Complete Results of High School Athletic Meet at Hollinger Park Last Week

Three Records are Broken During Meet that was Held in Perfect Weather. Armand Delmonte Raises Pole Vault Mark for Northern Ontario by One Foot, Four Inches

The Timmins High and Vocational School proved once again that they are quite capable of turning out an exceptionally fine brand of athlete when they competed in the Bomb Victims Fund Field Day at the Hollinger park last Wednesday afternoon.

The outstanding performance of the afternoon was turned in by Armand Delmonte who broke the existing N. O. S. A. record for the pole vault. He topped the previous record, set by E. Scully of Cobalt in 1938, by almost a foot and four inches. It was a magnificent leap and marked the competitor as a man to be watched.

Adam's record was broken in the broad jump where he topped the former record by Telkinnen of Timmins by five inches. The former record, 16 ft. 7 ins., was set by Telkinnen in 1938, but the new record now stands at 17 ft. 1/2 in.

Police Charge Eight Persons Monday Night

Most Serious Charge is Dangerous Driving Against Taxi Driver. Three Charged at Same Time.

A total of eight charges were laid by the Timmins police on Monday night and early Tuesday morning when their business suddenly started to boom. Some of them will be heard next week as the docket for this week was already rather heavy. The arrested persons have been allowed their freedom on bail.

The action started in the afternoon when a truck owned by the Feldman Timber Company was stopped on one of the town streets and brought to the town scales for a check-up. The truck was loaded with nine timber and when weighed it was found to be 3,400 pounds overweight.

Shortly before closing time in the beverage rooms, the police started to look through a few of them and in one they found a man asleep in his chair. They woke him up and found that he was very drunk. He was charged with being drunk when he refused to go home.

Just after the beverage rooms had closed the police found an eighteen-year-old girl wandering about the streets and they brought her in and charged her with vagrancy. Police claim that she gave them an address where she was supposed to be staying but the people there refused to have anything to do with her. Police are investigating her case further and it is quite likely that other charges will be laid before court next week.

At 2:15 Tuesday morning trouble broke out on Wilson avenue when three young men, who according to the police were under the influence of liquor started to argue loudly. Police intervened and told them to go home but they refused to do so. Finally all three of them landed in the cells, two of them facing charges of being drunk and the other charged with disorderly conduct.

The last two charges were laid against a motorist and a friend. The motorist, Fred Rossey, a taxi driver, was charged with dangerous driving, while his friend was charged with illegal possession of beer. One pint of beer was found on the man's person when the police searched him.

Police said that Rossey was travelling east on Wilson avenue between fifty and sixty miles an hour and he passed a parked car, he almost collided with another car travelling in the opposite direction. Police added that the driver was going all over the road and had been drinking.

Eighteenth Drunk Driver of This Year Sentenced on Tuesday Afternoon

John Henry Babineau Fights Losing Battle in Court. Doctor's Evidence Suggests Staggering Might be Due to High Blood Pressure. Alleged Bootlegger Pays $100 Fine.

John Henry Babineau, the eighteenth Timmins motorist to face a charge of drunk driving this year, was given a ten-day term in jail on Tuesday when he was found guilty. The verdict was reached after a lengthy hearing during which Dr. A. S. Porter testified that he had examined the man about an hour after his arrest and found him to be perfectly sober.

Highlight of the case was the conclusion when the magistrate told the court that the evidence of Dr. Porter carried little weight and that he thought the doctor gave poor evidence. The doctor then rose to his feet and asked to be recalled to the stand so that he could take exception to the remarks from the bench. He was ordered to be quiet and when he continued to talk the magistrate ordered his removal from the court. Sergeant Joe Gariepy took him by the arm and escorted him to the outside corridor of the court where he was released.

Police told of watching the Babineau car on the night of May 30th about half-past nine on Second Avenue near Albert's Hotel. They had previously seen Babineau and another man with two women emerge from the hotel. They noticed that they were under the influence of liquor but they were not bothering anybody so they didn't stop them.

When the police came out of the hotel they saw Babineau and the party talking beside a car on the opposite side of the road. They got into the police cruiser and circled the block and came back to almost the same place and observed Babineau trying to get his car started. The car was parked on the north side of the street with a vacancy of about two car lengths in front of it and about car length behind. Even with that clearance Babineau seemed to be having considerable trouble getting his car away from the curb. He first bumped the car in front then the car at the back. He finally got his car twisted into such a shape that the front wheels were on the sidewalk and the rear wheels on the street. The police then pulled over and told the man to park his car. He tried to do this and ended up with the vehicle parked on the sidewalk.

Constable Beacock went over to the Babineau car and asked the man for his driver's license and then asked him if he thought he was in any sort of condition to drive a car. The accused was said to have told him that he was not driving the car. The constable then accompanied him across the street to the police cruiser and then returned to drive the car to the police station.

Dr. A. S. Porter was the first witness to be called by the defense and he said that he had been called at a quarter after eleven on the night of May 30th and had examined Babineau. He found him to be perfectly sober. When asked to give an idea of the tests that the accused was asked to perform the doctor said he had him walk along a black line in the patrol room, made him stand on one foot with his eyes closed and then on the other foot, made him stand with his heels together and his eyes closed. The doctor said he then smelled the man's breath and wasn't able to smell any liquor, beer or even stale beer on the man's breath.

