

PLEASANT HOMES

by Elizabeth MacRea Boykin

DEMOUNTABLE FURNITURE MADE ON ASSEMBLY LINE LIKE PLANES AND CARS.

It Packs Flat for Moving—Combine the Pieces to Fit Wall Space—The Beds Have Wooden Springs

The armchair in this picture can be taken apart and packed flat in a small package—then quickly put together again. The cushion is separate. The wall furniture is made of demountable tables and sectional box-type drawers that are bought singly; instead of sliding out, however, the drawer fronts drop down—with holes instead of knobs—and inside a tray slides out.

Looks as if furniture of the future will all be sold over the counter in packages, just like coffee and gloves. They won't be bulky packages either — not if it's Dan Cooper's furniture. For each piece comes knocked down, the pieces neatly packed in a package that you assemble after you take them home. The pieces go together easily and quick-like-a-rabbit you can set up sturdy practical tables, chairs, cupboards. (Cooper is the guy whose dashing simple fabric designs have made decorative history during the last few years. . . he's also the one who brought over the first exhibit of Swedish textiles in 1931. . . now he's scoring another "first" in the furniture field with his demountable designs.)

Inexpensive
The big news about this furniture is not just that you can buy it in a package and carry it home under your arm. . . nor even the advantage of being able to knock it down again when you move and pack the pieces flat so you don't have to ship a lot of air. . . nor even the fact that the prices are really moderate (arm chairs around $12.50, coffee tables $12., drawer units $13. — or enough for a four-room house for under $500.) though that is pretty important since most previous simple functional furniture has been so expensive that it has defeated its own purpose.

No, all those points are important, but the real news is the fact that this furniture is designed for and made on the assembly line, just like automobile and airplane. There is no waste in the manufacture, either in material or labor. There are no non-essential trimmings, no curlicues or carving.

This is furniture for use, furniture that is easy to get and to move around (you could carry enough for a small apartment in the back of your car). It is furniture that enables you to reduce the essentials of your life to a minimum, to cut down housekeeping time, to clear away a lot of the impediment of living.

Stack the Drawers
The young home maker will especially welcome the idea, for the pieces can be bought singly and added to as budget and needs expand. Take the storage arrangements for instance — they're really boxes the size of drawers that stack one on top of the other, so that you add them as needed. (Or fit one inside of the other when you move). The front section drops instead of pulling out but inside there's a sliding tray that pulls out. As Mr. Cooper explains it, you can just begin with one of these till your extra possessions expand beyond an extra shirt and an extra pair of socks. Then add sections as needed.

In the group there is also a series of small demountable tables — these can be used side by side or stacked one on top of the other, and in combination with the storage compartments to make smart-looking wall furniture. The beds have wood springs, in conformity with wartime needs, but you'd be surprised how much "give" these have; used with an inner-spring mattress or with the new unexpectedly comfortable springless mattresses (made on the principle of a mattress within a mattress so the cotton felt won't pack down) you won't complain about a hard lot.

This new packaged furniture is expected to be on sale in retail stores before long. In the meantime we will be glad to give you on request, the name of the manufacturer from whom your dealer can order it if you just can't wait.

C. C. F. Discusses Idea of Municipal Candidates Here

Question Left to Later Meeting for Decision.

In his inaugural address to the C. C. F. Club of Timmins, president-elect James P. Parker scored the King government for failure to dovetail plans for greater war production with those of post-war reconstruction. As evidence of the present short-sighted policy he quoted Donald Gordon government appointed Wartime Prices and Trade Board head, as stating that 30,000 business firms will soon be forced to close. Yet by government regulation men serving in the armed forces have been guaranteed their old jobs back. Obviously those jobs, in many cases, will no longer exist. But have the powers-that-be offered any further assurances? The speaker asked. "All we hear from Ottawa is talk of land settlement schemes, vocational training and educational grants, all of which were tried following the last war and proved dismal failures." Mr. Parker then recounted the feelings and experiences of men who returned with him from overseas in 1918 and declared that this time the government must assume full responsibility for shaping a policy for post-war Canada that will assure a living for everyone who served, whether overseas or on the home front. The speaker urged his listeners to make a close study of the C.C.F. policy pointing out how it would regulate large industries, nationalize monopolies and operate them in the interests of the workers and the people at large. "The goods we need now and will need in the future are greater quantities after the war

Shower to be Held by Red Shield Aux. Friday Night

Monthly Meeting of Red Shield at S.A. Hall, Monday. Knitting Turned in.

