SOME FLY

Bill Howland, a magazine editor, is authority for the story about the big mosquitoes on the Alaska highway. "Why, over at Watson lake," he writes, "a mosquito landed on the airport and they put 85 gallons of gas into it before they realized it wasn't a bomber." — North Bay Nugget.

PROOF

Mrs. M. B. Scott Laid to Rest in Timmins Cemetery

Early Resident of the Town Honoured in Death

The funeral of the late Mrs. M. B. Scott was held on Friday morning at 10.30 and there was an unusually large attendance of friends to pay their last sad tribute of respect and affection to one who had for so many years been one of the most esteemed residents of the town and district. Funeral services were held at the St. Matthew's Anglican Church and the church was not large enough to seat the many who attended, the number of old-time residents of the town being especially noteworthy. This was one of their tokens of the high regard in which the late Mrs. Scott was held by all, and the deep sympathy felt for the bereaved husband and family.

Rev. Canon R. S. Cushing, rector of St. Matthew's Church, conducted the funeral service at the church and touched on the deep loss suffered by the community, as well as the family in their loss.

After the service at the church the cortege proceeded to the Timmins cemetery where interment was made. Rev. Canon Cushing conducting the last sad rites at the graveside. The pallbearers were: Messrs W. Nicholson, S. A. Caldwell, Geo. S. Lowe, W. H. Pritchard, Geo. S. Drew and M. Williams—all of them early residents of Timmins and the North.

As noted in last week's Advance, the late Mrs. Scott, who had been a valued resident of the North for thirty-one years, was taken ill while attending a work meeting of the Red Cross on Tuesday of last week and passed away in St. Mary's hospital a few hours afterwards.

Among the touching tributes to the late Mrs. Scott were a number of monetary contributions to the Red Cross in memory of Mrs. M. B. Scott to assist in carrying on one of the good works in which she took so deep and helpful an interest.

The many beautiful floral tokens at the funeral spoke of the sorrow at the death and the sympathy felt for those bereaved.

Sense and Nonsense:— These fellows who fix up sandwiches certainly know the last word when it comes to conserving the ham.

A SHOCK
A motorist, who was picked up unconscious after a crash, opened his eyes as he was being carried into a nearby garage. He began to kick and struggle. When he was afterwards asked the reason, he explained a "Shell" sign and "some fool was standing in front of the 'S.'" — Sudbury Star.

PROPOSAL
Harry Hopkins, who is a shy sort of chap, proposed to Louise Macy in this manner: "I was just talking to the President and I asked him whether he thought you would say yes if I asked you to marry me — and the President said he thought you would."
Her answer belongs in the history books. "As usual," she said, "the President is right."