Babineau admitted to the doctor that he had taken three bottles of porter during the afternoon covering a six and a half-hour period. Dr. Porter then told the court that Babineau was a patient of his and that he was suffering from high blood pressure and was slightly deaf. The doctor intimated that the high blood pressure would cause the man to perhaps stagger or even fall down.

Babineau took the stand in his own defense and said that he had left work about a quarter after three in the afternoon and had met a lady friend, and had gone to the Mount Royal Hotel for a couple of bottles of beer. They then went to a Sixth Avenue store to purchase some groceries and then went apartment hunting.

About a quarter to nine they went to

Police Charge Eight Persons Monday Night

Albert's Hotel and stayed there about three-quarters of an hour and consumed one bottle of beer. The witness denied that he had any trouble pulling out from the curb when the police stopped him. He also denied that Constable Beacock had accompanied him to the police car but said that he had walked across the street alone.

The lady mentioned was then called to the stand and she said that she had been with Babineau all afternoon and evening. They had gone into the Mount Royal where she said she consumed one bottle of beer in the two hours that they remained in the place.

At Albert's Hotel in the evening she had another bottle of beer. She denied that Babineau was drunk and said that he had only three bottles of porter during the day.

In summing up for the crown Assistant Crown Attorney Duranovic suggested that Dr. Porter's evidence be taken with a great deal of care. He suggested that Babineau was a patient of the doctor's and that the evidence was decidedly in Babineau's favour.

The magistrate agreed with the assistant crown attorney regarding the doctor's evidence and suggested that it wasn't a question of whether the man was drunk when examined but whether he was drunk when arrested. He then said that it looked as though it had been a drinking party all afternoon.

The doctor, he said, suggested that the man was suffering because he had high blood pressure but he thought it was because he had too much to drink and sentenced him to ten days in jail. Babineau's car was impounded for three months and his driver's license was cancelled for six months.

Michael Samudovsky had a charge of threatening against John Gotch and the hearing stretched into hours without anything new coming out in the evidence. The trouble was said to have started a couple of months ago and since that time Gotch was said to have threatened Samudovsky several times. First threat was on April 6th at the Oddfellows' Hall in Timmins when Gotch threatened to hit Samudovsky and finally did try to choke him. About a month later Gotch again threatened Samudovsky late at night he is alleged to have attempted to hit him with a stick. Several times after that in the morning as Gotch passed Samudovsky's window he would yell to him that if he ever caught him on the street he would kill him.

Final disposition of the lengthy hearing was that Gotch was ordered to sign a bond for $200.00 to keep the peace for a year.

Louis Chauvette and Alfred Lapointe two men who live in Mountjoy Township across the bridge, were jointly charged with having beer in a public place. Both pleaded not guilty to the charge but at the conclusion of the crown evidence Chauvette was fined a hundred dollars and costs or three months while Lapointe was dismissed. The defense refused to take the stand.

Constable Jerry Lynch of the provincial police told of keeping observation on the place prior to June 7th, the morning of the raid. About 2:30 in the morning the police were spotted directly in front of the building that was described as a restaurant and they observed the actions near the house from there. A man appeared at the door and asked for liquor whereupon Chauvette came out and went to the side of the building where he emptied some liquor into a glass from a bottle that was hidden in the bush. He saw the police and ran into the house and by the time that the police entered the place the liquor had been disposed of. They later located the part bottle of liquor at the spot where they had seen Chauvette filling the glass.

The magistrate told the crown that there wasn't any evidence to the Lapointe in with the other man and dismissed the charge against him before asking Chauvette if he had anything to say. Chauvette answered that he didn't want to talk so the magistrate passed sentence.

Lapointe pleaded guilty then to a

Lions Elect Most of Their Officers by Acclamation

Members Urged to Start Selling Tickets for Lions Raffle in September.

The Timmins Lions Club held their regular weekly dinner meeting on Monday night of this week and at the same time they held their annual election for officers. Most of the officers were elected by acclamation but elections were needed for two positions.

"Gil" Chenier replaces Stan Fowler as president when the fiscal year of the club opens on July 1st. He was elected to that position by acclamation last night. Acclamations were also given to all three of the vice-presidents.

Mayor J. Emile Brunette was unanimously elected to the position of 1st vice-president, William McDermott was given the post of 2nd vice-president by acclamation and an acclamation was given to M. C. Napper as 3rd vice-president.

Bruce Leek was elected Lion Tamer by acclamation, but an election was necessary for the position of Tail-Twister. Two candidates were in the field for this position, Henry Roy and Jess Scholes. In the voting Henry Roy won out and will be the Tail-Twister for the next year. An election was also necessary for the positions on the board of directors. Two of the three members who ran were elected. Harold Shoon and Dr. Gaham Lane were elected while Irvin Rosner was the defeated candidate. They will work with Wendell Brewer and Harry Herman during the coming year.