The regular monthly meeting of the women's Red Shield Auxiliary was held on Monday evening at the Salvation Army hall, with Mrs. J. McChesney in the chair.

The meeting opened with the National Anthem, followed by a report read by Mrs. W. B. Paterson, the treasurer. There have been five ditty bags filled and donated so far, by the Student Nurses, and to each bag, the Red Shield adds a knitted garment. Eight more ditty bags must be filled, so on Friday evening at the Army Hall, a shower will be held, where each person contributes a little bit for a ditty bag. The Red Shield have also donated eleven pairs of socks to the Lions Club to be put in ditty bags.

The meeting then was closed with prayer, lead by Mrs. Church. Following this, the ladies stayed on, and sewed tags on the garments that were turned in since the last meeting.

MISCELLANEOUS — Olive, etc. With 13 of its mines closed down since January 1st, the gold mining industry of Ontario looks back nine months to a depressing picture of constantly dropping production, and to the immediate future with no hope of arresting the downward trend.

During the first nine months of 1942, the mines milled 8,140,227 tons of ore valued at $79,438,092 against 9,210,338 tons valued at $91,393,258 for the comparable period of 1941, a decrease of 11.62% in tonnage milled and 13.08% in value.

The picture for the September output is even less encouraging. During that month tonnage dropped to 799,764 tons from 864,814 in August and value was placed at $7,970,473 from $8,646,209 for August. The decrease from September 1941 is 21.23% in tonnage milled, 19.64% in gold recovery, 47.15% in silver recovery and 19.88% in value.

The Safest Way to Invest Your Money

VICTORY BONDS REPAY ... Every Dollar You Invest!

When you buy Victory Bonds you are laying up for yourself the best of all investments, for back of each one is your country's solemn promise that every dollar you invest in Victory Bonds will be repaid to you in full, plus a fair rate of interest. You can borrow against them, and they are readily saleable when you need the cash. And that solemn promise of repayment in full is backed by all the vast resources of the Dominion of Canada.

When the war is over, you will want to buy all the things we must deny ourselves now. Then, your Victory Bonds will give you the money to buy all these — and your purchases will provide new employment for our boys when they come home again.

What's your share of the savings job? Well, the average Canadian would have to lend to Canada to meet Canada's need $1 in every $5 of income left after taxes and compulsory savings have been collected. But the average may not fit your case. Your own circumstances are distinctly your own. You may be able to do better both out of your current income and out of your accumulated savings in the bank — or you may not be able to reach the average. Your share of voluntary savings is every dollar you can possibly spare.

