reported to be in progress. When they arrived there in force they found Effie Lacarte staging a one woman riot. She was taking on all comers and had already been responsible for three or four tables being upset. Police said that she was under the influence of liquor but was far from drunk when she started the trouble.

Another charge of disorderly conduct was included on the police court docket and it was lodged against Jean Rollins. Police said that he was also fighting and was brought in a lot easier than the woman was. He pleaded guilty and paid a fine of ten dollars and costs.

Two ordinary drunks were arrested during the week and they both pleaded guilty and paid the ordinary fines of ten dollars and costs.

Arthur St. Gelais and his wife Annette St. Gelais had quite an argument in court on Tuesday when St. Gelais was arraigned on a charge of non-support of his wife and family preferred by his wife. In court Mrs. St. Gelais said that her husband had come home on Tuesday, May 12th, and had packed all his clothes. When she asked him where he was going he said that he was leaving her and didn't want anything more to do with her. She immediately laid the charge against him and he was arrested the next day. St. Gelais said that he had no intention of leaving his wife stranded and said that he had given her fifteen dollars before he left the house and had told her that he was leaving town to obtain employment. The wife then agreed with him that he had given her fifteen dollars but he said he had taken it away from her the next day.

The affair started to develop into a family fight in the courtroom by the time Magistrate Atkinson told them to go and try to patch up their trouble without coming to court with it.

Sam Habib, local poolroom proprietor, paid two fines of two dollars each for allowing children under the age of eighteen to play pool in his establishment. Both charges were laid as a result of a police visit to his place last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Gertrude Latendresse appeared in court to answer a charge of failing to keep her child inside after curfew and she pleaded not guilty. At the conclusion of the evidence the magistrate gave her another chance but told her to try and keep the child in the house.

Police said they found the seven-year-old boy at the Cartier Taxi Stand about ten-thirty last Wednesday evening and they brought him to his home. When they arrived at the home they found the door locked so they left him with a neighbour.

Mrs. Latendresse took the stand and admitted that she wasn't at home when the police arrived because she was scouring the streets for her youngster. She told the magistrate that she was unable to do anything with the young fellow. He would go to school in the morning and then he wouldn't see him till late at night. Some days he wouldn't even go to school. She told of taking the youngster in one door of the school one day and the next minute he walked out of another door.

Mrs. Latendresse expressed the desire to place the child in a boarding school of some sort but said that she was afraid to do that because if she did her husband would kill her when he got out of jail. The magistrate told her to try and make some sort of arrangement and not to be afraid of her husband because he would be hooked after if he tried to do anything.

Gregory T. Evans appeared to defend Jack Bailev in a charge laid under the Vicious Dogs' Act and after a rather lengthy hearing the defendant was let off but warned to keep his dog at home. The charge was laid as the result of a young child being bit by one of two dogs but failure of the crown to definitely prove which of the dogs did the biting resulted in the dismissal.

George Longpres and Mrs. Longpres told of hearing their three-year-old daughter screaming in the hallway of the apartment house where they were staying and when they went into the hallway they found two small dogs pushing the child around. They later found that the child was bitten on one leg but they were unable to tell which dog had done the biting as they hadn't been there at the time.

In his defence Mr. Evans had various other tenants of the same apartment house on the stand and three of them owned dogs, any of which could have done the biting. He further proved that the dogs in the apartment house had never attempted to bite another young child that was in one of the apartments.

In his summing up Mr. Evans suggested that the two dogs who were playing with the child had perhaps taken defensive measures to protect the child from some other dog that had come in off the street and up the stairs.

Magistrate Atkinson dismissed the charge but warned Bailev that he would have to keep his dog out of the passageway and also warned him that if he were again charged with the offence he would likely get into serious trouble.

Mrs. M. Vallee was fined five dollars and costs for not cleaning up her yard when ordered to by the Public Health Officer, James Meehan. Mrs. Vallee didn't appear in court but evidence was taken from Mr. Meehan. He testified that he had ordered the woman to clean up the yard several times verbally and had finally given her a written order on May 13th. On Tuesday morning he had gone to inspect the property and it was still in the same condition. The magistrate fined the woman five dollars and costs and ordered collection of the amount.

To Use "Dust Layer" This Year in Solution Form

(From New Liskeard Speaker)

As an experiment, dust-laying operation of the Department of Highways in the district this season will be in solution form, instead of flakes, and a test was made on Monday, when one tank of the mixture of calcium chloride and water was sprinkled on the stretch of road between the New Liskeard station and the hospital hill. Roads to be so treated will be Highway 65 to Matachewan, No. 11 north from Kenogami, the Pamour cut-off, the Larder Lake road east from Kirkland Lake to the Quebec Boundary, and the North Temiskaming road probably in lighter measure, it was stated by V. H. Longstaffe, division engineer. Another experiment, this one a temporary expedient, consists of applying shavings to frost boils in the vicinity of Leeville, on the Elk Lake road.

Government Asked to Take Over Town of Haileybury

The town council of Haileybury by formal resignation has asked the Ontario government to take over the administration of the town. Municipal affairs at Haileybury have been well conducted by the local people, but debt due to commitments for rebuilding after the fire of 1922 has proved too much for the municipality. The people of Haileybury were assisted in the work of re-building their homes after the 1922 fire, but the town has been held responsible for the money involved. With conditions as they have been in recent years this makes the administration of Haileybury very difficult, to say the least. Many have died or moved away from Haileybury during the past twenty years the properties being more or less left on the doorsteps of the municipal council. This has made it unusually hard to carry on and for some time past the town has been negotiating with the Ontario Government in the hopes of arriving at a mutually satisfactory solution. Last year the Haileybury council outlined a plan whereby the town would issue $100,000.00 debentures to be accepted as payment in full of the $220,000.00 owed by the town. The government could not see its way clear to accept this plan and Haileybury thinks now that the government should take over the administration of the town and demonstrate how the situation can be remedied. Haileybury has met all its obligations in the past with the exception of the housing commission payments. A number of the homes have reverted to the municipality through the death or removal of the owners and the burden thus placed on the municipality with insufficient revenue has been a serious one. Negotiations have been carried on with the government for some time and last week the town council of Haileybury decided the only plan was to ask the government to take over the administration.

Mr. Walli, Guest Artist at S. Porcupine Kiwanis

South Porcupine, May 20—(Special to The Advance)—The Kiwanis had as guest artist at their weekly dinner meeting last Thursday in the Kiwanis hall, Mr. O. W. Walli, of Timmins, who gave a very enjoyable programme of music. Mr. Walli is on the staff of the Timmins High and Vocational School and is an accomplished violinist. All present thoroughly enjoyed the musical treat. This Thursday the Kiwanis are anticipating forty minutes of war pictures shown by Mr. Adamson, of the Workers' Educational Committee of Timmins. Some of the films to be shown were taken on the Russo-German front.

Come on Housewives, Sock Him again!

Metals, Paper, Rags and Rubber

Don't throw any of these materials away. Don't leave them in your basement or storeroom. Canada's war industries need these materials now—urgently! Your family will help you get them together as directed below and place them out in front of your house for collection Saturday morning. Don't wait. (Our enemies won't wait.) Do your bit now. A pile in front of your house Saturday is a sure sign you're doing your part.