After the elections much discussion took place concerning the publication of the annual newspaper by the club. "Gil" Chenier, chairman of the committee, announced that some of the members had already turned in their advertising material and urged and emphasized the importance of co-operation of all members if the venture was to be a success.

Lion Emile Brunette came in for special praise from the committee for selling the most advertising so far.

Lion Ed Copps outlined a plan whereby the members will be given various subjects to write stories and articles about.

A letter from Mrs. Ann Gallagher and Miss B. Atkinson, Cubmaster and Assistant Cubmaster of the meeting by Secretary Harold Pirie. The letter asked the Lions to be the guests at the Second Parents' Night Club meeting that will be held in the Lions Hall next Monday night starting at six o'clock.

Plans were made for the Lions Raffle that will be held in September and these plans were presented to the members by president Stan Fowler, who urged that members start selling their tickets right away. Books of tickets were distributed to the members at the end of the meeting.

Congratulations were bestowed upon Lion and Mrs. Joe Kelly on the arrival of a baby boy recently.

Ninety-Pound Lady Again in Trouble With the Police

A little lady who has been a constant source of trouble for the local police during the past couple of weeks appeared in court again on Tuesday afternoon of this week charged with being drunk, and said she was quite prepared to go ahead with the case after pleading not guilty. However, the magistrate noticing the lady was acting queerly, remanded the case till yesterday morning.

Yesterday morning she appeared before a special court but she appeared vastly different from her appearance of the day before after spending a night in the cells. This time she crossed up the police and pleaded guilty to the charge. She was given the choice of paying a fine of ten dollars or spending ten days in jail.

After she had been sentenced the magistrate asked her what was the matter with her the day before and she told him that she had taken a couple of "pills" to quieten her nerves. She then asked if she could have a week's remand before paying the fine but this request was denied on the recommendation of the chief of police.

The last time she was in trouble was about three weeks ago when she was staging a one-woman riot at the St. Charles Hotel. At that time she had three tables upset and several chairs scattered about and wouldn't let anybody get near her. It took three policemen to take her out.

This time she walked into the police station to start the trouble. She demanded that Pearl Johnston, a prisoner at the time, be released on bail but the police refused. When she started to act up, so she was placed in the cells with her friend, on a charge of being drunk.

Another charge that was heard at yesterday's special court was a charge of keeping liquor for sale preferred against Paul Emile Lamothe and Albert Lavigne, a couple of young fellows staying at 31 Joseph Street in Mountjoy Township. They were charged jointly to start the trouble. The hearing the magistrate dismissed the count saying that it looked highly suspicious but that concrete evidence was lacking.

charge of permitting drunkenness and paid a fine of fifty dollars and costs on it. He was apprehended in the St. Charles Hotel one night with Pearl Johnston and both were very drunk. Seven empty wine bottles were taken from the room.

McShane's Three-Hit Performance Shaded By Youthful Flinger

Alex Kossick Turns in Perfect Relief Pitching for Losing Cause. Takes Over With Score at Seven-One in Fifth and Sets Macs Down With Two Hits.

Alex Kossick, young right-hander on Bill Smith's Porcupine baseball team, stole the show in yesterday's opening game when he took over the mound duties from Ken Terry with the bases loaded and nobody out in the fifth inning and set the Macs down without a run. In the remaining four innings the Macs were only able to sneak two scratch singles from him.

Big George McShane looked like the best bet until Kossick took over in the fifth and if he had started it might well have been a different story. He matched the older and more experienced McShane in everything but the strike-out department in the last four innings.

The Macs had little trouble tucking away the decision after they had slapped across three runs in the first half of the second inning. Porcupine counted one in their half of the inning and then the Macs finished the scoring with a four-run spurt in the fifth inning.

The brand of ball displayed yesterday was very good for the early part of the season and the players looked as though they would improve plenty with more competition. Neither the Hollinger or McIntyre teams are as strong this year as they were last year and the Porkies have a fair team that will give either of them a battle before the season is out.

First scoring of the game came in the second inning when Chuck Malfara, Mac centre fielder was passed by Terry. Dusty Baker followed him and sent a scorching drive to Thomas in right field. Thomas let the ball get away from him and Baker pranced around the bags to bring in two runs. McShane was then walked and sent to second on Webber's slap to the pitcher. On Arnett's single to centre the Mac pitcher scored.

The Porkies lashed back in their half of the inning but were only able to count one run. Bill Kossick poled out a three-bagger when he was the first man up and then came in on Kramer's knock to left field. Trapping Kramer off second and striking out two men finished off the Porkies.

In the fifth inning the Macs scored four more runs before Terry was yanked for Kossick. Guimet, first man up, was walked and sent to third on Alf Malfara's single. Schledewitz's smash to left field scored both runners. Richardson's slap to the pitcher sent him to first and Schledewitz to third. Richardson then stole second and Chuck Malfara was walked to fill the bags. With the bags full Dusty Baker smashed out a single that scored two more runs and then he went to second on a passed ball.

At that point Kossick took over the mound duties and the first man to meet him George McShane hit into a double play. Webber followed him with a strike-out to finish the inning.