HOW TO BUY

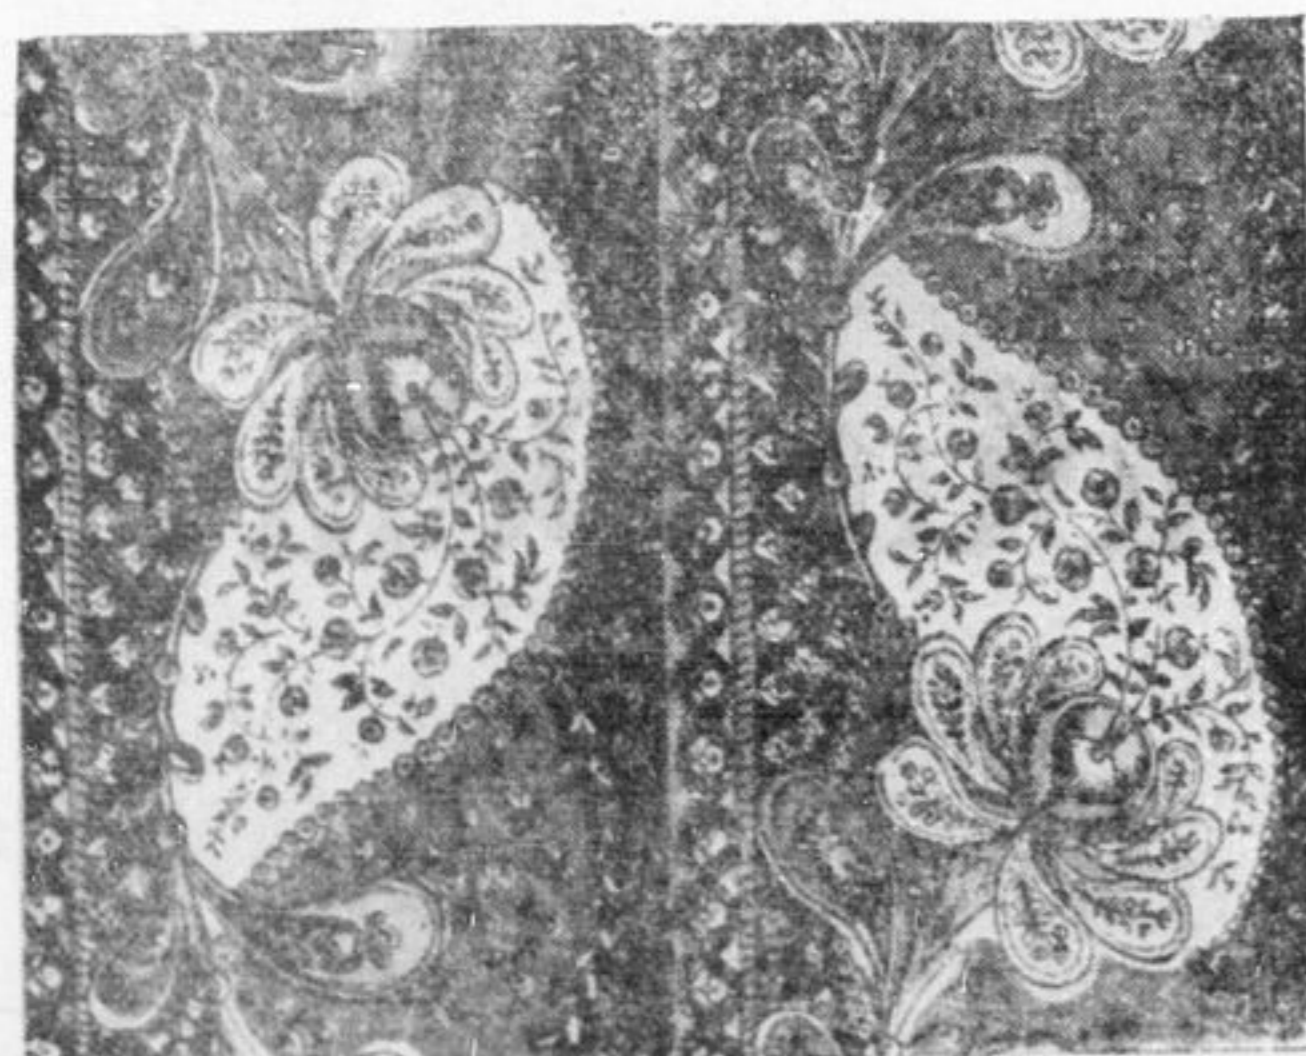

Give your order to the Victory Loan salesman who calls on you. Or place it in the hands of any branch of any bank, or give it to any trust company. Or send it to your local Victory Loan Headquarters. Or you can authorize your employer to start a regular payroll savings plan for you. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and larger. Salesman, bank, trust company or your local Victory Loan Headquarters will be glad to give you every assistance in making out your order form.
